SENATOR RANSON

North Carolina's senior Senator is just now under fire. It is not the first time the enviable gentleman has faced the enemy. His body is seamed all over with honorable wounds.

Senator Ransom is not a pugna-cious and spiteful animal. His characteristics are those of the lion, he is provoked to anger, but, when provoked, he is to the fore-man who comes within the length of his blade.

Why do the enemies now made of the Senator? Some assert that he is not seeking removal fast enough. They say that he is not doing enough to get the job done.

There is some talk of the Senator's removal. Some say that he is not doing enough to get the job done.

CONFUSION

Confusion worse confounded reigns at Washington. The letter of the President to the Governor of Georgia has only added fuel to the flame, and it may be that the hopes of patriots will perish in a mighty conflagration.

No man can predict the future of the Venable rebel bill. Rhinodaphnia Record, of Sept. 29, says: "The Democratic majority of two gives the Venable bill 50 votes out of the 85 in the Senate."
