Cotton pickers are getting fifty cents per hundred in this section for picking out cotton. Producers hold out stoutly for some such figure as the price to which cotton had to come out and the laborers triumphed.

A few handsome bales of new cotton are occasionally brought here during the week. They are very precious, however, to the fellows who hold liens, bonds and chattel mortgages. It sells for $8.35. Seed cotton, $2.50.

One of our churches has taken an advanced step in the cause of prohibition. Several presentments of church members for alleged drunkenness have been made, which will be heard next month. This is prohibition which will prohibit.

There is a bountiful producing year for grapes. The scuppernong is now too cheap and plentiful to be a luxury. The market is overstocked. If not to be made into wine, why did a bountiful Providence provide such an abundant crop?

Einstein is piling in goods and furniture at Caswell corner. He is always alive to the trade; buys to the best advantage and sells if anybody can. He takes his old corner in the Weekly JOURNAL and tells an interesting story to those who want goods in his line.

Messrs. Cummings and Gray advertise in the Weekly JOURNAL their extensive Kinston stores, where farmers and all others in need of plantation supplies or other store goods will find everything they may want at the lowest rates. Call on them before buying elsewhere. Read their ad.

The political sporters are "blowing their own horns" in these degenerate times. It is very amusing and decidedly cheeky for a speaker to report his own speech as a powerful effort and proclaim himself a "long-tongued orator." Who is this in New Berne here?

A. Edwards, the popular clothier, has returned from his summer trip to Reidsville, N. C., and now has his whole force in his popular store in the King block on Queen street. He has with him a professor of languages, who, in seven tongues, will sell you a suit of fine clothing, cheap for cash.

Tom Treadwell Kornegay is a good soul who need not take on so seriously at the idea of "war in heaven." It is nothing more than Milton's poetical conception. Our co-laborer may, therefore, quiet his nerves—there is no real war or snakes either in that happy region. Let him make the trip thither, if he can.

The railroad section master, Mr. White, had the misfortune last Thursday to lose twenty dollars in money and his gold watch chain, both being taken from his trunk in his sleeping-room during his absence. Certain persons are suspected, and the sneak thief may yet be caught, unless he skips to Canada or elsewhere.

The great contest this year in this county seems to be centred in the candidates for sheriff. There is fun ahead for the people next November. Our Hub Cummings has agreed to climb the Caswell monument feet foremost on the night of November 7th next, if Sheriff Sutton is not re-elected, while the "old campaigner" will slide down the same monument head foremost on the night of the election, if Taylor is defeated.

Our town last Saturday suffered a scare almost as frightful as the great earthquake. The sidewalks being rinsed with easy-going town people and country traders, a furious team with harness attached came dashing on the walk, kicking at every point and scattering goods and people like a cyclone. The animal soon ended the frolic, if the people left him. No harm was done.

Those sporting gents, Leon Albritton and Jas. L. We failed to notice last week that Miss Julia Albright was visiting Miss Sallie Kirkpatrick in our town.

We had a nice shower Monday evening, cooling the air, which has been almost oppressively hot for two or three days.

We did not learn, and hence did not mention, that Miss Mamie Hodges of your city, was visiting Mrs. H. M. Mewborn in our village.

The rice crop, now about ready for harvesting, is said to be very good. We hope our rice growers will have a satisfactory season for saving the crop as they have had for its growing and making.

Our factories are quite busy at this time. There is much sickness in the surrounding country, and consequently quite a demand for medicine in town. We hear that Josiah Patton and Dr. F. Smith are quite sick in their respective homes.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle.
