Senator Butler Says That He Will Oppose the Amendment.

Low Fare Wanted Late Military Appointments Carr at the Head of Affairs. Durham Is Live by The Missing Cashier. Some Appointments

RALEIGH, Sept. 2.—Senator Marion Butler tells his friends that as soon as he secures his license as an attorney from the Supreme Court, the last of September, he will go actively into politics and the State campaign. His paper editorially denounces the new Democratic election law as "infamous," and also more or less directly attacks the proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Chairman Brown, of the penitentiary examination committee, says it is not at all near the end of its work. There will be a thorough ventilation of prison mismanagement and fraud.

Superintendent Mebane is busy sending out the blanks for the school census of next month, which will be made the basis of the appropriation of school funds to the district.

The Executive Committee of the State Fair are to meet soon with the railroad people to secure satisfactory rates for Fair week. Many more people would come to the Fair if there is a satisfactory rate secured.

There have been reported so far eighty successful applications for scholarships at the Agricultural and Mechanical College. These are the scholarships in the gift of the members of the Legislature, there being one hundred and twenty in all.

Washington reports the following military appointments from North Carolina for the volunteer regiments, with the named rank and regiment: Captain W. R. Beavers, assigned to Forty-third Regiment; First Lieutenant A. V. Brown, Forty-fourth Regiment; First Lieutenant B. J. Wootton, Twenty-eighth Regiment; First Lieutenant J. N. Golick, Forty-seventh Regiment. All except Captain Beavers, who was in Cuba with the First North Carolina Regiment, were in the Second North Carolina Regiment of Volunteers in the Spanish war.

It is no doubt a fact that General J. S. Carr is interested in, and at the head of, more industrial enterprises than any man in North Carolina, if not in the entire South. It was conceded that if he is not the next United States Senator from this State, it will not be the fault either of the old veterans to whose count he has contributed thousands of dollars, or the innumerable others of all sects and creeds to whom he has given timely help throughout the State.

The addition to the already large East Durham cotton mill will bring fifty families to that suburb. The tobacco factories in Durham are all working over time, and are behind in orders. A cigar and cheroot factory has orders ahead for one brand of cheroots amounting to seventy-eight thousand. The same condition of things exists in smoking tobacco, cigars, in the cotton mills and the hosiery mill.

Mrs. G. T. Sloan, wife of the missing cashier of the Wilmington Savings and Trust Company, is at Lincolnton, spending the summer. Not until yesterday did she know of her husband's trouble and disappearance. She received a letter from him, with nothing to show from whence it was written. Her husband told her he was broken down and disheartened by reason of overwork, and he had asked for clerical help, and declared that he had not taken a cent of money from the bank or of any delinquent. He promises to give her his address in a few days. Then she will urge him to go to Lincolnton and rest.

Captain Belton of the Mt. Airy company, and enlisted men of his company, who are in jail there, charged with assault on citizens, petitioned the governor to order a court martial to investigate their conduct. They are in the hands of the civil authorities, and it is not probable he will order court martial.

The Pavarina Reinsurance Company obtains license to do business in North Carolina. Reinsurance companies are not required to domesticate under the Craig law.

Governor Russell has made no nominations for officers of the negro volunteer regiment.

Thomas B. Russell is retained as warden of the penitentiary and Mr. Holt also retains his place. Clerk Wimble is dropped.

Chairman McNeill has arrived here to confer with the attorneys in the railway assessment injunction case.

SIR THOMAS LUTON ARRIVES.

The Cup Challenger Given a Warm Reception When the Campania Reached New York.

New York, September 1.—The Cunard Line steamer Campania arrived at Quarantine tonight at 7:30 o'clock, and was met in the Narrows by a flotilla of tugs and the steam yacht Erin to greet Sir Thomas Luton, who was a passenger on the liner. The quarantine commissioners' boat, the State of New York, also appeared on the scene with a large party under the guidance of Commissioner Palmer.

Sir Thomas received an invitation extending the courtesies of sixteen clubs while in this country, and an invitation to lead the marine division of the Dewey Day celebration with his yacht Erin both were accepted.

One of the first questions Sir Thomas asked, after the first greeting, was, "How is the Columbia?"

He then expressed the belief that the best boat would win, saying: "We felt it a waste of time to come here with any thing but the best boat in England. She is here now. The Shamrock will do her best and we will try to do better than some people who have been here before."

When Sir Thomas came over the gang-plank he was received with another great cheer. He took of his cap and bowed, and there was a smile on his face.

"Upon my word, I did not expect this," said he, as Messrs. Fife and Ralston and a couple of members of the New York Yacht Club, added by several policemen, made a way for him through the crowd.

"Is this the way they welcome the men who came to sea their ships?"

"You're all right, Sir Thomas," shouted a voice.

"I'm glad to hear that, by Jove. I rather think I will be sorry to take that cup after all," replied Sir Thomas.

"You'd get a run for your money," shouted a voice.

"I don't doubt it," answered Sir Thomas laughingly.

No cap challenger was ever before given a reception that would compare with that accorded to Sir Thomas.

Times Had Changed.

A four foot eight midskipman had just joined his first sea going ship. Having duly reported himself to the captain—an officer of some six feet two inches—the latter, literally looking down upon the boy, said:

"Well, youngster, so you've come to join—eh?"

"Yes, if you please, sir," meekly responded the midskipman.

"What is it—same old yarn, sent the fool of the family to sea—eh?"

"No, sir," ingeniously replied the youngster. "Oh, no; things have altered since your time, sir."

"Go away," roared the captain, and the midskipman fled as fast as his little legs could carry him.

RALEIGH.

March Railroad Travel. Opening of Baptist University This Month. Railroad to Southport. Iron Shipped to Europe. Normal College Opens.

RALEIGH, September 4.—There are now 152 Federal convicts in the penitentiary. The number steadily lessens by discharges, and of course there are no additions from other States than this.

The 350 convicts at work railroad building are all to be sent back to the farms September 15th to pick cotton.

Governor Russell has yet had no advice of an official nature as to whether J. F. Armfield will decline the appointment as a major in the Forty-sixth Regiment.

Work on the annex of the State Museum had to be suspended by reason of lack of material. The demand for brick is so great that cannot be supplied, although there are five brick yards in operation. The work will probably be suspended a week.

A leading eastern Republican said today that he "could not see any politics in the constitutional amendment though some Democrats had made it a political question and some Republicans were trying to make it one."

Travel on the railroads holds up amazingly. People have money and they spend it. Facts speak louder than cantanity howling.

The negro conference which was to have been held here September 27-28 is indefinitely postponed.

Yesterday and today about 75 students arrived to enter the Agricultural and Mechanical College. One of the pleasant events of this month here will be the opening of the Baptist Female University. There will be appropriate exercises. It will be a great institution.

The aldermen last night granted the petition of the barkeepers to be allowed to keep saloons open an hour later—until midnight.

Raleigh will cancel its present contract with the water company.

The Republican organ here seeks to make it appear that the penitentiary is now in Democratic hands. That is a big error. The Democrats cut no ice there. The fact is the Democratic directors made a great error in not resigning in a body last April, as it was generally expected; in fact believed they would do.

The State charters the Southport, Wilmington & Western Railroad. William A. Guthrie, of Durham, was here this afternoon and obtained the charter. He said: "The road will be built from Southport to Wilmington. Further than this I am not able to speak at present. Philadelphia capitalists will construct the road. It is evident that the road has larger plans in view, most probably a North-western connection. The charter authorizes the construction and maintenance of the road from Southport to Wilmington, 30 miles, with power to secure rights of way to build warehouses, grain elevators, wharves, docks and all terminal facilities deemed necessary at Wilmington and Southport. The road is given authority to buy, lease and operate ocean and river steamers."

The iron furnace at Greensboro is turning out 45 tons of pig iron of an excellent quality each day. This is sold long before it is smelted, and is mostly shipped to Philadelphia and New York.

However there has been steady demand for pig iron in Europe, and much of the Guilford county iron is shipped to Germany and other places on the continent.

The State Normal and Industrial College will open on the 5th of September and Dr. McIver says that already 363 students have engaged all available dormitory space. He is sure that by the 5th there will be 450 students at the college over 10 years of age, and that a good many pupils younger than this will receive instruction in the preparatory department. This is the first year that the college has been thrown open to outside States, and students will come from Virginia, South Carolina, Kentucky, Alabama, District of Columbia, Georgia and New York. These are charged 50 per cent. more than the North Carolina students.

The Benbow House property at Greensboro has been sold, and transferred by Capt. Fisher to Jordan, Walker & Porter. The parties will not disclose the purchase price of the property, though it is supposed that it is about $35,000, the amount specified in the option. They will at once commence to build a new and perfectly appointed hotel over the old Benbow hotel.

Clerk Fortune says that the movement to oust him is not by reason of his declared views in favor of the constitutional amendment.

Governor Russell has appointed one or two magistrates in each of 19 counties, to take the place of some elected by the Legislature, who had failed to qualify.

Exciting Campaign Begun In These States. Contest For Governor Personal And Bitter.

WASHINGTON, September 3.—As frequently remarked in political circles, the campaign in the States of Kentucky and Ohio will literally be "red hot" this year. It will be a desperate, continuous struggle from now until the finish, and both local and national interest will be concentrated upon the two Commonwealths.

It is rather remarkable that bitter faction fights exist in both parties in both States, and this fact adds more or less to the plangent and picturesque features of the situation and the uncertainties of the result.

Exciting incidents will crowd each other, and lucky it will be if personal encounters with tragic endings are not frequent accompaniments in the State of Kentucky.

In Ohio there has already been considerable plain talking and there will be plenty more, but there is no grave apprehension of blows succeeding words, as they look at things differently in Ohio and Kentucky. It is said here by Kentuckians that blood will inevitably shed before the campaign has made much further progress, and when the ball is once opened there is no telling where it will stop.

Candidate Gobel cannot afford to pass without notice the opprobrious epithets thrown in his teeth by Breckinridge and Owen, but he may possibly defer calling them to account until after the election. Of course, according to Kentucky style, he will probably reply in kind to their strictures in his speeches, but the hand-to-hand fights may be deferred for more fitting opportunities.

If the Republicans of Kentucky were harmonious, they would unquestionably have a splendid chance, but they are at odds, and certainly up to this time have given no indication of the purpose to make more than a perfunctory fight. It possibly may be best for them to let the opposing factions of the Democratic party fight it out among themselves. The leaders of both the factions are daring and desperate men, whose blood is up to fever heat, and who hate each other ten times more than the common enemy.

In Ohio the Democrats have been counting upon Republican dissensions, which are two notorious to be made light of. With a united Democracy this must have counted considerably. How it will be now the future only can tell. In Kentucky the fighting will be done on the stump. Money does not ever play any prominent part in Kentucky elections. At this time the conditions are such that no amount of it could exercise any appreciable influence.

There will be great speaking in Ohio also this autumn; in fact, the campaign will be fully as lively as any which have preceded. But money is going to do a great deal of the talking, and money will surely talk to effect. The head of the barrel of both campaign committees will be knocked out, and the barrels of both sides will be tremendous big ones.

THE WASHINGTON RECEPTION.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Cordial invitations have been sent to all the Governors of States to come to Washington to participate in the welcome to Admiral Dewey, which, while it may not be so noisy as New York's welcome, will be much more interesting because of its official nature—the Washington welcome will be participated in by the President, the Vice-President, and every member of the Cabinet, and one of its most interesting features will be the presentation of the sword voted to Admiral Dewey by Congress, by the Secretary of the Navy.
