North Carolina History Served in Delicious Bits.

The B. F. Johnson Publishing Com pany, Richmond, Va., have just issued a series of delightful sketches entitled "North Carolina Illetory Stories," by Professor W. C. Allen, Superintendent of the Waynesville Schools. The stories begin with the lauding of the first English people, and present the most important feature of North Carolina's history from this point down through the Revolution. The sketches have a local flavor and coloring not to be found in a primary history, and they make delightful reading not only for the school children, for whom they are especially intended but for every lover of North Carolina It is announced that this series will be followed by another, bringing the history of the State down to the present time. There are forty-five stories great steel strike.
