EDITORIAL NOTES.

REMARKABLE London banded 6,000,000 telegrams last year. MONTANA'S returns have arrived at Washington which completes every state.

A NUMBER of big Italian officials are implicated in heavy bank defalcations.

THE island of Bante was shaken early Monday morning by an earthquake and many lives have been lost.

THE Etruria and Eufrat Bismarck, two fast Trans-Atlantic liners, are racing across the ocean from Europe.

A BASE conspiracy against Garis is one of the sensations of the day. The great Southron is prepared to meet it.

FRANCE is shipping pickled snails to this country. Philadelphia affords the principal market for the little almy creatures.

THE United States' a great oil producing country. We have no less than 46,000 wells with a daily output of 130,000 barrels.

THE Pennsylvania society of America, with headquarters at Nashua, Iowa, advocates putting the penny in the flag as an outline setting for the stars.

Think of paying $250,000 for a single meal! That is what a wealthy Roman did, when he wished to impress a dozen guests with his disregard for riches.

A test case brought by the city of Providence against a man for selling adulterated milk was lost. It is alleged that the jury was confused with technical terms and Latin.

THE oldest French cookery book dating from the seventeenth century, puts down the following laws: "To eat once a day is to lead an angelic life. To eat twice is to lead a human life. To eat three or four times is to lead a devil's life."

It is learned on excellent authority that the British government has not instructed Sir Julian Pauncefote to protest against American interference in Hawaii, as the British government does not expect the United States to take any steps to which Great Britain would be likely to object.

A most remarkable case is reported from Kentucky. Rev. O. H. Morrow, a prominent Baptist minister of Simpson county, reared a family of six daughters. He reared all of them into the church, baptized them all, said the marriage ceremony for each of them, and buried them all. He survived the last daughter several years.

COOK TAYLOR, the English factory inspector, in his new book expresses the opinion that a great change in the distribution of trade and industry is impending. He believes that by the use of electric motors power is destined to be distributed in workingmen's houses and in isolated communities, which will result in the laborer carrying on his work at home.

MANY Cuban ways are different from those of any other people on the globe. Cuban, when he desires to bring a person, they motions him to go away, they put keyholes upside down, and applaud in the theatre by a prolonged hiss. Postage stamps are sold everywhere but at the post office, and to get revenue stamps you do not go to a government official, but to a broker on the street. The people live on the first floor and do their cooking upstairs, the nurses and chamber servants are men instead of women, and agricultural implements are sold at chocolate shops.

HORACE GREELY ON DEBT.
For my own part—and I speak from experience—I would rather be a convict in a State prison, a slave in a new swamp, than pass through life the narrow way of debt. Let no young man misjudge himself, or be misled by any one so long as he has not paid all his debts and liabilities, and is not substantially free from debt.

Hunger, cold, and hard work, contempt, suspicion, and a reputation for infamy, are the penalties that await the man who is not free from debt. And if he is not free from debt, he is not free from debt. He is not free from debt. He is not free from debt.

THE New York papers tell that a fortune of many thousand dollars has recently been extracted from the wooden floors and rubbish of a building in that city. The New York representatives of the Waltham Watch Company for many years carried on the manufacture of watch cases of the three floors of this building, worth from $1,000,000 to $3,000,000 worth of gold every day. A few months ago they moved to another place, and on their departure had the floors taken up and carried to smelting and refining works. There were 6,000 square feet of lumber that had been undisturbed for nineteen years. The wood was burned to ashes, which were sifted, and the gold was then extracted by a chemical process. The amount realized by the firm was about $67,000.

Returned from the Fair Trip.
The Edward Burt is back from his trip to the Fair. The interest of the East Carolina Fair which is to be held in this city, commencing on the 20th of the present month.

Mr. Burt travelled 3176 miles. He has been in a few days and in a portion of Virginia South Carolina, and Italy, very pleased with the view, and some small ones. He has been about thirty days and has put in thirty days of annual work—four more than last year, and he over a little while after that over here.

Mr. Burt has found the interest in the Fair strong, and people everywhere want to come.

We have had a strong indication at the Department of the increased interest in the Fair, the issue is exhausted. The whole thing has been carefully placed, and the demand is not supplied—our people still holding on in lists of friends when they want to have one of the Fair editions, and outside parties are writing for it. There will certainly be a very large attendance. Let all prepare accordingly.

In view of this promising outlook, we can't too strongly urge upon all our citizens the importance of each one doing something for the fair. Every exhibit counts, whether it be large or small.

Our entire pension system must be overhauled. The deserving soldier dependent upon his country's bounty must no longer be forced to be classed with the thousands of camp followers and swindlers who have been able to perjure and by the help of unscrupulous pension agents to secure a place on what ought to be a roll of honor.

Instead of being a roll of honor the pension list is almost a roll of dishonor. Fraud and perjury are written all over it, and the good must share with the bad the odium that now attaches to the pension list. Let us have a complete revision of the entire pension system.

A Connecting Schedule Needed.
A gentleman from Hartford calls our attention to the fact that the schedule of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad is such that the train on it leaves Hologood for Kinston before the train on the Norfolk & Carolina road gets there. This makes it necessary for any one coming from Hologood to Kinston to get over at Hologood by day or come via Goldsboro, and over the way, and that on the return, trip similar trouble is encountered at Kinston.

He tells us that people of his neighborhood who are thinking of attending the Fair are hoping that close connection will at last be made during the Fair.

A Good Trade in Dogs.
Mr. Frank K. Hodges, proprietor of Warkoff's Kennel, keeps the show dog of the city. He has a large stock of dogs at present. He informs us that among recent shipments was one St. Bernard dog, and another of the same breed to Lenoir, Texas—Winston Republican.

He says to be such a successful breeder of dogs, we hope to have an exhibit from him at the East Carolina Fair. There are $14,000 in prizes on dogs, and the advertisement he would secure for his dogs, especially if they should prove good enough to be the winners, would doubtless pay him well.

It is true that we have not gained in population equal to Asheville, Winston and a few other North Carolina places, but that New Berne is fast building up with a steady and healthful growth, all will admit. The census of 1890 gave 8,000 population, an increase of 23 per cent, while at the close of 1892 the registered vote, based on five to every voter, would swell the number to more than 10,000, a most remarkable gain.

Dotted here and there a great many new and handsome buildings have been erected, many of which would do credit to a city of much greater proportions. Real estate town on the suburbs has jumped up like a mushroom with small but neat dwellings. Pavement has been extended, and on every hand appearances are on the improvement.

But this building up alone will not answer within itself. This population must be sustained by industry, regular employment, and to see that these means are furnished an abundance of laborers applies especially to our business men and our citizens. Not only our own citizens, but a moral obligation to us, and it is of the greatest importance to have employment for all desirous of work.

To furnish this employment manufacturing must be established. It not only furnishes employment for labor, but continually brings money from elsewhere to add to the capital of the place. The farmer markets his crop and the money which it brings is spent with the merchant and sent off again.

The manufacturer ships the product of his factory and the money he paid salaries, labor and raw materials at home and gradually the community grows rich.

We have known towns boomed up and for a while everything looks rosy, but in every case the last end of that town was worse than the first. There can be no solid growth without a solid basis. But by establishing manufacturing enterprises a prosperous town can be built anywhere that there are transportation facilities, and even with moderate facilities.

PENSION REFORM NEEDED.

An Associated Press dispatch from Washington states, says the Atlanta Constitution, that there is some dismay among the members of the Appropriations Committee because of an expected deficiency of $30,000,000 in the pension appropriation for the fiscal year. The expenses in four months by $30,000,000, and commenting on this, the dispatch says:

"In plain English, that means if the estimates of the committee hold good a deficiency on account of pensions of $30,000,000, which will have to be met by Congress at the next session, in addition to an appropriation for the next fiscal year of certainly not less than $150,000,000. So the total appropriation that Congress must make for pensions next session will aggregate not less than $180,000,000."

The Norfolk Virginian goes on further to speak of the iniquitous and widespread evil.

In 1860, when our population was 30,000,000, the total expenses of the National Government were $2,000,000,000, or less than we now pay annually for pensions alone. No one will begrudge the pensions that are paid to worthy veterans who were disabled in the war, but our pension system as it now exists is a disgrace to the country and to the manhood of the American people.

It imposes a tax equal to 3 per cent. upon over $5,000,000, or nearly twice as much as our national debt in 1860, when it reached its highest point. The war ended 23 years ago, but there are now on the rolls over 700,000 pensioners, and the number is annually increasing.

The time has come to call a halt. Our entire pension system must be overhauled. The deserving soldier dependent upon his country's bounty must no longer be forced to be classed with the thousands of camp followers and swindlers who have been able to perjure and by the help of unscrupulous pension agents to secure a place on what ought to be a roll of honor.

Instead of being a roll of honor the pension list is almost a roll of dishonor. Fraud and perjury are written all over it, and the good must share with the bad the odium that now attaches to the pension list. Let us have a complete revision of the entire pension system.
