EDITORIAL NOTES.

"Over five thousand lizard snakes were imported into the United States last year from the State of Tobago, Mexico.

"The oldest flute in the world is made of the thigh bone of a sheep and was found in a tomb on the Nile."

Senator Morgan had on his war-paint last Monday, and took the walls of Voorhees, McPherson and Hill in quick succession.

We have no doubt that Elias and Simmons will be confirmed. Senatorial courtesy will enable our Junior Senator to hold them back a little while.

Secretary Hoke Smith has tendered the position of chief clerk to the educational bureau to Lovick Pierce, of Columbus, Ga. Mr. Pierce is the oldest son of the lamented Bishop George F. Pierce.

Prince Bismarck notifies the world that he does not wish to be treated as a dying man. He is enfeebled by age and disease but he feels that his race is not yet entirely run.

Jefferson Wallace is now on trial at Blomhard Va, for sending a challenge to fight a duel to Joseph Bryan, proprietor of the Times newspaper.

There is danger of an epidemic in the vicinity of New Orleans as a consequence of the great number of bodies of storm victims that lie decomposing in marshes where they cannot be reached.

Judge McCamas has overruled demurrers, in the Ford's theater case and sustained the indictment of Ainsworth and others as drawn by the district attorney. The case will now proceed on its merits.

"A young widow in a Vermont town has been threatened with church discipline for bicycle riding. The good deacons seem to fear that when a sister mounts a bicycle she is apt to become rather fast."

Chicago wrests from Paris the honor of being the gathering place of the greatest crowd in history. The total attendance on the Fair up to date is 16,492,070. On Chicago day there were 700,000 on the grounds.

The President of the South Carolina Farmers' Alliance issuing an address to the farmers advising them to hold their cotton for better prices and to prepare to reduce the cotton acreage next year and raise their own food crops.

According to a Herald cable Duke Augustus of Saxony, son-in-law of the late Dom Pedro, the deposed Emperor of Brazil, has embarked for Rio Janeiro. It is known that quite a large portion of the people of Brazil are in favor of the restoration of the monarchy.

"Never before," says the Philadelphia Inquirer, "has there been so much enforced idleness in this city. Estimates differ, but the total is large, and already the suffering is terrible. The winter is coming on and thousands will be dependent upon charity unless Congress gives the nation relief."

The Government's October cotton crop report shows a decline of 2.7 points from the September report, being 70.7. The October conditions in Virginia and North Carolina are the same. Texas has gained two points and all the other States suffer losses.

The New York Recorder says: "The single gold standard is synonymous with hard times such as the American people have never before experienced. It is the slow fire built by the Shylockery of the world and tended by the vampire brood of Wall street. Before that fire it is intended to roast American industry alive and drain the life blood of every branch of business into the grayish of the golems of usury."

Twelve "prominent" citizens in Indiana were indicted a few days ago for playing white-cap and whipping a woman. These twelve prominent citizens found themselves more prominent than they expected to be. The prominent citizens who find amusement in whipping a woman, should be assigned to prominent places in the penitentiary.—Wil. Star.

The traces between the Government and the insurgents at Rio Janeiro may be the prelude to a treaty of peace. If not, it will leave the latter party in a rather better position than they occupied before the truce, since the Peixoto Government in treating with them has given them a measure of consideration which may have the way to a recognition of their rights as belligerents by other Powers.

They are having it hot in the Senate. Monday witnessed a very sharp passage between Voorhees and Morgan. As to the charge of incoincidence Senator Voorhees said he was willing to be placed in that light to save his country. Ad- dressing Senator Morgan he said, "I will not listen to you. I'll acknowledge that you have all the intelligence and patriotism in the Senate.

John Snelling, who is a firm believer in the efficacy of the rabbit-foot in promoting luck, explains the success of the Vigilant upon the theory that he paid a negro boy to place right under the Vigilant's press more than a week ago, while he was in dock, the foot of a rabbit which was slain in a graveyard at 12 o'clock at night, and of the moon. This is as likely to increase the demand for the rabbit-foot talisman—New York Advertiser.

It is not too late for the democrats in congress to get together in caucus and may out their line of action. Unless this is done we may look for more confusion, blundering and delay before there is any financial relief—there are other weighty business. Since a caucus as we have advocated would solidify the democratic majority and enable it to move forward with unanimity, harmony and intelligent determination. It could end a good deal of the present uncertainty concerning the action of congress, and would make it more difficult for the republican minority to retard the progress of legislation.

The matter of free and unlimited silver coinage has about as much connection with the actual condition of commerce, and agriculture in Virginia as the Norfolk creamery has with the fire in Mount Vesuvius. As one of our esteemed literary acquaintances would say "It ain't in it." But everybody thinks that's what's the matter and it is a well known fact that man may imagine that he has a fever on his finger until one will actually come there. The Sherman silver purchase law is now the felon in the amount of interest on the bond and nothing will do but the lance, put in to the bone. The Senate is the surgeon and is afraid to perform the operation.—Norfolk Landmark.

The editor of the Lenox Topic holds a position in the Treasury Department at Washington. The following is an extract from an editorial in his paper this week: "It may not be improper to state that in the case of Collector Elias, charges affecting his personal integrity were preferred and we think it entirely proper to say that he fully answered every charge and completely vindicated himself. Mr. Elias and Mr. Simmons will both be confirmed." If, as we assume, this was written by Mr. Scott, the editor of the Topic, it confirms fully the news that has been sent out on the subject by the Washington correspondent of the Observer.—Charlotte Observer.

It is estimated at Washington that high water mark in the pension business was reached July the 1st, 1893, nearly thirty years after the war, when there were 996,012 pensioners on the list. The decrease that has since taken place indicates, it is said, that there will be a falling off of 50,000 a year by deaths, remarriages of widows, and the coming to non-pensionable age of minor children. New pensions are being granted every day at the rate of about 4,000 per annum, which would indicate a net decrease of 10,000 per annum. But many of the new pensions granted carry back pay, so that no material decrease in the amount expended for pensions is to be looked for at present.—Philadelphia Ledger, Ind.

Secretary Herbert has inaugurated a policy which promises to clothe the United States Navy with a new and important function of usefulness. The dynamite cruiser has been dispatched to sea with orders to blow to pieces or more ocean derelicts of the August hurricanes, many of which have been located directly in the pathway of the great transatlantic steamships. These dismantled and seaweedy hulks constitute one of the greatest dangers of modern ocean travel, as a collision with one of them might very easily sink the stanchest of ships. Their removal is of the first importance; and in the absence of any concerted action by the maritime nations our Government could not make a wiser use of its naval forces than to employ them in this important work.—Phil. Record.

What are whitecaps? They are the followers and base imitators of bands of marauders who some years ago terrorized neighborhoods, seizing and punishing men and women according to their own caprice, and wearing white caps as their insignia.

They are confined to no special locality, but have a habitation and a name wherever ruffians wish to wreak vengeance on the defenceless and shelter themselves in the folds of night.

The strangest thing about it is the impunity with which they commit their outrages. Entire communities are completely terrorized by them.

Why, they have actually forbid planters in several states to gin their cotton so long as the price of the staple is below 10 cents.

Now, these outlaws must be suppressed. The courts are compelled to deal with them, and we trust that their bands will be speedily exterminated.

From the beginning of the present session of Congress, the Journal has insisted that the Democratic members hold a caucus, get together, discuss their course and present a united front.

There is a great difference between a conference and a caucus. The Democrats of the Senate have held several conferences, indeed they center daily, but there has been no caucus to adopt a policy and bind them to it. There have been two caucuses of the Democrats of the House, both of which solidified their ranks, and the last enabled them to pass the Tucker bill, repealing the Federal Election laws, without difficulty.

The great failure in the Senate has resulted from reliance upon Republican votes to sustain a Democratic administration. This is a mistake. Nothing would please the Republican party better than to see the administration fail and the Democratic party go to pieces.

It has been said that there was no necessity for a caucus inasmuch as the platform is the law of the Democrats. Wrong, wrong, radically wrong! A platform is the law; but when that law is given different interpretations by members of Congress, the caucus is the place to determine the question, and authoritatively declare the line of action. To be effective a party must be as firm as a Grecian phalanx and as brave as a Roman legion.

The Senate is now trying the test of physical endurance, and Senator Voorhees, the leader of the administration forces, is fearful of the result, because he doubts the steadfastness of his Republican allies.

If the Democratic party is to continue its domination, if in days to come it is to be a force in the land, it must maintain its integrity, stand by its time-honored principles and redeem its pledges. If the party permits itself to become "a miserable make shift," its glory has departed and its name will be written on its crumbling walls.

Democratic harmony is the demand of the hour, and who stands in the way of its accomplishment? Will the anathemas of an outraged people.

As interest in North Carolina centers on the Collectorship, and every body wants to know about it, we publish the following from the Washington correspondent of the Observer.—Charlotte Observer.

"The contest over the confirmation of Kope Elias as collector of internal revenue in North Carolina is waxing very warm. The two Senators are divided. Senator Ransom is fighting for his confirmation, while Senator Vance is opposing it."

"In speaking of this contest a North Carolinian who is very close to Senator Vance said: 'Vance is just right in this fight. Any other self-respecting man in his position would do just as he is doing. When Mr. Cleveland first came in and the North Carolina offices were being distributed Senator Vance received consideration at his hands as far as some state officials were concerned. It was then that the Senate adjourned last spring Senator Vance was at the white house one day to see the President about North Carolina appointments. The President told him he wanted to talk with him about the silver question. He asked Mr. Vance how he stood on the repeal of the Sherman law. Mr. Vance replied in his characteristic style that he would fight to the bitter end. He was a free coinage man and intended to do all in his power for free coinage. He announced that he would oppose this repeal of the Sherman law and that he would be in the interior department given him shortly after the present administration came in."

"Now," as to Elias. He was a candidate for district attorney against R. B. Gleason, and H. A. Gager, of Asheville, was an applicant for collector with Senator Vance's endorsement. Mr. Gager had been a prominent democrat in the State. Mr. Cleveland appointed Gleason district attorney and Gleason resigned. Senator Vance's endorsement of Gleason and opposition of Kope Elias. It seems that the President appointed Elias collector of the district office.
