STORIES OF SUCCESS

John Wanamaker

No career in this country offers
more encouragement
to the young business man than that of John Wanamaker, the merchant of the Golden Rule. No man ever made a
more secure pedestal
of the world
and its goods, and
no one has ever gained a higher record for honesty and fairness in his business deals.

His whole life, from the time he walked four miles each morning to work in a book store at $1.25 a week until the age of twenty-four, when his savings enabled him to open the Oak Hall clothing store, is a story of earnest, hard work and rigid economy.

It is a story that points a moral.
It is applicable to every young man who wants to rise and be successful.

The practice of saving is indicative of thrift, intelligence and stability.

The man who saves his money is a credit to the community, himself,
and his family.

It is not what you earn but what you save that counts. If you have but a single dollar ahead, bring it here; we will open a savings account for you, and you will receive every courtesy and consideration.

WHITEHEAD FAILS TO COME TO TRIAL

CASE SENT TO HIGHER COURT

MOTION TO MODIFY JUDG-MENT DENIED.

The case against C. C. Whitehead, agent for the Standard Home Investment Co., who was convicted and sentenced to nine months on the county roads by Judge Gold ten days ago, was to come up yesterday upon a motion by counsel for defense to have sentence changed to a fine. Deputy Insurance Commissioner W. Wade, of Raleigh, was here, being represented by Messrs. Roberson and Barnhardt. In addition to the motion, Whitehead was to stand trial for two other similar cases for which he was convicted, and the state was ready and anxious to push the prosecution. Whitehead's attorney, Messrs. L. B. Williams and E. D. Steele asked for a continuance to try the motion on the ground that the defendant was sick and unable to come to trial. The motion was denied and the appeal was sent up to the higher court, the defense having lost his chance of having the modified judgment in this court. The road sentence will be tried de novo in the criminal superior court December 11.

The two other indictments against Whitehead will be tried before Judge Gold October 21.

Negro Loafers

LAST NOTICE

Chief Ridge has served his last notice on that class of dressed up idle negroes who make the depot a loafing place. There is getting to be a class of vagrant negroes who have no visible means of support who will certainly go to the county roads if caught at the depot or loafing around the streets.

ADDITIONAL STREET FORCE

Thirty five negroes were added to the already large street force yesterday.

STRONG SERMONS BEING PREACHED BY DR. TYREE

THE MEETING.

Notwithstanding the rain there was a good attendance at the afternoon meeting at First Baptist church yesterday and the spirit of the meeting was very encouraging. One feature of this meeting especially gratifying was the presence of the upper third grade from the Elm street school, accompanied by their teacher. At her suggestion the children were glad to come in a body. It is hoped that other teachers will follow this excellent example. At night the congregation was somewhat reduced on account of the weather, but the attendance was larger than might have been expected.

So far the weather has been very unfavorable since these meetings began. But the attendance and the interest manifested encourages the hope that there will be great blessings and rich results.

"Prayer the Greatest of All Privileges," will be the subject of the meeting this afternoon. Tonight "The Greatest and Most Important of all Facts," will be the theme of the sermon. We do not believe High Point has ever heard any stronger sermons than those being presented by Dr. Tyre.

MAYOR BEFORE BIBLE CLASS

The Young Men's Bible Class of the Lutheran church held its second anniversary meeting at the Elwood hotel last night. After a short musical program in the parlor the election of officers followed. Pres. C. V. Ritchie, Vice-Pres. A. E. Teetors, Teacher Rev. M. Luther Camp, Sec. R. T. Ritchie, Asst. Sec. E. L. Ketchie, Treas. J. A. Sloop. The class then repaired to the dining room where a splendid collation was served. After the report of the year's work was read several members of the class and Mr. A. W. Klemme, (Supt. of S. S.) responded with short talks. Mayor Tate was guest of honor and made the address of the evening. He outlined to the class civic, state and church pride and loyalty and showed how christian young men are to be leaders in these avenues. His words were warmly received. The class was well represented and a pleasant evening was spent.

OBSERVE SUNDAY HOURS.
Postmaster Ragan advises us that the postoffice will observe Sunday hours tomorrow. Govern yourself accordingly.

The banks will close tomorrow.

GROUNDS TOO SMALL.
High Point will shut down tomorrow for the Central Carolina Fair. If a good portion of our population goes the management is likely to find the grounds too small.

We will issue no paper tomorrow.

V. A. J. Idol left this morning for Charlotte where he goes to be present at the marriage of his brother, Mr. Vernon Idol to Miss Mary Reid, which will be celebrated at the home of the bride tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

W. N. Bacon, of Charlotte, is a business visitor here today.

PERSONAL

The prayer meeting at Washington Street M. E. Church is called off for tonight, and the members are invited to attend the revival service at the First Baptist or South Main St. Methodist church.

J. E. Kirkman has accepted an invitation from Gen. Carr to serve on the reception committee on the occasion of Gov. Harmon's visit to Raleigh.

Just as soon as the sun came out the crowds began to flock to the fair. A large number of people went down on No. 36.

W. B. Jenkins, of the Cincinnati Cordage and Paper Co., is here today.

Mr. Matthews, of the United Glue Co., returned today from a business trip south.

Miss Agnes Littleford arrived yesterday and is at the Elwood.

T. B. Walker, of Statesville, is here today.

Col. Roberson left last night for Richmond.

Walter Chandler left yesterday for a week's business trip through the state in the interest of the Lyon Agency.

Children's long coats $4.98 to $6.50. A new lot just in, the new things—H. A. Moffitt.

D. H. Blair, of Winston, is here today.

WOMAN STILL IN JAIL.

If Judge Lyon has made up his mind what to do with Mrs. Hattie F. Thompson, alias Mrs. C. E. Martin, alias Mrs. Nannie Harris, he had not announced his decision when court adjourned for the night yesterday afternoon. The woman was convicted Monday of obtaining money under false pretense by pretending to represent the Ladies' Home Journal in his city, when as a matter of fact she had never been employed by the management of that magazine. She is a dope fiend, a respectable looking white woman, claims she is a widow from High Point and is in the county jail awaiting the decree of the court.—Journal.

PUSHING THE STREET WORK.

The street force are putting in water and sewerage on Grimes street at the new Grand School, extending the water line down Mangum avenue to the Marsh Farm Co. and sewer and water on the south end of Rankin street.

Second Day Big Fair

WELL PATRONIZED.

Despite threatening weather conditions several hundred tickets were sold High Pointers to the Central Carolina Fair at Greensboro. Tomorrow with fair weather the crowds will be record-breaking.

FIRST CASE DISMISSAL

LAMBETH-MOFFITT HEARING.

Thomasville, Oct. 10.—The first of the cases against Robert L. Lambeth, principal stockholder of the Thomasville Furniture Manufacturing Company, and otherwise prominently connected with the business as well as social life of Thomasville, growing out of alleged immoral relations with Miss Margaret Moffitt, daughter of Mrs. D. C. Moffitt, and also socially prominent, was heard here today by Justices of the Peace Addison, Mendenhall and John Bowers, who announced, following the conclusion of the arguments, that they would render their decisions tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. In the case today Robert L. Lambeth was charged with having carnal knowledge and abuse of Miss Moffitt, which is a felony, and is punishable by fine or imprisonment in the State penitentiary at the discretion of the court.

CASE DISMISSED.

Thomasville, Oct. 11.—The case against Bob Lambert charged with having carnal knowledge and abuse Miss Margaret Moffitt was dismissed this morning, there not being sufficient evidence to hold the defendant. The case was heard before Justice of the Peace Addison Mendenhall and John Bowers.

DR. MANN

Dr. J. L. Mann, Superintendent of City Schools of Greensboro, will be at the Auditorium next Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to hear Dr. Mann.

A. W. Latta, of Charlotte, is here today.

Ladies' coat suit—can save you money if you will see H. A. Moffitt, the Popular Price Store.

The school children will have holiday tomorrow for the fair.

"ELECTRIC CHAIR HAS NO TERROR" SAYS BEATTIE

"I'll show them how a man should die if that's what they're waiting for."

"The electric chair? Bah! What's that? Nothing I tell you."

"If the lever on the switchboard is near enough to me I'll turn on the current myself."

"When a man's got to die let him do it like a man, without a whimper."

"But there's the supreme court. It's still got to act on this case before everything is over."

"I suppose some people are glad that I'm in this fix."

Thus does Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., the convicted wife murderer, voice his defiance of the grim pronouncement that he shall die in the electric chair November 24, according to a friend who visited him in his cell at the city jail.

"Beattie isn't going to confess," asserted a man who has seen him frequently. "He isn't that kind."

When he rode home with his wife's dead body in the automobile he said a bearded highway man killed her, and to his dying day he will not deviate one iota from that statement.

In the case of Henry Beattie there is an admirable opportunity for invoking the prerogative of mercy," said a well known lawyer today. "I believe the sentence should be commuted to life."

He continued by explaining the dangers of conviction based almost entirely on circumstantial evidence. "If in five or ten years or at any indefinite time in the future, it should be discovered that a mistake had been made in passing judgment on this defendant, it certainly would be the source of much gratification if the opportunity still existed, to make retraction to the accused."

Other lawyers who are familiar with the legal aspects of the case express the opinion that Beattie's chances for securing a new trial are by no means hopeless.

Judge Signs Bill of Exception.

Judge Walter A. Watson has already signed the bills of exception prepared by Beattie's lawyers, Hill Carter and Harry Smith, and certified them to the clerk of the circuit court. There were seventeen bills of exceptions. The transcript of the evidence has also been examined and filed with the clerk after being approved by the presiding judge.

The supreme court of appeals will convene its autumn session November 8th.

Editor Enterprise.

Will you permit me to express through your valuable paper and Mrs. R. H. Maxwell in the and Mrs. R. H. Maxwell in the loss of their precious little child, just four months and one week old, which passed away last Friday night at the hour of ten. We had never seen a more interesting or promising child.

We loved the dear precious babe. But it could not wish us stay.

An angel from Heaven came, And bore the child away.

COMMUNICATION

EYES AND EARS OF SCHOOL CHILDREN

They are the great routes along which most come, most of the child's knowledge. They are the highways of entry to his brain. The more clearly he sees and the more distinctly he hears the clearer are the impressions he gains of the outside world and the more definite is his knowledge. Picture for a moment the mind of the infant—a perfect blank, without consciousness of the outside world. Around and about him lies the endless realm of life and its experiences of impressions that await him, and of sensations he is to acquire. Sight and hearing are the two chief channels of travel to his mind. Let either of these two channels be blocked, either of these two senses be impaired, and his sensations are correspondingly impaired.

Many a child is considered stupid who is only unfortunate in not possessing the normal amount of sight and hearing. Once give a child this bad name, increase his embarrassment and his consciousness of his inferiority and you have done him a lasting and an irreparable wrong. These are of ten children of poorer parents to whom every month of schooling means much. Though nature has endowed them with as keen minds as their companions, still, suffering discouragement after discouragement, they are prone to give over their schooling at even an earlier period than would otherwise be necessary. We have done them wrong. Flay impressions contribute to the formation of lazy minds, and these experiences happening not once, but daily and many times a day, the child's whole life through school and afterwards suffers by reason.
