RUSSELLISM ACCEPTED, NOT ENDORSED

The Republican state convention which met at Raleigh, N. C., on Tuesday, July 13th, has elected a ticket which will be regarded as a decisive vote in support of Russellism.

The one responsible for the giving of this vote is the entry of the name of Russell into the list of candidates for Governor.

And yet there was no man in the Republican convention who would publicly denounce Russellism? And yet strap Daniel L. Russell of the Governorship of North Carolina, and that entire Republican assemblage would gnash with its teeth and howl over him until he would be forced to seek an obscurity so remote and inaccessible that his return would be impossible.
