United States Will Demand Fair Play for Madero

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—Intervention of the United States Government to secure justice, or at least a fair trial for fallen President Madero of Mexico, as announced by Secretary Knox at the Cabinet meeting today, was an unexpected development of the State Department's policy in regard to that Republic. As recently as yesterday it was announced that there was no intention to depart from the policy of non-intervention in the Mexican troubles. It appears, however, that this statement, was based upon the natural assumption that the new established Mexican Government would observe the amenities of civilized warfare in its treatment of prisoners of either high or low degree and when the killing of Gustavo Madero was ground for genuine apprehension for the fate of the ex-President, it was felt that the time had come to stretch forth a restraining hand.

Must Protect Madero.
The Administration feels that it has not in any manner departed from its policy of strict neutrality. Its action was purely impersonal and probably would have followed as surely had General Diaz been captured by Madero and threatened with death without the process of law. The fact is, though not officially admitted, that in an unofficial manner the State Department did bring to bear influences which saved Diaz from death when he was captured by General Beltran at Vera Cruz last Fall. It is believed that the Mexican people themselves, after the heat of combat is over will be the first to express gratitude to the United States Government for preventing the placing of such a spot on the reputation of their country, as would follow what practically would amount to the murder of a deposed President.

It is recalled in some quarters that the action of the Administration in the case of Madero is precisely the reverse of that taken 40 years ago when President Andrew Johnson refused to intervene to prevent the shooting of the unfortunate Emperor Maximilian, who was by a singular coincidence betrayed by the military leader, General Lopez, who was his main reliance. In that case, however, it is pointed out that Maximilian was in Mexico greatly against the will of the United States and also that he was tried by a legal tribunal in the form of a court martial.

While it is hoped that the Huerta Government will be able to draw to its support all of the revolutionary leaders of the North and the South, the Administration continues under the military and naval policy of preparedness. Pursuant to this, the First and Fifth Brigades of the Army remain under preparatory orders for foreign service and the three Army transports, which are due to arrive at Galveston early next week, will be retained there ready to embark troops at a moment's notice.

Communication

Mr. Editor: I received a few days ago a letter from a friend, who is a pastor in one of our southern towns, telling me that they have there a Men's Union Prayer Meeting which meets every Sunday afternoon, and he says its influence for good is very great. Feeling as I do a deep interest in everything that relates to the real prosperity and best interest of our city I venture to suggest to our christian men that they arrange for such a prayer meeting

The Debate

In the triangular debate concerning a suffrage amendment to our state constitution that women should vote, our high school boys both won and lost. The two boys from Reidsville, C. E. Brewer and Charles Bennett, who represented the negative side against Marvin York and Glenn Muse, our boys, who upheld the affirmative, were defeated last night in the Auditorium, where quite a goodly number of citizens were gathered to hear and enjoy the oratorical contest. Dr. Dred Peacock, J. Elwood Cox, and C. C. Barnhardt acted as judges and in a separate and individual vote cast they decided unanimously in favor of the affirmative. Hon. W. P. Ragan presided in his inimitable and graceful manner. Although the boys on both sides displayed marvellous talent for simply high school pupils, and incidentally we might add that there is no surer way of popularizing woman suffrage than such debates, and seemingly it is only a question of time when all the women of all the states will have this privilege.

We are sorry to add that the two of our boys, Roma Proctor and Sidney Perry, who went over to Winston-Salem to engage the boys there last night, lost the contest, the Winston-Salem boys winning over them unanimously. We hope our boys will take courage. They deserve great credit. We notice from this morning's papers that some high schools in the state larger than High Point lost both sides of the question last night. So we say, hurrah for our high school boys!

Death of Mrs. Milton

Mrs. Milton, wife of Col. D. H. Milton, died at her home here about 2 o'clock. A more extended account will be given in Monday's paper. The burial will be here probably Monday. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to Col. Milton and family in the sad bereavement.

REV. A. S. CALDWELL RESIGNS

Rev. A. S. Caldwell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, has tendered his resignation to take effect April 1st. The Presbytery will act on the resignation at the next meeting.

THE ROLAND PARK CLUB

With only 18 membership left the Roland Park Lot Club will close Monday night. Buyers have been busy all day—notwithstanding the inclement weather and the indications are that the club will be filled by Monday night. This unique method has rightly appealed to the young men of the city who have put themselves in line for a high class building lot at the same time cultivating the habit of saving.

The management of Roland Park regrets that the proposition could not have been held open sixty days—but they will positively adhere to their advertisement in the Enterprise, closing the club Monday night. A striking feature of this exceptional successful lot sale is the high standard of advertising done. Not a circular or banner was ever displayed—the only advertising medium being the Daily Enterprise. Several out of town people awoke to possibilities of High Point dirt, bought lots without ever seeing them. Those who have purchased may consider themselves fortunate indeed.

The Enterprise understands that there is to be considerable improvement in the third ward soon.

Township Bond Issue Meets With Approval

The suggestion of the Enterprise a few days ago to issue $100,000 road bonds for the township about $7,000 for the town and $3,000 for the country, which would put the township in better condition than any township in the state has met with a hearty response especially among the country people. We will endeavor to have a representative mass meeting very soon in order to get the sentiment of all. It is a just measure and will prove helpful to all and it will cost only 10c on the $100.

HURRAH! FOR UNCLE SAM

Every citizen is prouder of his country today after reading of the action of Mr. Taft and his Cabinet which means that the cruel and blood-thirsty Mexicans shall not ruthlessly put to death their ex ruler Madero without cause. There is a sensation of genuine pride that thrills us all to be a part of a great Christian nation which steps in against barbarism and says the right thing shall be done. It is our business to do such things. All of the good on the continent has come through the benevolent and Christian influences of the United States and Canada and we have the moral right to insist on a civilized standard.

Raleigh, Feb. 22.—The machinery for increasing the state's revenue at least $350,000 without increasing the levy and taxes on real property is contained in the revenue and machinery bill, just completed by the joint senate and house finance committees, now ready to be submitted to the general assembly as soon as the bill comes from the printers. The collections from all sources now amount to $3,250,000, every dollar of which is needed to carry on the business of the state government. The necessity for more money by reason of the six months school bill which will surely become a law this year and the deficit which is now confronting the state, have moved Chairman Cook and Williams and their members to exert their best endeavors. The plan calls for raising revenue from incomes, inheritances and franchises, three sources of
