

We confidently believe that when they investigate—that the city council will establish some city hospital provision. The obligation is too plain.

Many have perished on the dangerous shoals of tariff legislation—but President Wilson is tackling it with a supreme confidence.

Today will likely mark the passing of the 60-day session of the General Assembly of 1913—it will reconvene however in extra session in October, 1913.

Woodrow! You are a wise student of national history—no figure-heads will sit at the Cabinet table—they are being selected as being conspicuous only for their merit.

WAS LOOKING BOTH WAYS

Some short minded papers are prompting Woodrow Wilson for appointing Bryan for past favors. Seems to us brethren—when he appointed Mr. Bryan he was looking both ways—not alone to the past—but certainly to the future. Bryan's executive genius comes from an ample qualification to handle the great things of state because of his close touch with the evils of our present government—and the remedy for these evils. Indeed Mr. Wilson was looking more to the future than to the past. Look what it means to have a statesman handle the Mexican situation—the Panama canal dispute with Great Britain—and many like matters. Then too the nations of the world respect Mr. Bryan—he has been the honored guest of all the crowned heads of Europe. He knows intimately the governments of the old world. It means a great deal to have him deal with the foreign policy—then too he is an honest christian American gentleman.

GAYNOR STILL ON THE FIRING LINE

Rev. Jacob Price, of the M. E. Church and a leading divine of New York preaching on the subject "Our City's Peril at Albany" last Sunday night said: "Is the Wagner committee to be used to give the Mayor the power to appoint a Police Commissioner who shall serve ten years, and is that Commissioner to be appointed by the present Mayor?" he asked. "In the name of reason, is the public prepared for this calamity."

"Now we have a Mayor who has failed utterly to maintain order; one under whose administration vice and crime have thrived. Is he to name a man after his own heart?"

"Suppose the city wakes up and elects for the next Mayor one who is honest, clear visioned, capable and one who respects his oath. What will it all avail if for ten years we have fixed in the office of Police Commissioner a man in league with the underworld, appointed to carry on the same regime which has existed under the present administration?"

SOUTHERN GIRLS AT WHITE HOUSE

The Postmaster-General and Mrs. Burleson have two pretty daughters—the Misses Sidney and Lucy Burleson—who are attending school at Sweet Briar, Virginia. They are Cabinet debutantes of the future.

The Daniels Family.
In the household of the new Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels are the two sisters of Mrs. Daniels, the Misses Belle and Ethel Bagley. These girls are the sisters also of Ensign Worth Bagley the boy hero of the Spanish war.

One of the most interesting girls of the Cabinet circle is Miss

Agnes Hart Wilson, Miss Wilson believes in the vocational life for American women, and has served as her father's secretary during his terms in Congress since her fifteenth year. She has a profound knowledge of labor questions and is an authority on the subject. The Wilson's have a large family of young children, and Mrs. Wilson generally prefers to keep them in the attractive homestead at Blossburg, Pa. Therefore Miss Wilson has acted as her father's secretary for some years, and is thoroughly conversant with Washington and Congressional society.

There are so many Democratic daughters in the Senatorial circle that they form an interesting group by themselves.

A bouquet of Democratic belles could be gathered from the households of Democratic members of the House.

Easter will mark the height of the new season, and already a flower ball for charity is being planned by the Democratic girls. Dinner, dances and other post Lenten diversions will ring in the new era of their Democratic social leadership.

A COLD, LA GRIPPE, THEN PNEUMONIA

Is too often the fatal sequence. La Grippe coughs hang on, weaken the system, and lower the vital resistance. R. G. Collins, Postmaster, Barnegat, N.
