

THE JOURNAL.

Proprietor: C. F. HARRISON. Local Reporter: C. F. HARRISON. NEW BERNE, N. C., NOV. 19, 1890.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE NEW YORK stock market is still excited. In spite of the Wall street daily, business is good.

It is feared that Parnell's star is setting in clouds. The O'Shea affair?

A FIERCE political fight has been inaugurated in Illinois for supremacy in the Legislature.

TWELVE hundred thousand dollars have been transferred from San Francisco to New York.

The birth-day of Judge Thurman was grandly celebrated at Columbus, Ohio, on Thursday.

EX-CONGRESSMAN NAT HAMMOND is the latest candidate for Senatorial honors in Georgia.

THE official count gives the Democrats seven majority on joint ballot in the South Dakota Legislature.

THE Kansas City Packing and Refrigerating Company of Boston has failed. Liabilities upward of $15,000,000.

EX-SPEAKER KRIEGER, of Ohio, says: "Our folks will have to revise their tariff views if they would carry any more elections."

THE State Board of canvassers will not make an official count of the vote of the State, at Raleigh on the 27th inst. Very appropriate for Thanksgiving day.

THE World presents its compliments to the Protection press and Cleveland advice. "Tell the truth. Protection 'fat' lost its grip when the Australian ballot came in."

THE Thanksgiving Turkey has a few days of grace in which to think of the benefits of protection. "Poultry, five, three cents per pound. Poultry, dressed, five cents per pound."

MISS FRANCES E. WILLARD, who has been active in agitating for the admission of women to the government of the Methodist Church, is credited with an ambition to be elected Bishop.

THE Donlin Express says that Parnell has informed several of his most prominent men in the Irish parliamentary party, that he will not lead the party in Parliament during the coming season.

THE Bank of England is financially regarded the strongest financial institution in the world. It is now borrowing money, and the Bank of France has advanced $2,000,000 to the Bank of England.

THE Wilmington Messenger's telegraphic Summary says: "All Europe is in a ferment of excitement over the publication of Dr. Koch's treatise on the cure of consumption by his new discovery. He has made known his methods to several physicians who are treating patients with his methods. They claim to be able to cure cases of Tuberculosis. Five million copies of the article have been sold already."

GROVER CLEVELAND is certainly justified in challenging the right of any man in the country to rejoice more heartily than he over the results of the recent elections. The emphatic repudiation of McKinley by the American people on the 4th inst. is really a great personal triumph for Grover Cleveland, and a swift and complete vindication of the historic message which he sent to Congress in December, 1887.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

At the Thurman banquet, on Thursday, Mr. Cleveland closed his speech, in response to the toast "Citizenship in America" with these words: "Nothing could so well accompany the honors we pay our distinguished guest as the celebration of his birth-day of the victory which has just been achieved in vindication of American citizenship—for in him we honor the man who has best illustrated true American manhood. Our rejoicing and his are increased, as we also celebrate tonight the triumph of a democratic principle for which he fought and fell but two short years ago; and to complete our joy and his we are permitted to indulge in true Democratic enthusiasm over the steadfastness and devotion to its creed exhibited by our party, which knowing no discouragement, has fought to victory in the people's cause."

Mr. CLEVELAND received a public reception and ovation while in attendance upon the Thurman festival at Columbus Ohio. A special to the Morning Star says: At 11 o'clock this forenoon a public reception took place at the Governor's office, where ex-President Cleveland met many distinguished representatives of that party which acknowledged him as leader. During the reception at the State House the firing of cannon welcomed Mr. Cleveland to the State of Ohio. The clamorous crowd which assembled in the building would not depart without personally greeting the ex-President, and a line was formed, and as the multitude ebbed slowly through Mr. Cleveland shook hands with his enthusiastic admirers. By his side stood Gov. Campbell, who had returned outside for the first time during the day, Congressmen Outwell, McDonald, of Indiana, and several other Democrats of national celebrity.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

SPAIN wants a reciprocity treaty with the United States. A RISING of the Indians in South Dakota is apprehended. DUNN's trade review presents a remarkably encouraging condition of business.

THE thirteenth Church Congress of the Protestant Episcopal Church is now in session in Philadelphia.

For every industrious man there is an idle one wanting to borrow money from him.—Acheson Globe.

It is said that within twelve months past $1,000,000 of outside capital has been invested in Norfolk.

THE Savannah News says a count of Legislative news shows a majority of both Houses for Gordon for the Senate.

SOME people who assure that they could never tell a lie have never had an adequate temptation.—Somerville Journal.

A GHOST is causing trouble in the mining district of Wilkesbarre Pa. Perhaps it's the Republican party, recently deceased in that neighborhood.

At the Thurman banquet Mr. Springer nominated Mr. Cleveland as the next President. The nomination was received with the greatest enthusiasm.

THE new Spanish Minister, Senor Miguel Suarez Guano, formally presented his credentials to the President on last Friday. There was the usual interchange of courtesies.

COL. A. K. McCULLOCH, of the Philadelphia Times has been to Birmingham. He says Alabama is the richest State in the Union in natural resources, and that Birmingham is the centre of her wealth and development.

It is again said that Polk is to be run against Vance for the Senate, and that he will be elected by the votes of the Alliance and the Republicans. We do not believe it. Alliance Democrats will obey the instructions of their constituents and vote for Vance.

THE Adams Express Company have adopted resolutions making the regulations which have been issued by the post-office Department to its subsidiaries, applicable to the employees of the express company. This refers to provisions of the Lottery bill.

THE great problem of the hour is to pursue such a policy of moderation and unity that Michigan, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and the States recently gained by the Democracy may see good reason to adhere to the political faith they have embraced.

WHAT did it McKinley say it was not the tariff? Reed says it was not on account of turning out Democrats, changing the rules and passing the Force bill. Truthful Quay says the Republicans were beaten because they did not get enough votes. Correct, Mr. Quay.

NEITHER in the business nor in the political sky is there any portent of danger. The speculators on the Stock Exchanges may have their ups and downs. But their troubles are skin deep; they don't touch the vital interests of the country except as sources of temporary irritation and annoyance.—Philadelphia Record.

REGINALD BIRCHALL, whose case has attracted almost universal interest, was hanged at Woodstock, Ont., Friday morning for the murder of F. C. Benwell, a fellow Englishman, whom he lured to a lonely swamp near Niagara.

THOMAS BRACKETT REED made four speeches in New York during the recent halcyon and vociferous campaign. They all were delivered in hitherto Republican Congressional districts. The returns show that on Tuesday the Democrats carried all the four districts. Come again, Mr. Reed!—Buffalo Courier.

"IN 1879 the negroes of Georgia owned property assessed at $5,182,398. Now it has reached $12,322,003. Nearly $2,000,000 of this increase came in the past year." Georgia is a Democratic State with a Confederate General at its head. Now let Reed howl over the oppression of the negroes by Southern Brigadiers.

SOMEbody who met him at the Cumberland Club, Portland, asked Speaker Reed what he thought of the election. Reed answered: "Well, you know the Republican party always did like big things and always strives after big things, and this time it has surely got a big thing—the biggest thing it ever got in its life."—New York Times.

WE are hopeful that nothing will occur in the political movements of our State this winter to disappoint the people and disturb the harmony now existing among all Democrats. It is the desire of the people calling themselves Democrats that the distinguished Zebulon B. Vance should be his own successor in the U. S. Senate. There would be very great discontent and disappointment if by any combinations that may be formed this faithful, long tried, able and wise public servant should be defeated. We cannot allow ourselves to contemplate such a result as even possible. We believe that an overwhelming majority of the farmers of North Carolina desire the services of Senator Vance in that arena where he has best served the State and serve them beyond any other man within our borders.—Wilmington Messenger.

THE APPROACHING LEGISLATURE.

The approaching Legislature will be, to an unusual degree, an important one. The farmers will be largely in the majority, and the measures to which the Alliance is committed will receive prompt and careful attention.

The Railroad Commission will again come to the front. The arguments, pro and con, have been fully presented by the press, on the hustings and in legislative halls. Without entering at length upon questions relating to a Railroad Commission, we shall advocate the measure because it is demanded by the people, and the experience of other States establishes its utility.

Alliance men everywhere are demanding more and better schools. There is no disposition to attack the common school system, but there is a determination to improve it. The farmers of the State demand a larger appropriation for school purposes, and they have control of the Legislature." Some there are who apprehend an unreasonable increase of taxation for the support of public schools. We feel no such apprehension. The importance of education is not to be overestimated, and it cannot be supposed that farmers, who are proverbially economical, will impose oppressive burdens on themselves and their countrymen, without the prospect of compensatory benefits.

Nearly every Legislature that assembles has something to say about county government. We do not expect anything revolutionary in Raleigh next winter. With all the experience of the past, county government should be regarded as essential to North Carolina government.

Resolved, That we tender our sympathies to the bereaved widow and children.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the New Bern Journal for publication, and a copy to the bereaved widow.

JAS. B. STANLEY, L. H. MALLARD, Com. F. D. HUGGINS, J. C. ANDREWS, Sec'y.

A DASTARDLY WHITE EXPLOSION.

Three Men Blown Out Hundred and Fifty Feet into the Air. Headless and Limbless to the Ground—Only a Hole Left.

LIMA, O., Nov. 14.—Three human lives went out of existence in an instant at a stone quarry near here, this morning, and three were severely injured by an explosion of twenty five pounds of dynamite and the same amount of giant powder.

The explosives were stored in a small shed above the quarry and two men were within throwing out dynamite cartridges. A third was approaching the shed when the explosion occurred and died. Two were blown a hundred feet into the air, falling headless and limbless 100 feet from the scene. The air and trees were filled with flying debris, and only a few hole marks where the shanty stood.

Several men and some horses working in the pit were struck by the falling debris and badly injured.

SENATOR VANCE.

A Caswell County Alliance Endorses Vance.

RED HOUSE ALLIANCE, No. 761. MR. EDITOR.—At a meeting today the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted.

WHEREAS, Senator Z. B. Vance stated in a public speech at Yanceyville on the 18th that he would risk the constitutionality of the Sub-Treasury bill; the farmers would risk the practicability of the same; therefore,

RESOLVED, That we withdraw our opposition to him in consideration of his agreement to support the Sub-Treasury bill as above expressed.

RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Progressive Farmer, the Milton Advertiser and the Caswell News with request to publish.

E. T. DANIEL, Pres. J. E. JORDAN, Sec'y.

Alliance Strength in Kansas. KANSAS CITY, Nov. 12.—The official list of the new Kansas Legislature shows 35 Republicans, 97 Alliance men and 11 Democrats.

From these figures, however, must be deducted delegates from organized counties, who do not have votes, as follows:—10 Republicans, 6 Alliance men and 2 Democrats. This leaves the net vote in the House of Representatives, Republicans, 25; Alliance men, 91; Democrats, 9. As the Alliance members were elected on the issue of anti-Ingalls it will be seen that he will have a hard majority to down if he gets back to the Senate.

McKinley for Russia. WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—A telegram was received here today quoting Gen. Hatchell, the new Minister to Portugal, as saying that Major McKinley would be appointed Minister to Russia in place of Mr. Charles Emory Smith, who it is said, was about to resign.—Baltimore American.

Thirty-five Killed by a Collision. CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 11.—A wreck occurred near here this morning on the Union Pacific road. Two sections of the western passenger train collided. Thirty-five are reported killed, most of whom were in a Washington sleeper.

What an argument in favor of social connection is the observation that by communicating our grief to the living we have lessened our pleasure we have more.

Looking ahead for 1892. The chances appear to favor the Democratic ascendancy in the Senate for the next two years. The Legislatures lost by the Republicans this year embrace New York, Connecticut, Nebraska, Montana, Wisconsin, and Michigan. Two years hence these States elect a United States Senator each. If the Democrats hold their portion of what they have gained this year they will control the United States Senate in the fifty-third Congress, and outcome that would have seemed preposterous thirty days ago.—Washington Post (Rep.).

Golden wedding. Good habits are formed, and bad ones avoided, only by constant effort.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Stonewall Items.

Cotton is yielding well, but the price is awful low. The Pamlico High School is in the process of building an extra teacher hall to be employed for the purpose of keeping space with the increase. Miss Alice Dixon has accepted the position, and she is as good as in the building.

Everybody is and has been engaged in election news and cotton picking for the last three weeks that news is scarce. The election is so gratifying that every Democrat has a pleasant smile on his face that you ever beheld.

Sweet potatoes are enough. The yield has not been equal since 1890. Corn is good. So take it altogether the people of Pamlico can join in the President's Thanksgiving day with sincerity and thankfulness in its true sense.

Some of us Democrats in the first judicial district would be gratified to know whether or not Mr. W. Blount, is elected or not. Not a single word have I found in the JOURNAL in relation to it, and your writer would be thankful to know who are the electors of Wayne county to the Legislature, as no such information has as yet reached him. It seems to be a settled fact that on the days that our patrons are anxious or interested about the Legislature, we read on Wednesday after election no JOURNAL reached this office. Who is to blame?

Politics is cooling off with us all. We have had a remarkably healthy fall.

The farmers are flushing up their crops, the millers are grinding their molasses.

Miss Florence Wooten has opened the public school at the Nethercut school house.

Mrs. Dr. Ridgwood, of Farmville, Va., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Rom. A. Whitaker.

Trade is brisk at Trenton. Seed cotton sells there for three cents per pound. Eggs 15 cents per dozen.

The names of all the residents of Trenton who resided there 51 years ago are listed, only two names remaining there now, Frank and Francis. All have died and moved.

The Rev. Mr. White, of the North Carolina Methodist Conference, and Miss Johnnie L. Herrick, were united in marriage on Thursday, 13th of November, in Cypress Creek township, Mr. Benj. Brock officiating.

Many of the farmers planted a considerable crop of crimson clover this year, and it is doing well. We would like to learn the cause, as we sowed it at the very time that Professor Massey said so after the 15th of September.

We learn that there is an old colored man in Cypress Creek township, who is residing in a large swamp, who has moved into a large hollow cypress tree with an opening on one side which he uses for a door and on the other for a window. He has a cow and a pig on his place. Mr. Abner Davidson, and only a few days ago, he was in the woods, and from all appearances is enjoying himself finely.

Died at Trenton on Tuesday morning, the 11th of November, Mr. Melancthon Freeman Hinds, of the 84th year of his age. Mr. Hinds was born in Newark, New Jersey, and was a carriage maker by trade and came out to New Bern, about 55 years ago, then to Trenton, where he resided nearly 50 years. Mr. Hinds married Miss Nancy Wells about 40 years ago, who survives him. Mr. Hinds was a consistent member of the Episcopal Church and was long respected by all that knew him.

A CAROLINA MURDER. A Dispute About Turfs Leads to Skullduggery and Death.

WINSTON, N. C., Nov. 13.—On Sunday night, the 8th inst., in this county, this State, a man named Tom Jaynes got into a dispute about the ownership of a pocket-knife. Shore became enraged and picking up a piece of scantling ran at Jaynes, who was his wife attempted to ward off the blows and besought Shore not to kill him, but to no avail. Running him into a corner, Shore hit Jaynes over the head with a piece of scantling, and the effects of which he died Monday. The community is much excited and Shore has left for parts unknown.

The Thomsville Orphanage. Supt. Mills, of the Thomsville Orphan Asylum, was here Tuesday afternoon to the convention at Shelby. Mr. Mills has now 127 children under his charge; 67 of these are girls and 60 boys. The orphanage is divided into five families. Each family has its own matron and teachers.

The number at the Institution is larger this year than last. Several improvements are being made to the building; two new houses are being erected and under way. The Institution is supported mainly by Baptists, but also receives general contributions and assistance.—Charlotte Chronicle.

How to Take Care of the Brain. The brain stands most abuse of any organ in the body. Its best tonic and stimulant is success. The worst and most depressing thing to it is failure. The most injurious effects come by using stimulants in early life. Young people should never use tobacco, tea or coffee. The latter two may not exactly harm but they are conducive of no good. They act mostly on the brain and injure its growth very materially. Abundance of sleep is more than any other thing that a man can do for his brain. Sleep is a time of relatively lowered expenditures and increased repairs.—Exchange.

Looking Forward. Looking ahead for 1892, the chances appear to favor the Democratic ascendancy in the Senate for the next two years. The Legislatures lost by the Republicans this year embrace New York, Connecticut, Nebraska, Montana, Wisconsin, and Michigan. Two years hence these States elect a United States Senator each. If the Democrats hold their portion of what they have gained this year they will control the United States Senate in the fifty-third Congress, and outcome that would have seemed preposterous thirty days ago.—Washington Post (Rep.).

Golden wedding. Good habits are formed, and bad ones avoided, only by constant effort.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

UNSPOKEN WORDS.

JOHN BOYLE O'REILLY. The kindly words that rise within the heart, And thrill it with their sympathetic tone, But die if spoken, fail to play their part, And claim a merit that is not their own. The kindly word unsung is a sin. A sin that wraps itself in purest guise. And tells the heart that, doubting, looks within. That not in speech, but thought, the virtues lie.

'Tis not so; another heart may thirst For that kind word, as Hagar in the wild— Poor banished Hagar!—prayed a well might burst From out the sand to save her parching child. And loving eyes that cannot see the mind, Will watch the expected movement of the lip. Ah! can't you see that cutting glance wide Around that heart and avenge it like a whip?

Unspoken words, like treasures in the mine, Are valueless until we give them birth; Like unloved gold their hidden beauties lie. Which God has made to bless and gild the earth. How sad 'twould be to see a master hand Strike glorious notes upon a voiceless lute!

But of that pain when, at God's own command, A heart string thrills with kindness, bids it mute. Then hide it not, the music of the soul; Dear music! give it, expressed with kindly voice, But let it like a shining river roll To the dry—dry to hearts that would rejoice.

Let the sympathy of kindly words, Sound as the breeze, the friendless, and the weak; And he will bless you—he who struck them dead. Will strike another when in turn you seek.

FLIAS SEBYTUS. SERVOUS LAMER. The monk Serfuss sits alone Within this small, unparloured cell; Few comforts save this book and bell. This anchorite of book and bell. Communion brings companionship, And 'tis he is not all alone; A grating tremble on his lip For that which sudden round him shone.

In ecstasy of great delight He bends to greet his Saviour's hands; His joyful tears splash at the sight. He knows not if he kneels or stands.

Alas! 'Nod strikes a hateful sound, And the clang of the porter's door. It stings him like a poisoned wound, And summons him to feed the poor. A curse upspring within his heart; A dark frown gathers o'er his face; The mental task, the drudge's part: 'Call's order: here is Christ's high day.

He goes with pang and footstep light, Is long detained by mung's moan; He hastens back from hunger's woe To kiss the bare stone where he shone. Who under rocks on his way? The light is as of Easter morn; 'Had that didst go, I still am here; 'Had thou remained, I still am gone.

Carteret County Items. Miss Julia Bryan, from Jones County, teaching school at Dr. J. W. Sanders'.

Rev. Benj. Ward, from Onslow County, will preach at Old Bethlem on next Sabbath, 23d inst.

Ten thousand gray trout have been caught near Swansboro with hook and line in the last few days.

Rev. I. N. Henderson, from Onslow County, preached an excellent sermon last Sabbath evening, 16th, at Sanders' school house, to a large congregation.

Rev. T. J. Levin filled the pulpit at New Bethlem church last Sunday, 16th inst., at 11 a. m. His last time for this year.

This has not been an off year with the farmers in our section, and it seems money will be plentiful next year. We hope so.

Mr. Jno. A. Weeks, postmaster at Cedar Point, lost a fine mare last Saturday. This makes two good horses Mr. Weeks has lost in the last three weeks.

Mr. Shepherd Bell is one of our good and successful farmers, but he don't brag on anything but apples, and we can testify as to the quality and quantity of his apples. They are fine; we tried some yesterday.

Married at the residence of the bride's father in Swansboro, N. C. on Tuesday evening, the 11th inst., Mr. J. Willard White, of New Bedford, Mass., Miss Alice Harrison, the accomplished daughter of Col. W. D. Harrison, late of Swansboro, N. C., now of Swansboro, N. C. A Pittman, Esq., officiating. All join in wishing the happy couple success through life.

Mr. Alex. Conaway says he has the finest stock of hogs in the county. He has made 300 bushels of sweet potatoes and 600 barrels of corn, besides 7,238 pounds seed cotton on five acres of land, and a lot of other things. Alex. H. Dennis says he is a farmer too, and has some as large Bahamas as any man, but Mr. Conaway says he has Bahamas that will weigh 92 pounds each. We told him to carry them to the New Bern Fair.

Politics is the best good news we have. Everything good Democratic. Our county more than surprised us; our district (senatorial) was carried by the Democrats over his would-be-if-he-could opponent, was a killer in every county. Our sister county Onslow too gave the independents and sorehead Democrats the go by handsomely. Koonce fell well below his friends' expectations, and J. W. Spioer, nominee for Sheriff, beat his opponent out of sight.

We are by no means indifferent to the political fortunes of Pat Calhoun, the grandson of Vice-President John C. Calhoun, whose Disquisition on the Constitution of the United States is one of the noblest ever penned by an American. Mr. Calhoun is a very fine young lawyer, though somewhat mixed up with corporations and in our judgment a superior man to Gov. Gordon. Once in his seat in the Senate, he will, we take it, soon range him self along with Carlisle and Reagan and Vance and Morgan and Daniel, and will not be the least of Southern statesmanship. But it is by no means certain that Gov. Gordon is to be beaten by him. Next Tuesday tell the tale.—Ex.

It is well the book of life is opened to us page by page. Were all the hard lines bared at once the task would be too hard to master.

Truth is mighty, but she is ignominiously crowned when in his encounters a fishing excursion.

Vanderbilt's wealth piled up, dollar on dollar, would reach a height of $55 million.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

LITTLE ANNIE.

The precious bud had scarce begun to bloom, Ere death, relentless, broke its tender stem; It drooped its little head, and now the tomb, Has closed its portals o'er the precious gem.

We sadly gathered, round her dying bed, With hearts of grief, to freely weep, and pray; As many were the bitter tears, we shed, When little Annie's spirit passed away.

And yet methinks it was not meet to give, to whom a life so brief was given; For she closed her little eyes in sleep, And gently lay her spirit up to heaven.

The golden curls, we parted on her brow, And clasped the tiny hands, upon her breast; Then in earth's green bosom laid her low, Down sweetly 'neath the sods' shade to rest.

Yes, dearest Annie, thou hast early died, To seek beyond this world, a sacred rest; A spirit above, where all the righteous tread, In gracious bliss, will forever rest.

Thy voice of innocence though hushed on earth, Now wakes an echo, in the court of heaven; We felt, thou wast an angel from thy birth, And feared thy earthly ties would soon be broken.

Oh could thy mother's vision pierce the veil, That bounds the region of ethereal space; No longer would she thus thy lowly wall, Since mid the angels, she would view thy face.

Long another, cheek then the mournful sigh, And drop no longer now the silent tear, To bid the silken curl, on to be soiled, nor (O little dress, thy darling) need to wear, For while the ennet moulders 'neath the sod, That rises gently o'er my little grave, The precious jewel rests, secure with God, Who only can part from earth the gem he gave.

Rest! Annie, rest, though sacred ties are broken, The beauteous flowers, round thy pillow billow, We'll hope to meet thee, at the gates of heaven, When we have safely passed, death's bitter doom.

REPUBLICANS DISRUPTED. Blaine and Reed Bitterly Hostile. The Republican party is split right up and down the middle on the McKinley law.

The advocates of the immediate repeal of the law in the west, like the Chicago Tribune, say that Reed and McKinley have made all the trouble by forcing the tariff bill on the country and that of their leadership must be set aside for that of Blaine.

In the East such organs as the New York Tribune and the Philadelphia Press are shouting that the McKinley act must not be touched and that the force bill must be rushed through the Senate this winter.

The Republicans of the North-west say they will not endure the law, and the Pennsylvania crowd assert that it will be treason to touch it.

There is trouble enough to keep them in hot water for years to come. There are indications that an effort will be made to unite all the factions in a grand effort to swindle the people out of their right by passing an outrageous apportionment bill, based on Porter's fraudulent census. The Democrats must defeat this, if it shall be attempted at all hazards.

The Republicans are desperate, and desperate men are dangerous. We doubt whether they will be able to agree on any course in regard to anything.

The bitterness between Blaine and Reed is cropping out every day. Reed and McKinley privately assert that Blaine did all he could to bring on the Democratic cyclone so as to profit in either line by passing nominated for the Presidency in 1892. They intend to beat Mr. Blaine if he attempts to force his own nomination. It is going to be a very lively political battle.—National Democrat.

Making Peace. Simple words are best, though a very busy man cannot always stop to pick one.

A hotel waiter came out of the coffee room and informed the manager that a man was raising a disturbance because he could not have his accustomed seat at the table.

"Go in again," said the manager, "and propitiate him in some way."

"Back went the waiter and said, 'if you don't like the way things is done here you can get out, or I'll propitiate you pretty quick.'"—Lloyd's Weekly.

A Ship Lost. DOVER, Nov. 13.—A Norwegian ship, the Terpsichore, bound from Quebec to New Castle, came into collision with another vessel in the channel this morning and sank. The fate of the crew is unknown.

One of the saddest things about human nature is, that a man may guide others in the path of the virtuous walking in it himself; that he may be a pilot and yet a cast away.

A woman writes a column to a Boston paper on the subject, "How to Treat a Prety Month." A man would have thoughtfully exhausted the subject in two words.

Schiller says: "Labor is the poor man's pride; success by toil alone is won. Kings glory in their possessions wide; we glory in our work well done."

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

The Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis Railway company recently filed in Pittsburg a mortgage for $75,000,000, the biggest mortgage on record.

SYRUP OF FIGS. Produced from the laxative and nutritious juice of California figs combined with the medical virtues of plants known to be most beneficial to the human system, acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds and headaches, and curing habitual constipation.

Prof. Eugene Wallnau, FIRST CLASS Piano Tuner and Repairer, Educated at the Conservatory of Music, in Berlin, has located in this city and will be pleased to receive orders. Satisfaction guaranteed. Call at Middle street, brick house next to the Custom House, across 4th st. Wt.

Next! PROF. W. H. SHEPARD and competent assistants in the tonorial art will give you a Hair cut for..... 20 cents. Shampoo..... 30 " Shave..... 10 " Gaston House Barber Shop, New Bern, N. C.

Bath Rooms At my stop on Middle street. Plenty of water, hot or cold, and good large room a just dit J. B. BROWN for Infants and Children. Castoria is so well adapted to children that it is superior to any purgative known. It is a Family Remedy, and is sold in all the principal cities of the world. It is a Family Remedy, and is sold in all the principal cities of the world.

CASTORIA

Castoria is so well adapted to children that it is superior to any purgative known. It is a Family Remedy, and is sold in all the principal cities of the world. It is a Family Remedy, and is sold in all the principal cities of the world.

Castoria is so well adapted to children that it is superior to any purgative known. It is a Family Remedy, and is sold in all the principal cities of the world. It is a Family Remedy, and is sold in all the principal