THE NEW YORK LEDGER'S CHANGE Urem the time forth the New York Ledge Il contain sexteen pages. The publishers ive been urged for years by their subtibers to make this change, so they would the ledger in a form convenient for of the limited the change from eight - N.D. II PARIS, Messrs ROBERT BONNER'S as a have utilized the opportunity to intromee apportant improvements into the entures. The new number of the Ledger Navember 16th) leads off with the opening hapters of an extraordinary story from the THE OF ANNA KARRARINE GREEN, (author of " Leavenworth Case", entitled THE This temarkable story was written in a white heat-dashed off almost without rest from commencement to end. It has been the becate for a long time before taking pen in and to begin a new work, and then to deute at least a year to its completion, but The Forsaken Inn" presented itself to her in way so foreible and vivid that all her one a methods were discarded, and she not the story under the spur of overpow ang inspiration. The result was the proaction of an exceptionally brilliant and lowing literary gem. In addition to Anna Katharine Green's reat story, the Ledger of November 16th intains the following brilliant articles: NIIIILISM IN RUSSIA, by Leo Hartmann, Ni billet .
