STORIES OF SUCCESS

CORNELIUS N. BLISS

Power is never very far from us. The vigor of the human mind quickly appears when there is no longer any place for doubt or hesitation. In a few years, when the name of Cornelius N. Bliss was one to inspire respect from New Orleans to Boston, he acknowledged that the necessity to make not only his own success, but to provide for a large family of brothers and sisters, gave him the sense of thrift to which he attributed the realization of his dreams.

When the opportunity was given him to make a small investment in his employer's business, this boy of eighteen was ready. Constant saving and careful financing developed the young clerk into the master merchant of his day.

System in saving brings independence. Push, pluck and perseverance are as strong as an army when backed by the battery of thrift, industry and economy.

Start a savings account today, for it is what you save that counts. A dollar in the bank is worth two in the pocket, and the interest on it grows and grows.

may please him, but try serving him a dinner without ice and see how quickly his demeanor will change. It is annoying to the housewife to be without plenty of ice during the warm months. No iced deserts or toothsome ice cream, no crisp vegetables or tempting butter without good ice. Let us serve you—we do it at a fair price. The quality of our ice and system of delivery is the BEST.

The Rapid Completion of the Big Gas Plant

It is of great interest to the people of High Point to note the progress of the new gas plant which is being erected on the property situated east of the Best Chair Factory. The foundation for the gas holder was completed several days ago, and today we understand that several cars of material have been unloaded and the erectors will start building the gas holder within the next three or four days. The building for the manufacturing of gas is well under way, and Mr. I. G. Lawrence, contractor and builder, has promised that the building will be completed and ready for machinery on July 22. The foundation and part of the brick work is already in place. Three car loads of gas machinery were shipped from Cleveland, O., on July 5th and is expected to arrive in High Point by July 16.

30,000 Feet of Main We find that the company has thirty thousand feet of main stored at the gas plant which will be distributed along the streets within the next few days. Work will commence on laying mains either July 10th or 11th.

The firms that furnish the gas machinery are under contract with W. N. Coler & Co., Engr. Dept. to have everything completed and ready to manufacture gas the last week in August. It is the desire that those who wish to use gas would place their orders at the earliest possible moment. This is necessary in order that they may figure on which streets the mains will first be laid.

There will be another demonstration given by the gas company commencing July 15th. This demonstration will be interesting to all those who intend using gas as the lecturer will demonstrate to the satisfaction of everyone present that gas is the cheapest fuel that can be used, providing it is used according to the instructions given at these demonstrations.

Beautiful Residential Development

There are many visitors to Roland Park these days. As the work of grading the streets progresses, the beauty of the development of this property unfolds itself, and general admiration is expressed. Wexler avenue, leading into the Park from Main street, is broad and attractive. Brantley Court, a well-shaded acre on a knoll and surrounded by a sixty foot street, is a veritable beauty spot and a crowning feature. Ardmore Circle, over a third of a mile in length and to have a uniform hedge around it, will be a lovely, romantic drive. Architect Northup has designed an exceedingly artistic entrance, consisting of two lodges and a pair of ornamental columns surmounted by electric lights. These will be constructed of tile and specially-made brick.

There is no question at all that Roland Park will be one of the most ambitious and prettiest residential sections in North Carolina. The tract of land is specially well adapted for the purpose, and the improvements are on a liberal scale and evidence marked good taste. The stock holders and officers of the Roland Park Co. are gentlemen of substance and the highest business standing. They may be relied upon to carry out their promises in every detail. They will provide all modern conveniences for the purchasers of the lots, including water, sewerage, lights and sidewalks.

About twenty lots have already been sold, and among the buyers are some of the most prominent citizens of High Point. It is certain that the building of handsome residences in the Park will be begun within the next several months.

Support Our City Park

It is the purpose of the city to continue the improvements at the City Park until it has been brought up to a proper state of attractiveness and with the generous co-operation of the people generally this can all be accomplished this year. A proposition of this kind always requires time and money to bring about satisfactory developments and considering the small amount of means available thus far, we consider that a very fair showing indeed has been made.

ROOSEVELT'S LEADER VISITS WILSON

Trenton, N. J., July 9.—Among the first visitors to Governor Wilson after his arrival at the office of state house, was ex-Senator Everett Colby, the Roosevelt leader of New Jersey. It is rumored Colby brought tidings from Roosevelt but Colby denied this, said Rooseveltians "regarded Wilson hardest man to beat in country."

AT THE EAGLE.

The vaudeville at the Eagle for Tuesday and Wednesday will be Walker and West. These two people being very clever in a singing and talking act. The slack wire artist, Vogel Crawford, is the best that has been seen at the Eagle in some time. We still have good pictures and good music.

W. G. Jerome, P. N. Montague and W. C. Northrop, of Winston, spent yesterday afternoon here.

New Industry Certain

The Enterprise is pleased to know the paper box factory mentioned in our columns a few days ago, is to be located here. The owner of a large plant who has been in the business for a dozen years or more and caters to the hosiery and knitting mill trade, and also shoe trade, is to move here at an early date.

A New Church Arises

At a congregational meeting of the First Reformed church a short while ago it was decided to build a new church, the present pastorate having been one of marked success. After one year's work the need of a Sunday school building was realized and this undertaken, as a result of this effort, the congregation now has a modern Sunday school building. Then came the building of the church which is rising rapidly from the site of the old one.

Large numbers of the unsaved young people of the southern part of the city are under the influence of this church. In view of this the church and pastor greatly feels the responsibility that rests upon them to do their utmost to save them. The seating capacity of the church will be largely increased and the work is going forward.

The M. P. Orphanage

As announced some days ago the Methodist Protestant church has purchased a farm from Mr. J. J. Welch on the Greensboro road, and it is their purpose to put an Orphan's Home on it at an early date. They are planning to expend about $15,000 on the farm in buildings and improvements, and hope to have the main buildings up and ready to be occupied by the first of November.

In conversation with Mr. J. M. Millikan yesterday we learned that this home is not an institution of the church in North Carolina alone, but that the entire Methodist Protestant church is back of it, and the success of the institution is assured. It means a great deal to High Point to have this Orphan's Home in our midst. The committee came here and purchased the site without lannassing High Point first and thus pressing the city to make a bid for the institution.

They did this because they had full confidence that this community would do its whole duty by such an undertaking.

The local Methodist Protestant church is doing well by the Home, and they confidently expect the public spirited citizens of High Point to help them out.

Mr. J. M. Millikan and Mr. T. A. Hunter, two business men of Greensboro, are coming over this week to canvass the citizens of High Point, and we bespeak for them a most hearty response. As soon as they are through with the canvass here the finance committee is planning to make a simultaneous canvass of Greensboro, Winston, Asheboro, Burlington, Henderson and other places with a view to having work begin on buildings within the next 60 days. The finance committee consists of the following: T. A. Hunter, J. M. Millikan, Dr. F. R. Harris, Geo. T. Penny, Mrs. W. C. Hammer, and Mrs. A. G. Dixon. The building committee: Dr. J. R. Reitzel, Sheriff R. R. Ross, A. M. Rankin, J. J. Welch, R. H. Brooks and V. W. Idol.

A large number of citizens are out of town this month and others will leave Saturday for Morehead, White Sulphur, Moore's Springs and the mountains.

Mayor Tate further appoints all persons interested and who may find the time to attend this convention to consider himself a delegate to the convention. ## Mrs. W. Chase Idol Honors Bride.

There is a certain fascination about any function given a bride, and when the affair is given by one who has so recently enjoyed that title herself and is also given in honor of one to whom cupid's fatal dart made the first pierce at that former marriage—when the bride of today was maid to the first bride and her lately chosen mate the best man, the party is truly one of distinction.

The cards to the "At Home" given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. W. Chase Idol and which were pretty and oblong and hand delivered bore the name of Mrs. Virgil Austin Jasper Idol, (nee Miss Annie Sue Wilson) the young bride who has already been given such a substantial place in High Point society.

At the head of the broad steps and on the veranda the callers were welcomed by Mrs. Alvin Parker, Mrs. George Matton, and Mrs. Carl Hill and directed to the punch table on the south porch where there was massed stately palms, making a restful background for the wealth of one of nature's choicest flowers—"Queen Anns Lace"—which made modest foot lights for the edge of the porch fell all around the punch table, and in their quivering faces rising high around the bowl which was the reservoir for the most refreshing punch, it was so easy for fancy to weave fairy pictures and all of this was enlivened by the daintiness of Misses Ethel and Mary Walker as they passed the delicious beverage so gracefully served by Mrs. Arthur Lyon and Miss Verta Idol. Attracting almost as much attention as the much sought bride were the two beautiful little tots who received cards at the door—little Margaret Hauser and Dora Walker.

At the opening of the hall, made beautiful with the same woodland flower—Queen Ann Lace—banked with ferns. Mrs. J. J. Farris in a val lace afternoon gown received and directed the guests to the library door, where Mrs. C. M. Hauser, yellow chiffon over blue messaline, presented them to the receiving line in the library. Only the most delicate species of fern were used in here, but to be a color motif for the brides exquisite gown, the rarest of decorative possibilities were accomplished by use of the nasturtium in a solid color of pale delicate yellow.

Receiving with the hostess who wore her handsome wedding gown of white duchess satin elaborately trimmed in rose point lace and wearing white brides roses, were: Mrs. Virgil A. J. Idol, the honoree in yellow Camelon Raye with draperies of gold lace and wearing lillies of the valley; Mrs. Chas. Seiwiers, Winston-Salem, white crepe de chine, self embroidered, fashioned over white satin; Miss Grace Seiwiers, Winston-Salem, white imported chiffon robe embroidered in pink poppies and made over sea green taffeta; Miss Vera Idol, white satin with all over spangled net; Mrs. W. H. Idol, in black chiffon cloth silk and lace; Mrs. Allen Tomlinson in black taffeta souple and lace; Miss Pearl Idol in printed taffeta of a delicate tan shade; Mrs. J. W. Harris in white chiffon and pearl embroidery.

Mrs. S. Halstead Tomlinson invited the guests to the drawing room where amid a profusion of pink roses and in light colored chiffon gowns Mrs. J. D. Cox and Mrs. A. S. Caldwell, Jr., received. Mrs. W. T. Parker directed the way to the dining room which was a triumph of decorative art.

The exquisite towering floral center piece of pink sweet peas which rested on the finest of linen so handsomely embroidered in delicately shaded pink roses—this piece of art being one of the many handsome wedding gifts of the hostess—the tall pink candles in silver candelabra, and capped with delicate shades of pink aided in preserving the tones of pink on buffet and throughout the room giving a most charming aspect in this room where the appointments and furnishing were in harmony and where every expedient of genuine hospitality was called into requisition for the pleasure of the guests by the following young girls who in light afternoon frocks served the iced collation: Misses Catherine Tate, Clara Stanton, Hazel Briggs, Edith Bradshaw, Louise Wilson. In the hall leading from the dining room Mrs. Gilbert Clark received, and here the radiance and bloom and fragrance of vases of red dahlias and red roses fragraned the air.
