

DAIRY EXTENSION WORKERS TO HELP

Meetings in Interest of Milk Production to Be Held in January

RALEIGH, Dec. 5.—Beginning January 2, the dairy extension workers of the state, co-operating with various county agents, will conduct a series of eight meetings in the rural schools of five counties where cream now is being produced for creameries, it was announced today by John A. Arey, of the agricultural extension service.

"Since the beginning of the creamery industry, milk production has been more or less seasonal," said Mr. Arey. "It is natural for the dairy cow to give her heaviest flow of milk during the summer months when there is an abundance of succulent grasses, and then dry off as fall approaches. However, thoughtful dairymen find more profit and also many other advantages in favor of winter dairying when feeding is carried on in a business-like way.

"On the New York butter market for the past three years there has been a difference of about 5 cents per pound between the price paid 88 and 92 score butter. The quality of butter than any creamery can turn out is largely determined by the quality of cream received and this in turn controlled by the man producing the cream."

These two subjects will be discussed in the eight meetings to be held in each of the counties to be designated, he said. School children of the upper grades, farmers and their wives will be asked to attend the meetings.

Veterans Seek Funds
DURHAM, Dec. 4.—Veterans of Durham county are seeking to obtain passage of a bill at the coming legislature to allow the county to appropriate one-half of one per cent of the county taxes to the fund for erecting a monument to the soldiers of the Confederacy in Courthouse Square, the amount not to exceed $5,000.

The Horney Brothers were highly successful with the Mendon farm sale and the Hill & Houser lot sale—their first appearance in their old home town. If you did not see them work one of these sales it will be worth your time to come out and see them in action on the Five Points lot sale Friday, December 8th, at 1 p. m. or the J. Elwood Cox lot sale, Saturday, December 9th, at 1 p. m.

Attend the auction sale of the J. Elwood Cox lots on East Green street, Saturday, December 9th, at 1 p. m.
