OCCASIONAL DEFEAT ADDS INTEREST.

The defeat of the University of Pennsylvania boat crew at the Henley Regatta, in England, last week, by the Leander Rowing Club of London, seems to be taken too seriously by many persons and newspapers in this country.

The fact is that the practically unchecked success of American athletes in international contests, on land and water, has created the impression that when the occasional defeat comes, it is so unusual, that the thought is not that the supremacy belongs to the other contestant, but that something is wrong with the American side.

So at this Henley Regatta, the defeat seems to have unduly disturbed American complacency, yet the American crew, after rowing a gallant and strong race, putting their opponents to the best of their efforts to win, frankly acknowledge that they were "out rowed."

There is a genuine gameness in this acknowledgement, truly American, only equalled by the splendid effort made to win.

This Grand Challenge cup of the Henley regatta is to rowing in England, what the Derby is to horse racing.

Americans have won the Derby, but England has thus far held the Grand Challenge cup against all American efforts to wrest it from the English.

In the minor rowing events, the Americans made a number of windings, and the closeness in the race for the Grand Challenge Cup is no dishonor or discredit to American skill or brawn.

The half a century of supremacy in yachting, with every probability of this Fall's contest going in favor of the American yacht, is glory enough to more than offset the Henley defeat, if offsets were needed.

But it is just such defeats as at Henley that add to the interest of the contests between the two great Anglo-Saxon races, and as in other defeats the Americans will soon discover their weakness, and finally win out at some future time.

THE WORLD'S SMALL NAVIES.

In this day of great things of all kinds, small affairs are not noticed sufficiently, and yet these small things may prove of interest, and are worthy of knowing.

The great navies of the world are known to every household, and the schoolboy who cannot name the number of battleships possessed by the leading nations of the world, would feel ashamed.

But there is the opposite to these great navies, and few persons know that there are nations that possess only one or two war vessels, which they designate as "navies."

Every nation of pretense, except Switzerland, which has no sea coast, supports some form of a navy, and the following from the United States Navy Department's annual publication, is full of interest as showing the small navies of the world.

Belgium has 12 antiquated steam vessels of about 500 tons, but all built nearly 30 years ago. She designates them as naval vessels, but they are employed as packets. Bulgaria has 11 small steamers, of which one is used as the Prince's yacht. Two armored ships for the "defense of the Danube" are building, and one or two torpedo boat craft. Ecuador supports two old French dispatch vessels, one of iron and one of wood. This is her total naval strength, while Egypt has but a single vessel. Haiti has a navy also, but little is heard of it. It comprises a steel gun vessel of 90 tons, another of 300 tons and three iron ships and a small gun vessel. Mexico has a steel gunship of 120 tons, two gun vessels of 400 tons and two smaller of 100 tons each. She is building three cruisers of small displacement.

Sierra Leone supports a 1,500-ton cruiser, a gunboat of 400 tons, and has a new vessel building. Persia, although with little coast line, has a navy consisting of a dispatch vessel of 1,200 tons and 10 launch vessels. Peru has a vessel of 1,700 tons built in 1881, and a screw steamer of about 400 tons. Rumania has quite a little navy of small vessels. She has a building program also, including the construction of 2 monitors, 12 torpedo boats, 8 destroyers for the Danube, 8 dispatch vessels, 4 destroyers and 12 torpedo boats for the Black Sea.

Santo Domingo has the Independence, a 14-knot cruiser, the Presidente, Saragat has two gunboats of 175 and 110 tons respectively, each armed with two guns. Nam has two corvettes of 800 tons, 6 gunboats and a protected cruiser of 2,500 tons. Uruguay has three gunboats of less than 300 tons displacement. Venezuela has a navy of but one vessel, the Libertador, of 800 tons, and four river gunboats.

THE RANK AND FILE MUST SUFFER

It is the striking workman, not the "walking delegate," who must suffer from the conflict between capital and labor.

And in all stations, it is found that the rank and file must bear all the sufferings and losses.

In the Philippine fight, Aguinaldo and his council had the easy and safe part, while the poor insurgents did the fighting, and even in the surrender it is Aguinaldo who receives the pleasant treatment as a guest not as a prisoner, while the men who fought are the real prisoners.

And among the Boers, these same conditions prevail.

It was Kruger who left Africa when the contest became too warm, and with his millions of dollars, found a pleasant retreat on the continent of Europe, dined and feted by the rich.

And the poor unfortunate Boers left behind, unable to escape, had to bear the hardships and terrors of war, while Kruger sent messages to them not to give up, but to fight the British.

Word from the Transvaal says that the burghers are sick of fighting, and are only held up to it by the leaders.

And no wonder, for if these burghers will look about, they will find that their fighting is keeping in office a number of so-called Boer representatives in European capitals, whose salaries and occupations would be gone, should the Boers cease fighting.

It is a long way from Kruger with his easy surroundings, and the poor Boers fighting for a country which their once leader has deserted, but it is the history of the world, the escape of those who should receive the like hardships, as must the rank and file.

Office of D. H. Hardy, Sec. of State, Austin, Tex., Nov. 21, 1900.

I have found Dr. Moffett's TKEH-INA a splendid remedy and aid for my teething children. When my oldest boy was a teething child, every succeeding day warned us that we would inevitably lose him. I happened upon TKEH-INA, and began at once administering it to him, and his improvement was marked in 24 hours, and from that day on he recuperated. I have constantly kept it and used it since with my children, and have taken great pleasure in sounding its praises to all mothers of young children. I found it invaluable even after the teething period was passed. MRR. D. H. HARDY.

Another Jack the Ripper.

Denver, Col., July 9.—The Slinger has reappeared. Jessie Kipnot sixteen years of age was dragged from her bed to a field and assaulted. Her abdomen was ripped open with a knife. Another child has disappeared entirely from the same neighborhood.

During last May an infant child of our neighbor was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctors had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days time the child had fully recovered. The child is now vigorous and healthy. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail.—Mrs. OUVAS BARKER, Bookwalter, Ohio. Sold by F. S. DUFFY & Co.

THE NEAL CASE.

Judge Purnell Affirms Finding of Special Master Green.

Appointed Director Oxford Orphan Asylum. Saleona Boundary Case. Base Ball Items. To Sit at Circuit Court Appeals. Richmond.

HALEIGH, July 9.—Governor Aycock appointed J. R. Purnell as director of the Oxford Orphan Asylum, vice Ben W. Moore, resigned.

Committee on Agriculture Patterned for Norfolk. Atkinson, President of the Agricultural and Mechanical College have gone North to select a professor of agriculture. They will also look out for a veterinarian. It is probable that Professor Tait Butler of Kansas, will be the veterinarian. He is president of the National Veterinary Association.

Arrivals. Richard J. Jones, G. H. Smith, Wilmington; John D. Briggs, Williamson; Irrelb. Meares, Wilmington; R. F. Aycock, Wayne county. Ex-Governor D. L. Russell, Wilmington. The latter is counsel in a suit by saloon keepers here against this city, to recover taxes they have for many years paid the city on bar-rooms outside the boundary, involving some $12,000. Ex-Mayor Russell says there are other suits of the same kind against the town of Damm.

A telegram from Manager H. T. Bryan of the Tarboro Base Ball Club, who was in Norfolk to buy the Norfolk team was received this morning and appeared to mean that he had been successful. He wanted Maec made an umpire, and not Staley. President Cunningham offered his Norfolk team to Raleigh for $1,000, but it was not wanted here.

Judge T. R. Purnell today received a letter from Judge Goff notifying him that he and Judge Jackson of West Va., would again sit on the circuit court of appeals at Richmond at the next term. Twice last year, in May and November, Judge Purnell sat on that court.

In the important case of R. S. Neal et al. vs. G. F. Briggs & Co., of Norfolk, involving a large sawmill and timber interests at Morehead City, Judge Purnell today affirmed the finding of special master Green of New Bern, as to facts and law. The effect of the decision is that Briggs & Co. are indebted to Neal and the First National Bank of New Bern in the sum of $5,355, instead of Neal being indebted to Briggs, as claimed, to the amount of $18,000. The principle point in the case is that exception to a report of a special master under the equity rules of the circuit court must be specific and point out errors in equity rule 87, and that general exceptions will not be considered by the chancellor. This is in accordance also with the State practice. Notwithstanding this point Judge Purnell sitting as chancellor, took up the several exceptions and over ruled them serially. This case came up from the circuit court at New Bern.

CROP BULLETIN.

Conditions More Favorable For Farm Work and Growth of Crops. Week ending July 9th.

HALEIGH, July 9.—The weekly crop bulletin for week ending Monday, July 9th, is as follows:

The conditions which prevailed during the past week appear to have been decidedly favorable for farm work and the growth of crops in nearly all counties of the State, except where drought is now beginning to be felt. The temperature averaged 67° daily above the normal. The maximum varied from 90° to 100° every day of the week, and the nights have been quite warm. The amount of sunshine was abundant. Some very beneficial showers occurred in the central-northern section on Tuesday and Saturday evenings, and a heavy rain on the 2d in Halifax and Northampton counties with slight damage to crops. In general, however, the week has been very dry, and gave farmers a favorable opportunity to kill grass and plow their crops in a better state of cultivation. In sections where the rainfall was not excessive during June, especially in the eastern district, drought is now beginning to injure some crops, especially corn and garden, and the ground is becoming dry and hard over many counties, which hinders plowing and planting field peas in stubble land.

Farmers have made very good use of their time this week, in spite of the scarcity of hands, and grass has generally been brought under control; many fields are now well cultivated, and crops thereon have improved very materially; lowland crops are still in bad condition and many have been abandoned. Cotton has improved considerably where properly cultivated; plants are small, but healthy and vigorous and blooms are more abundant; poorly cultivated fields still show a yellow color. Corn is being generally laid by; the crop has a rich green color and has grown rapidly during the week; uplands need rain and bottomland corn is very poor; early corn is tasseling low, but the late corn is better. Cutting tobacco has just commenced in a few eastern counties, and some cures have been made; laying by the crop has begun in the central district; there is some complaint of the lack of sufficient moisture in the east. Except some spring oats yet to be cut, harvesting the small grain crops is about over; most of the wheat, rye, and oats have been hauled and threshing is underway. Sweet-potato vines have all been transplanted and are growing nicely. Some peanuts have been laid by. Field peas look well, and stubble land is being seeded to cowpeas where not too hard to plow. Fruit is still falling considerably, and the outlook for grapes is not very good. Mowing has begun in several counties, with promise of a fine yield of hay.

Turks Loot Treasuries.

VOLO GRACKER, July 8.—The Turkish garrisons at Kiflik and Vodelo, in Macedonia, not having been paid by the Government in a long time, succeeded in effecting a forcible entrance to the Government treasuries in the places where they were stationed and partitioned among themselves the money in the treasury buildings.

A similar attempt on the part of the troops stationed at Salonika, Macedonia, was frustrated.

Storm Rages in Haiti.

PORT AU PRINCE, HAITI, July 8.—A violent storm has been raging three days over the southern part of Haiti and Santo Domingo.

Five persons were killed at Jacmel and nine lost their lives at Les Cayes. Several sailing vessels have been wrecked. The region between Cotaal and La Vega and the city of Santo Domingo has been inundated.

Telegraphic Communication with Santo Domingo is broken.

The rivers have overflowed. A high wind continues.

Rain Helps Suffering India.

LONDON, July 8.—The Viceroy of India, Lord Curzon of Kedleston, cables that the rainfall in the Bombay, Deccan, Eastern Bengal, Burma and Assam has been generally sufficient for agricultural purposes. The total number of persons employed on the India relief works is now 885,000.

Constitution Exceeds Expectations.

NEWPORT, July 8.—The race to-day was remarkable for two things. First, the Constitution beat the Columbia by 20 minutes, 25 seconds, over a thirty-mile triangular course, and the Independence, the Boston boat, was beaten 1 hour, 18 minutes, 14 seconds. These are actual times, without time allowances.

The race Saturday was a few minutes over the five and a half hours, and Boston yachtsmen have used this as an argument that it was only a drifting match and should not be counted. The wind to-day was not so strong as it was Saturday, but there were only ten miles sailed to windward and twenty miles were reaching. On the best to the first mark, ten miles away, the Constitution gained 10 minutes, 37 seconds on the Columbia.

Notice to Wheelmen.
