Presbyterian Synod Asked To Appropriate $150,000 For Barium Springs

CHARLOTTE, Oct. 24.—The synod of North Carolina of the Southern Presbyterian church, which convenes tonight at Lincolnton, will be asked to appropriate $150,000 to the Barium Springs orphanage. It was decided at a meeting of the board of regents here. The money will be used to cover maintenance and to aid in new work which the regents desire to undertake. The report, made to the regents last night, showed $140,000 had been spent during the fiscal year on new buildings for the orphanage and plans call for the construction of new dormitories and a home for babies.

The greatest achievement of the last year was reported as the erection of the woman's building at the orphanage dedicated a few weeks ago, while the remodeling of Kumpel Hall and the addition of a dining room to it and other improvements made it possible to care for more children.

The expansion of the waist line according to this survey, is due to over-eating and indulgence in sweets. "Always leave the table hungry" is a motto suggested to offset the conditions.

Crowds Not Showing Fervor Over The Campaign, Speakers Say, But Democrats Feel Safe

RALEIGH, Oct. 24.—National Republican Committeeman Charles Reynolds must be in distress, according to his letter on file as late board of elections here, because Governor Charles is trying to get up some new registrations in Republican counties and is warning Chairman Pearsall of the election board that "the congress of the nation will not permit such gross and manifest injustices to pass unchallenged."

But Colonel Albert Cox who went to Alexander county, in the eighth district, gives the Raleigh people the real news about that registration. He says that in the late and inane contest of Dr. Ike Campbell with Farmer Bob Doughan, Dr. Ike made affidavits that many irregularities were allowed by registration of voters not qualified to exercise the right. District Attorney Frank Linney is likewise quoted as being on the look-out for these irregularities so that he can prosecute them in the federal courts. The Democrats are therefore registering now in order to get the books right. They do not desire to have another Campbell kick and certainly do not relish the idea of prosecution by Linney. The registration is justified wholly on Republican testimony.

Some Republicans in Raleigh are good and mad at Dr. Campbell, whose capacity for household plays in politics seems to be unlimited. It was the doctor who first advised in Ashe and Alleghany counties in the 1920 campaign, Democratic registrars to register illiterate women, just so they were white, and to refuse registration of negro men and women, no matter how literate they were. He got himself in the papers for that advice and when he went before a Republican congress which made a good many gestures of "friendly character in the direction of the heroes, these statements came back to plague him. This three-in-one advice will long be troublesome. It was caused to violate state and federal constitutions and state and federal election laws, it caused the registration books of the mountain counties to be filled with illiterate women, especially, or the Democrats did not feel disposed to challenge white women.

The Campbell blunder will cost the party a great many votes on the new registration, but the Democrats are charging it all up to him and Mr. Linney. As for Governor Harley's letter, Old Man Pearsall just snickers about it. "Ain't got nothing more to do with that case than the pope has with the theology of the Holy Rollers," Colonel Pearsall has said. "never knew anything about the new registration, in those counties until Governor Reynolds told me," he continued. And the law gives the county the complete control.

Democratic speakers who come back to Raleigh freely admitting that their crowds have not been impressive, declare that Republican apathy is something oppressive. The Republican revolt is getting beyond local proportions. In Cabarrus, Davie, Stokes, Surry and Sampson there is open rebellion. It is not hoped that the Democrats will carry all of these counties and it is barely probable that all, save one, will go Republican. But Republican trouble-hunters can be accommodated at home. So far as is known there is not a Democratic county in the state any uprising.

Nevertheless, the Democratic leaders are taking no chances on a stay-at-home vote. Everything is being done to bring out the people on election day, and no local or state leader here thinks the Democracy will lose anything in the fall election.

EDITOR JOHNSON IS BACK AT HIS DESK

Work Begins On Concrete Road From Thomasville To Lexington

(By J. D. NEWTON)
THOMASVILLE, Oct. 24.—It is exceedingly gratifying to his friends that Archibald Johnson is now able to get to his newspaper office, Charity and Children, a short while nearly every day. On last Saturday he was able to go to the office of secretary of North Carolina railroads at Burlington for the first time in six months. His seat at church services is pretty regularly occupied each week, and he is again taking an active part in the vital affairs of his church. Mr. Johnson has by no means regained his former weight but improvement in his step and vigor is quite noticeable, and his paper is beginning to flash the sparks of his soul and intellect each week.

After completing the concrete highway leading to High Point from here, the Hegedorn company has moved its force and started work on the link leading from here to Lexington, starting two miles below, and grading back this way, following in quick succession with the mixing and pouring of concrete. Very short spaces of the old road bed are being used for the new

Three residences owned by three negroes are being moved back about fifty feet for the new right-of-way. The Daniel Eddinger residence, now owned by his son, Oco Eddinger, is left on the north side of the road, the road running through the premises. It is stated by the surveyors that the distance from Thomasville to Lexington has been shortened something less than a mile by cutting out curves at many places.

I. E. Leonard, of Jamestown, has just closed a real estate deal with B. M. Sddinger, buying his home with about 22 acres of land, three miles southwest of town for a consideration of $1,800. Mr. Leonard will move his family within four or five weeks to their new home.
