Pure! Brilliant! Perfect!

USED EVERYWHERE, AND ENDORSED BY THE SOLID REPRESENTATIVE MEN OF THIS COUNTRY, many of them being of National Fame. The first and best of the world.

Persons who are annoyed to dogs and are sometimes afraid of them should always speak to them soothingly. Talking in an encouraging, kindly tone to dogs establishes confidence and tells them plainer than words, "I am your friend."

It is said by a cabinet officer that under the Resumption act, Secretary Carlisle now has authority, without any action of Congress, to issue bonds for $25,000,000 with which to build up the impaired gold reserve.

An election to fill the vacancy in the seventh Congressional district of Virginia, caused by the resignation of Gov. O'Ferrall, will be held on the 30th instant. Smith Turner and Basil Gordon are leading candidates.

We regret to see that Senator Morgan is opposed to free coal and iron. It is supposed that he is influenced by the supposed interests of his State. With Mexico ready to take all the coal Alabama can supply there is no longer to her interest in free coal.

The Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley railroad has been sold to an English syndicate. The price paid was one million dollars. It is expected that the road will change hands about the first of February.

The Democratic members of Congress should bear in mind that it is a condition, not a theory, which confronts the party and the country, and that the sooner they settle the tariff question the better it will be for both.—Atlanta Journal.

The members of the Virginia society of Atlanta, Ga., are taking lively interest in the preparations for celebrating Gen. Lee's birthday. No orator will be selected for the occasion, but the speech making will be done by resident Virginians around the banquet table. This is the very best way of celebrating this great anniversary.

If the attitude of the extremists is to be given any significance whatever, the Wilson bill is a conservative democratic measure that will fully meet the expectations of that large element which makes up an overwhelming majority of the American people—the element that has no special interests to maintain and no special theories to advocate.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The best is the cheapest. One's short comings go a long way against him.

"Mittum in parvo" is the motto of progressive journalism.

Whoop up your town, or move to a town you can whoop up.

Tariff and Elections will take up the attention of Congress this week.

Luck is a good thing, but it is worth nothing without forethought, energy and pluck.

A thorough preparation of the soil is an indispensable prerequisite to a good crop.

Nashville, Tenn., honoring mill ship 2,000 sacks of flour to Liverpool direct from Charleston, S. C.

It is complained that there is no money in the treasury. Just give the working people a chance and they will soon make the money.

The Washington Post says: "If Lilliputians is a wise woman she will pin her head on tight and make arrangements for a foreign tour."

There is no such thing as "the New South. It is the same South that God made, and all the devils in hell and out of it, can't destroy it."

The blithe and blustering youth who prates of his originality, should remember that his claims are dimly founded. Adam was the only original man of which history preserves any record.

A Paris dispatch, Jan. 14, says that Prince August, of Caxe-Coburg, Dom Pedro's grandson, has gone to Brazil. The Prince is believed to be on Admiral Da Gama's warship Jupiter.

Any rooster can cock his own walk if he will keep moderately quiet, but if he crows too loud a game cock may fly over the fence and take possession of his barn. There should be moderation in all things.

As the Wilson bill seems to disturb the dreams of the extremists, we are confirmed in the opinion that it is a measure that will give satisfaction to the people.

Bradstreet's weekly report says that business of all lines is looking up and that prospects of trade are brightening daily. Reports from all southern centres are most encouraging.

Secretary Carlisle has appointed W. H. Low, of New York, as a designer in the bureau engraving and printing for two months. It is thought the bureau is preparing to issue bonds or to take contracts for postage stamps.

FAITH HOPE AND CHARITY.

Now abideth Faith, Hope and Charity; these three, but the greatest of these is Charity."

We do not propose to play the Priest, nor in any way invade the sacred precincts of the divine, but we will speak as a man, a careful erring man, of these three virtues, not only of our "Christianity," but of our common humanity.

Faith, Hope and Charity, are fixed stars that shine on every land and influence every life.

Our space is too narrow for our theme; full broad enough for our powers.

What is Faith? It is trust and confidence. To the Christian, Faith is the substance of things hoped for; the evidence of things not seen. He exercises Faith when he trusts in God and has implicit confidence in the fulfillment of His promises. The night may be ever so dark, but beyond the cloud he sees firmament lit up with innumerable stars.

We cannot go further into the sacred territory we have invaded, for the place where we stand is holy ground.

Faith in man is as essential to physical and temporal well being, as faith in God is to spiritual and eternal happiness.

O, let us have faith in our fellow man!

We have no patience with perpetual fault-finding. In a world of beauty and loveliness it is wrong to shut our eyes to its ravishing delights and look with distorted vision on the deformed and the monstrous.

He who seeks for evil will find evil. He who hungers for carrion will find it; but there is abundant compensation for evil in the good that comes with every morning's light and lingers with a holy benediction to the shades of night; and, for him who wills it, there are rich viands and the cattle upon a thousand hills.

The impure and morally despicable can feast to satiety on the filth and off-scouring of the earth, but the noble and more pure-minded will go into the banqueting chamber of love with fruits and flowers.

Have faith in your fellow man, and believe that beneath a rough exterior there is a priceless jewel that with improved conditions will shine with fadeless luster.

Hope is an anchor both sure and steadfast.

To the weary and heavy laden it brings the promise of rest in a serene and happy home, blessed with the sweet companionship of wife and children; to the tempest tossed it gives assurance of a prosperous voyage and a happy return to native land, where loving arms are waiting to embrace and the shout of welcome drowns the roar of the waves; and to the fallen it whispers of a re-surrection to newness of life.

However dark the prospect, Hope spans the horizon with the bow of promise.

"Hilt the greatest of these is Charity."

Charity, Queen of the Virtues, waves her magic wand over Earth and throws wide the gates of Heaven.

BONDS.

The Government must have money like our humble self wants it bad, but, unlike us, it has many ways of obtaining it. Tax most usual of these is the tariff. A singular thing is presented in this tariff matter. To lighten the burdens of the people a bill has been introduced in Congress that, with all the tariff revenue collected, will leave a deficit of about seventy millions. How is this deficit to be supplied? Various ways have been suggested; such as an income tax; the free coinage of silver; the coinage by the Government of the silver bullet in the treasury, and the issuing of bonds.

The Government has chosen the last named as the best remedy for the present condition of affairs. Volums will be written about it, but the excellent Charlotte Observer covers the ground in a single paragraph when it says: "As the administration is issued $50,000,000 of 5 per cent. ten year bonds. Doubtless the strait of the treasury is great enough, but what the people are going to think of the administration which increases the public debt by this amount in a time of peace and with the treasury filled with silver coined, and incoumred remains to be seen."

Since we are to have bonds it is matter of gratulation that they are offered to the people and not specially to the banks. Any man who has the money can get the bonds, even if he is not able to invest more than sixty dollars in them. Now we long to invest in that way that as some of our readers may have a parality for that kind of investment, we will let Mr. Carlisle explain the matter to them. The Secretary says:

"By virtue of the authority contained in the act entitled: 'An act to provide for the resumption of

THE NEW HOTEL.

A Model of Conveniences—New Berne's Advantage Over Other Resorts—Its Prospects.

The new hotel near the corner of Broad and Middle streets in this city, erected by Judge Carpenter, is one of the most beautiful and complete structures of its size in the South, containing all the modern improvements. It is four stories, including basement, sixty feet deep, 40 feet wide with spacious apartments in basement, fitted by Mr. J. H. DeLoach, as the upper stories, with walls and floors constructed of brick and stone, and to be finished off in attractive granite colors.

A dumb waiter with speaking trumpet to upper stories carries up anything wanted from the restaurant and saloon in basement.

A cellar and ice house, conditioned in the rear of basement and having the appearance of being cut out of solid rock, containing ample room for cold storage, such as fresh poultry, beef, pork, lamb, &c. There is a large cistern of soft water, also rock water from the creek beneath the cistern, which waters are carried by pipes through all the rooms in the house.

The ground floor contains two rooms fifteen by fifty feet, beautiful to behold, with a very attractive front and concrete walk. The two upper stories contain eighteen elegant sleeping rooms, beautifully finished with perfect ventilation and wash basins in each room with pipes in and to same, and bath tubs and water closets on each floor, electric bells and telephones, and speaking trumpets communicating with restaurant and office and front door. More sleeping rooms are to be added.

The kitchen can be in the basement, or upper back room near the roof. The dining room, the office and the sample room, can be on the first floor, or a dining room on upper floor near elevator, as the proprietor may prefer. The parlor is above the office.

The hotel is in a desirable location for one to be kept on the European plan, with first class restaurant and lunch counter in basement to supply meals not only to the hotel but to the public also.

Such an establishment is sadly needed in New Berne. It will do a large business and secure a large share of the traveling trade.
