POLITICAL DISCUSSION

Between Hardison, Hewitt and Sanders in Carteret County.

Mr. G. L. Hardison, Fusion candidate for State Senator, and Mr. T. D. Hewitt, Republican candidate for the House, spoke at Oak Grove, Carteret county, July 23rd. Dr. J. W. Sanders replying Mr. Hewitt spoke first, announcing his candidacy and then proceeded to explain as best he could the charges against him "that he was the Duke's trust candidate and guilty of flogging of Carteret's legitimate tax on lands and property owned by the said Duke and under the charge of Hewitt as agent. He claimed to be a renter from the said Duke & Co., and a knowledge of it was left with him, the business of listing said property. That he did not know how many acres there were, but that the property was listed at its full worth and even more. Dr. Sanders asked him if N. M. Jurney and wife did not sell to the Carteret Lodge a part of those lands for $10,000 with a specific number of acres. Hewitt admitted this, though he had never seen the deed, but denied that Jurney and wife were paid $10,000 for their interest, but that this sum was put in as a speculative boom.

Dr. Sanders asked him if the land were not posted and all persons prohibited hunting or fishing on them. Hewitt admitted these were facts. And then Dr. Sanders advertised this valuable property as set aside for its wealthy owners for sporting grounds, that these wealthy owners lived in distant towns willing and expecting to pay full taxes, but Mr. Hewitt, their agent had listed the property $6,000, below the purchase price and thus had forced our tax ridden people to pay the taxes due by a wealthy foreign syndicate. No wonder he has been called the trust candidate. But this is not strange, but is consistent with the public management everywhere. A systematic arrangement to get out of the poor all they can and to shield the rich and wealthy corporations from a proper share of taxes and governmental support. Hewitt declared against the Amendment and said the change made by the last Legislature did not make it more lawful than before. Dr. Sanders replied:

No, not more lawful than before, but more satisfactory to many and certainly Constitutional. Dr. Sanders pointed to a Republican Congress and a Republican President doing for the Hawaiian Islands and Porto Rico what our Amendment does for North Carolina, and dared him to define the difference. Continuing Dr. Sanders declared that a Republican Congress and President had established a standard for our guidance in disfranchising negroes and before the Supreme Court of the United States could touch our Amendment it would have to touch its work of disfranchisement in the aforesaid islands. Turning to the negroes Dr. Sanders told them that the Republican party was not their friend, but was today waging a cruel and unnecessary war against their race in the Philippine Islands, shooting them down every day over there, because they dared to demand and seek the right of self government. That in none of the territory occupied by their race which the United States has acquired by peace or war, were they allowed to vote on terms less exacting than those contained in our North Carolina Amendment.

Mr. Hardison started out by saying he did not believe the colored man wanted office and power. Dr. Sanders pointed him to Isaac Smith, negro representative of his own county and Geo. H. White, negro Congressman from the Second Congressional District and hundreds of others as disproof of such an absurd statement. He read White's speech in which he declared his race had just begun as it were, to demand their just recognition as office holders, etc. Then he asked him how it was, if negroes were so adverse to holding office, that Carl Duncan had persuaded Silas Round to accept a salaried door keeper's place at five dollars a day when he was a member of the Legislature and how it has happened that this same Carl Duncan had induced this same black negro to remain to the present at a $1200 job at Washington City, and last but not least please tell us what sort of hypocrite power this same Carl Duncan has been able to exercise over Jim Young that against that negro's solemn protest he has been able to keep him as a clerk in his office at $1800 a year, and explain how if negroes don't want office, that our land has been filled with negro Postmasters, Magistrates, and every other functionary from negro constitutions to negro Congressmen against the vehement protest of these negro officials.

Mr. Hardison next declared that he had never but once in his life degraded himself to vote for a negro, and would never be guilty of such a thing again. Dr. Sanders asked him how it was in the fusion compact, where natural favors were provided for and expected, that he had refused to do as he had expected to be done by?

His only reply was that negroes had never asked him to vote for them. Mr. Hardison then attacked the present election law, declaring it most unjust. Dr. Sanders showed that it was fairer than either the '95 or '97 laws passed by the fusion party. That Mr. Hardison and his Republican allies objected to the present law because it would certainly eliminate 15 or 20 thousand illegally registered negro voters, and thus cut short their voting force. Hardison charged the Democrats with appointing negro poll holders, and asked how was that for White Supremacy? Dr. Sanders replied that it might have occurred on the supposition that it was as good as could be done with the material at hand—or perhaps it was to teach the negro lovers a lesson in negro supremacy, and pay them back in coin silver, but not so drastic as they had so repeatedly administered to us. That it might be good in reminding them of the humiliating conditions when his own, with the Republican party fostered negro rule and negro tyranny not only upon our sturdy manhood, but upon our wives and mothers, sisters and daughters, as it existed in Wilmington, New Bern, Greenville and other N. C. towns, where our women were not safe nor dared to walk the streets alone in the open day. He closed expecting, if elected to propose a law demanding cheaper school books, to which Dr. Sanders replied that if this principle could be enforced, the laborers wages could be fixed by law. That the proper way was to remove Trusts and to give fair competition, and then these things would regulate themselves, and the public honestly served.

REELSBORO.

Happenings in Pamlico, Deer Hunt and a Picnic. Politics and Good For Amendment.

REELSBORO, July 25.

Our crops are very fine, hot weather makes good cotton Rain is needed.

Messrs Carter Simons, James Lane and Cagney Casey brought out a five deer Saturday morning. They ran him all day Friday and went back Saturday morning took a fresh start, killing him in 20 minutes. Mr. Casey did the shooting.

Mr. J. F. Brinson and family and Mr. Cecil Arthur of Morehead City are visiting friends and relatives here.

Miss Nellie Lowder of Stonewall is visiting Miss Jennie Reel.

Our Sunday school picnic came off Saturday and was a success. Rev. Mr. Lowder was present and made a short but interesting talk. In the afternoon a mutual game of baseball was played in the Alliance boys and home boys.

The White Supremacy Club did not meet Saturday, too much picnic and baseball had the reason.

Well, boys the county is safe. If every precinct is like ours, 70 white men and 1 negroes have registered, this is a good showing for the Amendment. We are solid for the Democratic ticket. There was a few who did not like the result of the primaries, but they are getting back right and are at work. The conduct of some of our former friends and the position they have taken is amusing. Now they have jumped into the Republican Pop fusion party and are trying to put the Democrats to rout, but they will find it a hard job for such Butterflies as they are getting to be but with any fore-against the Democratic ticket. They would establish a precedent that would for all time to come allow a few men to set at naught the result of our conventions or the work and authority of our organization.

Our people look at the cut and dried things of these fusion leaders as not only antagonistic of Democratic principles, calculated to destroy the safety of our institutions, but as a "Rule or ruin policy" to get themselves in office. These independent Democrats not only ruin themselves but wish to deceive and lead their unsuspecting friends. We feel sure our Democratic ticket will be elected. And these sort of folk will be left in the cold except for what comfort they get out of the Republicans.

Mr. O. W. May of Quinners and Miss Eloise daughter of Dr. Wooten of this town were married today at Kinston performed the ceremony. Our best wishes go with this new couple.

Mr. Jacob West went to New Bern this morning and returned this afternoon.

Hon. J. H. Small in Pamlico.

Vandemere, N. C. July 24.

Hon. John H. Small, our most worthy representative in Congress, was greeted yesterday by a large and thoughtful gathering of the citizens of Pamlico county. Many came that they might see and know this noble statesman who has so ably represented them for two years in the halls of Congress, and who so much deserves for a second term the unanimous support of every liberty loving citizen in this district. Some came that they might learn more about the Amendment. Some came through curiosity. All were abundantly gratified.

The speaker did not have the time to discuss National issues, which might give him a larger majority in November, but gave his time and eloquence to the Great Issue before the people of North Carolina.

Mr. Small dealt with the subject in a most powerful, logical and convincing manner.

Men who had been in doubt came away strong in their declarations for the Amendment.

Let everybody hear Hon. John H. Small.

ORIENTAL.

Not Born in State. Water is Scarce. Melon Taking is Risky. Potato Crop is Short.

Oriental, July 25.

Water is getting nearly as valuable throughout this section as it is India. One of our neighbors came from a distance of three miles after water a few days ago, although we are a dry town.

A negro applied to our registrar, and among other questions was asked whether or not he was born in this State to which he promptly replied, "No sah, I was born in Hyde county."

Miss Beatie Tucker is here spending a short time with friends, and is helping her sister, Miss Bertha, in coaching her pupils for the commencement week. We feel sure it will be a success as they are both able and hard workers in the school room.

Mr. R. Thornton, formerly of New Bern has moved to our town, and is occupying the building just finished and owned by Mr. E. F. Pickles.

Mr. P. D. Hardy found that some one was making nocturnal visits to his melon patch. So he took his gun charged with the shot, and crept himself in early reach of the field, and quietly awaited results. However he was not long in suspense, for he soon saw the lover of the pulpy and luscious fruit, enter and proceed to make his selection, when Mr. Hardy arose and emptied one barrel of his gun in the direction of the thief, which caused him to start off at a pretty lively gait, and as he crossed the fence he was overtaken by the second charge which made him holler and turn on a little more steam.

A few days ago we remember seeing a berring on our streets carrying two large mallets.

Capt. John Gill no doubt feels like exclaiming:

"Set your bells to ringing, beat your biggest drum, Blow your trumpets inside out and fire the biggest gun. If any one should ask you the cause of all this joy, You can tell them I'm the daddy of a bouncing baby boy."

The missionary Baptists are holding a series of meetings at Haskin's Hall conducted by Messrs Aden and Harney.

Mr. W. C. Yenters took a trip to Pollockville in his launch this week to carry a corpse, it being the small child of Mr. Chas. Meadows who moved here last spring from near Pollockville. They will not return as their furniture has been shipped to their former home.

Water melons and fish are plentiful in town but vegetables are very scarce.

The shipment of sweet potatoes has begun, but crops short, due to drought.

WHITE SUPREMACY DAY.

All The Clubs Of Craven County Represented.

Hon. C. E. Thomas Speaker of Occasional Large Number Delegates From Number One and Two Townships. Craven Solid For White Government.

Not in years has there been such a white man's gathering as met yesterday in the county court house.

It was White Supremacy Day, when the White Supremacy Clubs of Craven met in joint session, made their individual reports, asked questions and sought advice.

Eighteen clubs, everyone in the county, were represented and made their reports, and hearty applause greeted each report.

Townships one and two were present with nearly 200 representatives.

It was the greatest meeting of exclusively white men and voters seen in years in the court house, not a negro being present during any part of the proceedings, and the five hundred white men present thoroughly enjoyed the exclusiveness of the one color meeting.

Mr. S. M. Brinson, President and Organizer of the Clubs, called the meeting to order, stating the purpose of the meeting, and speaking of the objects to be obtained. He was greeted with frequent applause.

C. L. Stevens, was appointed secretary of the meeting.

Upon call of Clubs, the following reports were made by representatives:

No. 1 Township—Vanceboro, J. B. Harvey, club membership, 400, all white men in township, except 8, belonging to postmaster's Black club, would vote for amendment and Democratic ticket.

No. 2 Township—W. A. Barrington, 175 members. Solid for Amendment and Democratic ticket.

Sheffield School house—F. P. Rouse 174 members. Solid for the Amendment.

Kitt Swamp—C. L. Gaskill, 50 members, strong for amendment.

Good Hope—G. L. Arthur, club just started, 20 members. Nearly all white men of precinct for Amendment.

Dover—G. V. Richardson 75 members. In good working trim. Would give 50 majority for Amendment, 25 for ticket.

Et. Barwell—W. B. Pearce, 70 members, out 69 registration, 100 would vote for Amendment and Democratic ticket.

Core Creek—O. L. Wetherington, good interest. All working for Amendment and ticket.

North Harlowe—M. P. Morton, 22 members. Entire precinct solid for Amendment and ticket.

Bachelor—Clay Taylor, 23 members. Solid for Amendment.

Croatan—C. M. Pittman, 30 members. All right for Amendment and ticket.

Thurman—Z. B. Butts, 22 members. All for Amendment and ticket. May have more.

Gum Row—W. H. Scott, 15 members. Every voter in club.

First Ward—K. A. Nunn, 150 for Amendment and ticket.

Second Ward—D. L. Ward, 262 for Amendment and ticket.

Third Ward—J. W. Bowden, 200 members. Registration 234. Amendment would get 230 votes.

Fourth Ward—J. M. Hargett, 175 for Amendment and ticket.

Jasper—O. H. Perry, 100 members.

Truitts—F. S. Ernal, 190 for Amendment.

After reports had been made, President Brinson introduced the Hon. Chas. R. Thomas, as the speaker of the day, who was at his best, his speech being interrupted by applause, and while he spoke only an hour, gave a clear presentation of the Amendment and the causes leading up to it.

Mr. Thomas discussed the Constitutional Amendment as embodying all State issues. He impressed the fact that no National issues are involved in the August election, but only the State and county tickets and Amendment; that while there are great questions of National politics, the paramount question now with all good citizens was good State and local government and White Supremacy. He discussed fully the causes that produced the Amendment, and which led to the political revolution in 1898, alluding to the two periods of the State's history in 1868 and 1899 and the Fusion government from 1895 to 1898.

The promise, which the Democratic party made in 1898 recalling these two dark periods in our history was to perpetuate and make secure good white government.

This would be marked not by any monument of marble or stone but by something more enduring, an amendment to our organic law.

He showed that while a Democratic Legislature had passed the amendment, leading Populists and white Republicans were supporting it and called the roll of some of these men.

He stated the Amendment to be in brief: "Vote if you can read and write a plain English sentence in the Constitution; but if cannot then vote if you are white, have paid poll tax and are not disfranchised by crime." The objections to the Amendment were explained and answered and the consequences to the State of its rejection and blessings to flow from its adoption.

The whole South ever moving in the direction within the Constitution and the law, of eliminating the negro vote and North Carolina could not afford and would not stand alone. He closed by bringing to the Clubs a message from the counties which he has already covered and with the assurance

NO CAUSE FOR IGNORANCE.

A chance for everyone to get some education. Redeem the State.

It was, July 24.

"Doubtless there may be a class of people who say they cannot advocate the proposed Amendment, for if they do they will disfranchise their children who will become of age after 1898. I would like to say to such a class, (if there be any) that were we living in ancient days, there might be some reason for thinking thus. But people of today have great advantages over people who lived two thousand years ago, especially along the educational line.

I say the young men of the nineteenth century have great educational advantages over those who lived in Cæsar's time. Books of those days were of an inferior kind, and literature was almost unknown. There were but few pieces of learning and a limited number that were capable of teaching. But it is not so at the present day. Our land is dotted all over with school houses of different kinds, colleges, high schools and common schools, and we are surrounded by men capable of instructing us. Our books are so simplified that anyone, in a short time, can easily master the most difficult study.

I would say to the young men of today, when they are forming circles for the purpose of studying the events of the present when "current topics" are becoming a feature of the day, it may not be amiss to look a little while into the past, and consider the advantages they have over their ancestors.

It is strange but nevertheless true that so many young men of the present day living in a land of education, surrounded by wide awake educators, having full access to the simplest and best literature that a nation ever produced make failures in life. There must be something lacking and may possibly be the will power. No young man should be discouraged because he is poor or has limited means. Remember that the greatest men that the world ever knew started from poor boys. George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln and many others who were poor boys, distinguished themselves as great men. I venture to say that there are brighter intellects between the plow handles of the Southern States, than ever decorated the Senate halls of the United States.

The majority of the people of North Carolina today need nothing better than an educational stimulus, and there is nothing that will elicit this stimulation better than the Amendment.

So it becomes every man who loves his country, his home, his family, to wake up from their lethargy sleep and go to the polls August 2nd and make the "Old North State" (the proudest in the United States) what she should be, a true republic as well as in name.

of a victory in which forever should and must have part."

When Mr. Thomas had finished, there were calls for "Gulon," and O. H. Gulon, Esq., came forward, being loudly applauded.

Mr. Gulon spoke of his visit to the Piedmont section, where he made a number of speeches, where he spoke in behalf of Eastern Carolina, and said this would be the last call for help from Western Carolina by the Eastern section. He congratulated the White Supremacy Clubs of Craven for their efforts for the Amendment, and said that so far as the Amendment was concerned it was already safely carried.

"You seem to think of only one question, the Amendment, but I tell you the election of representatives to the Legislature is equally important. The Amendment and the election of your Representative stand side by side. The passing of the Amendment is nugatory unless the Legislature is carried," and the speaker went on to urge Democrats to vote every ticket placed in their hand by their Executive Committee.

Mr. Gulon spoke concerning certain misrepresentations that had been circulated about his position, and briefly related what he had written to Chairman Watson at time of nominating convention, and said he was still of the same mind, had never changed, never would change, and had ever urged the success of the entire ticket.

Mr. Gulon, eloquently and forcibly showed the necessity for the election of the Legislative ticket, and begged that if any one had personal differences, not to let such influence his vote at this all important time, when the loss of the legislature would nullify and do away with all the splendid work hitherto accomplished in behalf of White Supremacy.

The speaker was constantly interrupted by applause, and his appeal was a winning one, and dissipated some of the factional feelings which existed among his hearers. It was a triumphant appeal for the union of White Democrats, in the support of their candidates throughout the list, and the suppression of all personal animosities.

The speaker was heartily congratulated when he finished.

The following speakers, followed in short addresses. W. B. Pearce, Joseph Kinsey, E. M. Green, J. W. Duguid, J. B. Harvey, W. C. Brewer, F. S. Ernal, G. V. Richardson, J. A. Ryan.

The meeting lasted about three hours and its good effects will be found on election day.

There were some resolutions offered, applying to the management of affairs of a few of the clubs.

The Pamlico Issue.

BYRONO, July 23.

MR. EDITOR—As I am only a temporary resident of Pamlico, it is with great reluctance that I take issue against "A Life Long Democrat," who he says that his course is in the right course and the only way to save the county. I take issue against him, because "Banner County" Democracy has never taught me that the way to save a county is to fuse with Republicans and Populists. It has taught me that public officers elected by a black constituency produce black, corrupt government. It has taught me that when, by all Democrats supporting the regular nominees of the party, the success of that party is as certain as the rising of the morning sun, only traitors desert those nominees and fuse with the Radicals on the false pretext of saving the county. It has taught me that none but those who champion negro registration for the sake of negro votes, would so lower themselves in the eyes of white men and white women. It has taught me that principle is above every private prejudice and that good government is above every law suit within the bounds of North Carolina. Finally, it has taught me that in this critical time a man cannot vote for the amendment and for an anti-amendment legislature and then claim that he is a Democrat pure and straight.

I take issue against him in the second place because there is manifest insincerity in what he says. He says, "We are for majority and against boss rule." Yet even while he was penning those words he was under the bosom of Boss Abbott. His "middle-of-the-road" Democrats could not hold a convention without Boss Abbott's presence. He was insincere when he said that he doubted whether the Flag Islanders would vote for the Amendment. He knew that they would vote for the Amendment and also for an Amendment legislator. Will he do the latter?

I take issue against him in the third place because his reasons for taking such a course are flimsy and fallacious. It is false reasoning to say that Mr. Dees and the other candidates are not the legitimate nominees, because they did not receive a majority of all the Democratic votes in the county. No Democratic candidate has ever been nominated by a majority of the Democratic votes of Pamlico county; simply because a majority of them never have taken part in the primaries. According to Mr. "Life Long" argument there are few nominees in the State. I might almost say not one. It is false reasoning to say that the nominees of a party are dependent upon the few that nominate them.

For instance there are four voters in Bayboro Inn. Two of them took part in the primary election; two of them had no choice and took no part. The two that took part did not vote for the nominees. Yet all four of us will support that ticket like Democrats, which means from Dan to Beer-shela. We shall support that ticket because it is the ticket that represents Democracy and White Supremacy, because it is the ticket preferred by the majority of the white people of Pamlico county. Just here I would like to ask Mr. "Life Long" why he did not give all the figures. The public so doubts would have been much interested in adding up the votes of the Flag Islanders' opponents. Again the argument of boss is flimsy and unjust. L. G. Daniels or no other man can boss our counties. They are men capable of bossing themselves. Daniels may work for them, but boss them, never.

In conclusion I wish to say that I am not acquainted with the political records of Dees and Parker, but judging the assertions of Mr. "Life Long" in regard to them by other assertions made by that gentleman, I would set them aside as incompetent. WINDHAM UNDERHILL.

While he was away, a few of his friends, about two hundred in number, from the First and Second townships, called at his office, and not finding him "at home," at once sent out scouts to find him and bring him back.

This was done, and Mr. Gulon soon found himself facing the Democrats from the north side of the river, and being given hand shakes without number.

At first overcome by the great demonstration, Mr. Gulon quickly recovered himself, and gave his friends a neat little speech of thanks, for their complimentary reception to him at his own house.

It has taught me that when, by all Democrats supporting the regular nominees of the party, the success of that party is as certain as the rising of the morning sun, only traitors desert those nominees and fuse with the Radicals on the false pretext of saving the county. It has taught me that none but those who champion negro registration for the sake of negro votes, would so lower themselves in the eyes of white men and white women. It has taught me that principle is above every private prejudice and that good government is above every law suit within the bounds of North Carolina. Finally, it has taught me that in this critical time a man cannot vote for the amendment and for an anti-amendment legislature and then claim that he is a Democrat pure and straight.

I take issue against him in the second place because there is manifest insincerity in what he says. He says, "We are for majority and against boss rule." Yet even while he was penning those words he was under the bosom of Boss Abbott. His "middle-of-the-road" Democrats could not hold a convention without Boss Abbott's presence. He was insincere when he said that he doubted whether the Flag Islanders would vote for the Amendment. He knew that they would vote for the Amendment and also for an Amendment legislator. Will he do the latter?

I take issue against him in the third place because his reasons for taking such a course are flimsy and fallacious. It is false reasoning to say that Mr. Dees and the other candidates are not the legitimate nominees, because they did not receive a majority of all the Democratic votes in the county. No Democratic candidate has ever been nominated by a majority of the Democratic votes of Pamlico county; simply because a majority of them never have taken part in the primaries. According to Mr. "Life Long" argument there are few nominees in the State. I might almost say not one. It is false reasoning to say that the nominees of a party are dependent upon the few that nominate them.

For instance there are four voters in Bayboro Inn. Two of them took part in the primary election; two of them had no choice and took no part. The two that took part did not vote for the nominees. Yet all four of us will support that ticket like Democrats, which means from Dan to Beer-shela. We shall support that ticket because it is the ticket that represents Democracy and White Supremacy, because it is the ticket preferred by the majority of the white people of Pamlico county. Just here I would like to ask Mr. "Life Long" why he did not give all the figures. The public so doubts would have been much interested in adding up the votes of the Flag Islanders' opponents. Again the argument of boss

Tendered a Hearty Welcome.

Mr. O. H. Gulon, occasionally leaves his office on Broad street, for a walk about town, and yesterday was such an occasion.

While he was away, a few of his friends, about two hundred in number, from the First and Second townships, called at his office, and not finding him "at home," at once sent out scouts to find him and bring him back.

This was done, and Mr. Gulon soon found himself facing the Democrats from the north side of the river, and being given hand shakes without number.

At first overcome by the great demonstration, Mr. Gulon quickly recovered himself, and gave his friends a neat little speech of thanks, for their complimentary reception to him at his own house.
