GOOD CROPS AND MATERIAL

IMPROVEMENT.

The indications for good crops and good prices paid for them, is seen on all sides in Bastern Carolins, and especially In this immediate vicinity.

With this crop prosperity there should come a greatly increased material improvement, in every line.

There should be better and improved farming facilities, and even before this should come a demand for good roads, which should prove such a demand as to force the construction of good roadways leading from the farming sections into this city.

A good crop year, should lead to many local improvements in New Bern, better store buildings, for there is at present a limited supply of buildings for stores and offices.

With good crops raised, and marketed at remunerative prices, there should be something in material improvement to show for the good crop year, something permanent and of future value to the Both cars were crowded to the utmost farmer who has been blessed with this crop prosperity.

This material development should also appear in New Bern, with a good venr.

The profits received should not be simply put away into banks or bonds, there should be money spent to increase business, to make this city more attractive, and efforts made to advertise this city's possibilities of development, and its resources.

Good crops are of no special advanto a section, unless there comes material development from the profits se cured from the ground.

ites are willing to make the money rifice, in order to gain educational advantages for the youth of their race.

The Washburns In Congress The visit to Washington recently of former United States Senator William D. Washburn brings to mind the fact that his family is the only one that ever had three brothers in congress it the same time. They were Elibu B. Washburn of Illinois, Cadwallader Colden Washburn of Wisconsin and Israel Washburn of Maine. They were all brothers of the former senator from Minnesota. Another brother, Charles Ames Washburn, was, at the breaking out of the civil war, editor of The Alta Californian of San Francisco. A teacher came out of her room and, happening to notice him, asked his errand. He nushed the girl eagerly forward.

"She wan' go school," he answered, with many bows. "She has book," he tapped the book under the girl's arm "and slate," pointing to her hand.

"Oh, I seel" said the teacher, smill ing. "You have brought her all prepared. Can she read?"

The father shook his head, smiled and looked into the lady's eyes in a deprecating way, repeating softly, "She wan' go school." The teacher took the book and looked at it. She found it old and worn and neither a reader nor an arithmetic. It was a "Social Directory of the Year

Dr. Talmage's is placed at $300,000, and Mr. Russell's at $2,000,000.

And yet if the criticism be made, or the line drawn, it will be found that each of these men gave vasily more to the world than the world left them, at the close of their lives.

The preacher gave to the world, and in the case of the Rev. Talmage, his was a very wide world, a gospel which abounded in hopefulness, in good cheer, and in ample rewards for those following rightcousness.

Several large factories in Dresden produce a considerable quantity, but the principal place of manufacture is at Bebnitz, a town of 8,500 inhabitants, close to the Bobemian boundary. At the present time there are some 430 manufactories of artificial flowers, leaves, plants and fruits in the district of Dresden, of which 830 are located in Sebuitz
