STORIES OF SUCCESS

CYRUS W. FIELD

The world's to-morrow waits on a young man's to-day. When Cyrus W. Field, builder of the great Atlantic Cable, began his business career as errand boy in a dry goods store at 11,00 a week he did not see the tomorrow that would change the commerce of the world. Even then at the age of thirteen, his motto was Industry and Economy. Later in life when he had left the dry goods business as one of the most successful merchants in New York he could not remain idle. When after thirteen years' ceaseless toil, crossing and recrossing the ocean fifty times, the first successful message flashed over the great submarine cable, he proved for all time that persistency wins. Isn't "To Win" also your ambition? By a little economy and thrift we will have the responsibility with you. Start a savings account with us today. Tomorrow, its persistent increase by added savings, and our four per cent interest, and a timely investment may make you a capitalist.

German Murdered in Mexico Orisons May Now Be Reached in Mexican Affairs

Special to Enterprise.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—The State Department today, anxiously awaited further word regarding the reported assassination by bandits of Eran Alderman, a German plantation owner near Vera Cruz, Mexico. Because of the Monroe Doctrine which practically forbids European powers from protecting citizens or property in the western hemisphere by force, the administration view is that it is "up to" the United States to guarantee protection. It is understood that this murder may at once precipitate a crisis in Mexico affairs.

SENDS RHINOCEROS TAIL FOR WEDDING PRESENT
Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—Miss May Carlisle, leader in the younger social set, who married Walter House, an attorney, received the tail of a rhinoceros for a wedding present from Theodore Roosevelt. The girl screamed when she opened the package and saw the Rhinoceros tail unadorned, dropped simply black and dry which rolled on the floor. A stiff backed butler rescued the wedding present and took it to a secluded part of the mansion. Miss Carlisle though wondering how to compose a letter of thanks to the Colonel, tried to suppress the story but it leaked out today.

Roosevelt Will Make Announcement About His Candidacy

Special to Enterprise.
New York, Feb. 12.—Announcement that Col. Roosevelt had accepted an invitation to address the Ohio constitutional convention February 21, at Columbus, caused a surprise here today, because Col. Roosevelt has steadfastly refused to speak publicly. Colonel Roosevelt will take advantage of this occasion it is said to outline the policies on which he will make a race for the Presidency if nominated.

BIG RELIGIOUS CONVENTION

Charleston, S. C., Feb. 11.—Final preparations for the Great Men and Religion Convention for North and South Carolina are practically completed. Charles Stelzle of New York City, the Social Service Expert, and Dr. Allen A. Stockdale, pastor of one of Boston's largest churches, arrived here yesterday for the beginning of the 8 Day Campaign. Tonight at 9 o'clock the other distinguished speakers representing the International Movement, will arrive from Birmingham in time for a rest prior to the opening of the Convention at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday, February 13th, at the Citadel Square Baptist church. These men include R. A. Waite of New York City, expert on boys' work; H. F. La Flamme, Toronto, expert on missions; W. E. Biderwolf, Chicago, expert on evangelism; A. J. Bruner, Chicago, expert on community extension, and P. S. Goodman, New York city, on Bible study.

PREMIER ABDICATES THE THRONE

Pekin, Feb. 12.—Premier Yuan today issued an edict formally announcing the abdication of the throne. The word of abdication was omitted in the edict, being stated by the Imperial family that it was decided to discontinue exercising the governmental powers and would confine its future efforts merely to spiritual matters.

STEAMERS COLLIDE IN FOG

Special to Enterprise.
Hull, England, Feb. 12.—Steamships Wychwood and Torbay collided off the entrance of the harbor in a fog today. The Torbay was nearly cut in two and sank later, drowning seven of her crew.

WITH N. & S. C. RAILROAD.

Hamlet, Feb. 10.—Mr. J. G. Field, former secretary of the North Carolina Case Workers' Association at High Point, has been elected assistant traffic manager of the North & South Carolina Railroad, with headquarters at Hamlet, and with his family has arrived to assume his duties. The North & South Carolina Railroad, which has its general offices at this place, and which is now running trains to Mullins, S. C., is rapidly extending the road to Georgetown, S. C., where it will have deep water connections. The road has close traffic arrangements with the Clinchfield, and upon the opening of the Panama canal it is destined to be one of the big coal-carrying roads.—Observer

SUDDEN DEATH.

Miss Tamer Hill, who resides near Mt. Vernon in Randolph county, was found dead about 50 yards from her home Friday about midnight.

Her death came under peculiar circumstances. Miss Tamer started early Friday morning to visit a neighbor and not having reached the home of the neighbor the time she was expected, a message was sent for her, when it was learned that she had started early for the neighbor's house. A search was at once instituted and the body of the deceased was found near her home, where she probably died of heart disease, as there is no evidence whatever of suspicion of foul play. The deceased was 73 years of age. The funeral services were held yesterday at Mt. Vernon, conducted by Dr. F. H. Wood of Trinity.

Extensive Development

Mr. Zeb Taylor an official of the Public Service Co., passed through Saturday en route to Durham. While talking about developments in this immediate section he said that his company had big things ahead for us. It is like we have claimed that no section of the entire South will become the beneficiary of larger outlays of capital than this, and especially in the development of the interurban system.

George Stuart Coming

The next attraction at the Auditorium is George R. Stewart, the Southern humorist, who is easily one of the most brilliant lecturers on the American platform. He is regarded superior to all the present day platform lecturers. Besides he is a man of loving personality. He appears at the Auditorium February 23.

HIGH POINT LOSES FIRST HIGH SCHOOL GAME.

In a one-sided game of basket ball at Churchland, Davidson county, the High School lost to the strong and heavy team of Churchland High School last Saturday afternoon.

Many explanations could be offered for this defeat—out door court, the cold weather and wind, the lack of balcony goals—but with all this the Churchland quintet being much heavier, played a strong, spirited game.

However, they will meet the local in the warehouse tomorrow night (Tuesday) at 8 o'clock. The home boys have resolved to turn the tables on their own floor. This will be easily one of the best, most interesting and hardest fought games of the year. Your presence and support is an inspiration to the team. We earnestly invite everybody to attend. Admission, adults 15c, children 10c.

WIRELESS STATION AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

The Scientific Club of the Cherry street high school, under the leadership of Prof. L. Lea White, has just completed the work of installing an aerial extending from the flag-pole of the high school building to the Y. M. C. A. as a first step in the installation of a wireless telegraph apparatus for the purpose of taking any wireless messages that happen around this part of the universe and also for transmitting messages.

It is the purpose of the boys in the club to establish communication with Greensboro, High Point and Statesville.—Winston Sentinel.

Death Of Mr. R. C. Charles

A Useful Citizen Passes Away--Funeral Held This Afternoon

Mr. R. C. Charles, whose life has been hanging by a mere thread for several days, died last night at 8:05 o'clock at his home in this city, surrounded by the members of his immediate family and other relatives and friends. The end came peacefully and no doubt it was sweet rest to the tired body that had fought so heroically the affliction through so many months.

Last summer, one afternoon while attending to some domestic duties in his yard, Mr. Charles was stricken with paralysis and has remained in a helpless and at times semi-conscious condition ever since. From the moment of his affliction kind and loving hands have ministered unto him daily, giving him every possible attention and comfort, and as he crossed over the river the last earthly sensation was the loving words and embrace from the devoted wife and fond children who had been with him every hour during his long illness. Deceased was the oldest son of Washington Charles and was born in Guilford county a few miles from High Point, March 16, 1853. He spent his boyhood days on his father's farm and on reaching young manhood he went to Missouri, where he was engaged in farming. He returned to North Carolina and was traveling salesman for the Geo. E. Nissen Wagon Co. for a number of years. Soon after returning to the state he married a daughter of Mr. J. P. Nissen, the founder of the Nissen Wagon Works, at Waughtown. To them three children were born, two sons and a daughter. One of the sons died when he was a boy. He is survived by his wife and two children, his father and two brothers, and a sister, Mrs. F. M. Pickett, of this city.

Mr. Charles came to High Point about 27 years ago and engaged in the mercantile business. This he followed successfully until he was appointed postmaster here. He served 4 years under the Cleveland administration and High Point never had a better postmaster. Even before Mr. Charles' time was out at the post office the business men here recognizing his business ability he was elected cashier of the Commercial National Bank, which position he held up to last January, six months after he became incapacitated. In all of the positions he was privileged to hold, both public and private, he proved himself competent and was conscientious in the performance of every duty. He was a valuable citizen in many ways. In the everyday walks of life he was full of the spirit of optimism always, loved to render service, both large and small, to his friends and could always be found on the side of the best thought and action in the community. He loved good, clean citizenship and would lend his influence to nothing that did not point to that standard. Of strong conviction he was a most valuable ally in all of his connections. Next to his family he loved his church best. We have never known a man whose loyalty to church, as well as to those convictions of public preference taught him by his father, was any stronger. His love and devotion for his family was genuine and worthy of emulation. He loved his home and at all times the good cheer and effulgence of his happiness was the light and life of it. In the community he stood high as an upright business man and his name was always synonymous with truth and honesty. He was a strong friend and yet he was so modest about it that the great interest in his friends and the aid extended them was never known except by them. We have never known a man more loyal to his friends, who was willing at all times to hide a good deed behind genuine friendship and Christian modesty. Not only his family to whom he was so devoted will miss him, but the community which he served so well and conscientiously can ill afford to give him up. The funeral services will be held this afternoon from the First Baptist church, of which he had long been one of the Deacons, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Dr. W. C. Tyree, assisted by Rev. Thos. Carrick and Dr. J. B. Richardson.

The honorary pall-bearers will be composed of the Board of Directors of the Commercial National Bank, and the Board of Deacons of the Baptist church. Directors—J. Elwood Cox, Dr. W. G. Bradshaw, F. M. Pickett, J. W. Harris, W. P. Pickett, H. W. Fraser, Dr. D. A. Stanton, R. R. Ragan, J. J. Welch and J. P. Redding. Deacons—F. M. Pickett, A. E. Tate, N. W. Beeson, Clarence A. Smith, A. W. Council, C. C. Walker, A. J. Doda-mead, R. T. Chappell, J. A. Clinard.

The active pall-bearers are selected from Guilford Council Jr. Order of which he was a member: J. J. Farris, C. M. Hauser, V. A. J. Idol, W. C. Jones, B. A. Best, Chase M. Idol, A. B. Horney, R. B. White.

BANKS CLOSE.

The banks of the city closed today out of respect to Mr. R. C. Charles, who for many years was cashier of the Commercial National Bank.

Col. and Mrs. H. Montague and Mrs. W. M. Nissen, of Winston-Salem, were here today to attend the funeral of Mr. R. C. Charles.

The City Council today adjourned out of respect to Mr. R. C. Charles, whose funeral was held at the hour of meeting.

MASONIC.

A regular communication of Numa F. Reid Lodge No. 344, A. F. & A. M. will be held this (Monday) evening at 7:30 o'clock. By order of W. M. J. D. Paylor, Sec.
