

New Berne Weekly

Proprietors.

INDEPENDENT IN ALL THINGS.

Terms $1.00 Per Year.

VOL. XI.

NEW BERNE, CRAVEN COUNTY, N. C., NOVEMBER 22, 1888.

NO. 340

There is Found This Season in Kinston, Larger, Better and Finer Stock of Goods than kept anywhere else in this section, and we call your attention especially to the many branches of Goods displayed and for sale at

OETTINGER BROS.

Domestic and Fancy Dry Goods, Ladies' Dress Goods, Hosiery, Groceries and Wraps. The choicest of Clothing for young and old. Gent's Furnishing Goods, Hats and Caps. Gents and Ladies' Mittens and Children's Socks. A grand line of Trunks, Bags and Valises. The prettiest Carpets and Rugs at lower prices than ever before. Cheap Furniture and Mattresses. You will find with us most anything needed to keep you cozy and warm and make your home attractive and comfortable. We warrant our prices the lowest and ask you to give us a chance to show you our goods. Also have for sale 100 lbs. heavy Mops, 25 lbs. Lard, 100 lbs. Star Soap, 10,000 yds. of Burlap Sacks to cover cotton, 10,000 yds. of 100 lb. Star Soap, 1,000 dozen Cans of Soda Water, and other goods at Wholesale.

Respectfully,
Oettinger Bros.,
Kinston, N. C., Oct. 1888.

HARD TIMES

MADE EASY!

Having purchased an extra large stock, we are prepared to sell Goods at Wholesale and Retail,

AT

Einstein's!

Country Merchants will surely find it to their advantage to call upon us and examine stock and prices. We can give you than any house in Eastern N. C. Our stock consists of

BETTER BARGAINS

Dry Goods in all its Branches,

Mens, Boys and Youth's Clothing,

BOOTS and SHOES,

Notions, Etc.

Furniture, Carpets,

and in fact too many articles to mention.

Please call and we will guarantee it to be to your advantage.

EINSTEIN'S.

Kinston, Sept. 20. jan1

The Bergner & Engel

BREWING CO.'S

PHILADELPHIA LAGER BEER,

IS UNQUESTIONABLY THE Finest Beer Extant.

It is brewed from the finest Pale Canada West Barley Malt and Laazer Hops, and highly recommended for its TONIC and NUTRITIVE qualities.

The high reputation enjoyed by the BERGNER & ENGEL COMPANY is due to the fact that only the FINEST and BEST MATERIALS are used and that the greatest SKILL and CARE are exercised during its manufacture.

JAS. REDMOND,

Agent and Bottler, New Berne, N. C.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Of course we are defeated. So were the Americans at Bonker Hill. GLADSTONE'S tour through England has been one grand ovation.

The five great European powers have now 12,000,000 men under arms.

An attempt has been made to assassinate Prince Ferdinand, ruler of Bulgaria.

The Legislature of Georgia will probably return Alfred H. Colquhoun to the U. S. Senate.

REVENUE collections at the Winston branch office for October amounted to $60,392.57.

PENDING negotiations for the sale of one-half interest in the Greensboro Patriot, the daily will be discontinued for the present, until the transfer is made.

The Wilmington Star says: "It pleases us to see able Northern papers beginning to urge the abolition of the electoral college. The people should vote direct."

The North Carolina Baptist Convention now in session at Greensboro is very largely attended. There are not less than three hundred delegates present.

GOVERNOR GORDON of Georgia, was inaugurated for his second term Tuesday. Gordon is popular all over the South and deserves to be. A brave soldier, an able statesman and a Christian gentleman.

The Alabama Legislature is now in session. A United States Senator is to be elected, and we have no doubt John T. Morgan will be his own successor. He is a champion of Democracy and one of the ablest men in the Senate.

It is possible that John G. Carlisle will lose his seat in the fifty-first Congress because 7,002 of the tickets he received were perforated. This would prove a great misfortune, not only to Mr. Carlisle, but to the country at large.

The steamer Iberia was cut in two by the Umbria last Sunday near New York. There were no passengers aboard the Iberia and her officers and crew were taken to the city by the Umbria. A heavy fog prevailed at the time of the accident.

The twenty-ninth annual session of the Missionary Council of the American Episcopal Church began on Tuesday at the Epiphany Church in Washington City. About 250 delegates were present, among whom were many prominent bishops of the church.

AGAIN it is reported that the young Emperor of Germany has broken loose from Bismarck. We do not credit the report. William may be hot headed and vain, but he has been too long under the tutelage of the Chancellor to break away from his control.

MR. SIMMONS was defeated by only 671 votes in the black district. He made a splendid run. A gentleman from that district tells us that his speeches in the campaign were indeed remarkably good, able, effective and adroit.—Wilmington Star.

THE New York Star says: "No faithful Democrat need be discouraged by the result of 88. The defeat of '72 was followed by the hidden victory of '76. Let the measures of the Democratic managers be as promptly imitated and as steadily pursued as were those of Tilden, and another Democratic victory will surely follow the experiment of another four years of Republican rule."

THE JOURNAL joins contemporaries in calling attention to the fact that the Oxford Orphan Asylum now has 245 children within her walls, and will need a generous offering from the good people of North Carolina on Thanksgiving day, to help her get these little ones through the winter months. Thanksgiving day falls on the 29th inst., and a generous offering for the little ones on that day would not be inappropriate.

WE are gratified to notice that all of our National Democratic and Independent exchanges without exception unless the Herald is to be omitted are for continuing the reform battle with renewed vigor and determination. There should be no intermission in the work. There ought to be reform clubs organized and perpetuated in every village and town in the North Carolina. Fellow Democrats, let us not relax for a day in our labors to secure genuine, much needed tax reform.—Wilmington Star.

A DISPATCH from El Paso, Texas, says: "Capt. T. H. Logan, commanding the United States troops at Fort Hancock on the Rio Grande some seventy miles below El Paso, has been forcibly reminded that Mexico will not permit her territory to be invaded by the troops of a foreign country. Although there would be good hunting on the Mexican side, taking with him a number of his command. After having some fine sport they came across a force of Mexican frontier guards who took them into custody as soldiers of a foreign power found on Mexican territory under arms."

THE abolition of Canada by the United States is again being agitated.

ANNA PERISSIS is showing her culinary accomplishments by trying the oat out of Italy.

The New York Herald comments on the right to be regarded as the weathercock of the nation.

HON. ALFRED H. COLQUHOUN'S majority is greater than that of any North Carolina Congressman.

A WESTERN paper says it is now discovered that it is not so difficult to find a man to have a grandfather.

"HARRISON is over the hill," says wagon, load of letters and news papers." Never in life to learn, Mr. Harrison.

We are neither knowing nor out-grown. Our day is not over nor at all past. "Prithvi" is not only will prevail.

GOVERNOR SIMMONS has issued his proclamation naming Thursday, November 29th, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer.

OLIVER DORRIS has been appointed to succeed his father in the office of the State University.

THE State University will be opened to students who desire to take special courses of instruction.

"A NEW wrap for ladies is called the Grover. It is only worn when they go out." Happy is the woman wrapped in the Grover.

"THE World points with pride to the election of 28,205 votes. This is the biggest day's issue in the record of American journalism." It is not how much we say, but what we say, that gives character.

"WILLIAM RYAN and Mirai Halstead are candidates for foreign missions." If there is any probability of their being sent to a place from which they cannot return by all means let them go.

"No man that ever held the Presidency struggled with more breadth of patriotism and more intrepid nerve to give this country a truly national administration than Grover Cleveland."

An old gentleman said a few days ago that if Cleveland was not elected he would quit the country and go to Texas. If Harrison is elected we will stick the closer to North Carolina.

By way of encouragement to Democrats, the Wilmington Messenger says: "An earnest minority inspired by the high purpose of honest maintenance of principles and self-protection is more than a match for a majority animated by the spirit of hatred and seeking the low recompense of revenge."

"THE opportunity that offers itself to North Carolina at the present time to make known its charms as a winter resort, and attract to its mountains and moors the stream of tourists and invalids who have been accustomed to go to Florida for the cold winter season, is appreciated by wide awake people living further North."

THE Charlotte Chronicle of Tuesday says: "An entire train of Richmond and Danville cars, including postal cars, first and second class coaches and a fine new vestibule car, was burned to ashes on the Air Line Division yesterday. The burned train was the last mail and express No. 53, due here at 5:25 yesterday afternoon from Atlanta, and the accident which resulted in its destruction occurred in the vicinity of the Tugaloo river, near Toccoa. It was just midday and the train was bowling along the mountain curve at the usual rate of speed when the train went head long down a steep embankment. No lives were lost."

"Go out of evil bound a pretty illustration in the case of Hawthorne's removal from office. He was crushed by the blow and staggered to his humble home full of bitter disappointment. No one knew him then as one of our greatest—yes, the world's greatest—men of genius. His wife quietly left the room, says Carnaby, then came back with an armful of wood, knelt at a wooden fire, drew his chair to his desk, brought papers, pen and ink, and then turning to him with a beaming face said: 'Now you can write your book!' The result was 'Scarlet Letter', such fame as no novelist in America before or since has attained. It was all due to his noble wife. Had she repined and added to this burden the world would never have known Hawthorne."

CONSUMPTION CURED. An old physician, relieved from pain by having placed in his hands by an Indian missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and Throat and Lung Affections, as a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints after having tested it on his own family, he has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, he will send free of charge, to all who desire it, a copy of his treatise, containing full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by enclosing the name of the patient, and the paper, to W. A. RAY, 117 West Block, Boston, Mass., N. Y.

THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE.

The press of the country is agitating the question of the abolition of the electoral college.

There are reasons for the retention of the electoral college.

Those who favor the abolition claim that the electoral college has outlived its usefulness.

The American Constitution, as it came from the fathers of the Republic, was the perfection of human wisdom.

The Government that was organized upon it attracted the admiration of mankind, and became the asylum of the oppressed of all nations.

Year after year has been marked with fresh proofs of its utility and blessings. But our system of Government, however venerable, is the work of men and must abide the test of experience.

Long ago it became evident that the electoral college was unjust to the people. It permitted the election, to the offices of President and Vice President, of those against whom a majority of the people had voted.

In the ever memorable Tilden campaign the Democratic candidate had a quarter of a million more votes than the Republican candidate received, and yet Hayes was declared to be elected by the electoral college.

Great as were the wrongs of the past, approaching evils are even greater.

It will be the policy of the incoming administration to create new States out of the territories of the West. There are now four of these States knocking for admission into the Union, and they will be admitted and take their place in the Republic.

This would be right, and to be done with our theory of Government, if the population of the new States came up to the legal requirements.

The evil appears when it is remembered that Texas has more population than a dozen States.

In the popular vote Texas doubles these States; in the electoral college they are twice as strong as Texas. Texas cannot be divided, for it would be folly for any new State, formed out of territory South of Mason's and Dixon's line, to apply for admission into the Union.

If the election of a President depended upon Texas, and Colorado, Nevada, and the four States about to be admitted, Texas being Democratic and her sister States Republican, the Democratic candidate would receive a large popular majority, but the Republican would be elected President in the electoral college.

The idea that the President is elected by a majority of the votes cast is a delusion. We have neither a Republic nor a Democracy, but a Democratic form of Government modified by an aristocratic proviso.

Abolish the electoral college then indeed may we say vox populi, vox dei.

"A STRONG INDICEMENT." We have received a circular from Mr. E. D. Koonce entitled "A Strong Indicement," in which the present National Banking system is declared to be worse than the tariff, and a better plan is suggested for supplying the currency necessary to transact the legitimate business of the country.

The subject is an important one. The plan suggested is sanctioned by the Farmers Alliance of Onslow county, and this alone entitles it to respectful consideration.

We are ready to stand by the farmers, or any other body of good men, in any effort of reform that has the sanction of our judgment and the promise of success.

It requires little argument to show that the present banking system is oppressive, but we see no prospect of its repeal or amendment.

Sometime ago the Hon. David B. Yule of Texas, Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, offered a bill amendatory of the present law, and supported it with one of the most powerful speeches of the session, but nothing was accomplished.

The National Banking system is one of the products of Republican administration on which Republicans plume themselves. If it could not be overthrown in a Democratic Congress under Cleveland, there is no probability of its overthrow by a Republican Congress under Harrison.

One of the resolutions offered by Mr. Koonce and adopted by the Alliance is as follows: "That we demand the restoration of the banking system in force in the States previous to the war, or in lieu thereof, the enactment by the Congress of a law establishing a bureau of agricultural loans, and authorizing the issue of United States Treasury notes of legal tender quality, to be loaned to the farmers of the country, the amount to be so appropriated as not to exceed six millions of dollars to any one congressional district, upon notes to run for thirty years, payable sooner at the option of the borrower, with interest at one per cent. per year, and secured by mortgage upon the real estate of the borrower, the value of the mortgage to be double the amount of the loan."

THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE.

The press of the country is agitating the question of the abolition of the electoral college.

There are reasons for the retention of the electoral college.

Those who favor the abolition claim that the electoral college has outlived its usefulness.

The American Constitution, as it came from the fathers of the Republic, was the perfection of human wisdom.

The Government that was organized upon it attracted the admiration of mankind, and became the asylum of the oppressed of all nations.

Year after year has been marked with fresh proofs of its utility and blessings. But our system of Government, however venerable, is the work of men and must abide the test of experience.

Long ago it became evident that the electoral college was unjust to the people. It permitted the election, to the offices of President and Vice President, of those against whom a majority of the people had voted.

In the ever memorable Tilden campaign the Democratic candidate had a quarter of a million more votes than the Republican candidate received, and yet Hayes was declared to be elected by the electoral college.

Great as were the wrongs of the past, approaching evils are even greater.

It will be the policy of the incoming administration to create new States out of the territories of the West. There are now four of these States knocking for admission into the Union, and they will be admitted and take their place in the Republic.

This would be right, and to be done with our theory of Government, if the population of the new States came up to the legal requirements.

The evil appears when it is remembered that Texas has more population than a dozen States.

In the popular vote Texas doubles these States; in the electoral college they are twice as strong as Texas. Texas cannot be divided, for it would be folly for any new State, formed out of territory South of Mason's and Dixon's line, to apply for admission into the Union.

If the election of a President depended upon Texas, and Colorado, Nevada, and the four States about to be admitted, Texas being Democratic and her sister States Republican, the Democratic candidate would receive a large popular majority, but the Republican would be elected President in the electoral college.

The idea that the President is elected by a majority of the votes cast is a delusion. We have neither a Republic nor a Democracy, but a Democratic form of Government modified by an aristocratic proviso.

Abolish the electoral college then indeed may we say vox populi, vox dei.

"A STRONG INDICEMENT." We have received a circular from Mr. E. D. Koonce entitled "A Strong Indicement," in which the present National Banking system is declared to be worse than the tariff, and a better plan is suggested for supplying the currency necessary to transact the legitimate business of the country.

The subject is an important one. The plan suggested is sanctioned by the Farmers Alliance of Onslow county, and this alone entitles it to respectful consideration.

We are ready to stand by the farmers, or any other body of good men, in any effort of reform that has the sanction of our judgment and the promise of success.

It requires little argument to show that the present banking system is oppressive, but we see no prospect of its repeal or amendment.

Sometime ago the Hon. David B. Yule of Texas, Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, offered a bill amendatory of the present law, and supported it with one of the most powerful speeches of the session, but nothing was accomplished.

The National Banking system is one of the products of Republican administration on which Republicans plume themselves. If it could not be overthrown in a Democratic Congress under Cleveland, there is no probability of its overthrow by a Republican Congress under Harrison.

One of the resolutions offered by Mr. Koonce and adopted by the Alliance is as follows: "That we demand the restoration of the banking system in force in the States previous to the war, or in lieu thereof, the enactment by the Congress of a law establishing a bureau of agricultural loans, and authorizing the issue of United States Treasury notes of legal tender quality, to be loaned to the farmers of the country, the amount to be so appropriated as not to exceed six millions of dollars to any one congressional district, upon notes to run for thirty years, payable sooner at the option of the borrower, with interest at one per cent. per year, and secured by mortgage upon the real estate of the borrower, the value of the mortgage to be double the amount of the loan."

THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE.

The press of the country is agitating the question of the abolition of the electoral college.

There are reasons for the retention of the electoral college.

Those who favor the abolition claim that the electoral college has outlived its usefulness.

The American Constitution, as it came from the fathers of the Republic, was the perfection of human wisdom.

The Government that was organized upon it attracted the admiration of mankind, and became the asylum of the oppressed of all nations.

Year after year has been marked with fresh proofs of its utility and blessings. But our system of Government, however venerable, is the work of men and must abide the test of experience.

Long ago it became evident that the electoral college was unjust to the people. It permitted the election, to the offices of President and Vice President, of those against whom a majority of the people had voted.

In the ever memorable Tilden campaign the Democratic candidate had a quarter of a million more votes than the Republican candidate received, and yet Hayes was declared to be elected by the electoral college.

Great as were the wrongs of the past, approaching evils are even greater.

It will be the policy of the incoming administration to create new States out of the territories of the West. There are now four of these States knocking for admission into the Union, and they will be admitted and take their place in the Republic.

This would be right, and to be done with our theory of Government, if the population of the new States came up to the legal requirements.

The evil appears when it is remembered that Texas has more population than a dozen States.

In the popular vote Texas doubles these States; in the electoral college they are twice as strong as Texas. Texas cannot be divided, for it would be folly for any new State, formed out of territory South of Mason's and Dixon's line, to apply for admission into the Union.

If the election of a President depended upon Texas, and Colorado, Nevada, and the four States about to be admitted, Texas being Democratic and her sister States Republican, the Democratic candidate would receive a large popular majority, but the Republican would be elected President in the electoral college.

The idea that the President is elected by a majority of the votes cast is a delusion. We have neither a Republic nor a Democracy, but a Democratic form of Government modified by an aristocratic proviso.

Abolish the electoral college then indeed may we say vox populi, vox dei.

"A STRONG INDICEMENT." We have received a circular from Mr. E. D. Koonce entitled "A Strong Indicement," in which the present National Banking system is declared to be worse than the tariff, and a better plan is suggested for supplying the currency necessary to transact the legitimate business of the country.

The subject is an important one. The plan suggested is sanctioned by the Farmers Alliance of Onslow county, and this alone entitles it to respectful consideration.

We are ready to stand by the farmers, or any other body of good men, in any effort of reform that has the sanction of our judgment and the promise of success.

It requires little argument to show that the present banking system is oppressive, but we see no prospect of its repeal or amendment.

Sometime ago the Hon. David B. Yule of Texas, Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, offered a bill amendatory of the present law, and supported it with one of the most powerful speeches of the session, but nothing was accomplished.

The National Banking system is one of the products of Republican administration on which Republicans plume themselves. If it could not be overthrown in a Democratic Congress under Cleveland, there is no probability of its overthrow by a Republican Congress under Harrison.

One of the resolutions offered by Mr. Koonce and adopted by the Alliance is as follows: "That we demand the restoration of the banking system in force in the States previous to the war, or in lieu thereof, the enactment by the Congress of a law establishing a bureau of agricultural loans, and authorizing the issue of United States Treasury notes of legal tender quality, to be loaned to the farmers of the country, the amount to be so appropriated as not to exceed six millions of dollars to any one congressional district, upon notes to run for thirty years, payable sooner at the option of the borrower, with interest at one per cent. per year, and secured by mortgage upon the real estate of the borrower, the value of the mortgage to be double the amount of the loan."

THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE.

The press of the country is agitating the question of the abolition of the electoral college.

There are reasons for the retention of the electoral college.

Those who favor the abolition claim that the electoral college has outlived its usefulness.

The American Constitution, as it came from the fathers of the Republic, was the perfection of human wisdom.

The Government that was organized upon it attracted the admiration of mankind, and became the asylum of the oppressed of all nations.

Year after year has been marked with fresh proofs of its utility and blessings. But our system of Government, however venerable, is the work of men and must abide the test of experience.

Long ago it became evident that the electoral college was unjust to the people. It permitted the election, to the offices of President and Vice President, of those against whom a majority of the people had voted.

In the ever memorable Tilden campaign the Democratic candidate had a quarter of a million more votes than the Republican candidate received, and yet Hayes was declared to be elected by the electoral college.

Great as were the wrongs of the past, approaching evils are even greater.

It will be the policy of the incoming administration to create new States out of the territories of the West. There are now four of these States knocking for admission into the Union, and they will be admitted and take their place in the Republic.

This would be right, and to be done with our theory of Government, if the population of the new States came up to the legal requirements.

The evil appears when it is remembered that Texas has more population than a dozen States.

In the popular vote Texas doubles these States; in the electoral college they are twice as strong as Texas. Texas cannot be divided, for it would be folly for any new State, formed out of territory South of Mason's and Dixon's line, to apply for admission into the Union.

If the election of a President depended upon Texas, and Colorado, Nevada, and the four States about to be admitted, Texas being Democratic and her sister States Republican, the Democratic candidate would receive a large popular majority, but the Republican would be elected President in the electoral college.

The idea that the President is elected by a majority of the votes cast is a delusion. We have neither a Republic nor a Democracy, but a Democratic form of Government modified by an aristocratic proviso.

Abolish the electoral college then indeed may we say vox populi, vox dei.

"A STRONG INDICEMENT." We have received a circular from Mr. E. D. Koonce entitled "A Strong Indicement," in which the present National Banking system is declared to be worse than the tariff, and a better plan is suggested for supplying the currency necessary to transact the legitimate business of the country.

The subject is an important one. The plan suggested is sanctioned by the Farmers Alliance of Onslow county, and this alone entitles it to respectful consideration.

We are ready to stand by the farmers, or any other body of good men, in any effort of reform that has the sanction of our judgment and the promise of success.

It requires little argument to show that the present banking system is oppressive, but we see no prospect of its repeal or amendment.

Sometime ago the Hon. David B. Yule of Texas, Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, offered a bill amendatory of the present law, and supported it with one of the most powerful speeches of the session, but nothing was accomplished.

The National Banking system is one of the products of Republican administration on which Republicans plume themselves. If it could not be overthrown in a Democratic Congress under Cleveland, there is no probability of its overthrow by a Republican Congress under Harrison.

One of the resolutions offered by Mr. Koonce and adopted by the Alliance is as follows: "That we demand the restoration of the banking system in force in the States previous to the war, or in lieu thereof, the enactment by the Congress of a law establishing a bureau of agricultural loans, and authorizing the issue of United States Treasury notes of legal tender quality, to be loaned to the farmers of the country, the amount to be so appropriated as not to exceed six millions of dollars to any one congressional district, upon notes to run for thirty years, payable sooner at the option of the borrower, with interest at one per cent. per year, and secured by mortgage upon the real estate of the borrower, the value of the mortgage to be double the amount of the loan."

THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE.

The press of the country is agitating the question of the abolition of the electoral college.

There are reasons for the retention of the electoral college.

Those who favor the abolition claim that the electoral college has outlived its usefulness.

The American Constitution, as it came from the fathers of the Republic, was the perfection of human wisdom.

The Government that was organized upon it attracted the admiration of mankind, and became the asylum of the oppressed of all nations.

Year after year has been marked with fresh proofs of its utility and blessings. But our system of Government, however venerable, is the work of men and must abide the test of experience.

Long ago it became evident that the electoral college was unjust to the people. It permitted the election, to the offices of President and Vice President, of those against whom a majority of the people had voted.

In the ever memorable Tilden campaign the Democratic candidate had a quarter of a million more votes than the Republican candidate received, and yet Hayes was declared to be elected by the electoral college.

Great as were the wrongs of the past, approaching evils are even greater.

It will be the policy of the incoming administration to create new States out of the territories of the West. There are now four of these States knocking for admission into the Union, and they will be admitted and take their place in the Republic.

This would be right, and to be done with our theory of