logged in the way of neglected sanitation, and knowing the rules of strict sanitation, the wisdom of observing the same, they will be reformers in seeing to it that good water and good sewerage shall be primary factors in their town or city's government.
Nor need this Gospel of Health be confined to town or city, for it can be applied to every farm, and good sanitation and rules pertaining to the individual's health and necessarily comfort as well, can be taught in the country, as well as in the town.

DESTROYED BY FOOL FRIENDS.
In the midst of the rejoicing over Admiral Dewey's home coming, and the celebration of his splendid victories in the Philippines, there is the daily disgusting spectacle of the worldly news-paper fight over the merits and demerits of Admiral Sampson and Schley.
If there were ever two unfortunate men, who had fallen completely into the hands of fool friends, these American Admirals are the two.
The result of these recriminations has been to overshadow the great victory at Santiago, and instead of celebrating that victory as was Manila, the thirteenth and senseless trash of fake interviews, falsehoods and impossible sayings of these two men are published in newspapers which know their falsity.

These fool friends have not merely kept Schley and Sampson from receiving due and fair recognition for their services, but they have by their efforts tried to down each other, kept both their own favorite back, and presented just reward or recognition being paid the gallant captains of the warships who assisted in defeating Cervera's fleet.
Sampson, Schley, Clarke, Philip, Evans, Wainwright and the rest, together with the men behind the guns who sank Cervera's fleet, or assisted in the same, all deserved and would have been given an ovation by the American people, except for the fool friends of the two Admirals.

As it is a hardship has been done all the men, officers and crews, for not being given due credit for their magnificent behavior at Santiago, all on account of unscrupulous hickeries and attempts to hoist Schley over Sampson, or Sampson over Schley.
It is a splendid illustration of being in the hands of fool friends, and the bad results of such a position.

CONFIDENCE AND WORK.
Local efforts in promoting and assisting in building industries in New Bern are growing.
There is both an increased confidence being felt, locally, that industries can be established, and once built, will prove profitable investments for those taking stock in them.
Better than the expressed confidence is the faith expressed in actions and works towards securing these industries.
The work of the Chamber of Commerce is being seen and felt, a single outgrowth being the cotton mill project which has reached a temporary organization and will soon be in shape for permanent organization and work of constructing a mill.
There are a number of matters which demand the attention of the several committees of the Chamber, which mean the betterment of New Bern and her interests, and it is to be hoped that these committees will give such matters their immediate attention.
That confidence is being restored in New Bern's future is a matter of congratulation, especially when it further inspires work on the part of the people.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.
As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally. Sold made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.
Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle.
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Chicago's Queer Indian.
An Englishman of rank and money visited Chicago recently and with him came his private secretary, a young, fresh faced, jolly fellow just out of Oxford University. The secretary brought letters of introduction to a Chicago man from a well known London actor and an equally prominent member of the Englishman's circle in New York. The secretary called upon the Chicago man to whom he had letters and who did a little entertaining, including three city friends to meet the private secretary at luncheon at a noted restaurant.
It was after the cigars were lighted that the conversation turned upon things American. The Chicagoan knew that the Britons were credited with believing that they could shoot buffalo under the shade of the Andromeda and shoot grizzlies along the Stikine, but they were not quite prepared for what was to come. The little luncheon party had been waited upon by a coal black negro with crisp hair curled tight to his head. The secretary throughout the repast had eyed the attendant with interest. When the waiter finally had left the room, the English guest turned to his host and said:
"Mr. Nelson, it seems to me that I read somewhere that the American Indians had straight hair. The hair of the one who waited on us curls like a strickan?" Chicago Tribune.

Married With a Bang.
The marriage customs of the Negules are peculiar. The young man who seeks a bride first obtains the favor of her parents and then pursues her, entering her in his arms. She breaks before and tries and does not yield until he has sought her several times. Finally he leads her in triumph to her home. Her father drags the youth up a ladder to her floor of their hut. The mother drags up the maiden. They are then made to kneel, and the father pours over them a cocconut shell full of water. He then bumps their heads together, and the ceremony is completed. They spend their honeymoon in the depths of the mountains, and for five days and nights are lost to sight, after which they come back to everyday life.
There is another marriage custom which is worth describing. Instead of the youth and maiden being dragged up the hut ladder they are made to climb two saplings that grow near each other. Then an elder of the group seizes the saplings and draws them together until the heads of the young couple touch, with a kiss of a bump according to the force used. This makes them man and wife. Forum.

A Prominent Memphisian Writes.
Dr. H. MOZLEY, Atlanta—Having been a great sufferer for three years from indigestion, and been treated by many physicians, who failed to give me any relief. Continuing to grow worse my brother advised me to try Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir, which remedy he had used for several years. I commenced its use, and must say your Lemon Elixir is the greatest medicine on earth. I have never suffered a day since I commenced using Lemon Elixir.

ANTIS ARE FEW
Claimed That Not Many Are Opposed To Expansion.
Plenty of Legal Holidays. Holding Cotton. The Experiment Farm. Over-subscription Of Cotton Mill Stock.

RALEIGH, Oct. 6.—Attorney General Waizer was asked the question, how many legal holidays there are in North Carolina. He made it his surprise that there are no less than nine and ventures the prediction that in no other State are there as many. These holidays are as follows: January 1, Lee's birthday, January 19, Washington's birthday, February 22, Memorial Day, May 10, Election Day, May 20, July 4, Labor Day, September 4, Thanksgiving Day, Christmas day.

Mention was made the other day in an item that there was no close season for partridges in Johnston. This proves to be an error. The bird season there begins October 15, which is 16 days earlier than in most of the counties.
Some of the newspapers are having a good deal to say about the annexation or expansion idea. If the great public would vote on that question as it talks, it appears that it would be hard to find many antis. Such is now the experience of your correspondent, who has questioned hundreds of people during the past eight months.

The name of Thomas Ruffin of Washington, is being prominently mentioned in connection with the assistant professorship of law at the University of North Carolina.
A. A. Dunn, of Scotland Neck, is here attending the Supreme Court. He says the present crop in that section, is the largest on record.
The farmers are still sure that they will quickly see 8-cent cotton. Receipts here continue light. The farmers are holding. Some folks say that if cotton goes to 8 cents the farmers will hold for 9, and so on.

Prof. Massey, of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, says that in the experiment farm there are now 23 acres, of which ten are the property of the experiment station and thirteen are lent by the State Agricultural Society. He says that this land will be planted largely in fruit trees for experimental purposes. Nurserymen promise that they will send specimens of everything they are growing. They are quite enthusiastic as to this new plan. The remainder of the land will be planted in truck crops, so that a study can be made of the difficulties which beset truckers in the eastern counties and remedies be found for the various plant diseases. This truck farm will not only be an object lesson but will be a market garden for the benefit of the students at the college. The college now owns somewhat more than 500 acres of land, all of which is desirable and of a nature to increase in value.
Judge Purnell filed a decision in the bankruptcy case of Bray vs. Cobb, from Elizabeth City. A man named Sawyer set up a claim for $4,200 for a loan made Cobb, who owned a bank, which failed. This loan was made seven days before Cobb's bank failed. Of the money $1,300 was on deposit in Cobb's bank and this Sawyer had verbally directed Cobb to use. The other $1,900 Sawyer advanced in cash. Judge Purnell decided that Sawyer has a priority or preference in the collateral deposit, which Cobb made with him for the $1,900, and it being for a present fair consideration, the $1,300 being for a pre-existing debt.

The stock for the Neuse Cotton Mill, $100,000, of which G. G. Latta, of Raleigh, is president, has been over subscribed here.
The number of students at the Baptist University here is now 200.
The State Museum gained two curiosities today. One was a canteen carried by a North Carolina soldier during the Revolutionary war; the other a ten-shot revolver carried in the civil war.

Hours Set Ultimatum.
BRUNNEN, Oct. 5.—On calling on Dr. Lyds this afternoon a reporter of Petit Bleu was informed by the Transvaal representative's secretary that no official information had been received from the Boer Government for at least five days. A private telegram from Pretoria however, stated that an ultimatum had been duly sent.
During the winter of 1897 Mr. James Reed, one of the leading citizens and merchants of Clay, Clay Co., Va., struck his leg against a cake of ice in such a manner as to bruise it severely. It became very much swollen and pained him so badly that he could not walk without the aid of crutches. He was treated by physicians, and used several kinds of liniment and two and a half gallons of whiskey in bathing it, but nothing gave any relief until he began using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It brought almost a complete cure in a week's time and he believes that had he not used this remedy his leg would have had to be amputated. Pain Balm is recommended for sprains, bruises and rheumatism. For sale by F. S. Duffey & Co.

Arms.
"I wonder why these emblems are called arms?"
"Well, you know, a family with arms have a good deal that would otherwise be quite beyond their reach."
"When our boys were almost dead from whooping cough, our doctor gave us King's Cough Cure. They recovered rapidly," writes P. E. Belles, Argyle, Pa. "It cures coughs, colds, and all throat and lung troubles. F. S. Duffey."

Joseph Muckford, Hodgdon, Me., healed a sore running for seventeen years and cured his piles of long standing by using Dr. White's Witch Hazel Salve. It cures all skin diseases. F. S. Duffey.

FOLLOW DEWEY'S ADVICE.
Brooklyn and Other Warships Sent To The Philippines.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The Navy Department was busily engaged today in a ranging to reinforce the fleet in the Philippines, as suggested yesterday by Admiral Dewey in the course of his conference with the President.

The Brooklyn will certainly go, that much is settled, as she is wanted as flagship for the squadron.
It was Admiral Dewey's idea that vessels of a larger type than were first thought of should be sent to Manila. He pointed out that the smaller class of gunboats would be exposed to a good deal of unnecessary danger if they were sent out.
To carry out the plans for cutting the insurgents off from their supplies, these vessels must be scattered around among the islands often without consort, and thus exposed to sudden attack. The larger vessels will not only be amply able to take care of themselves in such cases, but may serve as parent ships from which may be operated a number of the small launches that have been doing such good service.

It was suggested at the Navy Department that three of the four vessels now under orders for Manila will pass through the Suez Canal, so it will be available to Suez to South Africa should matters there take shape requiring the presence of a United States naval force.

OPINIONS OF THE YACHTS.
The General Talk Runs to Favor the Columbia's Winning.
New York, October 5.—Gen. Thomas L. Watson, captain of the Atlantic Yacht Club fleet, said after the race to day:
"I don't know any more about those boats than I had stayed at home. I made a few observations of the two boats. They have both proved the most wonderful yachts in light weather. I believe the Columbia will eventually win. But I look for the hardest fight to retain the cup that there has ever been."
B. M. Whitlock, vice commodore of the Atlantic Club, said: "I must decline to tell you which boat will win, for I don't know. They are very evenly matched in light winds, and we all wait eagerly the results of a race in heavy weather. The Emerald skipper and his Irish crew are certainly handling their craft with great skill. Nevertheless, I continue to put my trust in the New England sailors. The boat that is the better managed, in my opinion, will win."

"I am very sorry," said Capt. Robley D. Evans, who commanded the Columbia's guard, "that there was no race between the Columbia and the Shamrock. I think the Shamrock is no match for our boat in light weather. She made a better showing on the wind. I believe that the Columbia will not beat so much to the windward as she will off the wind."
Captain Roberts, of the revenue cutter Manning, said that the sailing of the yachts did not show much. "I believe, however," he said, "that if the wind had held, the Columbia would have been the first boat around the outer mark."

Lieutenant-Commander Fremont, who had charge of the torpedo boats at the course, said: "The best that could be hoped for was a drifting match. In this the Shamrock is a great surprise to me. The action of the Columbia blanketing the Shamrock before either boat had crossed the line, although a pretty bit of seamanship, was clearly a grandstand play. It could have no possible effect on the race. All during the day it appeared to me that the Shamrock was the better managed of the two."
