BEGINNING OF THE END.

The Democratic State Executive Committee has pledged itself to an electoral fusion with the lopulist city. party of North Carolina.

It remains to be seen if the Democratic voters accept this pledge themselves and deliberately vote for Populists.

There was no genuine surprise expressed anywhere among Democrats when the fact became certain fusion with the Populists.

It had become too self evident for Populists / Democratic newspapers were advised to touch gently upon matters pertaining to Populism. especially Populistic fusion; the Demogratic executives have taken off their hats when talking with Sengtor Marion Butler, the ridiculed of/1894.

/It needed only the announcement of the Populist-Democratic fusionthe rest had been done.

And was the last shame of the chants. campaign of 1896, dictated from the terms so graciously (?) tendered | city. them by Senator Butler.

In other words the Democratic voters of North Carolina who accept electoral fusion with the l'opulist party, accept the political treaty, a dishonorable one to every self-respecting Democrat, from the dictation and at the behest of Democracy's greatest political enemy. Senator Marion Butler.

The downward course of any political party when it starts is at first slow.

So it was with the Democratic party of this State. It is about eight years since it began to turn from its the well tried grinciples which had led the party to prominence and honor, sink down and disappear.

The compromises of 1892 and 1894 made it easy for the party Executives this year. The decent begun, was past stopping, and last Monday night's work was easy. The sting of asking favors from the Populists was not felt; the political society of Marion Butler was congenial; we are all brethren, now.

But is this the final culmination of Democracy's degradation? It is hardly probable, for the Populists, triumphant in their fusion can now demand anything, and the outlook is for the removal of Vice Presidential nominee Arthur Sewall, and the substitution of Thos. E. Watson, in his place.

Carolina began the political dickering in jest, it has roven a sorry one to it. The slide from one political act to another for expediency's of those in the employ of the Govsake looked simple, but it has proven ernment, and yet they hold positions to be a political chute, and Democracy is now aliding towards the waters of political obscurity, if not oblivion.

IT NEEDS YOUR PRESENCE.

The New Berne Academy which has begun so successfully its opening term and year, if this city, is a home enterprise which is worthy of thoughtful consideration, and hearty support of the people of New Berne.

Everything connected with the Academy shows that its management is giving the school its careful attention. The grounds and build ings have been made attractive, and the teachers of the Academy have the confidence and respect of the scholars.

But while the Academy management have done so much to give the citizens of New Berne and this section a school worthy of a full patrouage, and while many of the people of New Berne have shown their appreciation of having a first class if only the claim of the rescue of school established in this city, by human lives be urged, while the emy, there is one thing which the percentage of property saved each sending their children to the Acadfriends and patrons of the New Berne year through their exertions makes coming acquainted with its teachers, and seeing for themselves the way
