Marvelous Elixir of Life Discovered by Famous Doctor-Scientist That Cures Every Known Ailment

Wonderful Cures are Effected That Seem Like Miracles Performed—The Secret of Long Life of Olden Times Revived.

The Remedy is Free to All Who Send Name and Remedy.

After years of patient study, and delving into the dusty records of the past, as well as following modern experiments in the realm of medical science, Dr. James W. Kidd, 3801 Baltes Building, Fort Wayne, Indiana, makes the startling announcement that he has surely discovered the elixir of life. That he is able with the aid of a mysterious compound, known only to himself, produced as a result of the years he has spent in searching for this precious life-giving boon, to cure any and every disease that is known to the human body. There is no doubt of the doctor's earnestness in making his claim and the remarkable cures that he is daily effecting seem to bear him out very strongly. His theory which he advances is one of reason and based on sound experience in a medical practice of many years. It costs nothing to try his remarkable "Elixir of Life," as he calls it, for he sends it free, to anyone who is a sufferer in sufficient quantities to convince of its ability to cure, so there is absolutely no risk to run. Some of the cures cited are very remarkable, and but for reliable witnesses would hardly be credited. The cases are thrown away crutches and walked about after two or three trials of the remedy. The sick, given up by home doctors, have been restored to their families and friends in perfect health. Rheumatism, neuralgia, stomach, heart, liver, kidney, blood and skin diseases, bladder troubles, dropsy, asthma, headache, backaches, nervousness, fevers, consumption, coughs, colds, asthma, catarrh, bronchitis and all affections of the throat, lungs or any vital organs are easily overcome in a space of time that is simply marvelous.

Partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, dropsy, gout, scrofula and piles are quickly and permanently removed. It purifies the entire system, blood and tissues, restores normal nerve power, circulation and a state of perfect health is produced at once. To the doctor all systems are alike and equally affected by this great "Elixir of Life." Send for the remedy today. It is free to every sufferer and the sure remedy for it will be sent free by return mail.

SAIL AND ENTERTAINMENT.

Next Monday and Tuesday Nights. By Ladies Committee For Race Ball Interests.

The Ladies committee appointed to assist in raising funds for the base ball interests in this city, have been busily engaged since their appointment, and the result so far is the announcement and promise of a sail on the steamer Blanche next Monday night, and on Tuesday, at the Opera house there will be given an entertainment, with a program of unusual interest.

Monday night, on the steamer Blanche there will be music, and refreshments sold to those who want to add to their pleasure of the sail. Tickets for boat, 25 cents.

At the Opera house, on Tuesday night, there will be a great bill of amusement and rich entertainment.

The comedy of "Mrs. Hillery-Regrets," will be rendered by Mrs. J. E. Laibam and Mr. J. E. Benton.

Mrs. J. L. Hill, Miss Alice Cole, of New York, and Miss Koch, will sing solos.

There will be a mandolin and banjo quartette, Misses Elizabeth Burrus and Elizabeth Ellis, and Messrs. R. N. Duffy and Wm. Stevenson, which will give some choice musical selections, and in addition the Gibson Tableaux.

This program, as noted above, shows the high character of Tuesday night's entertainment and no doubt there will be a crowded house to greet the performers.

Admission, all down stairs 35 cents, no reserved seats. Gallery 15 cts.

AN OLD SORE

Will sour the sweetest disposition and transform the most even tempered, lovable nature into a cross-grained and irritable individual.

If impatience or fault-finding are ever excusable it is when the body is tortured by an itching and painful sore. It is truly discouraging to find after months of diligent and faithful use of external remedies that the place no longer remains as defiant, angry and offensive as ever. Every chronic sore, no matter on what part of the body it comes, is an evidence of some previous constitutional or organic trouble, and that the dregs of these diseases remain in the system; or, it may be that some long hidden poison—perhaps Cancer—has come to the surface and begun its destructive work.

The blood must be purified before the sore will fill up with healthy flesh and the skin regain its natural color. It is through the circulation that the acid, corroding fluids are carried to the sore or ulcer and keep it irritated and inflamed. S. S. S. will purify and invigorate the stagnant blood when all sediment or other hurtful materials are washed out, fresh rich blood is carried to the diseased parts, new tissues form, and the decaying flesh begins to have a healthy and natural look; the discharge ceases and the sore heals.

S. S. S. is the only blood purifier that is guaranteed entirely vegetable. It builds up the blood and tones up the general system as no other medicine does. If you have a sore of any kind, write us and get the advice of experience and skilled physicians for which no charge is made. Book on Blood and Skin Diseases free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

ORIENTAL.

June 20—The crops in this section are looking finely, but we need rain very much.

The arrivals at hotel Midgett are, Mr. Dox and Mr. M. P. Guthrie of Ocala; C. W. Bright, Elizabeth City; Mrs. Harrison and Mr. George L. Horning, of Philadelphia.

The citizens of this progressive town want a railroad as it will benefit Oriental very much.

Oriental with a railroad would be an ideal summer resort, as it has plenty of salt air and is a healthful climate.

Revival Meetings Close. A Big Individual Cut of Lumber.

June 20—The series of meetings conducted by Rev. W. G. Johnston and Lelton closed last evening. Rev. Johnston did most of the preaching. While no great visible results were seen still the preaching was a success. Bro. Johnston is a very able and earnest man and his preaching has been a spiritual treat to us all. We will gladly welcome him again. His temperance lecture last night was greatly enjoyed by a good sized audience.

Miss Ida Sutton who has been visiting friends and relatives in Dover returned to Goldboro this morning.

Mr. Sam Long who once lived here but is now located in Planners Point, came in to spend a day or two this morning.

"We understand there will be a marriage here Sunday but not having any of the facts of the case in hand we will refrain from writing too much. Possibly we may take up the case later.

The weather is lovely for most every kind of work and most everybody through this section seems to have some thing to do.

Shipments of potatoes and other truck are about over. Some few realized a little profit and their balance came about even, all sufficiently encouraged try again next season providence permitting.

Mr. G. K. West, who has traveled over No. 3 township listing taxes says crops are looking promising. Says also he finds some very poor people. A man offered him all his worldly possessions and his wife and two children thrown in for three dollars and fifty cents, notwithstanding Mr. West thought this was a bargain but still he declined the offer.

Mr. R. S. Jobson, lawyer for Goldboro Lumber Company says he cut eighty-three thousand and six hundred feet of lumber in ten and a half hours yesterday. This seems to us a wonderful cut and we hardly think it has ever been exceeded.

Dover is still forging to the front. Several of stores are lighted by electricity. Some talking of water works. Half a dozen new dwellings are going up. Mr. Jackson Waters has about completed painting his house. Streets are being put in good condition. There is no telling when or where we will quit off at.

Messrs. Jackson and John Hill who have been quite sick have improved so as to be out again.

Col. J. W. Lane, of Fort Barnwell, N. C. came out this morning to take the cars for Kinston. The Col. seems to be hopeful that all the troublesome and intricate problems of this county will be properly adjudicated in the near future.

The writer in company with the champion fisherman in North Carolina, Mr. Dempsey Wood, spent yesterday in Morehead City. We tried our luck, but all in vain the tide was against us.

Considerable damage is reported as having been made by the storm at Riverdale Thursday.

The yacht John W. Connor was taken off from dry dock Thursday night after having some repairs made.

Mr. James O. Arnold the former jailer who was arrested last Saturday on the charge of allowing a United States prisoner escaped is out under $300. bond.

At the meeting of the State Pharmaceutical Association at Morehead this week, Mr. C. D. Bradham was elected member on the State Board of Pharmacy.

The flat boat for the use of the Elm City Lumber Co. which has been under construction at the government yards was floated yesterday. The boat measures 100 feet long by 25 ft wide.

A boy went to one of the banks of this city Thursday and cashed a check for $50. He lost the money on the way to his father's store and a negro boy picked it up. The boy who was supposed to have the money was arrested but none was found. The boy who took the money is said to have left the city.

Leads Them All.

"One Minute Cough Cure beats all other medicines I ever tried for coughs, colds, croup and throat and lung troubles," says Dr. Scott Curran of Loganston, Pa. One Minute Cough Cure is the only absolutely safe cough remedy which acts immediately. Mothers everywhere testify to the good it has done their little ones. Croup is so sudden in its attacks that the doctor often arrives too late. It yields at once to One Minute Cough Cure. Pleasant to take. Children like it. Sure cure for grip, bronchitis, coughs, F. S. Duffy.

Within the last ten years more new methods have been devised for dealing with consumption than any other human ailment.

A Mexican carpenter considers hanging one door a big day's work. An American carpenter will easily hang ten doors a day.

Fifteen years ago there was but one woman barber in Chicago. Today there are 150. They accept fees just like the men and make about $10 a week.

In Manitoba and Assiniboia there are 60,000,000 acres of rich arable land which could support 6,000,000 persons. The present population is only 320,000.

A San Francisco medical writer declares that the only way in which a physician ever makes a competency in that region is by investing in real estate.

The largest swamp farm in the world is situated in Indiana, within fifty miles Chicago. It spreads out over 25,000 acres that were bought for $5 an acre ten years ago and are now worth $100 to $125 an acre.

Mr. W. B. Whedon, Cashier of the First National Bank of Winteret, Iowa in a recent letter gives some experience a carpenter in his employ, that will be of value to other mechanics. He says: "I had a carpenter working for me who was obliged to stop work for several days on account of being troubled with diarrhoea. I mentioned to him that I had been similarly troubled and that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy had cured me. He bought a bottle of it from the druggist here and informed me that one dose cured him, and is again at his work." For sale by F. S. Duffy & Co.

WEAK ON SPELLING.

The Combination Word That Opened Commodore Vanderbilt's Safe.

According to all the traditions, Commodore Vanderbilt, who laid the foundation of the family wealth that has become proverbial, was a man without education, knowing little of the "three R's" and lamentably weak on spelling. He kept to himself the word on which the combination of the office safe was based until sudden sickness prevented his appearing one morning and it became necessary to transfer the secret in order that the day's work might be done without let or hindrance.

The bookkeepers to the commodore's house for the word key and received reply that "dog" was the necessary word. But every effort to release the bolts on the "d-o-g" combination failed, and it was necessary to send again to the Vanderbilt home in fear that the old financier might have made a thoughtless mistake. But the mistake was somebody else's when the frail combination commode roared at him: "Dog, you dog! Dog!" Confound you all for a lot of zanies! Go back—go back to the office and open that safe on 'dog'—'d-o-r-g-e,' 'dog!'—Philadelphia Times.

Death of Mrs. Salter.

Mrs. Louisa Salter, wife of Fernam Salter, died at her home at No. 60 Pasture street, at 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning of cancer. She was 49 years of age and had been a resident of New Bern for many years.

The funeral services will be held at the family residence this morning at 7:30 Rev. H. C. Moore will officiate.

Progressive Tippling.

A correspondent of the Lancet tells a story in reference to the rapid growth of the habit of tippling which may be developed in unsuspecting subjects. Two elderly ladies, he says, were surprised by a visitor in the act of drinking neat brandy. Upon his expressing some surprise they said that brandy had been recommended to them as a capital preventive against cholera and that they first took it with water, and then they took it without water, and now they took it like water.

When You Go Into a Drug Store to get a bottle of Painkiller, examine it carefully to see if it is made by Perry Davis, and don't be persuaded to take something "just as good" because it is a few cents cheaper. There is only one Painkiller, "Perry Davis'."

THE FASHIONS.

Fine black silk openwork stockings are worn with low shoes.

Madagascar grass cloth is made up into belts and is rather smart for that purpose.

The newest bows for corsage and military use show braided and knotted effects.

The dark blue and green combination so fashionable in waists, hat trimmings and costumes five seasons ago is being revived.

Houlton, Russian and fine chintilly designs are united in some of the more expensive and elaborate lace medallions used this season.

Long evening gloves are no longer buttoned, but laced with a fine silk cord, matching the gloves and run through tiny eyelets set very close to gether.

Some of the neck ruffles and cuffs presented this season as attractive novelties bear a close resemblance to pictures of those in vogue in the sixteenth century.

Queen Victoria's Way.

The queen's interest in and oversight of public affairs did not cease with the prince's death, although in the first years of overwhelming sorrow it had been difficult to carry out her conception of duty. All important resolutions were taken by her; the personal notes in The Court Circular were written by her own hand and were seen by no one else. When Sir Henry Ponsonby became the queen's private secretary, she said to him: "Remember this, no advice! I am older than you are and have had more experience." In after years historians will have much to say upon the queen's personal share in the government of her dominions. All her papers have been most carefully preserved and arranged and some day, perhaps, will be accessible to the inquirer. On the other hand there is not a single paper belonging to George III, which is known to be in existence.—Professor Oscar Browning in Century.

Beauty Triumphs

"Tis a Precious Treasure.

No woman objects to being beautiful. Beauty is woman's charm, joy, pride and strength. This world has always pitied and admired beautiful women. A pretty woman draws sympathy for fear of losing this power and influence over men. What can be done to perpetuate this grace and beauty? (Beauty) There is a hair restorative used by cultured and successful women in the world. Husbands will do well to investigate this remedy in order to measure their own on the point of care with which children can be born and all beauty of form and form retained.

Mother's Friend

The simple name by which this invaluable remedy is known, it will disinfect all parts allied to motherhood. Used throughout pregnancy it will disperse morbid humors, cure sore breasts, make static all tendons and fibres elastic, thus to find in position the ascending humors, reduce action under its soothing influence and the patient experiences freedom from the same. In the period, this is invaluable.

Mother's Friend is a solvent for internal applications. Women who are pretty before and after pregnancy should use it as a preventive. It is sold in bottles of 25 and 50 cents. Your druggist will give you a bottle. You will save our book "Mother's Friend."

is scarcely more agonizing than the recurrent pains in the abdomen which follow the eating of improper food or too free indulgence in ice-water. The immediate cause of cramps and colic is often the distention of the bowels by gas. Quick relief follows the use of Perry Davis' Painkiller. Careful housekeepers give it the place of honor in the family medicine chest.

Hats in Church.

"Time was," says the London Chronicle, "when men wore their hats in church, and Pops evidently considered it an unnecessary piece of strictness to insist on the bare head in church. In his diary for Nov. 17, 1661, he has the entry, 'To church and heard a simple fellow upon the praise of church music and exclaiming against men's wearing their hats on in church.'"

"On Sept. 28 following he went to the French church at the Savoy, where the minister do preach with his hat off, I suppose in further conformity with our church."

"Probably it was about this date that the custom of removing hats in the church began."

Ready Wit, Ready Money.

The University of Pennsylvania has not a large endowment, and that it finds the means to pay its current expenses and put up new buildings is due in great measure to its provost, Charles C. Harrison. His little black subscription book is well known in many a downtown office—too well known, a prominent broker told him not long ago. Mr. Harrison was pleading persistently with him for a subscription, but in vain. Finally the broker said: "See here, Mr. Harrison; I will give you something on one condition."

"Very well, Mr. T.," said the provost.

"Name it."

"The condition is that you promise never to come into my office again until I ask you to do so."

"Certainly, Mr. T.; I agree to that," said the provost promptly and walked out smiling with a check for $1,000.

A month or so later the broker heard a knock at his door. "Come in," he called, and in walked Mr. Harrison. He had the black book under his arm.

"Good morning, Mr. T.," he said. "I want you to help me with a little university matter I am—"

"Look here, Mr. Harrison," the broker continued, "when I gave that last thousand dollars wasn't it on the express condition that you shouldn't come into my office again until I invited you?"

"Why, yes," returned the provost. "I believe that was the understanding. But didn't you say 'Come in' just now when I knocked?"

"They say the check this time was for $5,000."

A HONEYMOON CLOUD.

Why the Bride Feared Her Husband Did Not Love Her.

"It was pretty hard to have the honeymoon clouded before we had been married two hours," complained a newly married man. "Fact is, though, the excitement of the wedding day took away the little sense I had remaining."

"We were married at noon and, after dodging the customary rice and old shoes left for the station. We had barely time to catch our train, and I rushed up to the ticket window at once. Then, once more, we had to run the gauntlet of friends, who think it smart to throw rice down one's collar and have it sift down into one's shoes."

"We got into the train at last, and when it started I heaved a sigh of relief. When the collector came round for tickets, I handed mine over. After looking at it for a moment he asked me if the lady was traveling with me."

"That was the last straw, and I snapped out for him to mind his own business."

"That is what I am trying to do," he answered coolly. "One more ticket, please."

"Then it flashed upon me that in the hurry and excitement of the moment I had forgotten I had a wife. I paid the other fare and tried to laugh it off, but the look that my wife gave me will linger with me as long as I live. It took me two hours to argue her out of the impression that I didn't love her any more, and she isn't fully satisfied yet."—Kansas City Independent.

The Habits of the Robin.

Let us hide behind that clump of blackberry bushes and watch the parent birds as they come to feed their young. There comes the father robin now. You can distinguish him from the mother by his darker plumage. You will notice that in coming with the food he alights on a particular twig, hops along a particular side of the nest. If you watched him for a week, you would probably see him approach the nest in precisely the same way each time. Now here comes the mother, a lighter colored bird, with gray on the back of her head. You see that she reaches the nest by quite a different route and alights upon the other side of it, and she will do this over and over and over again. Like men and women, birds acquire habits which they rigidly adhere to unless something happens to prevent them.—Ernest Harold Baynes in Woman's Home Companion.

Honest Mistake.

The story is told of a little New England girl the workings of whose Puritan conscience involved her in difficulties on one occasion.

She was studying mental arithmetic at school and took no pleasure in it. One day she told her mother, with much depression of spirit, that she had "failed again in mental arithmetic."

And on being asked what problem had proved her undoing she sorrowfully mentioned the request for the addition of "nine and four."

"And didn't you know the answer, dear?" asked her mother.

"Yes," said the little maid; "but you know, we are to write the answers on our slates, and before I thought I made four marks and counted up, 'Ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen,' and then, of course, I knew that wasn't mental, so I wrote twelve for the answer to be fair."—Youth's Companion.
