STORIES OF SUCCESS

Job Gould Schurman

There is nothing so rare as a human contentment, and nothing lends more to its attainment than industry and prosperity. A truly happy contentment of man is Jacob Gould Schurman, president of Cornell University, and to all young men aspiring to rise his life stands as a source of kindling inspiration. At thirteen he was a country clerk, earning thirty dollars a year, at eighteen a college student working evenings as a bookkeeper, at thirty-eight president of one of the world's great institutions of learning.

From total earnings of $150, the only cash money received for three years' work, he saved $80, a sum to him then almost a fortune.

The habit of saving, formed early in life, is the foundation of many a success.

Thrifty people patronize the savings bank.

The opening of a savings account will bring you success.

It will preserve your money and the possibility of its future use.

It gives you a sense of security and satisfaction, that nothing can ever take away.

Save today and have tomorrow.

ATTEND BOOSTERS' MEETING

Call for Another Citizens' Mass Meeting

On Monday night last, we undertook to hold a Citizens' Mass Meeting for the purpose of taking active steps to make High Point double its population within the next few years. There was a fine attendance of all classes of our citizens at this meeting, but unfortunately, just as the meeting was getting well under way, the dreaded fire alarm was sounded, which necessitated adjournment.

I am therefore calling another Mass Meeting for Monday night next, at the School Auditorium, at 7:30 o'clock sharp, in order to have room for all who may attend, so that we may continue our plan to do our duty by our city.

It behooves every property owner and other good citizen of High Point to attend this Boosters' meeting and take an active part in organizing for a vigorous campaign, having as its object the building of a bigger, better and still more prosperous city.

We need more manufacturing plants; more good workmen to operate them; more dwelling houses, more business houses, more railroads and more of every thing which will attract outside people with their capital to invest and hold them.

With High Point's solid foundation, its splendid business and moral integrity, its magnificent public schools, better than at any time in its past history, its highly improved sanitary conditions, with Piedmont County near at hand and with its absence from things objectionable, why should we not rank at the head of the list of progressive North Carolina cities within the next four years.

There is work along these lines for us all to do and the time is short indeed. Let us not delay another week.

I urge every citizen, whether rich or poor, to attend this meeting and receive a hearty welcome and come prepared to help us do things.

Talk with your neighbors and plan to be at this meeting and do your part in assisting to form an organization which will have as its sole object, a glorious city of twenty thousand happy, prosperous people in the year 1915.

Please come and be on time.

Respectfully,
Fred N. Tate, Mayor.

THE GLIDDEN TOURISTS

The tourists came, though mud stained and travel worn, and were welcomed by a thousand of our citizens, who lined both sides of the streets waving glad welcome. Most of the 50 cars came close behind one another, the first arriving at about 11:05 and checking out an hour later.

On behalf of the city Mayor Tate with a committee of prominent citizens welcomed the visitors, after which they partook of coffee and sandwiches. Many pleasantries were exchanged with our citizens by various members of the party, who numbered many acquaintances with our people. The tourists were as enthusiastic over their welcome as we were glad to have them. After the cars were photographed the party lingered a few minutes before they continued their journey.

On account of the dangerous route, through mud, over mountains and across swollen streams, many accidents are reported, the ditching of few cars, which later were extricated, but there were no serious mishaps to mar the thrilling pleasure of the trip. The trip ending the Ridge was spectacular.

Hon. A. H. Eller, P. H. Hanes, R. S. Galloway and Dr. Craig, of Winston, were among those who rode over with the Glidden tourists.

Messrs. R. J. Reynolds, Hugh Chatham, president of the N. C. Railway, Mayor R. I. Dalton, Secretary Kuykendall, of the Winston Board of Trade, and C. D. Ogburn, president of the Ogburn Hill Tobacco Co., and Burton Craig, Esq., came over with the Glidden tourists today.

We were delighted to have the friendly visit today of many of our Winston friends who came over with the tourists. We want a big meeting between High Point and Winston at the completion of the macadam road. High Point will show her how we can entertain the citizens of our thriving sister city.

DOES BELIEF IN DYNAMITE DISQUALIFY MAN FOR JURY SERVICE

Los Angeles, Oct. 18.—Three talesmen were examined and one was excused in the murder trial of James B. McNamara today.

What is considered one of the big issues of the trial, whether a man who believes the Times building was destroyed by dynamite is thereby disqualified from serving on the jury, rests tonight in the hands of Judge Bordwell, presiding at the trial instituted to show whether James B. McNamara caused the death of C. J. Haggerty in the Times explosion and fire.

The opposing counsel see no hope of securing a jury until this point is settled.

Attorney Clarence S. Darrow and the other counsel for the defense, holding that the Times explosion was caused by gas and that McNamara could not have brought it about for this reason, argued today that a fixed belief in the dynamite theory prejudiced the rights of their client in that a talesman who held such a belief would not be a fair juror.

District Attorney Fredericks held that a talesman may believe that the Times disaster was caused by dynamite and still have no opinion regarding the defendant in the case.

BASEBALL YESTERDAY

In one of the prettiest games played in High Point for some time, the High School boys here lost to the strong team of Jamestown High School. It took ten innings, however, to do it, the final score being 2 to 1.

Two errors were accredited to each team, while High Point made 5 hits against Jamestown's 4. Game lasted only 1 hour and twenty minutes, which fact within itself evinces the quality of the game.

Batteries, Jamestown, Richardson and Kirkman; High Point, Farlow and White.

THOUSANDS SEE IT.

Greensboro, N. C., October 19.—Barnum & Bailey brought a great crowd here today. Thousands lined the streets to view the parade. The tent is packed this afternoon and High Point is well represented in the crowd.

Killed by Train

BODY FOUND BY SECTION CREW.

A section crew discovered the scattered parts of a man's body early this morning on the main line of the Southern Railway, while they were going to work. The arms and legs of the body were dismembered, and the man is supposed to have been killed sometime during the night by a southbound train, as the body seemed to have been dragged Southward.

There was nothing on the person of the man by which he could be identified. He was probably 30 years old.

The accident occurred at the mile post in the Mendenhall cut. The section crew after finding the body notified Agent Schaub.

Revival Closes

The meetings at the First Baptist church closed last night. It is impossible to estimate the effect and results of this series of meetings, the attendance, the interest manifested in different ways, the personal work done by Christians in distributing tracts, etc., encourage the hope that impressions here made that will bear much fruit in the future besides the results already seen.

The pastor and church have been much gratified on account of the attendance and co-operation of the pastors and Christians of other denominations and hope that other churches have shared in the benefits and blessings of the meeting.

The doors of the church will be opened next Sunday morning and night for the reception of members.

The purposes of these leagues will be to create interest in the possibilities of High Point, preservation of grass plot, buildings, monuments, trees, etc., by aiding in keeping them clean and attractive; to cooperate with the Civic Improvement League and other organizations engaged in civic improvement, and to aid in the city government in every way to make High Point more healthful and to promote her higher interests.

ALL RECORDS BROKEN

Raleigh, Oct. 19.—All records in attendance were broken today. The grounds are thronged with thousands, while the exhibits exceeded by one third those of last year.

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR

Delights North Carolinians at State Fair Grounds.

Featured by an address by Governor Judson Harmon of Ohio, the second day of the North Carolina state fair was an auspicious event. At midnight last night the elements seemed against the success of the day, but at 8 o'clock this morning the sun was shining brightly, the air was crisp and cool and prospects appeared good for a great day.

The attendance was larger today than on yesterday, but there is no doubt that the unfavorable weather yesterday and the rain last night kept thousands away. The largest crowds will be here tomorrow and Friday.

Gen. Julian S. Carr, chairman of the committee on entertainment had the members of his committee together early and the program was carried out without hitch. The parade left the Yarnough house about 11 o'clock and arrived at the grounds at 11:00.

Governor Kitchin, who is entertaining the distinguished Ohio governor, introduced the speaker. North Carolina's chief executive performed the privilege and he spoke a welcome and reception that was accorded the speaker a moment later.

Governor Harmon had announced previously that he would not talk politics. He makes it a point to leave out talking about himself on occasions such as this, but his remarks were none the less interesting. A man of great power and with a record of achievement behind him, what he had to say was found to be interesting. The thousands that earnestly looked into his face, cheering him at a particularly happy remark, knew that they were in the presence of a great national figure. Know that the speaker, who spoke so easily to them and so simply, might be the next president of the United States.

TOM DALTON HAS AGENCY FOR HUPMOBILE.

Thomas Dalton, who has driven a Hupmobile until he has come to believe it is the only business car on the market, has secured the agency for the car in Greensboro and Guilford county and says he will have a number of these pretty and smooth running little vehicles on Greensboro streets within a few days. Tom, with his father, R. F. Dalton, drives to High Point every day in a "Hup," and within the past two months have not had the slightest breakdown or accident. It is easily managed and put together in clean, classy fashion.—Greensboro News.

FINE TAILORING

In choosing your tailor it is quite important to decide wisely. A money consideration of a few dollars should not influence you to order a Suit of Clothes, unless you are satisfied the garments can be correctly made of standard materials.

Trustworthy fabrics, linings, and trimmings, and conscientious workmanship must be sacrificed if the purchase price is insufficient to pay for them. These are hard facts and you cannot get away from them. Our established reputation for Fine Tailoring is an honest guarantee of honest value.

We are now taking orders for New Spring Styles, and invite an inspection of our Imported Suit Patterns.

A HANDSOME PIECE OF WORK.

On Friday evening, last, Oscar Holder, a young man, painter, of High Point, after completing his white painting work in the Star Meat Market, went to the large white washed wall on the left side of the market and painted a large mammoth size bird, 8 feet long, flying through the air, carrying long ribbon streamers, representing the Odd Fellow and Junior Order Lodge. Every Odd Fellow and Junior member in the city, including all your friends ought to call at the Star Market and see this beautiful mammoth bird on wing. It's a handsome piece of work. All welcome.
