A MATHEMATICAL PROBLEM

Can You Solve It or Prove That It Cannot Be Solved?

At a lecture at the Royal Institution on the fascinating subject of "Magic Squares" Major P. A. MacMahon, F. R. S., reminded his audience of the existence of a curious problem which, despite its apparent simplicity, has never yet been solved. He commended it to the attention of any one present who desired to exercise his ingenuity and patience.

The problem is as follows: There are thirty-six officers of six different ranks and drawn from six different regiments, and it is required to arrange them in a square of thirty-six compartments, so that in each row as well as in each column there appears an officer of each rank and also an officer from each regiment.

Euler's "Recherches Sur une Nouvelle Espece de Quarres Magiques," which appeared in 1782, discusses this problem, but gives no solution, and the late Professor Cayley, writing more than a century afterward, confessed that it was beyond his powers.

Major MacMahon, who has added so much to our knowledge of the theory of groups—a fascinating branch of mathematics which has an important bearing on many branches of physical science—has not yet found a key to the mystery.

Whoever can solve this problem or prove that it cannot be solved will achieve immortality on the lips of mathematicians and perhaps open a door into a new realm of the scientific wonderland which is called pure mathematics.—London Post.

A CARELESS CONSUL

The War Hero Hartie Came to Loss His Position at Glasgow.

When Bret Hartie was consul at Glasgow, he was seldom to be found in that city, as he spent most of his time in the London drawing rooms, where he was a general favorite, and delegated the consular business to assistants. One day, while making one of his rare visits to Glasgow he scraped acquaintance with a stranger on the train. Each seemed fascinated by the other's personality, and time passed quickly. At last they reached the outskirts of a large city.

"What place is this?" inquired the stranger.

"I haven't the slightest idea," replied Hartie, after looking out of the window.

A few minutes later the railway guard opened the door of the compartment and announced that they had arrived at Glasgow.

When Hartie showed up at the consulate the next morning, the first person who advanced to greet him was the agreeable stranger, who introduced himself as a special agent of the home government sent to investigate charges of neglect of duty on the part of the consul.

The agent may have been affable, but he was lacking in a sense of humor, for he evidently cabled his government an account of the train incident, as Hartie's successor was soon after appointed.

FOURTH OF JULY

Passes off Quietly. Large Crowd in the City. Old Vets Parade and are Feasted. Colored People Celebrate. Good Order Prevailed all Day.

The Glorious Fourth was celebrated here in a quiet but hearty way.

The morning dawned with clear skies, but it was early evident that a hot day was on hand, and it proved to be the hottest day of the season. At one o'clock the thermometer was bubbling at the 100 mark, and at five o'clock, had only fallen five degrees.

Despite the intense heat the streets were thronged all day with people, and everybody seemed to be enjoying the occasion.

At half past eleven the Confederate veterans marched to the Planters Warehouse, where they were served with an elegant dinner, after which they scattered about town, on pleasure bent. Many of these old soldiers will remember yesterday as a red letter day, and it is hoped that many such happy days are in store for them.

All day Thursday large crowds of colored people were coming in on boats, trains, cars and other vehicles, not a few walked in, by scores and hundreds and by noon, yesterday the streets were alive with them. No estimate could hardly be made of the immense crowd, but the climax was reached when an excursion of six cars came up into the afternoon from Morehead City and discharged its burden.

Notwithstanding the great number of people in town, good order prevailed, and no drunkenness or bad conduct was noticed, with one or two exceptions.

In the afternoon a ball game was pulled off at the Athletic Park by Beaufort and New Bern, colored, the home team winning.

A small show at the foot of Hancock street was about the only other amusement furnished the crowd, but what was lacking in amusements was made up at lemonade and peanut stands.

The small boy was very much in evidence with his fire cracker and torpedo, as many a pedestrian can testify from his "shocking" experience.

While no effort was made by the white people to celebrate the day in a formal manner, it passed off pleasantly and afforded an enjoyment for thousands of people whose lives are not overshadowed with happy days.

Beautiful Thoughts

The sweet, pure breath of the babe is suggestive of innocence and health. Some children are as light and delicate as the morning flower, some are strong and bright, some are frail and sickly.

A mother's recurring for children is inseparable from a love of the beautiful, and it behooves every woman to bring the sweetest influences to bear on the subject of her maternity.

It is made easy that period when life is born again.

Mother's Friend

It is popularly used. It is a pleasant, easily administered and for external use only. No risk, no unpleasant, steady a pain reliever and sedative.

Pregnant women are especially attracted to it. It is recommended by the medical profession to be used during the latter part of pregnancy, and it is especially recommended for the relief of the various ailments which attend the latter part of pregnancy.

It is a truly valuable remedy for all ailments of the mother and child.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

What is Democracy?

President Roosevelt in a speech at Harvard in paying a merited compliment to the venerable Senator Hoar, used a new term, "a Democracy like ours," thus indicating an apparent change, a new kind of Democracy.

This writer, is an "old time Democrat" and believes that the voice of the people is Democracy, the only just ruling power. He has never been in the political arena, felt no such aspiration, nor never had "an axe to grind." Yet, years of observation sustains the fact, (it is plainly seen,) that inconsistency in government matters, during the past decade, and especially in these days are surely notable.

He has always been opposed to the vote power, as being in line with "Kingly Power."

If the Voice of the People, or their representatives, pass a law, True Democracy, will, or should sustain that law, and none other than a "Majestic Power" has, (in his humble opinion) the right to veto or annex it. Briefly let me ask, can it be Democracy for one man, to grant advancement, to favorites, of the Army, or Navy, over the heads of others whose positions and merits are far above and superior, to that of these favorites? Evidently "imperialism" is peeping around, but she had best not venture in.

A man, though not claiming to be a "Solomon," said, "the political scheming, and rulings of the day, is a damnable blot upon the Euclydeon of America's so-called free government."

I confess I cannot feel other than a concurrence with him in opinion.

In this connection it may be appropo to say that the pardoning power so often used by the governors of States, both West and South, is a showing of imperialism pointedly at variance with what is understood as true Democracy.

A culprit is arranged before a court and sworn witnesses, who testify before sworn jurors, and tell what is received as positive truth, against law violators. The jurors find him guilty, the judge passes sentence. Yet ere long the criminal is pardoned by the governor, yet turned loose upon the community, and in some cases he again violates the law, (New Bern has had such a case,) and doubtless there are others.

Just here let me say, that if this pardon law power is to over rule the action of jurors, judges and the voice of the people, where is Democracy?

Let me ask you have courts? why are the people taxed to pay jurors etc., to keep up the apparent useless courts. If it is in the power of one man to annul their decisions. Justice is doubtless a noble principle, yet it should not be over ruled by sympathy. It may be claimed that there are palatial reasons for pardoning culprits, if so, why are they not brought before the court at the trials of the law violators, and check its discussions.

Vacation Days.

Vacation time is here and the children are fairly living out of doors. There could be no healthier place for them. You need only to guard against the accidents incidental to most open air sports. No remedy equals DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for quickly stopping pain or removing danger of serious consequences. For cuts, scalds and wounds "I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for some cuts and bruises," says L. B. Johnson, Swift, Tex. "It is the best remedy on the market." Sure cure for piles and skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits. F. B. Duff.

VETERANS MEET.

Representatives of the Confederate Army From Four Counties Hold a Reunion.

Once again the gray and grizzled veterans of the civil war have met in annual session to recall old memories and experiences of the great struggles of which they are survivors. Many who were present bore evidence of sacrifice and physical sufferings they had undergone. Though the ravages of time have made their marks on the brows of these men, yet when they assemble in these interesting unions their hearts beat as fast and their blood flows as free as it did in the days of '61-'65.

The reunion of Confederate Veterans here yesterday was made up of old soldier residents in Oraven, Jones, Onslow and the upper part of Pamlico counties. There were over one hundred soldiers in the procession many of whom were visitors.

The Camp met in the City Hall at 11 o'clock and was called to order by Commander K. R. Jones. One of the items of business transacted was to order the adjutant to get a book and inscribe upon separate pages the war history of each member of the Camp. He to be assisted in the work by the committee and first Lieutenant Commander. After several other minor items were transacted the old officers were re-elected. They were as follows: Commander, K. R. Jones, Sr.; Lt. Commanders, J. J. Wolfenden, Dan'l. Lane, and W. C. Brewer; Adjutant, J. F. Clark; Paymaster, M. DeW. Stevens; Quartermaster, J. M. Hargett; Surgeon, Dr. Chas. Duffy; Chaplain, A. C. Hart.

The deaths of five members of this Camp have occurred during the year. After the organization and business they formed a procession and marched to the Planters Tobacco Warehouse where the Daughters of the Confederacy had prepared dinner.

The dinner was a feature which was served with such lavish bounty that the old veterans and every one who partook had to cry "hold, enough!" The tables were decorated with handsome bouquets and on the walls hung the Confederate flags of several States.

The after dinner speeches were made by Hons. James A. Bryan, Charles R. Thomas, William Lane and William C. Lane and they had a ring of loyalty and patriotism that was rapturously applauded. They all complimented the ladies very highly which they richly deserved, the Women of the South during the war were also given their measure of warm praise for their noble deeds of love and sacrifice during those dark days. The Veterans disbanded after the speeches without further ceremony and all expressed themselves as delighted with their entertainment.

Several cart loads of water melons were brought in yesterday by the country people, which sold for good prices. The quality of the melons were rather poor.

Huckleberries are plentiful on the market, selling for 8 and 10 cents the quart. The pickers report a very large crop of them this year, and they are in excellent quality.

The colored people had a cake walk during yesterday afternoon and evening at the tobacco warehouse on the fair grounds. The event was immensely enjoyed by the colored populace and the visitors.

Ernest Blount colored, was arrested yesterday morning on the charge of carrying concealed weapons. On default of bail he was committed to jail to await trial in the August term of Criminal Court.

One of the Veterans who came here from Pamlico County yesterday met with a painful accident by spraining his ankle while on his way here. He received medical attention here and was able to attend the barbecue but suffered a great deal.

In the celebration of the Fourth, yesterday the transfer drivers looked well after the millinery of their steeds, and many styles of horse bonnets were exhibited. And even a mule hat was seen which although not very ornamental was perhaps thought much of by its wearer.

Vade Mecum Springs seems to have had a remarkable beginning. Their opening ball on June 21st was attended by 150 guests and was a brilliant affair. No other North Carolina resort could make such a showing this early in the season. There seems to be something in and behind this Vade Mecum movement beyond the ordinary. Their water is being marketed widely, they have scenery and climate that astonish all who visit the Sauratowns. They have acquired thousands of acres of land and the money seems to be forthcoming to make this first watering place in the land. A zoological garden and a system of turnpike roads are announced as a part of the immediate development.

London's Postal Service.

So complete are the postal arrangements of London that there is not a house more than 200 yards from a letter box or 400 from a postoffice and money order office. There are over 10,000 pillar boxes (we call them letter boxes, which are cleared every hour from 10 in the morning till 6 in the evening, and there are twelve deliveries a day in the city.

Double Headed Reptiles.

Double headed snakes have been known to occur, and in a German journal Dr. Collin of Berlin describes and figures a double tailed earthworm and mentions four cases of such malformations. Double tailed lizards have occurred; also double headed and double tailed fishes.

Flour Consumption.

The consumption of flour in the United States is about one barrel a year to every man, woman and child in the country.

A FRENCH NOTION.

blue panne trimmed with the insertion and finished with applique bowknots made of the velvet and insertion. The blouse fastens invisibly on one side.

White is Still Popular.

There is absolutely no waning in the popularity of white. Never before was so much white worn. Cloth, alpaca, homespuns, white china crape and other materials are much in demand, while inevitably for summer wear white muslins will be all the rage, dividing popular favor with white pique, which will be exceedingly smart made up with tiny gilt buttons and touches of gilt trimming.

Among the favorite combinations are black and white and green and white, both of which are striking. Particularly in foulards these combinations are noticeable. The prettiest among the new silks are the white ground foulards with black spots and the white foulards with green foliage designs running through them. The latter are often trimmed with a touch of black guipure edging a source of net or one of white or ecru guipure. The effect is strikingly original.

French and American Women.

The American woman is first of all neat. She likes things snug and trim, and all this fancy and theatrical business does not appeal to her. Her critical faculties are free, and when she sees a thing she asks: "Why is it made so fanciful? Why not more simple?" This is the reason why French hats lose much of their grotesqueness when identified with the better class on this side. In fact, good taste is pretty much the same the world over, and the really stylish American women are similar in their tastes. The difference is in figure, life and necessities are really accountable for the difference in dress. The American woman in the same position as the French woman would probably dress similarly, and the French woman under similar conditions in America would bring herself undoubtedly to our standpoint.—Chicago Tribune.

A Floral Tent.

Construct a floral tent in this manner: Connect the tall center stake with the low stakes surrounding it in a circle or triangle by lengths of stout twine. Train morning glories, Japanese hop vines or jack and the beanstalk along the strings, water generously, and the thing is done.

Thick Gravy.

For a thick gravy fry a minced onion in butter to a dark brown color, stir into it one ounce flour, stir well, then add half pint of stock, pepper and salt to taste and a little catchup. Stir while all boil for a few minutes, then strain and serve.

Tobacco Plant.

The Nicotiana affinis, or sweet scented tobacco plant, should be in every garden. It attains a height of two feet under good conditions, bears an abundance of large, fragrant, pure white blossoms and is sufficiently hardy. The plants, if cut back at the time of the autumn potting, will bloom all winter.

The Indian Vina.

The Indian vina is a bar of hollow bamboo, to which are fastened two empty gourds. It is strung with eight wires, five of which are provided with movable frets.

OLD PEOPLE

Do not always receive the sympathy and attention which they deserve. Their ailments are regarded as purely imaginary, or natural and unavoidable at their time of life. Disease and infirmity should not always be associated with old age. The eye of the gray haired grandaunt may be as bright and the complexion as fair as any of his younger and more vigorous companions.

Good Blood is the secret of healthy old age, for it regulates and controls every part of the body, strengthens the nerves, makes the muscles elastic and supple, the bones strong and the flesh firm; but when this life fluid is polluted or poisoned and loses its nutritive, health sustaining elements, then there is a rapid decline of the vital powers, resulting in premature old age and disease. Any derangement of the blood quickly shows itself in an ulcer, sore, wart, tumor or some other troublesome growth upon the body, and rheumatic and neuralgic pains become almost constant, accompanied with poor digestion and cold extremities.

S. S. S. being purely vegetable, is the safest and best blood purifier for old people. It does not shock or hurt the system like the strong mineral remedies, but gently and thoroughly cleanses the blood and stimulates the debilitated organs, when all bodily ailments disappear. S. S. S. is just such a tonic as old people need to improve a weak digestion and tone up the stomach. If there is any hereditary taint, or the remains of some disease contracted in early life, S. S. S. will search it out and remove every vestige of it from the system.

Write us fully about your case and let our physicians advise and help you. This will cost you nothing, and we will mail free our book on blood and skin diseases.

NOTES OF NOTABLES.

The late E. L. Goddin was engaged upon a volume of reminiscences when he died.

Lieutenant Colonel Andrew Haggard, a brother of Rider Haggard, the novelist, has opened a barber shop.

A. H. Curtis, cashier of the National Bank of North America, New York, recently carried $4,000,000 with him in money from the bank's old home to its new quarters.

John Glover, whose death occurred recently in Tyneside, England, was the inventor of the Glover tower, an apparatus of enormous value in the chemical trade.

Rev. Dr. Joshua Young, the well known Unitarian preacher at Groton, Mass., and at one time a noted abolitionist, has retired from the ministry after fifty-three years of active service.

Dr. William Craig Burke, who was the oldest alumnus of Dartmouth college, has just died in Cheyenne, Wyo. He was a member of the church council which tried the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher.

Charles Stewart Street, an American whist expert, will teach King Edward the king of all card games. The king and a small party of royalties will receive their first lessons during coronation week.

Francis Varga, who as advocate general under Louis Kossuth in the struggle for the enfranchisement of 40,000,000 serfs in Hungary, sentenced 200 persons to death, many of them noblemen, has just died at Leon, Ia.

Though not a preacher, Congressman Candler of Mississippi takes active interest in religious matters and while at home during the summer always holds revival meetings in the country places. He has spoken from several Washington pulpits.

King Edward has invited the Right Rev. Dr. Brindle, D. S. O., the Roman Catholic bishop of Nottingham and for twenty-five years a chaplain to the forces, to bless the colors that his majesty will present to the new regiment of his Irish guards on June 24.

Senator Hanna and Secretary Cortelyou are daily in receipt of numerous requests for the autograph of the late President McKinley. Both were very close to Mr. McKinley, but neither had many of his signatures, and the few they possessed were long ago given away.

THE FASHIONS.

Square cut necks are to be seen occasionally, and they are becoming to some women.

Batiste is used in combination with shepherd's check and foulard gowns for both waist and skirt trimmings.

White India mull neckties, tucked in points at the ends and trimmed with medallions and one deep frill of lace, are among the novelties.

White buckskin shoes are considered the proper finish to a white summer costume, and pipeclay will keep them in their pristine freshness.

The jacket and skirt costume of pale blue pique or blue butchers' linen, trimmed with strapings of the same, piped with butter colored batiste, the points held down with tiny gold buttons, forms a charming summer gown.

Embroidered India mulls, in white or delicate shades of pink, beige blue or ecru, made over lawn, tulle or slips, form very pretty summer gowns which are almost if not quite as effective and dainty as the more perishable chiffon.—New York Post.
