COST OF ONE MUNICIPAL ELECTION.

One dollar and eleven cents is what it costs the city of New York for every vote cast at its mayoralty election.

This is the amount per voter, that was actually expended by the bureau of elections for Greater New York, the general items being, rent of voting booths, places for the board of registry to sit, polling places, and cost of collecting the votes.

About $676,000 is the sum spent by the bureau of elections in defraying the mayoralty campaign.

Of that amount, $350,000 was expended for clerk hire alone. For rent of places for the board of registry to sit, polling booths, cartage and the repairs of the election apparatus, $121,000 was paid; $30,000 was spent for the printing of the ballots and books for registering; $5,000 went for advertising the official nominations and the various other matters incidental to the election, regulated by state, county and city laws; $75,000 was spent in miscellaneous rent hire, for extra help and the thousand and one things that become necessary two or three weeks preceding election day.

The above sum divided by the number of votes cast, makes the cost one dollar and eleven cents for each vote.

As a tax, the cost of each mayoralty election in Greater New York, is a most important item to those who must bear the burden of paying for the elections.

CITY LIGHTS AND BETTER ROADS.

In less than three weeks, the citizens of New Bern can give expression to the ballot box on the matter of having a well lighted city, or whether the present condition of stumbling about the streets after sun set, shall continue.

Besides affecting very seriously every material interest of New Bern, this no lights on the public streets at night, the retail business of the city is injured by the dark streets now prevailing, under the no light system.

With unlighted streets, it cannot be expected that people are going to go out at night, unless it is absolutely necessary, and besides the local trade thus cut off, there is a certain amount of nearby outside city trade which is kept away, because of the present unlighted condition of New Bern.

And the effect of dark streets upon visitors to this city, and what they may say about a city so out of date as to be without lighted streets cannot but injure the reputation of the place.

Another matter of public importance, is that of good roadways in this city.

At the last meeting of the board of Aldermen, the street committee reported that the city's streets were in bad condition.

The system pursued of filling up holes in the streets by dumping enough oyster shells in each cavity to hide the depression, has not and will not make good or passable streets, in the sense of the kind of roadways New Bern ought to have.

The street committee's report does not put the matter too strongly when it says the streets are in bad condition.

And the remedy is not hard to find for putting the streets in good condition.

YOUTH NOT A MATTER OF YEARS.

The progress and advancement of the material existence of the present day has done away with the stage in a man's life, formerly known as middle age.

Youth and old age, may be said to be the two states in the life of the man of today.

In this generation, youth is not a matter of years. It is the choice of every man to be youthful until he is old.

That period, once called middle age, is not of this generation. There is no halting place between youth and old age in the present generation. It is the individual plasticity of the man that counts. The personal resourcefulness to remain fresh, to have energy, to be optimistic, without the internal fever of exhaustion.

The reckoning of today, is seen in England, where the appointment of Lord Selborne and Mr. Wyndham to the English Ministry is viewed in some quarters with apprehension, on account of the youth of these men, both of whom are forty years of age.

In this country Theodore Roosevelt has been held as too young for President of the United States, his forty-four years being regarded as insufficient for maturity of action necessary in great affairs of the country.

And yet the younger Pitt was eighty-two years younger than President Roosevelt when he became Prime Minister of England, and eight years younger than Roosevelt was Napoleon when he was made First Consul of France for life.

However these statistics may appear, the present age will not alter the opinion of the youth of President Roosevelt, Lord Selborne and Mr. Wyndham.

The rapid materialistic existence of the present day has caused the disappearance of any middle age period. The man must have youth or old age, but there can be no halting place in life between the hope and work of youth, and the completed work, found in old age.

If the individual choice be made to throw away optimistic freshness, and the energy found in executive high deeds, and accept in place of these, disbelief, cynicism and the despair of accomplishment, then will old age come, even though only thirty years have been passed.

Is the rejection of these hostages which force old age upon the individual, which gives place to an invincible youth, which sees only the sunny side of life and makes three score and ten no limit to youth, but rather the period when the accomplishment of the heart's desires is nearing a complete and wholesome fruition.

In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co., Testimonials free.

Awful Work of Storm.

Tons of wreckage of unidentified vessels are still being thrown up. Altogether it is known that 50 vessels have been wrecked along the British coast. Thirty-four of these have been absolute wrecks.

The loss of a lifeboat and 11 of its crew near Yarmouth heads the list of today's wrecks. The lifeboat was on its way to the rescue of a distressed vessel when it was struck by a great wave and capsized. The crew was imprisoned and only three of them succeeded in escaping. The dead men leave 44 fatherless children.

You can prevent this by dieting but that means starvation. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat. You need suffer from neither dyspepsia nor starvation. The worst cases quickly cured. RALEIGH, Nov. 15.—The State board of education apportionments of the first $100,000 appropriated by the legislature to the public schools 15 cents to each child between 6 and 21 years. It was stated sometime ago the second $100,000 cannot be apportioned until January, as returns must come in. A circular about it was sent out today. This shows that the report must be filed as to what particular schools need aid to bring them up to 4 months in the year; whether the county has reached its limit in taxation, whether fines and penalties have been paid over, etc. It does not include local taxation.

The county superintendent of Wilkes county informs the State officials that ten or twelve bar rooms in that county do not pay a cent of State or county tax. The matter will be strictly looked into. Such negligence on the part of officials there astonishes those here.
