THANKS TO SUBSCRIBERS.

It gives the publisher of the JOURNAL much pleasure to acknowledge the prompt Answers from the delinquent list which were notified in this space for a few weeks past. Many of the accounts had accumulated unaware to most of the subscribers, and in a number of instances they have settled in full and some in advance and a few have paid up to 1893

The majority of those who have not settled have written letters that have an honest and businesslike tone to them, saying that it was not convenient for them to pay up just now but that they would settle at the very first opportunity. These last named have our respect just as much as those who paid up and two years in advance. Again we tender our thanks to these prompt responses

CITY AND VICINITY.

The increase in real estate valuation in the city continues gradual—no boom but solid and steady

Prof. Geo. T. Winston will be inaugurated President of the State University the fourteenth of October.

The amount of building and general improvement in New Berne this year surpasses all past records and it is still increasing.

And still our business firms continue to increase their force. Mr. Walter H. Lane of Pamlico will enter upon the position of salesman at the Bargain Store this morning.

Rev. L. W. Crawford, formerly pastor of Centenary M. E. Church, now a Professor in Trinity College has been elected a member of the School of Christian Philosophy, New York.

A series of meetings will be held at Polloksville next week to be conducted by Rev. L. L. Chestnutt of this city, who will leave for that place Wednesday and hold a meeting that night and Thursday and Friday nights.

Workmen are engaged making window frames, &c. for the Episcopal rectory. The work of erection will commence as soon as the small building now occupying the ground, and which were sold to clear it, are removed.

Mr. C. Follman has growing in his yard an ornamental bean known as the Florida Jack. The seed were brought to him from Florida by his daughter, Mrs. Annie Howard. Some of the pods are over a foot long and two inches wide. When fully ripe they are varnished and used as ornaments. The beans are a pretty crimson color

President Chadwick's report of the A. & N. C. Railroad read at the annual meeting made a splendid showing. The earnings increased twenty eight per cent. over the last report a year ago and oprating expenses had lessened. Also there has been made permanent improvements to the road, two new engines a parlor car etc., amounting to $32,365.38.

One of Mr. Stephen Whitford's daughters killed a rattlesnake with 5 rattles near Little Swift Creek last week. Just a few days before Mr Lewis Cason of the same neighborhood found and destroyed a den of 17 of the dangerous reptiles on his farm. Some of them had only one rattle each—the one that had the largest number had fourteen.

We have received a copy of the address of Hon. Kemp P. Battle, delivered July 4th, 1891, at the battle ground of Guilford court house, on "The Life and Services of Brigadier General Jethro Sumner." It is a substantial pamphlet of 51 pages and is an interesting and valuable addition to the historical documents relating to the patriots of North Carolina in the stirring and trying times of '76

Statistics are being gathered with the view of using them in presenting a petition to the officials at Washington urging the establishment of a double daily mail. Success in this attempt will make it easier to secure the establishment of passenger trains running twice a day in each direction, both of which objects will militate greatly to the prosperity of the city and to the convenience of its inhabitants and also to the advantage of those who live along the road who desire to trade and transact other business in the city. These facilities are earnestly desired by all.

Will Not Can Until November

Messrs. Martin Wagner & Co. Moore & Brady, Gibbs Preserving Co. and the other prominent oyster canners unanimously decided at a meeting called for the purpose that they would not pack any oysters in Baltimore North Carolina or elsewhere prior to the first day of November 1891

They announce that this action is taken because "it is the sense of the packers that the packing of cove oysters during the warm weather of the early fall is detrimental to the best interests of the oyster industry and tends towards the depletion of the natural oyster beds."

The Lumber Combine.

The twenty-two firms enumerated below were the prime movers in getting up the meeting for the protection of the interests of lumber men but about one hundred other important firms were invited to attend and co operate in the effort:

Johnson & Whitmsatt, Thomas W Smith, Washington, D. C. Mullein & Dale, Otto Dulzer & Co., E. W. Horstmier & Son, The Tunis Lumber Co., G. E. Sloan & Bro., and Geo. G. Tyler, all of Baltimore; W. L. Pearley, Boescher & Bro., Wilmington J. L. Roper Lumber Co., Norfolk, Va., Southern Lumber Co., C. B. Lee & Co., Suffolk Va. J. Steward Knight & Co., Albemarle Lumber Co., Martin County Lumber Co., Philadelphia Neuse Lumber Co., Goldsboro, N. C., C. J. Scheidky, New Berne, N. C., Pioneer Lumber Co., Mt. Olive, N. C., D. W. Alderman & Co., of Alcola, S. C.

A Good Sign.

It is gratifying to see the great quantities of best quality latest improved farming machinery that is now brought to New Berne. There is a greatly increased demand for it. Mr. J. C. Whitty informs us that it is now much easier to sell a high priced plow than formly. Fine plows and harrows are sought for. There is a tendency for first class implements generally especially is this noticeable in hay harvesting machinery. More attention is being paid to the hay crop than ever before and instead of doing the work by hand, horse mowers and horse rakes are brought into requisition to a considerable extent.

This state of affairs is very encouraging. Diversifying the crops, cultivating the choicest varieties of each, using labor saving implements and machinery and adopting wisely the best methods of work to accomplish the desired end is the true road to success and prosperity.

Brought from Bern.

Mayor Manly brought back with him a number of interesting souvenirs of his trip to Bern to attend the celebration of the 700th anniversary of its founding. Among them is a folding picture, 15 feet in length, of the historical pageant in which 2,100 people participated. He has also a number of medals made for the occasion

One large silver one that we have examined has on one side the head of Duke Zaehringen, the founder of the city with his shield and crest below. The other side has the coat of arms of Bern, being a shield with a bear in the center this surmounted by a crown and the whole surmounted by the cross of the Confederation of Switzerland and all surrounded by a pretty wreath in which dates of important events in the city's history are interwoven. Both sides have proper inscriptions. The medal is dated 1191—1891.

Mayor Manly also brought with him a large, magnificent, very handsome and profusely illustrated history of Bern, well supplied with maps of Switzerland at different periods of its history. This was a present "to New Bern from the mother city Bern."

New Berne a Good Market.

Large shipments of goods are now being daily received by New Berne merchants which indicates something more than usual trade. For a number of years the Journal has spoken of the advantage of purchasers both wholesale and retail, patronizing the market here and our merchants have met them with the lowest possible prices which we believe can not be beaten any where

New Berne has business relations with the greater portions of all the adjoining counties and a number of others that do not touch the borders of Craven Only a few days ago we were in conversation with a gentleman from the Palo Alto section of Onslow county and he much prefered New Berne to other markets even though he had to travel over public roads forty or fifty miles.

The principal reasons that these advantages exist are the superior commercial location of the city, the merchants buying in heavy shipments, and so many of these paying cash, thus taking advantage at every turn.

Changes in the Priesthood.

Father Thomas F. Price, who has for a number of years been in charge of the New Berne Catholic church, and who has by his geniality won many friends here, will hereafter have his headquarters at Goldsboro, being in charge of the church there and of the contiguous mission territory. He preached his farewell sermon here Sunday morning and left yesterday morning for his new home

Father Matthias How, a young priest just graduated from St. Mary's Seminary, at Belmont, Gaston county, who arrived last week takes up the work here at once. This parish is his first charge.

Father Chas. E. Burns, who on account of the extent of the mission operations in which Father Price has been engaged, has assisted him in the New Berne work, will now minister to the colored people in the new building on Berne street which is being erected for a combined church and school house for them.

Our Next Fair.

As the crops mature, do not forget to pick out the finest specimens of each kind for the New Berne Fair and keep them in a secure place. It will be but little trouble and it is so much easier to make the selections then than later, and besides if the separation is not made at the gathering the most desirable specimens may get used or damaged

The past grand successes of the New Berne Fair—splendid from the very start and with each succeeding exhibition surpassing its predecessor—has brought it into high repute, not only among those who have attended but also among those to whom the countless throngs of delighted visitors have carried tidings of the delight with which they viewed its manifold attractions.

[illegible] has given increased attendance year by year, and each one as it was last a year more fervently reasonable indication that next year it will be vastly greater

Those who have been in different parts of the State inform us that the people generally in all sections are fully alive to the excellencies of this Fair and that very many—both visitors of the past and those who have not as yet attended one of its exhibitions declare their firm intention of coming to the next one whether they take other pleasure trips or not.

[illegible] Sec'y

The [illegible] day [illegible] the following officials were authorized: W. S. Chadwick, J. M. Marshall, J. W. Grainger, W. L. Morris, [illegible] W. T. Caho, F. D. Winslow and [illegible]

At the [illegible] stockholders' meeting J. M. Marshall, I. F. Faison, Arnold Porter and I. H. Cutler were elected.

Financial committee: J. J. Wolfenden, Thos Dortch and S. I. Wooten.

On motion the proxy committee was reduced from seven to five and the following gentlemen were elected: W. J. Arendell, J. P. Davis, J. A. Pridgen, E. B. Hackburn and C. H. Fowler.

A resolution of respect paying tribute to the late and lamented Gov. Fowle was presented and adopted, and ordered spread upon the minutes and a copy forwarded to the family of the deceased.

The question of extension next came up and was debated upon quite freely by Messrs. J. A. Bryan, Washington Bryan, J. M. Morehead, P. F. Faison, M. D. W. Stevenson, W. T. Caho, J. E. Robinson, W. T. Faircloth, S. Isler, J. D. Whitford. The final decision reached was a unanimous approval of the amendment to the charter relative to the extension and that action be left with the president and directors of the road.

Immediately after adjournment the directors met in session and re-elected President Chadwick and Roberts sec. and treas.

Desires to Bear Testimony.

Henry Thorne, Traveling Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., writes from Exeter Hall Strand, London, February 24, 1888

"I desire to bear my testimony to the value of ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS. I have used them for pains in the back and side arising from rheumatic and other causes never without deriving benefit from their application. They are easily applied and very comforting. Those engaged as I am in public work which involves exposure to sudden changes of temperature, will do well to keep a supply of ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS in their portmanteaus."

A Monster Saw Fish.

The Wilmington Review says: Bob Freeman, with the Freeman seine, caught a monster saw fish at Car-lins Bluff yesterday. It was a fine lot[illegible] and was [illegible] weighed [illegible] pounds and it was [illegible] barrel. The fish is by the way a [illegible] and [illegible] this fish [illegible] of value. It is boiled down and the oil extracted from it [illegible] until [illegible]

We think the Review is mistaken about the saw fish being worth for the table. We believe Bob has discovered a great [illegible] and hundreds of boats are constantly [illegible] Massachusetts in their capture.—Ed. N. and O.

Confirmed.

The favorable impression produced on the first appearance of the agreeable liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs a few years ago has been more than confirmed by the present experience of all who have used it, and the success of the proprietors and manufacturers the California Fig Syrup Company.

Rice Quotations.

[illegible] Bulletin, N. Y. Sept. 21.

We take the following on European rice position from circular letter of Messrs. Richard Grange & Co. "In addition to the damage reported from Japan the general condition of rice throughout the East Indies seems to be somewhat precarious. The shortage in some of the larger provinces of China is undoubted, and as China is the largest consumer of rice in the world, and not an exporting country, this fact is of great weight. Besides, in those districts of India which have suffered so severely from drought, there is great fear of famine and cable advices today report large shipments from Rangoon, Bassein, etc., as being already made thither to meet the expected deficiency. As to Japan which is now the leading foreign rice in this market, it must be noted that her exports have never exceeded from 3 to 4 per cent. of her crop, so that a deficiency of 20 per cent. conservative estimates received by cable, would produce a state of affairs exactly like two years ago, when an advance began which placed Japan rice here at 6 to 6¼c per lb.

Referring to above, 6 to 6¼, per pound for cleaned is equivalent to $1 10 to $1 50 per bushel rough. It would be folly to advise our planters to hold in expectation of getting fancy prices, but there is certainly no good reason why they should not get right royal results from their rice crops this year. We say unhesitatingly $1 25 per bush. good quality—rough is very reasonable.

Ayer's Hair Vigor promotes the growth and improves the beauty of the hair. This preparation stimulates the roots of the hair, cleanses the scalp, prevents the accumulation of dandruff, and restores to faded and gray hair its original color.

HORNED SEA MONSTER.

Eighty Feet in Length and Cuts the Water Like an Ocean Racer.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Sept. 21.—Fishermen returning from the far-off Flemish Cape fishing bank today tell of a mamoth sea serpent and strange marine monster seen on the banks this season. A sea serpent over eighty feet in length, resembling a giant squid, was observed one morning while the crews were engaged in hauling their trawls. He was also seen by the man aboard the vessels. He made a noise similar to the rumbling of a train of cars and ploughed the water before him like a big ocean steamer. Two harpoons were thrown from this monster's head at close quarters as an unwelcome appearance. The monster made but one appearance and was evidently blind both
