A Southerner Will Reform the National Pension Abuse

Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—For the first time in many years pension bills for Union veterans will be in charge of a Southerner, for unless he succeeds to the finance chairmanship, Thomas P. Gore, the blind Senator from Oklahoma, who is a native of Mississippi, is to have the chairmanship of the pensions committee. Mr. Gore was not born until fifteen years after the close of the Civil War. He began life with hard luck. When he was eight a playmate accidentally jabbed a stick in his left eye and blinded it. Then when he was eleven the other was blinded by an arrow from a crossbow. But regardless of these handicaps, he went through college, studied law, taught school and without previously holding public office came to the Senate when only thirty-seven. After leaving his native Mississippi, he lived for a time in Texas, where he joined the Populist party. After going on to Oklahoma, to grow up with the country, he became a Democrat.

DEATH OF MRS. MARY MILTON.

The many friends of the family of Col. D. H. Milton will sympathize with them on account of the death of Mrs. Mary A. Milton, Col. Milton's mother, which occurred at her home at Albemarle yesterday after a brief illness. Aged 86 years. She is survived by only one son, Col. D. H. Milton, of this city.

Deceased was one of the oldest citizens of Albemarle, having moved there about 1841. She was born in 1821 in what was then Montgomery county and had a wide acquaintance throughout that section. For many years she was a devoted member of the Methodist church and her influence for good was deeply felt in the community where she spent so many years of her life.

The funeral services were held this afternoon at Albemarle. Col. Milton was unable to attend on account of the illness of his wife. His son R. H. Milton and son-in-law, W. M. Tucker left this morning to attend the funeral services.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Commercial National Bank of High Point, N. C. will be held in the directors room of the bank Tuesday, January 14th, 1913, at ten o'clock a. m. for the election of the board of directors and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting.

V. A. J. Idol, Cashier.

Another Home Builder

At the annual meeting held recently of the High Point Perpetual Building & Loan Association, it was instructed that a new series begin January 1, 1913. This will be the tenth series. This association began in 1901. Since its organization it has the excellent reputation of not having lost a dollar for its share holders and at present six of the ten series are now in force with a total of 3600 shares and loans to the amount of $165,000, which represents homes built in the city of High Point, over $50,000 of this amount has been put in homes right here in our midst in the year 1912.

A NEW BUILDING CODE

In a new and growing community where mammoth manufacturing plants and extensive stores and other buildings are being constructed, it is in line that we have a new Building Code to govern this work—city rules comprehensive in their character, in line with what municipalities which have any future prospective growth should have.

Rules governing the use of reinforced concrete work—laws governing elevators with reference to their hazard in times of fire, also that they should have automatic safty trap doors while the sprinkler system for large buildings is becoming mandatory. Another feature growing out of modern building codes, is a demand on part of citizens providing for a larger bond from contractors who are doing city work. This demand has grown out of recent court decisions in which old precedents were set aside, and cities held liable for personal injuries. By increasing the bond a city thus protects itself.

There are many and like advantages as to the requirements for permits, touching structural material, foundation walls, chimneys, flues, heating methods, stairways, combustible roofings, etc., incident to buildings that are to be erected in a growing town.

FIELD TRIAL DELAYED

The field trials which were to start today, have been delayed on account of weather conditions, but will begin not later than Saturday morning.

To Give Shippers Right of Appeal

The following interesting article touching the shippers of High Point appears in this week's Tariff Bulletin:

Shippers Want Court Rights

A number of Washington attorneys engaged in the practice before the Interstate Commerce Commission and representing shippers held a meeting on November 22 and issued a call addressed to other shippers' attorneys throughout the country to attend a conference to be held at Washington December 2. The purpose of the conference is to devise ways and means to secure legislation by which shippers who have been denied rights by the Interstate Commerce Commission may have their cases reviewed by the Commerce Court. During the last session of Congress several bills were introduced for the purpose, some of which received favorable reports from the appropriate committees.

Great interest is manifest in the purpose, and it is said that strenuous efforts will be put forward to induce Congress, at its forthcoming session, to enact such legislation as will give to shippers the same right of review as is now accorded to carriers. In the last session of Congress the proposition had the approval of the attorney-general, and some, if not all, of the members of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The call for the meeting is signed by Charles Conradis, John D. Daish, A. B. Hayes and Francis B. James of Washington and William E. Lamb and L. M. Walter of Chicago.

Roland Park

Engineer Dean and force began work at Roland Park this morning making the survey for sewerage system through the property.

Quite a number of improvements for this property has been planned and will be carried out at once.

OFF TO THE SHRINERS MEETING.

The following candidates "for the shrine" left today for Charlotte. Tonight they take the degree which will be conferred by the Temple officers of the Ancient Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine: J. M. Harrell, R. A. Wheeler, Robert Brockett, D. H. Hall, G. F. Duncan, Dr. F. E. Perkins, A. T. Wishart and W. G. Burnett.

Quite a delegation to citizens accompanied the candidates, leaving on the early morning train and also on train No. 7. Among those going down were H. E. Filds, Frank Wineskie, W. D. Brooks, P. W. Eshelman, J. Ed. Millis, Ferd Eecker, Chas. Hortell, W. D. Blake, P. V. Kirkman, Chas. Ragan, J. Ed. Kirkman, W. C. Jones, McBullington and Jack Wilber, of New York. G. W. Clark and GeoG. Matton.

The costumes of the various candidates was a great source of amusement to the crowd that gathered at the depot to see them off. Dr. Frank Perkins, of course, was the center of attraction. He fooled them, he was having more fun than the rest of them.

A PLAN FOR NEXT YEAR

One of the plans of the new year will be to build a manufacturers home for High Point. We believe this plan will meet with sufficient encouragement as to bring about the consummation. Our membership we believe is the strongest business organization in the state and great benefits are going to accrue from its future efforts to build High Point to greater things.

The Sovereign Recipe for Progress--is the High Point Spirit

Stehli & Co. Win Suit

The Supreme Court has handed down its decision and the Southern Express Company must now pay for four bales of silk shipped from here to New York, the silk being lost in transit. The express company's contention was that the company was not liable for over $50, but the jury awarded the shipper, Stehli, $1,000, whereupon the case was appealed by the express company, the Supreme court yesterday affirming the decision of the lower court.

THE CAMP MEETING.

The Camp meeting continues to increase in interest. The sermon last night was especially fine. The male quartet and the choir are furnishing inspiring music.

Come out at 7.30 tonight. The Friday morning prayer meeting will be held at the residence of Mr. D. H. Hall on Lindsay street and all who live near are invited to come at 9.30.

Mr. Camp will speak to men only at 3 o'clock Sunday. arrange to be present.

MEETING NEW COUNTY

There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the new county tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Manufacturers Club to arrange for mass meeting and other urgent matters.

J. J. Farris, Chm.

DELIGHTFUL RECEPTION AHEAD.

The young men of the city are arranging to give the members of the Delta Tau a delightful reception before the Xmas holidays.

MR. COMERS CONDITION

The many friends of Mr. J. L. Comer, who had the misfortune to have the ligaments of his hand so badly lacerated in an auto accident in Greensboro Thanksgiving evening, are pleased to know that he is getting along nicely—though still confined to his room at the Elwood.

NOTICE ELKS.

Regular meeting of local lodge of Elks tonight at 7.30. A full attendance is desired.

R. H. Sechrest, Sec.

Mrs. V. W. Idol is visiting her father, Mr. H. K. Reid, at Charlotte.

SALE OF FINE HATS

The special sale of felt hats trimmed pattern hats and fancy feathers going on at Miss Venetia Smith, is well worth the attention of the ladies. To buy hats at half price and in the season is unusual.

Another consignment of those stylish Immiabon sets at Miss Venetia Smith's. Nothing better for Xmas presents.

Special prices on ribbons for the holiday trade at Miss Venetia Smith's.

CO. M ATTENTION

A very important meeting of Co. M will be held this evening—every member should be present.

Near the close of its most prosperous year—in great manufacturing increases—in bank clearings, in its building record—High Point takes a look into the future with the brightest prospects yet visible on the very verge of the new year, 1913, which will be a record breaker.

While other towns are being treated to "theoreis" concerning the road to prosperity—this progressive citizenship has shown the High Point spirit—which in its ultimate analysis means—getting down to work and getting results.

We have passed through a great political election period the clamor of contending patriots has subsided, the recipes and formula's for prosperity have all been tucked back into the wind-bag.

And still High Point stands on its same old foundation, sawing wood.

Men—at least those who are wise—still go about their business and the hum of industry resumes sway.

All the fine spun campaign theories about prosperity may safely be forgotten in the face of the towns actual progress.

Of all the wind in them not enough is let to fan a single forge fire into heat or to waft a single sail of commerce across the industrial sea.

There is but one sound, ever-abiding doctrine of prosperity, and that lies in these simple words of the High Point spirit.

Get to work!

It doesn't matter how you are, or what your business or occupation is, if you apply that doctrine in your daily life in this town the chances are 99 out of 100 that you will find prosperity blooming all along your path.

Good, honest hustle, faithfully kept up, beats all the theory.

One good, hard lick for yourself will do more for the betterment of your town than all the politicians in the state ever will or can.

And to the working man at the bench let us say the election has come and gone, and its results have been surprising to most of us; but an honest day's work still wins its profit or its wage, and that's the only honest way to win it now, as it was before, and as it ever will be, while the old world swings and whirls.

Every citizen wants our people to be prosperous, peaceful and happy and getting down to work is the High Point spirit that will bring this about.

It's the only sovereign recipe. Its the surest means of substantial contribution to general prosperity, peace and happiness in our growing town.

IN THE NEXT FOUR MONTHS

Forging into the new year for four months, we find another large cotton mill completed giving employment to 400 extra employes—the trebling in capacity of the now mammoth Durham Hosiery Mills. The completion of the Coler Railroad from Denton to High Point. Completion of mammoth department store—a large number of handsome homes in Roland Park, and on the already beautifully developed residential end of North Main street. The same building activity in the Quaker Grove property, and active building in and around west end and South High Point.

And greatest of all the legislative grant of Aycock county with its attendant county and municipal buildings. The High Point spirit is bringing all this to bear—it is the sovereign recipe for town building. Let everybody pull together.
