"CONSECRATED FALLACIES"

A writer in the North American Re tion maralizes entertainingly on "conse craind full aries" and devotes considers the space to the familiar dictum that "all men are created equal." This is contained in the immortal Declaration issued at a time when slavery was an acknowledged institution, and a document that was spoken of as long ago as Britis- Univate as made up of "glittering gold sounding generalities."

The writer of the above mentions atticle might have included with profit the purase so often heard, "I have a right in my opinioa," as much as to say that there is a certain "inalienable right" that - bacre a has to his or her own open ton as belonging to them and that they bases right to express that opinion, regardless of how slight foundation it has to rest upon, or whether the matter tus undergone any investigation by
