FOOD THE ARBITER FOR PEACE OR WAR.

The occasional mention in the press that there are signs of some foreign partnership of nations, which will be formed to boycott American farm or manufactured products, in retaliation of this country's increasing monopolization of the world's business, need alarm no one.

Nor is there any danger of two or more European nations forming a warlike agreement to oppose American expansion of territorial development, or acquisition.

An all-determining factor for peace or war, is the food question.

Take the figures of the Department of Agriculture, and they show that Europe last year bought $750,000,000 worth of food products from America.

And this is the history of every year, for Europe must look to America to make up for deficient supplies, or else go into a condition of semi-starvation.

With the question of food supplies the most vital issue where would the foreign commissariat find themselves with the American field shut off from them.

No matter how formidable a coalition might be started by European powers, within a few months they would have at home, in hungry men, women and children, a far greater danger to deal with than the American navy and army from the outside.

With the closing up of every American port, without sending forth a single ship or man, there could be no lasting contest made by foreign nations, for they would soon consume their own supplies, and their millions of people would be paying famine prices for all kinds of food.

The importance of the food influence for peace or war upon the world, cannot be lightly estimated.

THE NEW POSTAL RULINGS.

The recently signed new orders amending postal regulations affecting second class mail matter, is important to the government, which will save millions of dollars by them, and will help legitimate newspapers and periodicals, as it will take away, as compensated, those publications, which fill up the mails, and on account of premiums going with their subscription, puts the ordinary publication beyond the point of competition.

The large newspapers in the cities are not so much affected by these advertising pamphlets and periodicals which secure circulation by giving premiums.

But take the small country newspaper with these publications coming into its territory, it has everything against it.

The foreign periodical is larger, probably illustrated, comes free as a sample copy several weeks, then offering some premium to secure subscribers, the premium appearing to be of more value than the entire subscription, completely overshadowing the little local newspaper which is trying to assist its community in its upbuilding.

But under the new postal rulings these publications cannot longer enjoy second class rates of postage, and thus flood every section of the country, to the exclusion of strictly legitimate publications.

health fails, then will it be remembered that the original first cause leading up to the final disaster, could have been easily averted by a slight use of caution, and a little careful attention to details. At no seasons of the year is the urgent of this cause of prevention so seriously felt as during the Summer and Fall months.

It is the neglect of a community which fails to protect itself against disease immediately after Winter ends that causes the physical illness of its people to be reflected in the business interests, which must suffer if those in charge have no health.

It is the little bits of neglect about the premises, which give disease a chance to opportunity to develop, multiply and take possession of the members of a household.

The refuse pile is only a small one, but it can breed germs of death. The unused rain water barrel or cistern may appear unimportant during the warm weather, and are left to themselves, but with the temperature ranging at sturdy degrees of above, they become receptacles from which go forth insect life, carrying germs of death to humanity.

It may take time and some expense for the household in the country to provide good water for his family, by boring a well below all danger of surface contamination. And those living in the city may continue to use well water, when the city provides a water absolutely healthful.

But let sickness come to the family through using water which is of questionable purity, and the doctor's bill for a single member of the family will far exceed the cost of providing the good water.

The knowledge of things useful is of no value, unless put into actual practice, and it is the ounce of prevention put into daily affairs which counts against most troubles and disasters.

Matrimony in Gilbert Islands.
Women of the Gilbert Islands being merely regarded as cattle or any other property, writes Arthur Inkerley in the Overland Monthly, the matrimonial knot is easily tied and just as easily untied. If a man fancies a girl he seduces her by the hair of the head, wherever she may be, despite her professions and drags her away to his home. Her resistance is not often availed of. The pretense of refusal being due to the coquettishness inherent in the sex. When the couple reach the house of the groom, a wedding feast is furnished forthwith, to which all the immediate friends of the bride and bridegroom are invited. But an acceptance of the invitation implies the contribution of some stands to the entertainment. Matrimony is attended by no further ceremony than this. When a husband grows weary of his wife, he simply orders her to leave him, and if she does not he turns her out of doors.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 19, 1900.
We have handled Dr. Moffett's TEETHINA (Teething Powders) ever since its first introduction to the public and trade as a proprietary medicine, and our trade in it has steadily increased from year to year until our orders now amount to two or three hundred gross per year, which is a very strong evidence of its merit and the satisfaction it is giving to the mothers of the country. I say that nothing so effectually cures the effects of the summer's hot sun or overcomes so quickly the teething incident to teething. TR. LAMM & PARKER DRUG CO., Wholesale Druggists.
