STORIES OF SUCCESS

SENATOR A. J. BEVERIDGE

The talent of success is nothing more than doing what you can do well, and doing well whatever you do without a thought of fame. Senator Beveridge is a typical self-made man whose success is the result of hard, unflinching work. Once asked what he considered the prime requisites for a young man's success, he answered: "First energy, then determination." To these every thoughtful student of the life of this young farmer's son will add thrift and industry.

Without thrift Senator Beveridge would never have saved his way to college nor been able to meet his life's emergencies. Without saving principles no young man can confidently meet his future. NOW is the time to begin to save. If you want to start on the road to independence, or if you have started, and would like help and encouragement, open a savings account with this bank.

Your money will be earning 4 per cent for you, working while you work, but also working while you rest.

PIEDMONT BUILDING & LOAN

The first series of the Piedmont Building & Loan Association will begin business on April 15th. The books are now open for subscriptions at the Wachovia Bank & Trust Company.

There is no better way to lay aside a few dollars a month and get $100 per share at maturity, or build a home with but little more than rent money.

Oklahoma Fires First Gun--and First Honor Comes to Woodrow Wilson

Special to Enterprise.
Oklahoma City, Feb. 23.—The Oklahoma Democratic State Convention early today adopted the report of Bill Murray, Wilson's floor leader pledging the ten state delegates to the national convention for Wilson, and ten for Champ Clark. An amendment to the compromise resolution, providing for the endorsement of Clark was lost by a vote of 314 to 289. The convention then adjourned for recess.

Discharged Sailor Runs Amuck

Special to Enterprise.
Philadelphia, Feb. 23.—After holding the police at bay with an army rifle and an automatic pistol for half an hour, Lieut. E. U. B. Douredoure, recently dismissed from the marine corp, was overpowered and arrested today in the fashionable home of his mother. He fired a dozen ineffective shots at the police who fired one through his clothes.

Confesses To Hold-Up

Special to Enterprise.
Keyser, W. Va., F. A. Becker, the Baltimore & Ohio brakeman, is in jail here and is said to have confessed to the hold-up of the New York, St. Louis express last Monday night.

Gov. Wilson's Daughter Marooned

Special to Enterprise.
El Paso, Texas, Feb. 23.—Miss Nellie Wilson, daughter of Woodrow Wilson, and Miss Kitchin, a friend, are marooned at Madera, Chihuahua, Mexico, according to advices tonight. Owing to the increasing activity of the rebels, Mr. Wilson made demands that his daughter and her friend be conducted to the American border, but the rebels refuse to permit the railroad to run a train from Madera to Juarez until the situation improves.

Durham Organizes Kitchin Club

Special to Enterprise.
Durham, Feb. 23.—The Durham friends of Governor W. W. Kitchin have started a movement for the organization of a club to promote his candidacy for the United States Senate. More than 500 of his admirers in Durham affixed their signature to a membership list circulated Wednesday for the first time. The membership will reach into thousands. A meeting will be held at an early date at which the organization will be perfected, and it is hoped to have the governor present to make an address.

Valuable Prison Book Missing

Special to Enterprise.
New York, Feb. 23.—There is an effort to locate the missing counsel book in the toms, seen during March, 1907, when Folks Brandt was there awaiting sentence. District Attorney Whitman today called up the prison officials who had charge of the volume. This book is wanted because of allegations made by Brandt that Howard Gans, Schiff's attorney, called on him several times and finally persuaded him to plead guilty on a promise of light sentence.

Conspiracy--Prisoner Goes Free

Special to Enterprise.
New York, Feb. 23.—Justice Gerard hands down his decision sustaining writ of habeas corpus on which Brandt was taken from Dannemora.

Filing of decision practically frees Brandt, as he will be released on light bail or his own recognition and the two indictments against him will be dismissed or otherwise disposed of. Only danger he faces is possibility of Gerard's decision being upset, which would send him back to Dannemora.

Judgment cannot be filed until tomorrow, which gives Gov. Dix from now until then to issue a pardon, for after judgment is filed his pardon power cannot apply, as Brandt will then be under indictment, not conviction.

De Laney Nicoll and Alton B. Parker try to have Governor order Commissioner Hand to proceed with hearing postponed Tuesday for the purpose of clearing names of Mrs. Schiff, Mr. Schiff and Mr. Gans. Nicoll, in a letter to Governor, declares hearing is only way in which this can be done.

Attorney-General Carmody reports to Governor in favor of immediate pardon and against continuation of Hand hearings.

District-Attorney Whitman goes on with Grand Jury investigation into charge that Brandt was "railroaded" as result of a conspiracy. He will confer with Mr. Carmody as to appeal from Justice Gerard's decision and what steps are to be taken as to Brandt.

Charlotte Hostess To Auto Club

Special to Enterprise.
Charlotte, N. C., Feb. 23.—The automobile dealers of Charlotte have secured the co-operation not only of the railroads entering the city, but also of the Greater Charlotte Club and the merchants of the city in their efforts to make the Charlotte Automobile Show next week the greatest success possible. The officials of the Greater Charlotte Club are enthusiastic over the show and are confident that, made an annual affair, it will prove a great advertisement for the city. All of the railroads are giving reduced rates for the show and this, with the assurance that there will be large crowds here from out of the city, has led the merchants of the city, wholesale and retail, to plan big things for the week. The big department stores will put on special sales and will display new spring goods many of them, while the wholesalers are getting in touch with their out-of-town customers, many of them agreeing to pay the fare of these customers to the city during the show. So next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday promise to be exceedingly live days in Charlotte in many lines of business.

AT AUDITORIUM

Hear George Stuart at the Auditorium tonight.

The Music Department of the Woman's Club will hold its regular monthly meeting in the parlor of the Elwood Hotel, Saturday afternoon, February 24, at 3 o'clock.

John T. Brittain, of Asheboro, was here today.

Celebration of the Anniversary of High Point's Great Business Organization--Annual Banquet

At each recurring anniversary of the Manufacturers Club which is celebrated by a banquet, there is greater reason for pride in the organization. From year to year the evidence of the good, both directly and indirectly, accomplished for the town is manifest on every hand. It has not been so much the dollars and cents directly raised though the organization that has accomplished so much, but the fact that there has been such an organization imbued with a spirit of progress and ever ready to give its influence to development has been of incalculable value to the community. Some one asked recently what the Manufacturers Club was doing for the town and the answer was "what would the town have been without it?" Through its influence has been due largely the excellent public spirit that the business man and stranger finds here and a specific organization which voluntarily and at its own expense paves the way. It is not necessary for us to say that the greater part of its membership has a just pride in it and the time is not far distant that instead of making a good will offering of $3,000 to this the best town in the state we shall make it $10,000. It is among the best money we have ever spent here.

The Annual Banquet of this organization was held last night at the Elwood hotel from 8.30 to 12.30 o'clock and it is the consensus of opinion that it was in many respects the best ever held. The spirit was fine, the list of invited guests included some of the most distinguished speakers in the state, and the results of such a meeting not only furnished pleasure to those who attended but will redound to the good of the community for a long time to come.

The guests began to assemble at 8.15 and for nearly an hour there was a reception in the parlors of the Elwood. There were about 130 people present including the guests.

Manager Lewis Woodson who had prepared so elaborately and well announced at 9 o'clock that he was ready and under the strains of the splendid music furnished by Hood's Orchestra the guests filed into the dining room.

J. J. Farriss, president of the club, was toastmaster, and Rev. Dr. W. C. Tyree invoked the divine blessing. The dining room presented a most beautiful scene with its decorations and the whole setting of the affair was cause for congratulation.

The following menu was served continuing from 9 to 11.

- Oyster Cocktail
- Ox Tail a la Anglaise
- Pin Money Pickles
- Celery Hearts
- Queen Olives
- Braised Wild Duck, Giblet Sauce
- Candied Yams Asparagus Tips
- Angelica Punch
- Roast Young Turkey
- Celery Dressing
- Cranberry Sauce
- Cream White Potatoes
- French Peas
- Cream Fritters--Custard Sauce
- Lettuce and Tomato Salad
- Hot Mince Pie
- Block Ice Cream Assorted Cake
- Mixed Nuts and Raisins
- American Cream Cheese
- Saltine Wafers
- White Rock Demi-Tasse

At 11 o'clock the speaking was announced by the toastmaster, who introduced Gov. Kitchin as the first speaker, as one who had always responded to every call of the people of High Point and one whom our people loved to honor. Governor Kitchin did not announce any subject but spoke eloquently for half hour on "Manhood." It was a splendid effort and the audience heard him gladly and appreciatively. His words about High Point, her record and the right conception of her business men in building along moral lines was indeed a splendid tribute to a people who in their efforts along industrial lines have maintained a high standard of civic virtue. The speech was well received by all. The Governor did not come for a set speech, but his effort could not have been more appropriate.

The second speaker was Hon. E. J. Justice, ex-Speaker of the House, a man who when occasion demands it makes a magnificent antagonist. A man of strong convictions and with the courage of them at all times. The toastmaster in announcing him said that the first time he ever saw him when a boy he had a bull by the horns in a playful mood and he believed he "had had the bull by the horns ever since."

After a few pleasantries about High Point, Piedmont county and the "modesty" of our people about things in general here. Mr. Justice drew in vivid contrast honestly acquired wealth and that which is secured dishonestly. He classed the man of predatory wealth along with the anarchist which was obviously just. In closing Mr. Justice paid High Point a high compliment in the statement that our industries had been built up, our wealth acquired by honest methods. It was altogether a delightful effort and one which was appreciated. The next speaker was Hon. Zeb, Walser, of Lexington, who the toastmaster said had signified a desire to be buried in a Piedmont County coffin and for this reason the county matter had been temporarily postponed in order to give him a chance to repent. Mr. Walser is full of fun and on this occasion made some of his happiest hits, a little "penetrating" with some of his darts but always so that they might fall to the ground without doing serious damage. It was a well timed effort and one which fitted in the exercises with a precision that showed the master speaker.

Hon. Whitehead Klutz, of Salisbury, one of the most eloquent speakers of the state followed. For twenty minutes he carried the pride and patriotism of the guests to a high pitch as he pictured so beautifully the deeds of North Carolinians, the splendid history we had made in every era and then holding up to a full view what we might expect of our people in the future. We have never listened to a better speech and a more beautiful tribute. Mr. Klutz held the close attention of his hearers throughout his speech and at the close there was long applause.

Col. W. P. Wood, State Auditor, and a citizen of Randolph, made some happy remarks, beginning with the assertion that High Point was a great town and had reason to be because a large part of her population was made up of Randolph people. "If there had been no Randolph there would have been no High Point." Col. Wood's remarks were apt and made a fitting climax to the speeches of the guests. The exercises were closed with a brief speech from Mayor Fred N. Tate, who likes to talk about High Point. He emphasized the welcome to the guests of the occasion and reviewed the splendid work of the Manufacturers Club and wound up in a very happy turn in serving notice on our neighbors to prepare for Piedmont county. He also emphasized the valuable work of those who gave their time to the up-building of the city.

Telegrams of regrets were received from Hon. Oscar Underwood, who spoke in Philadelphia; Hon. Josephus Daniels, who had a previous engagement with the Durham Chamber of Commerce; ex-Governor Aycock, Senator Simmons, and Mr. M. V. Richards.

The occasion was an eventful one in the history of the club and the town.

MATERIAL FOR NEW POST OFFICE.

The revolving doors for the Main and Commerce street entrances of the new post office and the ornamental iron desks for the lobbies together with wrought iron grills which protect windows of lobby on the loggia of the main entrance arrived yesterday and are being adjusted. Superintendent Young don't expect to get in the new post office before April 15th.

BILL BOARDS ARE CONDEMNED.

Mayor Tate advises that the old unsightly Bill Boards on Main street, Washington street, and other streets in the central section of the city have been condemned, and permission will not be granted for the rebuilding of same.

An ordinance covering the matter will be submitted, and doubtless passed, at the next meeting of the Council.

Gov. Kitchin returned to Raleigh on the 9 o'clock train this morning.

Clarence H. Mackey and party of New York, arrived yesterday and went to Mr. Mackey's lodge four miles east of High Point.

CHRISTIANIZE THEM BY SOME OTHER METHOD

In a moving picture play house in Raleigh two weeks ago, a picture was on display, pointing out the moral as well as the danger and futility of sending white girls as missionaries among the pagan Chinese and Japanese. It recalls to my mind very vividly the sad fate of Elsie Siegle, who left her home to do missionary work among the Chinese, in the degraded Chinese quarters in New York city only a short while ago, and who was so brutally assaulted and afterwards murdered making good his escape. While the awful object lesson has had the tendency to check the custom of sending young white girls on these dangerous missions, there is yet too much of it. One caucasian girl is worth a regiment of Mongolians. And the American people have since decided to Christianize these pagans some other way.

TOO SHORT.

Mr. Editor:
Your short editorial dealing with the extortionate coal rates charged our people was timely and went to the point, but it was too short. The people here are bottled up on coal rates.
