ECONOMIES IN OIL AS FUEL.

The successful voyage of the Steamer Murex, from Singapore to Cape Town, and thence to England, occupying about sixty days, as per the report in the Oil, Paint and Drug Reporter, proves the value of oll as steamer fuel, the Murex using oll during this voyage.

On this trip, the consumption of oil was heavier than ordinary, due to heavy weather, the amount ranging from 17 to 181 tons per day.

If coal had been used, the consumption would have ranged from 25 to 32 tons per day, and the saving in price between the two would be considerable

But the economy in the price of fuel, between coal and oil, is but a small part in favor of oil, for in the saving of cargo room and labor is to be found the great economies.

In the case of the above mentioned steamer, the crude petroleum was stored in the forepeak, in the double bottom of the steamer, and in other; places which could not very well be utilized for coal.

The whole central area of the ship, in closed fore and aft by copper-protecting dams, is available for grain or other freight in bulk, or for mixed cargo, thus increasing the carrying capacity of the vessel much beyond the actual tonnage out of the bunkers as formerly (the injured. Murex being altered from a coal burner) only three stokers were required, this in

TAXES AND VOTING.

In calling repeated attention to taxpayers to pay what they owe, and at once, the urgency in this matter concerns not merely the saving in expense to the taxpayers, in the matter of costs, but also prompt tax paying is necessary, in order that votes may be cast in this vear's State elections. It can't help but do you good Prepared only by E. mon, team drivers and expressmen be To be a voter, under the law as it is gan here this morning to aid the strikers at present, every man must be prepared of the New York, New Haven and Hartto show his tax receipt for his poll ford railroad. Ten thousand persons are out.

The law requires this, and no excuse can be given, nor can the voter acquire the right of voting, unless his poll tax receipt can be shown, properly signed by sheriff or tax collector.

May 1st, is the last limit of time. No poll tax receipt, no vote.

Not only is it necessary to pay this tax, but it will be best to have receipt conveniently at hand to show at the polls.

In industrial establishments, oil as fuel has long passed the experimental stage, and once storage depots can be established for oil, so that steamers can get a fresh supply, oil will no doubt become a regular fuel for many steamship lines.

BRYAN FEARS A RIVAL.

The recent editorial from the pen of paper, the Commoner, wherein he criticises the speech of David Bennett Hill delivered before the Manhattan Club, of New York, on February 23nd, shows plainly that Mr. Bryan fears a rival in the exclusive Presidency monopoly, which he has had for nearly ten years.

That there are well founded grounds East, in a political union, leaving the West to Populism and Republicanism to fight it out for supremacy. But in David B, Hill, Mr. Bryan recog nizes a political candidate formidable in every way, hence his attack.

In this editorial criticism throughout Mr. Hill's sin is his refusal to come out plainly for Mr. Bryan's 16 to 1 money plank,
