The farmers seemed much elated yesterday over the rain Sunday afternoon, the fall being 1.17 inches. Crops are looking much better and while the rain is too late to benefit potatoes, it will improve the condition of cotton and do corn much good.

The friends of Rev. J. S. Thomas who is pastor of a Presbyterian church in Gonzales, Tex., will be pleased to learn that he is meeting with fine success in his new pastorate. The Gonzales paper speaks in complimentary terms of a calsureate address which he delivered May 25. He was formerly located in Suffolk, Va.

The street hands are cleaning up the street and trimming the grass borders of the sidewalks, which improve their appearance very much. There is yet a great deal of room for more improvement. It is a great pity that the walks are not covered with some material that would prevent them from, being mud slushes in rainy weather.

A Lost Art Rediscovered.

Wendell Phillips would have found an interesting item for his "Lost Arts" lecture, which he frequently remolded as new facts came to him, in the story of the Wardwell V wound cop. A cop is a cylinder of wound thread or yarn, and the V wind is superior in compactness and uniformity of tension. The method was invented S. J. Wardwell in 1891. His patents becoming the subject of a lawsuit, it was discovered that the National museum in Washington and the Natural History museum in New York had cops of cord, made years ago by Fiji islanders, precisely similar in appearance to the Wardwell cops. So the patents were declared invalid. But since the museum authorities refuse to have their cops unwound it is impossible to prove that the same wind extends through all the lavers, and for this reason the patent office has reissued a patent to Mr. Wardwell for

A Cry For a New Invention. Unless we learn to avoid waste in the use of coal, says Professor John Perry, the world in a hundred years or so will resemble a spendthrift who has run through his patrimony. What is needed is some form of engine to convert as directly and cheaply as possible the nergy of coal into electric energy. Science, he believes, is capable of achiev-ing the desired result, but only through united effort, supported by large capi-tal. He suggests that if the expendi-ture of $5,000,000 a year were intrusted for two or three years to such men as Lord Kelvin or Lord Rayleigh the problem might be solved.

School Commencement, at Salter Path.

We have been asked a number of times, why the closing of a term of school was generally called commence ment, years ago, the term commence ment was given to the general name of degrees in college, that is a commencement is the taking and giving degrees in an American college, to commence to do a thing in a general way, the commencing of taking degrees, yet it looks like it should be closing and it is. However we don't fall out about that, so we understand it, its all right. The closing exercises of Salter Path Public School, to wallop the Stocksdale Bulls, winning came off last Wednesday the 4th inst, yesterday's game be a score of 8 to 2. June. Notwithstanding the scarcity of material to work with, the exercises and examinations were well rendered and up to date. The teacher, Mr. G. W. Ward worked hard to enlighten those people and though only about 35% of the children attended school, a good showing by lic that the children of Bogue Banks at Salter Path could learn if properly attended to.

The exercises commenced about 10:30 . m. on the 4th inst, with reading and prayer, then the opening song by the Salter Path Choir. First were the examinations of the children in spelling, reading, defining, letter sounds, punctua tion, history, government, geography arithmetic, grammar, hygiene, black board exercises, etc. The little tota from 6 to 9 years were the most interest ing, to see these little children, who didn't know a letter in the book, when didn't know a letter in the book, when they first came to the school, write and read sentences on the black board, was surprising. They could correct any centence in the 2nd reader at a glance, and if one word was spelled wrong, they could and would tell you at once. The older classes were of source much better in the same line of studies, which showd that the temples were of source much better in the same line of studies, which showd that the teacher must have worked very hard to make them understand the radiments of jearning.

Speeches and compositions by the littic one were very good, about 13 children partook in this line, all small, the elder once to ashamed to attempt to make a speech so they said, among the best speeches were little Misses Allie Guhrie and Berths Willis, the boys were Master Johny Willis, Duffy Guthrie and Elijah smith, among the compositions, were

ttle Misses Annie and Missourie Willis,

The Salutatory address was delivered by Mrs. Hopin A. Willis, subject "Our Ships", where will they anchor? It was well rendered, The History of N. C., by san of the Executive Committee of M. C. Adams was well spoken and elici-Craven county the Executive Committee applauses the address by Dr. J. The last speech was by one of the citizens at Salter Path. D. J. Willis he gave them a sharp talk on the lack of energy and the want of thought in being so indifferent about the education of their children. The distribution of presents and cards of approbation by the teacher to his pupils of which there were many, was the last event of the Commencement of the 7 months school at "Salter Path." Many visitors were there, some from Swansboro and Bogue along the line, also Morehead City and Beaufort.

This was the most successful school ever taught at Salter Path so they say.

FASHION HINTS.

A Charming Afternoon Tollette. The Popularity of Tucks.

A charming afternoon tollette is fashoned of cream volle of the softest quality and the preference for tucks is clearly evidenced. The waist has a deep yoke effect of horizontal tucks alternating with inset bands of black lace and below this the lace and tucks run length wise. A soft rosette of liberty satin ribbon is placed at the left side. The elbow sleeves are trimmed with ruffles. The same idea is followed in the skirt which falls in very graceful and artistic lines. Corticelli Bilk is used in the making of this costume. For earlier spring volle and silk and wool materials are very much liked, embroidered, uni, spotted faintly or striped, in short in every form and shape and color these delicate fabrics still hold their own, the favorite color being a dellcate yellowish-buff tint shading to cream. Gray is always welcomed by the sartorial powers, just now a faint shade of deve color predominating. There is another color in vogue in Paris at present which may also take here among certain esprits in coming modes. It is a very undecided shade of brown almost running to purple, a triffe heavy perhaps for wear in summer, but certainly acceptable for the variable "samples" of weather we may yet be treated to.

A few days ago in the city of Chicago a young woman met with a horrible death as the result of an artificial beauty maker. Now, this young woman was said to be an attractive person. She moved in good society, was popular and accomplished but not content to let well mough alone she went to a massage artist who doped her face with a lot of polsonous cosmeties and after a long time of torture by means of rubbing and kneading the skin a rubber mask was put on which remained in position several hours. The next day she had convulsions and later became unconscious and died. All for the sake of A desire to be beautiful. The lesson this little sketch is intended to impress is obvious and we sincerely hope beauty makers will be handled with care here-

Paradoxical as it may seem one of the places where the humorous side of life may be seen is in the cemetery. Read the epitaphs on many of the old fashioned tombatones and though evidently intended to be serious they have quite the opposite effect, and would cause the statue on top of the monument to burst forth in unseemly laughter, I have in mind two epitaphs in which the circumstances of the persons' deaths were similar but there could scarcely have been more latitude in the meaning of their tombstone inscriptions. One of them reads thus:

"Here lies the body of Mild Maria, She went one day to start the fire. The wood was green

So she used keresene And now she's where the fuel is drier." The other one reads: "Here lies the man whose crown was
