Absolutely Pure

Made from most highly refined and healthful ingredients.

Assures light, sweet, pure and wholesome food.

Housekeepers must exercise care in buying baking powders, to avoid alum. Alum powders are sold cheap to catch the unwary, but alum is a poison, and its use in food seriously injures health.

AT THE GATES.

Force Used to Make Ministers Leave Peking.

China Yields to Demands of This Country. Delivery of Foreigners in Peking Sought by Chinese. Objection to Landing British Troops at Shanghai.

WASHINGTON, August 15.—The undated dispatch from Minister Canger received by the State Department, contained confidential military information relative to the defense of Peking, and charges that the Chinese government has stopped urging and persuading the Ministers to leave Peking and now the Chinese government is trying to force the ministers to leave.

China has yielded to the demand of the United States, and the Imperial government is now negotiating with the commanders of the allied forces, at the gates of Peking, for the delivery of the foreigners in the Chinese capital, to the allies.

London, Aug. 15.—Special—A dispatch from Shanghai says that the British troops from India have arrived, but the Chinese Viceroy objects to their landing, and it is believed that the Viceroy has been urged to take this course, by the French and Russian consuls, at Shanghai.

A dispatch says the French government has given its consent to the appointment of Count Von Walderssee to be commander in chief of the allied forces in China.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—It was stated today by an official who has lived at Peking that nothing short of the heaviest artillery can make any impression upon the walls of the Imperial City. He said light artillery would be of no avail, and for this reason the advance of a flying column even up to the walls of the city could effect little if a stubborn defense were determined upon.

The walls are 50 feet high and wide enough on top for two coaches to pass abreast. They afford opportunity for planting guns, while from a defensive point of view they cannot be breached except by the use of the heaviest projectiles.

INGALLS SINKING RAPIDLY.

Famous Ex-Senator Is Now In A Critical Condition.

ATLANTA, Ga., August 14.—Ex-Senator John J. Ingalls, who has been in New Mexico and Arizona since early last fall for his health, is sinking rapidly, and his son Schellfield was today summoned to Las Vegas, where he now is.

Mrs. Ingalls has been with her husband over two months, during which time it has become known that his recovery was doubtful. His son Ellsworth Ingalls, who is at Sioux Falls, S. D., was notified and left for his father's bedside.

Mr. Ingalls was attacked with grip in South Dakota while on a lecturing tour in the fall of 1896 and has been falling in health since. After leaving Sioux Falls he came to Kansas to make speeches during the gubernatorial campaign, but found his throat in such a condition that he could not make public speeches.

He took his family to Washington where he was engaged to write political letters for newspapers. His throat continued to trouble him, and in the spring of 1899 he returned to Atlanta, putting himself under the care of a specialist.

He got no relief and early last fall he was informed by his physicians that it would be dangerous for him to remain in this climate during the winter. So he went to Las Vegas, but did not improve, and continued to Tucson, Ariz., where he found some relief. He was able to write for newspapers and contemplated returning to Atlanta early next spring.

MORE RIOTING.

New York City Still Disturbed. Policemen Shot. Promoter of Trouble Arrested.

Special to Journal. New York, August 16.—There was another riot in this city today, in spite of a force of seven hundred policemen being called out.

RIOT IN NEW YORK.

Negroes Use Revolvers, Wounding Many Whites. Were Provoked by Murder.

New York, August 15.—Intense racial feeling on the part of both whites and negroes over the killing of Policeman Robert J. Thorpe by a negro last Sunday morning resulted to-night in a serious riot in Eighth and Ninth avenues.

The rioting extended from Thirty-third to Forty-fourth street, with minor outbreaks even on Broadway, where negroes were pursued into hotels. Perhaps sixty or more negroes were assaulted and injured in the streets, while more than a dozen white men received shot wounds. Many arrests were made, and the reserves of four precincts had to be called out to suppress the disturbance.

Policeman Thorpe was stabbed Sunday morning by a negro named Arthur Harris while he was arresting May Eno, a negro, at Forty-first street and Eighth avenue. He was taken to Roosevelt Hospital and died there next day. His body was taken to the home of his sister Miss Lizzie Thorpe, at No. 481 Eighth avenue, where a wake was arranged to be held to-morrow afternoon.

While the house of Miss Thorpe was filled with mourners two old white women came up and, stopping in the street, were heard by some negroes standing near to remark:

"There is where they are holding the wake for the poor policeman who was killed by a negro."

One of the negroes in the group that overheard the remark of the old woman was Spencer Walters. He at once drew a pistol and acted as if he were about to fire at the woman.

A white man and a policeman disarmed Walters. Another negro, Robert Williams, drew a revolver and fired into the crowd that gathered. The use of pistols by the negroes caused an outbreak of anger which was only subdued by a charge of the reserve squad of policemen, who clubbed the rioters and cleared the streets.

Detective John Kennedy, the working partner of the dead policeman, was attacked and badly cut by a giant negro late to-night. The negro was paraded and captured after a hard fight.

WHAT "REDEMPTION" MEANS.

Concise Answers to Currency Queries Raised Every Day.

WASHINGTON, August 14.—The questions affecting the redemption of various notes and certificates, raised almost daily, are clearly answered by Mr. A. T. Huntington, chief of the Division of Loans and Currency, Treasury Department, in his pamphlet recently issued, for the benefit of the public generally the answers are here given:

Gold coins and standard silver dollars, being standard coins of the United States, are not "redeemable."

Subsidiary coins and minor coins may be presented in sums or multiples of $20 to the Treasurer of the United States or to an assistant treasurer for redemption or exchange into lawful money.

United States notes are redeemable in United States gold coin in any amount by the Treasurer and all the assistant treasurers of the United States.

Treasury notes of 1890 are redeemable in United States gold coin in any amount by the Treasurer and all the assistant treasurers of the United States.

National bank notes are redeemable in lawful money of the United States by the Treasurer, but not by the assistant treasurers. They are also redeemable at the bank of issue. In order to provide for the redemption of its notes when presented every national bank is required by law to keep on deposit with the Treasurer a sum equal to 5 per cent. of its circulation.

Gold certificates, being receipts for gold coin, are redeemable in such coin by the Treasurer and all assistant treasurers of the United States.

STILL PARLEYING.

Li Hung Chang Trying For Different Terms.

Report Allied Troops in Peking. Cabinet Meeting to Discuss Chinese Situation. News Says Had No Selfish Ends.

Special to Journal.

WASHINGTON, August 16.—A dispatch says that all the foreigners in Peking are saved by the entrance into that city of the allied forces on Tuesday.

The State Department has received an appeal from Li Hung Chang, that this government use its influence to have the allied army stop at Tung Chow where it will be met by the high Chinese officials to negotiate for an armistice.

This government will reject this proposal and stand upon the proposition heretofore announced, namely, that a sufficient force of the allies be permitted to go into Peking, and bring away the foreign and native converts now besieged there.

A cabinet meeting was called this morning to consider the China question. In settling this question the United States will in no wise depart from the course adopted at the beginning.

St. Petersburg, August 15.—The Official Messenger states that, while recognizing Germany's motive in view of the murder of Baron von Ketteler at Peking, the Czar accepted Emperor William's proposal to appoint Field Marshal Count von Walderssee to the command of the allied forces, the Czar has not the slightest intention of receding from his political program.

The fundamental principle of this program is a complete understanding with France and the other powers, the pursuance of no selfish aims and striving only for the restoration of order and the best relations with China.

The newspapers of Berlin announce that France has accepted Count von Walderssee as commander-in-chief of the allied forces in China.
