That there may be property owners empt any tax payer or rathroad company valuable a set the part property of from paying their just taxes.

The testimony put in evidence since this case has been given a hearing, is full of interest and value, as it pretts effectually shows up the method of tax listing and will show that there is really no equalization in tax listing. Therefore no fairness in tax paying.

If there was an equalization, and every person, tirm, corporation and railroad company paid their taxes based on actual valuations of real and personal property, there would be more than sufficient money for the conduct of the
