THE JOURNAL

NEW BERNE, N. C., FEB. 2, 1893.

CITY AND VICINITY.

Do you realize that our winter Exposition is near at hand!

Blaine's estate is worth $80,000. He left everything unreservedly to Mrs. Blaine.

It begins to look as though Hawaii was to become a part of the United States in spite of Englands objection.

The work of overhauling and re-painting the Str. Neuse is finished, and she has been launched in readiness to resume work.

Charlotte graded school has the largest attendance of any school in the State. There are one thousand children enrolled.

The bill intended to reduce the number of dogs in the State in the interest of sheep raising was lost on the second reading in the Senate by a vote of 27 to 20.

The Revenue Cutter Winona was hauled up on Meadows marine railways yesterday to have a new wheel put on, a flange of the old one having been broken.

The Chatham Record says: "The largest hog killed in Chatham this winter so far as we have heard, is the one killed by Mr. W. F. Pike, of Matthews township, which weighed 535pounds."

Mr. A. S. Aldridge, of Pamlico county, informs us that during the cold spell wild ducks were more abundant, in the locality in which he lives than they have been before for thirty years past.

The Winston Republican says: "During the last week Winston shipped 335,258 2-8 pounds of manufactured tobacco while the revenue collections from Monday to Saturday amounted to $20,115.22.

Presiding Elder F. D. Swindell held quarterly conference at Newport Saturday and Sunday. Next Saturday and Sunday morning he will hold conference at Beaufort and Sunday night he will be at Morehead.

Mr. P. H. Pelletier and Mr Milan Howard have moved their offices in the rooms over the Farmers & Merchants bank. These are good business locations and especially convenient for Mr. Pelletier who is attorney for that bank.

Rev. D. McLeod ended his pastorate of Beaufort Baptist Church Sunday. His farewell sermon at night showed considerable feeling, and interest in the congregation from whom he was parting and whom he has served over three years.

After a lingering illness Ex-Secrtary Blaine passes away at Washington from a complication of ailments. In respect to his death both houses have adjourned. Mr. Blaine was beyond question one of the most brainy men of this country.

Ex-Sheriff Wm. Murrill of Onslow county is dead. He was an excellent and popular man. He held the office of sheriff 28 years, an expression of continued confidence and satisfaction with the discharge of duty seldom awarded to a public servant.

The Morehead City News of the 28th inst. says: "Rev. Mr. Rose, a Presbyterian minister of Fayetteville, preached last week at Withwood. His sermons were powerful and the community people braved the foul weather to hear him. The meeting closed Sunday."

We learn from the Kinston Free Press that the dedication of the Christian church there has been postponed until some time during the coming spring or summer. The dedication was to have taken place on Sunday the 29th inst but was postponed on account of the weather and further because the pews will have to be altered.

There will be a meeting held in Raleigh on the 7th inst in regard to the insurance law and forms in North Carolina. There is great need for reform along this line and especially has it been felt in New Berne. Now is a good time to look into the matter and see if there has not been discriminations practiced in this section.

Messrs. M. Hahn & Co. have received 60 more horses and mules and are adding to their stables to accomodate them. The new part is about 100 feet deep by 50 feet wide, which makes their stables run now the full length of the lot on which they are situated—about 300 feet. The way they are making improvements and pushing their business speaks well for these gentlemen.

The Institute itemizer of the Kinston Free Press says: Last Tuesday night about three miles from here at Mr. A. T. Dawson's mill an aged and industrious old negro named Ben Canady was frozen to death. On Monday preceding he was discovered in a numb condition and friendly hands prepared a fire in the stove in the house where he stayed, and placed him near it. About nine o'clock that night it was discovered that he had fallen against the stove and was severely burned about the feet and legs. The injuries received, owing to his infirm condition, it is thought, was the immediate cause of his death.

Struck by a Falling Tree.

Mr. C. L. McCleese, of Fork, Pamlico county was struck Monday by a falling tree which he and another man were engaged in telling. Though badly hurt he was able to walk to his home near by where he took a dose of laudanum and ate a little dinner. He soon became worse and about two hours after the accident occurred, which is the latest information we have, he had become unconscious and could not be aroused. Dr. G. S. Attmore, of Stonewall, eight miles distant had been sent for but had not arrived.

Presiding Elder Swindell.

Of Rev. F. D. Swindell presiding elder of this district the Kinston Free Press says:

"Rev. F. D. Swindell, presiding elder of this district, preached here Sunday morning and evening in the M. E. church, to large congregations. Both sermons were finished products of a well regulated mind. They were replete with thought and practical application, and will be remembered by many as among the most beautiful and impressive discourses ever heard before."

A Sixteen Pound Wild Turkey.

Ex-Judge George Barham, of Greenville county, Va., and Mr. H. Macklin, of the same place have been spending a short time in the city with their friend Mr. S. E. Sullivan enjoying the sports of the season. In addition to wild ducks killed, the Judge succeeded in bringing down a large fat turkey gobbler, out of a flock that they came across on Mr. Perry's place about four miles from the city. He weighed 16 pounds. Mr. Macklin left, returning home yesterday taking with him the gobbler as a trophy of their success, but Judge Barham remained to give the turkeys another trial.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Fire at Stonewall.

A correspondent says: "On Thursday last Mr. C. H. Fowler sustained a serious loss by having his warehouse and 30 bales of cotton burned. There was no insurance.

Honor Roll for January.

The following constitutes the honor roll of the Collegiate Institute for month ending Jan. 27th:

Misses Rosa Dail, Mary Barrington, Parthenia Hunter, Bertha Willis, Carrie Hendren, Mamie Daniels, Ruth Daniels, Eliza Simmons, Aleph Cobb, Bessie Parsons, Viola Gaskill.

Messrs. Otis Fulcher, H. N. Roper, James Whitfield, Hugh Barrington, Lynn Hendren, Bryan Lane, Frank Willis.

An 8800. Catch.

Messrs. Haywood and Helen Huff caught 660 rock and and 3,500 white perch Saturday night about 8 miles below New Berne. Both these varieties of fish are now commanding high prices north and the lucky brothers were offered $800 here for their catch. They however declined it preferring to ship the fish themselves in the confidence that they would realize a still larger sum. There were 15 large boxes of them.

Publish Their Names.

"Publication of the names of pensioners," says the Portland Oregonian (Rep.) "would shame rich men into surrender of pensions wrung by taxation from the poor, and stimulate growth of a healthy public sentiment in favor of amending the laws so as to limit pensions to those who need them.

Another secret scandal which might be cured by publicity is the enormous number of pensions paid to Government servants, in addition to their handsome salaries."

A High Compliment.

Mr. Wm. Ellis, of this city, has received notice of his appointment as member of the committee to prepare rules for the Inter-National Firemen's Contests at the World's Fair and also of his appointment as one of the Judges of the contests. As these contests will be participated in by firemen from all over the world it will be seen that this honor to our townsman is a very high one.

We would like to see some of our New Berne boys there with their quick steaming engine.

More Good Fishing.

Fine New river trout and mullets continue to come in, in good quanties, and to command fairly good prices, about 17 cents each wholesale for the former, and 3 to 4 cents for the latter. We are told of 2,000 mullets taken at one haul.

We are also informed of a very good catch at one haul in Morehead waters by two young men of that place, Walter Davis and Elijah Wade. They caught three sharpie loads, $175 worth of trout and mullets at one haul,and the fish were so plentiful that they think it others had been at hand to render assistance they could have secured 75 or 100 barrels of them.

More Rock.

Mr. Helen Huff's partner in the catch of rock and white perch of which we spoke yesterday was Mr. Robert Rose instead of his brother as first announced. It will be remembered that they refused to sell here though offered $800 for the lot, and had Mr. Haywood Tooker to ship the whole lot for them. The whole number (over 4000), were caught at one haul.

Three more lots of rock come in Tuesday. One lot caught the previous night by Geo. Moore, col. sold for $170, and the whole $170 worth did not weigh to exceed 800 pounds. It will thus be seen what remarkably good price these fish are commanding.

Salt Removes Snow.

The Charlotte News has this: "The city hands in clearing the side-walks this morning used salt liberally, and it acted like a charm. It melted the snow as a hot iron would have done, and evaporation followed, leaving no water to freeze. It has been commented upon as a strange thing why salt has not been placed on the street car tracks. A barrel or two of salt would prove cheaper than a big squad of hired laborers."

If salt is as effective in this work as the above indicates, much of the disagreeableness attending this winters snows could easily have been avoided by moderate expenditure of money and a very little work. The plan is worth remembering and trying.

$5,000 Worth of Fish.

Fifty thousand pounds of fish, besides oysters and clams went off on the steamer Albemarle Tuesday. There were 200 boxes of the fish of an average weight of 250 pounds each. When we speak of 250 pounds we mean, not the gross weight of fish and box but the net weight of the fish alone. They were fine varieties of fish too, that will command a good price.

There were 1,100 packages of the fish oysters and clams, 200 boxes of fish, 150 barrels of oysters and 750 of clams. Taking it all in all, shell fish and otherwise, this is probably the largest single shipment in the fish line that ever left the city. The total value would be in excess of $5,000.

Good shipments as usual of both fish and opened oysters went off by rail.

In addition to the products of the water the Albemarle took out two or three thousand dozen eggs and cotton, hides, etc.

A New Berne Incident of the War.

Mr. S. H. Talbott, of New York who has been in the city a few days, recalls a little incident of the war with which he was connected in this city and saved a New Bernian from being killed by exasperated Federals. Mr. Talbott was in the 23d Independent Battery, commanded by Burnside. He came here in 1862 and remained until 1864.

Mr. ——Ball was at the time living in the small brick residence on what is now the Fair grounds. He had the grounds planted in potatoes, which were being stolen—(he supposed by colored people) and he applied to Gen. Foster for protection. Gen. Foster told him to protect himself, and gave him permission to shoot any one caught thus trespassing.

The next time Mr. Ball noticed any one in his potato patch, there were two men together. He sallied forth gun in hand and as they were running he fired, aiming low thinking to cripple one of them, but as he fired the one at whom he aimed jumped into a ditch, and as he was a low man this brought his head in the line of aim and the load killed him. It proved to be one of the Yankee soldiers.

When it was found that Mr. Ball had killed one of their number, a mob of the soldiers quickly came to the scene, and were preparing to hang his luckless slayer without ceremony, but the northern camp was near enough for the commotion to attract attention, and Mr. Talbott,who was corporal of the guard, interfered and rescued the endangered man.

The East Carolina Exposition.

The East Carolina Fish, Oyster, Game, and Industrial Annual Exposition has become one of the fixed Institutions of the South, and enables visitors to this section to readily arrive at, and intelligently comprehend its varied resources.

It presents in a handsome and compact manner the choicest products of field and farm, of woods and streams,and even lays the ocean under tribute for some of its monsters.

This season it will in addition exhibit a number of attractions that will be prominent features for the World's Fair at Chicago.

A splendid race track invites the best horses, to whom, in a series of admirably planned races, will be given thousands of dollars in purses.

This combination of atractions and many others will be at the Association grounds in New Berne, North Carolina, from Monday February 20th to Saturday 25th inclusive.

Come—your visit will be pleasant, instructive and amusing.

Three More Stories of the Cold.

A Windsor correspondent of the Oxford Friend says that Cashie river froze over for the first time in 12 years. The ice was eleven inches thick. Two of the skaters on it went 18 miles in one hour and four minutes.

The Lexington Dispatch mentions the freezing there of water in a factory well over 30 feet deep which it regards as unprecedented.

The Gastonia Gazette arises to say that one of Mr. Labe Fall's ducks was swimming and paddling around in a little pond of water in the back yard one day that week, and after having finished the necessary ablutions came out to further arrange his toilet. He stood on the cold ground near the edge of the pool while he picked and arranged his feathers in becoming style. When we went to move off, he found that his feet had been frozen down fast so that he could not budge. In answer to his repeated cries some of the folks about the house went out and found out what the trouble was. The cook and some warm water were brought into requisition and the duck's feet were thawed loose.

A QUIET WEDDING.

Miss Helen Bryan and Mr. W. D. Moore Were the Contracting Parttes.

Miss Helen Bryan, formerly of Kinston, who has resided in Durham for the past year, was married this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence of her sister, Mrs. W. J. Griswold, on Pettigrew street, to Mr. W. D. Moore, of Winston.

The marriage was a very quiet affair, only a few of the relatives and most intimate friends of the contracting parties being present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Stuart McQueen according to the beautiful and impressive ritual of the Episcopal church.

Promptly at the appointed hour the bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelsshon's wedding march as played by Miss Mary Mackay. The only attendant was Mr. Henry Roan, of Winston, who was best man.

Among those who witnessed the nuptials were Miss Mattie Rountree, of Oxford; Miss Lizzie Biddle, of Ft. Barnwell; Miss Phœbe Whitaker, of Winston; Judge H. R. Bryan and Mr. J. W. Biddle, of New Berne; Messrs. R. S. Galloway, E. G. Hester and N. G. Williams, of Winston.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore will leave on the 5:37 train for their home in Winston, carrying with them the best wishes for a long and happy life of a host of friends.—Durham Sun.

DON'T PASS HIM BY.

What means this eager, anxious throng,
Which moves with busy haste along—
That people should gather day by day,
In such a crowd down this way.
And now the whole throng reply
Big Ike, Big Ike, passeth by.

Who is Big Ike, and why should he
Move this city so mightily;
He must be a man with skill
To move all these people at his will;
For every day down to his store
The people come flocking by the score.

The people, they come from place to place
Big Ike's footprints they even try to trace.
For down to his store they come every day,
To look at his bargains before sold, or given away.
Then the people go out and raise the cry,
Come down to Big Ike's, don't pass him by.

Whosoever heareth the cry
Be sure and not pass his store by,
His bargains, ate known of the world round,
The cry has gone through every county and town,
And still they keep up the cry,
Come; this is Big Ike's, don't pass his door by.

But if Big Ike's call you refuse
And all his splendid bargains abuse,
And from his store you turn
Back down there again you will run
But too late, too late, will be your cry,
For Big Ike, and his bargains have passed by.

On motion of Senator Jones the rules were suspended and this resolution immediately put upon its passage. It was unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

The consideration of the Guilford battle ground was resumed.

Senator Potter rose in reply to Senator Cooper. He made perhaps the most beautiful and touching address of the day. It was a magnificent effort. "Gettysburg," said he, "is a place known far and wide throughout the world—immortalized and maintained by lavish appropriations from the federal government. Yet I say to you that no more was lost at Appomattox than was gained at Guilford."

Senators supported the bill in many touching remarks, and it finally passed its third reading by an aye and no vote of 30 to 18, and was sent to the House without engrossment.

Representative Allen moved the permanent appropriations belong to each subject. Adopted.

Representative Watson, of Forsyth, moved that this resolution shall not apply to the World's Fair. Legislation on that subject needs attention at once. There is money in the treasury, paid by the general government under the act by turning the direct taxes paid by the State's application of that fund to the World's Fair—no other appropriation. There are daily inquiries in relation to the space to be occupied in the World's Fair buildings by North Carolina and the contracts for the exhibit.

A bill to incorporate the Atlantic and Ohio railroad company, passed second reading and placed on the calendar.

Messrs. Barlow and Parker, to prohibit traveling over Tar and Trent rivers in Edgecombe and Jones county faster than in a walk.

House bill 278, to amend the act concerning the railroad commissions appeal was put on its readings. An amendment proposed the addition of that said steamboat companies to the list of exemptions. It also includes in one aggregate for taxation the railroad bid, rolling stock, franchises, etc. Puts steamboat property at present valuation at $200,000, on which at present no tax is put. There is no exemption of any railroad. The question of the exemption of any particular road is not considered here.

The bill passed its several readings and was ordered to be engrossed.

House bill 344, to amend the charter of the Bank of Kinston was taken up. The amendment for the addition of a savings department, stockholders not to be individually liable.

Mr. Roberts said this was an old charter, its term had not expired. The bill passed its second reading.

House bill 259, to amend the Code in regard to the requirement of railroad companies to make annual reports to the governor, amended by making the annual report of railroad commissioners, now also required, sufficient, abrogating the necessity of making two reports. The bill passed its several readings and was ordered to be engrossed.

By consent, Mr. Kitchen introduced a bill to "ensure the listing of solvent credits," and on his motion the bill was ordered to be printed and referred to the committee on finance.

Mr. Mask's bill to amend chapter 320, laws of 1891, concerning the careless handling of baggage came up.

Mr. Sprull made a short and pointed speech, that now the way to recover is from officers, and such recovery is not speedy enough, and the object of the bill is to authorize the Railroad Commissioners to assess the damage and order the collection of the penalty. If there should be an appeal from their decision the bill contemplates that such appeal shall be made directly to the Supreme Court. This is a very important bill. It passed its third reading.

Houses bill 220, to fix the standard of weights and measures, was on its reading, the substitute of the committee adopted, and then the bill was passed over informally.

House bill 176, a bill to renew and extend the charter of the bank of Kinston, was announced but not considered, the required tax receipt not being attached to the bill.

Senate bill 162, house bill 428, requiring clerk of the superior courts to keep records of the names of the justices of the peace, the dates of appointment, etc., vacancies and their occurrence, names of each talesman and petit juror; clerk to be paid five per cent for each record, neglect to be a misdemeanor.

The bill passed and was ordered to be enrolled.

COME GOOD FOLKS ALL.

Come good folks all, both great and small,
But come in time, to keep my rhyme,
For I will tell—I know quite well—
You know how to make your money swell.

And now my friends, I do agree,
That it is very hard to see,
How such a thing as that can be,
But you can prove it, if you like,
By simply calling on Big Ike.

He has for boys all sorts of toys
Such things for girls as dolls with curls,
And more I'll say, you'll find the way
Pure cowsies are flocking there each day,
And if to try him, you'll consent,
I'm sure you'll never will repent.
The money which you there have spent,
For all who need a Christmas dik'y,
It will pay to get it from Big Ike.

He heard the cry against prices high,
Dear them a blow with prices low.
And if you have a mind you'll find
That this is so, for every kind
Of merchandise that you can wish,
From beaver hat to gravy dish.
Or even if you wish to fish,
You'll surely get just what you like,
If you'll but call upon Big Ike.

At HOWARD'S.

LINES ON THE DEATH OF RICHARD G. WARD, OF ONSLOW CO.

Close under the sound of the roaring billows
Is lying a shipping form
Which once was a friends so dear
To await the summer morn.

The shower of cold drops which fell,
Were as a token of a funeral knell,
And the sound of the rolling tears,
For the sleeping one who had no fears.

The hands which so often used for many a year
For the hour and hour I mes most dear
Pressed gently upon the quiet breast
We hope now at rest.

Tears said to weep for many dear friends
But none like the parting words
Such children and friends can they bear.
He is resting calmly where no trouble bears.

He has now gone to the battle or strife,
Has only left the pressing cares of life
And by a call he spirit fled
To check the ruby of the dead.

The silent soul has gone the body to
Soiled forever from his kin,
How dear friend, we hope to meet you
At the throne.
Where the seed of goodness are ever sown.

Family of friends one and all,
This soul has gone to the master's call;
Paid the debt we all must pay,
And then be ready for the judgment day.

Roll on noisy and billowy deep,
Thy warning sound will not disturb this sleep,
The hearing of him no longer last,
For the last fond look of the listless has been cast.

—NANNIE B. HEWITT.

THE SIX PER CENT BILL.

It Passes the Senate but a Motion to Reconsider Prevails.

The substitute for the bill to fix the legal rate of interest at six per cent, came up Friday for discussion and elicited a long and earnest debate, participated in by a number of the leading members of the body.

Those opposed to the bill attacked its constitutionality on the ground that it was made dependent on a contingency, inasmuch as its provisions were not to take effect until the Federal government had passed an act abolishing the ten per cent. tax on State banks—an event which might or might not take place. That it would be sure on that account to produce innumerable and vexatious lawsuits, and in many other ways do more harm than good. While it was no doubt true that banks would be better off if this measure and the one on which its effective operation would depend, were enacted, since the banks could then lend money at 6 per cent, as well as they can now lend it at 8, yet individuals who had money to loan would not be benefitted. On the contrary, private lenders of money would be injured, and would necessarily have to seek other fields for the investment of their capital. The substitute was therefore a piece of class legislation discriminating against the private money lender and in favor of corporations. It also hurts the borrower by shutting him off from the chance of getting money on real estate security, which he could now do on application to private capitalists. As national banks would not lend on real estate security at any kind, and as the state banks would lend upon none but city property, leaving the country people and all who held agricultural lands dependent entirely on the mid of private lenders. Cut off that source of relief and those people, constituting the bulk of the population of the state would be ruined. The mortgages on their lands would be foreclosed, both by their creditors would do better with their money in other states Debtors could not raise money to put off the evil day, and vast amounts of property being thrown on the market at the same time, the prices would be so low as to almost ruin the owners.

These propositions were ably combatted by those who supported the measure. Senator King taking the lead. He contended that there was no constitutional question whatever involved. Several amendments were offered excepting particular counties from the operation of the measure.

Mr. Pou earnestly begged the Senate to vote down all amendments, and made a motion to that effect, on which he called the previous question. The call was sustained. The amendments exempting counties were rejected.

Senator Patterson, who had previously given notice that he had an amendment to offer now sent one forward providing that the bill should not go into effect until ninety days after the passage by congress of an act repealing the 10 per cent tax on state banks.

Mr. King accepted the amendment,and the clerk proceeded to call the roll upon the adoption of the bill as amended. The vote stood, ayes 24, noes, 20; and the bill having passed its third and final reading was ordered to be engrossed and sent to the house.

Mr. King then moved to reconsider the vote by which the bill had passed and lay that motion on the table. Adopted.

Bartley-Smith.

The marriage bell rang out loud and clear last Wednesday evening at the Hammock, near Swansboro, when Mr. J. T. Bartley, of Wilmington, N. C., led to the hymenial alter, Miss Georgiana, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mr and Mrs. Geo. W. Smith.

Never was there a seemingly more happy pair, than Georgia and Tommy, when the Rev. J. L. Keen, pastor of the M. E. church south for the Onslow circuit, pronounced them man and wife. It was a very quiet wedding, but very impressing was the ceremony.

Mr. Bartley is a Wilmington man, but has bought property in Swansboro, and will make that place his home at least for a while. We extend friendship and happiness to the happy couple through life. G. W. W.

Messrs. Walter Davis and Elijah Wade caught 5,550 mullets at a single haul at Bogue Inlet last week and sold them here for $141.00.

Some nice ducks are brought into our market from time to time. The season is opening up finely.

Mr. Daniel Bell has several thousand dollars worth of diamond back terrapins. They are fine fellows and will command a big price in the northern markets. He will ship them soon.

Mr. H. T. Cahoon, a resident of Pamlico county now at work here, recently showed us a pocket-book which he says has been in use 148 years. It has been in the hands of three generations. We suggest it as worthy of a place among the exhibits at the New Berne Fair.

We likewise think it worthy to be on exhibition. We hope Mr. Cahoon will send it up.

They Never Fail.

J. N. Harris, 3 Fulton Market, New York City says:

"I have been using BRANDRETH'S PILLS for the last fifteen years. There is nothing equal to them as Blood Purifiers and Liver Regulators. But I wish to state how remarkably they cure rheumatism, and how easily: I was affected by rheumatism in the legs. My business, wholesale fish dealer, naturally leads me to damp places. I could not walk, and at night I suffered terribly. I tried Balsms, Sarsaparillas and all kinds of tinctures, but they did me no good and I was afraid of being a cripple. I finally commenced using BRANDRETH'S PILLS. I took two every night for ten nights, then I began to improve. I continued taking them for forty days and I got entirely well. Now, whenever sick, I take BRANDRETH'S PILLS. They never fail.
