THE BAPTISTS OF N. C.

This period of the world's history may properly be characterized as the beginning of industrial development, for although in England and America it has been going on for years, it is now in its full career. The progress has been rapid, and the result has been a vast increase in the production of goods, and a consequent increase in the demand for labor.

Wilmington is very favorably located for certain lines of business—particularly trade in salt and molasses. For importers can offer to sell these articles at lower rates than either New York, Baltimore or Richmond. Yet while Wilmington once had a fine trade in salt and molasses in central Carolina, now, as at other points, the great barrier has been put in the way of the North Carolina trader.

The freight from the North Carolina town to Wilmington is $2.02 a barrel from Cincinnati it is $1.00 a barrel. From the latter point the distance is 334 miles from Lexington less than 250 miles. Relatively the charge for hauling the North Carolina salt is five times what it is for hauling the Cincinnati salt.

Other communities may profitably engage in industry, but in the case of Wilmington the advantage is so great that it leaves little room for other communities. The hope for success in this line is to be found in the fact that the distance from the North Carolina town to Wilmington is so great that it leaves little room for other communities.
