Heavy Sale of Arms and Ammunition Continues

One Thousand Men of Furloughs, A Touch of Negro Rule, Telegrams of Sympathy, Shipment of Cattle, Telephone Company, Special Court Term.

JOURNAL HUNGARIAN.
 Raleigh, N. C., September 21.
 Over 1000 men of the Second Regiment left yesterday on their furloughs. This of course leaves but few here. Everything is quiet and the chances that there will be any trouble are about over. This morning at the church of the Good Shepherd, Mr. William S. West, and Miss Susie Tillman were married. They left for a trip to Canada. Both are popular young society people here. There were quite a number of attendants.

The Charles Vaughan Company are playing a week engagement here at the Academy of Music.

The sale of pistols and ammunition to both white and colored continued yesterday. One leading hardware store sold in first refusal to a white merchant, but he found this was selling them to a colored fellow. He said he had sold more in 2 days than he had in a year.

The Raleigh Chapter of Commerce met last night for election of officers. Mr. R. B. Ramey was elected president and Mr. N. N. Jones was elected vice-president. Mr. Ramey upon retiring made a very good address.

We have somewhat of a change of negro rule here in Raleigh. A negro deputy was out yesterday serving subpoenas on white men.

Upon inquiry it is found that cattle can be shipped across the line from any part of the State to a November 15th to January 15th.

The Ladies' Memorial Association and the Raleigh Chapter Daughters of the Confederacy on yesterday sent telegrams of sympathy to Mrs. Jefferson Davis for the death of her daughter, Miss Winnie Davis.

The regular meeting of the executive committee of the pro-secedent league met here today.

Senator Butler says that "the effect is to be the issue. That the Democratic color line movement is disgusting more people than it is attracting. He says that he knows positively that the legislature will be and Democratic."

The applicants for license before the Supreme Court will be examined in the Senate chamber. Each applicant will have a desk and the examination will be written. This is an entirely new mode of proceeding.

The tobacco sales here are increasing over what they were last year.

The Inter State Telephone Company has 100 subscribers here in Raleigh. They are putting in a fine equipment here. The policy being put upon the largest in the State.

Governor Russell orders a special term of Mecklenburg circuit court.

Interest in the Coming State Fair Growing.

ALBEMARLE PRESBYTERY. Newborn's Biennial Report, The Case of Dr. Stockard, What Chairman Holton Says.

JOURNAL HUNGARIAN.
 Raleigh, N. C., September 21.
 Interest in the coming state Fair is increasing. Col. Cunningham is not allowing things to remain quiet. The Fair has never before had a president who was so thoroughly enthused with the work, nor one who was so determined that everything should be successful. Col. Cunningham has rented for October the handsome Cameron home on Hillsboro street, and during the Fair he and his charming wife will keep "open house." Mrs. Cunningham who with her Virginia knowledge of hospitality, and cordiality is well fitted to make her husband's home one of the most attractive, will be welcomed here by her host of Raleigh friends, made while here, when the Col. was the member of the legislature from Person county in 1897, when he did such good work for the Democratic party as could be done among such men as composed that legislature.

All of the recent trouble between soldiers and negroes seems to have quieted down. Had as it was, sensational reports were sent out from here about it.

Albemarle Presbytery is holding its sessions here. A mass meeting was held this afternoon. Reports show an encouraging condition of affairs in church work throughout this Presbytery.

Superintendent Newborn in his biennial report to the legislature this winter

Will recommend that no man should be eligible to the office of school committee unless he can write his own name, is qualified to do ordinary business, and is known to be in favor of public education.

Where colored men cannot be found to serve as committee men, the school boards should be organized to manage the colored schools.

Senator Butler speaks here October 7. Adjutant General Cowles says he thinks that after the Second Regiment is mustered out that fully 500 of the men will enlist in other regiments if it be possible.

Chairman Holton, Republican, says that opposition to the stock law has made more counties anti Democratic than any other one since. In spite of this statement the stock law movement grows steadily. Holton makes many strange announcements.

Dr. Stockard, chief surgeon of Second Regiment, will not be further questioned as to the many charges against him, absence from camp, incapacity, neglect of sick, etc. It remains to be seen what the people generally, and the families of those men who died, will have to say as to these things not being looked into. Possibly others higher in office than Dr. Stockard will be questioned.

Capt. Crawford, Company K, First Regiment has had his resignation accepted. 1st Lieut. Beavers will probably be appointed his successor.

Special term of Mecklenburg court to try the rapid fire Jackson, colored, cannot be held until October 21. It was ordered for October 19, but Judge Sutton could not hold it then.

No Welcome for Cervera.

MEMORIAL. September 20. The workmen of Bilbao, where the miners which belonged to Admiral Cervera's fleet, were told, never decided to go to Santander in order to make a demonstration against the delated Spanish Admiral on his return to Spain. The government has taken measures to prevent the plan being carried out, and the ministry has forbidden demonstrations welcoming Cervera home.

Captain General Blanco cables from Havana that he is not in accord with the Cuban colonial ministry, to which the government here replied that while Spanish sovereignty exists in Cuba he must apply autonomy, and therefore, he cannot turn out the colonial government now in office and appoint a new one.

The Duke of Tetuan, who was minister for foreign affairs in the cabinet of the late Premier Canovas del Castillo, is quoted as saying in an interview:

"Senior Canovas, if he had lived, would never have accepted war with the United States. Canovas and myself were convinced that war would lead inevitably to the ruin of Spain."

Continuing, the Duke blamed the liberals, who, he said, could have averted war by accepting the proffered good offices of the United States minister, General Stewart L. Woodford, by treating with the insurgents on the basis of Cuban independence or by selling Cuba to "Senior Sagasta," the Duke of Tetuan said, "but responsible for all our disasters and not must be expelled from power."

Funeral of Winnie Davis.

NEWBERNE. Sept. 21. September 20. It has been decided that the body of Miss Winnie Davis, after a brief service here, will be forwarded to Raleigh, Va., on the train leaving here at 10 o'clock Thursday morning. The services should be completed at 4:30 a. m. Friday.

The body will reach Washington at 9:45 p. m. and leave that place for Richmond at 4:30 a. m. Friday.

The funeral of Miss Davis will take place at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. The remains, which will reach the city on the morning of that day, will be taken directly to St. Paul's church, where they will lie in state until the home for the funeral.

Change of Polling Places.

NEWBERNE. Sept. 21. Major General Leitch, Lee, is slowly recovering from a rather severe attack of indigestion and slight fever, accompanied by loss of appetite. He was able to leave his bed for the first time in several days Monday, having moved from his camp to the hotel, where his family was stopping. He has received most affectionate care from his several daughters, whose devotion to their father is one of the charming features of the family life of the Lees.

General Lee is now anxiously awaiting the movement of troops to Cuba, for he believes when that takes place his time will come.

"All statements that I expected to go to Santiago or Porto Rico, and that I was disgraced because I did not go are false." He said today "I do want to go to Havana, and I have so stated a number of times. I told General Miles that I was a soldier and had no favors to ask, but I had the strongest desire to go to Havana with my troops. I presume if there was any large movement of the army General Miles would command and all I ask is the command of the troops in the lead of that movement."

Addition to Dewey's Fleet.
 WASHINGTON, September 19.—The advance guard of the naval expedition to Honolulu, which will eventually go to Manila, started yesterday, when the Abesares sailed from Fort Monroe via Brazil. The Abesares is a collier, one of four which are to keep the big battle ships Oregon and Iowa supplied with coal on their long voyage around South America. The plan is to have

FUNERAL OF WINNIE DAVIS

It Will be a Notable One. Plans at Hand.
 Richmond, Va., September 21.—The committee appointed by the War Department to arrange the funeral of Miss Winnie Davis, is expected to take place here Friday afternoon, completed its work tonight.

The body will arrive from Newbern at 8:40 a. m. Friday, and will be met at the depot by the members of the Lee and Pickett Camps. It will be escorted to the lecture room of St. Paul's Church and will be placed under a guard until 3:30 p. m. Then the coffin will be removed to the church proper, where the funeral services will be conducted by Bishop Whittle, Bishop Demas, Rev. Dr. Carmichael, Rev. Dr. Landon R. Mason, Rev. Dr. Moses D. Hoge and Rev. Dr. James P. Smith.

The procession, which will follow the body to the grave, will be composed of the Confederate Veterans, members of the Soldiers' Home, Sons of Veterans, Daughters of the Confederacy and others.

In concluding the ceremony at the grave, the church choir will sing a hymn.

While the procession is passing, the bells of all the churches in the city will be tolled, and every flag in Richmond will be put at half mast.

TO SHOW OUR SHIPS

Oregon and Iowa Will Stop at South American Ports.
 WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—South American ports which have not been visited recently by American warships, and especially by the most formidable vessels of the new navy, are to be afforded an opportunity of seeing at least two of the ships that did so much to defeat Cervera's squadron and crush Spain's power in Cuba waters. Now that a favorable chance is offered in the departure of the battle ships Oregon and Iowa, the colliers and the distilling and refrigerating ships, under Captain Barker, for Manila, by way of Honolulu, the Navy Department has decided that a wholesome lesson may be taught Spanish sympathizers in South American republics by the visits of these ships to several of the chief seaports.

In accordance with instructions issued by Secretary Long before his departure for the North, Captain Barker is ordered to take his ships into nearly all the leading ports while making the long trip to the West. Unless, therefore, the plans should be changed, or the orders countermanded at the first stopping place en route, the squadron will make port at Bahia, Para and Rio, if the yellow fever does not prevail to an abiding extent, and possibly at Montevideo. It is the purpose of the department especially that the Chileans and Argentinians shall see some of the great fighters that so easily drove Cervera's vessels to destruction and the power and strength of the two most formidable vessels of the American service.

MUCH TROUBLE PROBABLE.

Dreyfus Case Stirring Paris. Colonel Picquart Under Military Arrest.
 Paris, September 22.—The situation here is very grave. A clash between the military and civil authorities over the Dreyfus case is pronounced.

The seizure of Col. Picquart by Gen. Zurlinden, military governor of Paris, when being tried by a civil process, is feared as the first step toward a dictatorship. It emphasizes the determination of the army to prevent a revision of the Dreyfus case at all costs.

The Paris papers say that the minister of war, General Canovas, has examined the documents in the Dreyfus case, and has ordered the prosecution of Colonel Picquart, on the charge of forgery and using forged documents in the case. Colonel Picquart made a statement which caused a sensation. He said:

"This, perhaps, the last time I shall speak in public. I shall sleep, perhaps in the military prison of Cherche-Midi. Therefore, I wish to declare that if I find there the strangling cord of Lemercier Picard or the coat of Colonel Henry, it will be murder, for I have no objection of committing suicide."

The judges, after a short deliberation, decided to adjourn the case indefinitely, and Colonel Picquart was led away by policemen.

The commission appointed by the minister of justice, M. Sarrien, to examine the documents in the Dreyfus case, and pronounce upon the advisability of the government formally granting the prisoner of Devil's Island a new trial, met this afternoon at the ministry of justice. The greatest precautions were taken to insure secrecy. It is understood that the commission will come to a decision by next Monday, when M. Sarrien will communicate its finding to a cabinet council which will be presided over by President Faure.

INCINERATOR AND TIGER.

A Clever Trick by Which the Former Outwitted the Latter.
 According to a good and true tiger story in Cornhill, an Indian who had learned some of the elementary principles of jugglery and contortion went out one evening to walk upon a ridge plain. When he reached the top of one of the mounds, he saw a tiger ahead of him, 500 or 600 yards away. Before the man could get behind a mound the tiger had seen him and began to bound toward him at its utmost speed.

Having no means of defense, there was nothing for the man to do but to face the nearest foe, but though he tried it and put forth his utmost strength the tiger slowly gained upon him.

What was he to do? In sheer desperation he resolved upon an unusual scheme. Just as he disappeared for an instant from the tiger's sight in running over a ridge he halted, stretched out his legs at right angles, curled down his head so as to look between his legs to the rear and extended his arms upward in a fantastic manner, like the tails of a windmill.

In a few seconds the tiger hove in sight, and at that instant the face of the object assumed a hideous grimace. A prolonged yell arose, such as had perhaps never before expressed the horror of any tiger, and the animal in a mad effort to get to the rear of the man, as if a sudden whirlwind had burst upon the scene.

The tiger recoiled. What, he evidently thought, is this? There stood a ferocious star shaped monster, gigantic against the sky. Its hideous head was situated in the very center of its body—nay, its viselike jaws, between which those fiendish roars were issuing, were actually placed above its two fiery eyes.

Its limbs were furiously clanking for action, and the man he had been chasing, who was long already discomfited by this terrible beast, the tiger could not pause to reflect. He turned tail, and as he disappeared over a friendly ridge a last awful yell caused him to rebound in his pain. He was compared by the unknown.

ONE DIVIDED BY NAUGHT.

Four men sitting together were confiding to one another their general ignorance of the matter contained in text books. One said he had studied algebra for three years, but he could not find it impossible to solve the simplest problem by an algebraic process. Another said he had been counted a good student in geology, and yet he doubted if he could name the principal periods in their proper order.

"Now let's see how much you do know," said one of the men. "How much is one divided by naught or nothing?"

"One divided by nothing," repeated the man at his right. "Why, that's one. If one isn't divided by anything, it remains one."

"I think the answer is nothing," said another. "One divided by nothing is—nothing. Sure, that's right."

"You're the worst I ever heard of," said the man who had given the problem. "One divided by nothing—that means how many times is nothing contained in one. It contained an infinite number of times, and the correct answer is—infinity."

Then he had to talk to them for five minutes in order to convince them.—Chicago Record.

NEWTON'S FEARFUL CRIME.

At the end of a week at Hayden's home Keats proposed a toast in those terms: "Dishonor to the memory of Newton." The guests started at him in questioning surprise, and Wainwright asked for an explanation.

It is, answered Keats, because he destroyed the peers of the rainbow by reducing it to a prism. And the artists all drank with one consent, confusion to the saint.

Hugle Calls.
 All the calls in the regular army are sounded by bugle. Instead of by drum, the latter instrument being used only in ceremonial music. This is because a drum may easily have its head broken and is difficult to mend in the field, and it is useless when wet. A bugle gives a far clearer sound, and its call can be heard at a longer distance.

Every drilled hall freshly turned here to be treated very carefully, as a sudden change of temperature may cause them to crack. To prevent this they require to be placed for at least three months in a warm room in order to shrink gradually and dry true, before they are finished and polished.

The weather forecast for today is clear and sunny.

CHANCE MEETING IN BATTLE.

Two Men From Opposing Armies Rush Into Each Other's Arms.
 Get an old soldier started, and he will not stop until he has told you a story from the same source.

"During Stone wall Jackson's first victory campaign, and the day before the battle of Cross Keys I was standing," said an old Confederate officer, "with several other officers of Kewell's division under the shade of a clump of trees in an old field overlooking a deep cut in the road through which the troops were marching, and suddenly I observed a man, I believe, the famous commander of Wheat's battalion of Dr. K. Taylor's Louisiana brigade, bounding intently forward at a full Federal gallop, pressing his hands under his arms. What was most remarkable about the man, I should say, was that he was dressed in a Federal uniform, and, guided by his intense gaze, I soon singled out among the prisoners the object of my man's like proportions to himself. In a moment more Wheat had rushed down the bank with outstretched arms, exclaiming:

"Oh, yes, you're I thought that was you giving us so much trouble."

The prisoner opened wide his arms and rushed to meet Wheat in an embrace which showed to me, on-lookers, how tender must have been the relations between the two in a low grade of friendship still. After a long embrace Wheat told his friend to march on to Richmond, and he would see that he was well cared for and soon exchanged. Then, turning to me, Wheat explained that the Federal officer was the one Wheatman, an Englishman, who had served with him on General Abusama's staff in the 18th Louisiana straight for 1861 and 1862.

"Oh, still war days were famous for pleasant meetings like that," Philadelphia Times.

OUT BY HIS OWN DOG.

In James Freeman Clarke's "Nine Years of a Country Parson" occurs the following interesting story:

At one time my dog was fond of going to the railway station to see the people, and I always ordered him to go home, fearing he would be hurt by the cars. He easily understood that if he went there it was contrary to my wishes. I was one day, whenever he was near the station, if he saw me coming, he would look the other way and pretend not to know me. If he met me anywhere else, he always bounded forward to me with the greatest delight. At the station it was quite different. He would pay no attention to my whistle or my call. He would pretend to be another dog and would look me right in the face with out apparently recognizing me. The jaws of the dog, directed in the most important manner, the man would be lying that he knew he was doing what was wrong, and did not like to be found out. Possibly he may have yelled a little on my near sightness to his master.

FUNERAL OF WINNIE DAVIS

History and Epitaph of the Famous Heroine of the Revolution.
 Miss Fittler was the daughter of a Pennsylvania German family living in the vicinity of Carlisle. She was born in 1745, and for many years was a member of the Pennsylvania German Society. She was married to one John Fittler, a soldier in the Revolutionary war, and when the war broke out with the new country, she accompanied her husband to the front and was distinguished for her bravery and her devotion to her country.

She died in 1800, and her remains were buried in the cemetery at Carlisle. There is a monument that bears the following inscription:

THE GREAT CHAMPION HAYMAKER MOWER!

The ability of this mower to work where others fail has made it and for cutting on rough ground and among stumps and trees, its special feature, well known. The power is transferred directly to the knife, without waste. This short connecting link that takes the place of a pitman permits the bar to be raised to any angle, even upright, to pass trees or other obstacles without stopping the frame, or without throwing the machine out of gear, and the driver can do this while still in the seat.

Other mowers break pitmen, knife heads, etc., and wear out the gears because the principle on which these mowers are built is wrong. The CHAMPION is built on the principle on which it is built right. The Champion will cost you no more than any other machine. Call and examine same before buying.
