THE NORTH CAROLINA CAMPAIGN.

Every day we feel more and more impressed with the necessity of Democratic success in the Old North State in the impending campaign.

Event follows event emphasizing the absolute necessity of the triumph of Democratic principle for the maintenance of liberty and civilization.

Search creation round and round where can there be found a land in climate, soil and people superior to our own beloved North Carolina. Look at her physical structure. Her mountains kiss the skies, typical of the intellectual and moral elevation of her people; the ocean rools at her feet, the fit emblem of her boundless and unattainable love of honor, virtue and truth.

In a newspaper article, limited to a column, it is impossible to tell what Democracy has done. All I can do for North Carolina. All that we can now do is to point to the devastation that marked the triumph of the Republican party in North Carolina, and the transformation that came when the sun of Democracy dispelled the gloom and spanned our horizon with the bow of promise.

We have not yet entered upon the full fruition of our hopes. A few more years of Democratic ascendancy may make North Carolina the garden spot of the world.

But the campaign upon which we have entered has a broader significance. North Carolina must contribute her part to national honor and public liberty.

Democracy as interpreted by the Chicago Convention is the conservative power that is to hold on political system to its orbit. When out it there will be convulsions suggestive of the wreck of native and the crash of worlds.

A constitutional republic cannot long exist with the plutocratic and monopolistic tendencies of the Republican party in full force and successful operation, any more than it can with the communistic and anarchistic sentiments of Populists in its ascendancy. There must be the central and controlling power of Democracy, or some will come that will rudely thrust the political heavy-lifting stars and systems into its path.

Permitting the expression of irritating personalities in discussing the comparative merits of Democrats who are contending for the same office, let us lift high the banners of Democracy and advance to the summit mountains of victory.

A united Democracy is invincible in North Carolina. There are hundreds of men worthy to carry a flag, but there is but one flag, and it must be related by every Democrat who ever carries it. It is the emblem of liberty, and cursed be the traitor hand that would strike it down.

We trust that the men who have been and are to be nominated for Congress by Democratic Conventions, as well as the Senators who are to be elected by the Legislature, will prove worthy of the high distinction conferred upon them, but whatever our personal opinion of their personal qualities and individual attainments, the flag they carry must commend them to confidence and secure an earnest and enthusiastic support.

Conductor Killed by Riotous Negroes.

BRUNSWICK, GA., July 23.—J. F. Nelson, the oldest conductor on the Brunswick and Western road, was shot through the heart and instantly killed today on his train, thirty miles from Brunswick, while trying to stop a crowd of drunken negroes from fighting. His train porter was also mortally wounded and is not expected to live.

Six arrests have been made and great excitement prevails.

The Dispensary Law Declared in Force.

Columbia, S. C., July 23.—Governor Tillman today issued his proclamation declaring the dispensary law of 1893 to be in force, and ordering the dispensaries to resume business under its provisions on August 1st.

The recent decisions of the State Supreme court were upon cases arising under the law of 1892 and made no reference to the law of 1893. Hence the Governor holds the latter law to be operative and to declare his intention to enforce it.

For those who wilfully sin against light and knowledge there is no hope.

REPUBLICAN PROMISES.

Washington, July 19.—The following is President Cleveland's letter to Representative Wilson upon the tariff situation, which Mr. Wilson read as a part of his remarks in the House this afternoon.

EXPERTISE MANIFEST.

Washington, July 23, 1894.

My dear Mr. Wilson:

Mr. Deane has the courtesy to call a conference with me on the subject of the tariff situation, which I have the honor to acknowledge.

If what I have written is unwellcome, I beg you to believe in my good intentions. In the conclusion of the tariff conference touching the numerous items which will be considered, the people are not afraid that their interests will be neglected. They know that the general results as far as these are concerned will be to place both the necessities and comforts easier within their reach and to insure better and surer compensation to those who toil. We all know that a tariff covering all the varied interests and conditions of a country as vast as ours must of a necessity be largely the result of an honorable compromise. I must, therefore, measure as well when my measure is perfected that all its features are entirely as you would prefer. You know how much I depreciated the incorporation into the proposed bill of the income tax feature. In matters of this kind, however, which do not violate a fixed and recognized Democratic doctrine, we are willing to defer to the judgment of a majority of our Democratic brethren. I think there is a general agreement that this is a party duty. This is more palpably apparent when we realize that the business of our country timely stands and watches for the result of our efforts to perfect tariff legislation, that a quick and certain return of prosperity and adjustment and that a confiding people still trust in our hands their prosperity and well-being. The Democracy of the land pleads most earnestly for the speedy completion of the tariff legislation which their representatives have undertaken; but they demand not less earnestly that stress of necessity shall tempt those who trust to the abandonment of Democratic principles.
