GREENSBORO FULFILLED ITS PLEDGES.

The holding of the Democratic State Convention at Greensboro this week marked a new epoch in the convention line in this State.

In presenting its claims for the convention, and securing the convention upon such representations, the people of Greensboro placed before themselves a most difficult task.

Now that the convention has been held, it can be seen whether Greensboro lived up to its representations, and carried out its part of the promises given to those who should attend.

The perhaps fifteen hundred and more visitors which visited Greensboro during the convention days, gave evidence that those who came believed that they could be given the attention promised.

That all visitors were well treated, was shown by the absence of complaints.

In convention hall accommodations the Grand Opera House afforded the room, while every kind of mechanical and human device for air, light and physical comforts were given those in attendance.

It was a great gathering of representative citizens from every part of North Carolina, in a city full of energy, progress and enlightenment, yet one which has not failed to learn and practice that most graceful accomplishment of entertaining, hospitably, comfortably and without personal restraint, all those who may come within its borders.

As in its business affairs and enterprises, so in its convention, Greensboro has made good what it promised.

The convention has not been merely a gathering of citizens to nominate men for political offices, it has been also a gathering of men who have noted with State pride the growth of Greensboro, and been rejoiced in its splendid successes in material, educational and social development.

It has been more than political gain to have visited Greensboro, it has been to learn and actually see what local effort can do in accomplishing great local development. It has been an object lesson of vast profit to North Carolinians throughout the State.

A SATISFIED DEMOCRACY.

No finer representation of North Carolina citizenship could have been assembled, than that which met in Democratic convention at Greensboro, July 18th.

It was not only a splendid gathering of men from every profession and trade, but it was one which seemed perfectly satisfied with what its party had accomplished, in the fulfillment of its political pledges.

And more than this was to be noted the fact that it felt able to handle future problems, and had no fear of what these problems might be.

The Democracy of North Carolina has had much to contend with in its time, yet it is on record that when true to its principles, it has not failed to be given power, and placed in control of the State's interests.

It may be this prevalent thought with the North Carolina Democracy, that it is capable to conduct affairs of State, which gives it the feeling of inward satisfaction and strength, which makes it fearless in its political battles.

There was this note of a triumphant Democracy to be seen and felt in the Greensboro Convention.

It may be that the inward satisfaction was too great, that the outward danger was too greatly minimized, and that there is danger lurking, where none appears.

But if there is a secret danger, if Democracy's political power in this State is threatened, the danger comes from within the party.

And it is not the danger of inability or weakness in hostile conditions, to meet and decide issues as the national decided, for the best interests of the people, of which the Democracy has to beware.

It is only in the neglect of its pledges and promises, that danger can come.

No party can be faithless to what it has promised the people and be kept in power. It may feel impregnable, but it cannot stand unless true to what it has pledged itself.

Democratic promises stand on record, are known to all citizens in North Carolina, and with their fulfillment rests the hopes of a continued Democracy in power to carry along every interest of a great commonwealth.

ARE THE OLD CROWDED OUT?

Quite often in the public press are seen articles, which tell of young men whose ability have advanced them into high positions of trust and responsibility, which have been held by men much older in years.

It is this advancement of what are called young men, into positions supposed to be only attainable by men past middle age, which so often causes reports that old men are being crowded out of active business life by men comparatively young.

It cannot be held or maintained by facts, that the man of middle or past middle age, is less sure of his position as a worker in the present day, than he has been in past times.

The question at what age is a man young or old is debatable one, for there are men who are old, so far being able to attain better things, at twenty five years, while there are others at fifty who are capable of mental and physical growth.

Being crowded out of the world's workshop, is not so much a matter of age, as it is the lack of personal equipment, mental, physical and moral.

This being true, how necessary is the work of beginning right, and at an early age, the building up of the individual, so that life's battle can be successfully waged, so that middle age shall find no barrier to the individual growth in character, of mental development, nor shall the physical be found lacking to sustain its needed work for mind, soul and body.

On every side can be seen splendid types of manhood and womanhood, who may be old, as days, months and years are counted, but who never show in themselves the sign of vigor abated, of mind weakened, but whose souls look forth into the world with eyes undimmed and character as strong for battle, as though just beginning the conflict of life.

It is not that old men or old women are crowded out by the young, but that they have fallen within themselves, because of some lack of preparation, which should have been made in the early days, and because of this lack they must give way before those who have fitted themselves to hold positions of trust and responsibility.

Women and Jewels.

Jewels, candy, flowers, man—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined in the strenuous efforts to make or save the money to purchase them.

New Bark in Trees.

It is not a new fact, but yet a remarkable one, that if a fruit tree—apple, pear or cherry—be stripped entirely of its bark in the second week in June a new surface of bark will immediately take the place of the older one. It is believed that the chief growth of deciduous trees in our part of the world takes place at midsummer.

The Best Prescription for Malaria. Chills and Fever is a bottle of GNOVE'S TANNIN AND QUININE. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. No cure—no pay. Price 50c.

A French Drink.

The French are noted for their delicate and delicious drinks. The advantage of such a one that is non-alcoholic is apparent to every one. A favorite Parisian recipe calls for five pounds of raisins, five pounds of dried apples and five gallons of water. Put all together in a small cask or large earthen jar and let it stand uncovered for three days, stirring occasionally from the bottom. At the end of that time bottle with half a teaspoonful of sugar and a stick of cinnamon in each bottle. Cork tightly and store in a cool place. The fruits having fermented, the drink will keep for a considerable length of time and is really delicious when served ice cold. It is claimed that over 50,000,000 gallons of this punch were drunk in France in a single year.

Mother Always Keeps it Handy.

"My mother suffered a long time from distressing pains and general ill health due primarily to indigestion," says L. W. Spalding, Verona, Mo. "Two years ago I got her to try Kodol. She grew better at once and now, at the age of seventy six, eats anything she wants, remarking that she fears no bad effects as she has her bottle of Kodol handy." Don't waste time doctoring symptoms. Go after the cause. If your stomach is sound your health will be good. Kodol rests the stomach and strengthens the body by digesting your food. It is nature's own tonic. F. S. Duffy.

Domestic Fowls. Fowls are supposed to have been first domesticated in China 1400 B. C.

Japanese Drum. In the Japanese temples there is a large drum used in worship. It is called the kagura talko. It gives a tone much like a gong and is used in devotion.

A Good Cough Medicine.

It speaks well for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy when druggists use it in their own families in preference to any other. "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the past five years with complete satisfaction to myself and customers," says Druggist J. Goldsmith, Van Etten, N. Y. "I have always used it in my own family for both ordinary coughs and colds and for the cough following la grippe, and find it very efficacious." For sale by F. S. Duffy & Co.

Spinning an Egg.

One of Lord Kelvin's favorite experiments while teaching natural philosophy at the University of Glasgow was to spin an egg which was suspended in the air. If the egg were hard boiled, it would spin a long time; otherwise, owing to the friction between its contents and the shell, its motion would soon cease. Lord Kelvin inferred from this that the interior of the earth cannot be a fluid, or the globe's rate of rotation would have been checked long ago. Once the students substituted raw eggs for the hard boiled ones provided for the experiment. Not one would spin properly, but Lord Kelvin was not to be fooled. "None of them boiled," was his only comment.

Saves a Woman's Life.

To have given up would have meant death for Mrs. Lois Cragg, of Dorchester, Mass. For years she had endured untold misery from a severe lung trouble and obstinate cough. "Often," she writes, "I could scarcely breathe and sometimes could not speak. All doctors and remedies failed till I used Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was completely cured." Sufferers from Coughs, Colds, Throat and Lung Trouble need this grand remedy, for it never disappoints. Cure is guaranteed by O. D. Bradham. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Not Very Smart.

"There's no use in trying to make me believe that Francis Bacon was a very smart man," said Senator Sorghum. "Have you read any of his works?" "No, but his biography shows that when there was a little financial deal on hand he wasn't clever enough to keep from getting caught."—Washington Star.

A Sprained Ankle Quickly Cured.

"At one time I suffered from a severe sprain of the ankle," says Geo. E. Cary, editor of the Guide, Washington, Va. "After using several well recommended medicines without success, I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and am pleased to say that relief came so soon as I began its use and a complete cure speedily followed." Sold by F. S. Duffy & Co.

RALEIGH.

Considerable Sickness at the Soldiers Home.

Board of Agriculture in Session. The City of Raleigh Farm a Success. Gain in Railway Mileage. Death of J. S. Scarlett.

RALEIGH, July 18.—J. S. Scarlett of Durham, died in the Soldiers Home here this morning. His age was 56 and death was due to paralysis. He was for many years a policeman at Durham. Twenty of the inmates of the home are sick; all having ailments due to old age.

Republicans here smile at the rumor that their party will nominate Senator Pritchard for Chief Justice.

Col. Thomas S. Kenan has gone to Richmond to attend a meeting of the executive committee of the Confederate "Battle Abbey," of which he is a member.

The Board of agriculture is in session. Today the State Chemist Kilgore made a report, largely on the soil test farms, of which there are two: in Robeson and Edgecombe counties. He says they are very successful. It is the desire to have later on, one such farm in each of the Congressional districts.

State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner is not convalescing as rapidly as expected. It may be sometime before he is able to return to his office.

Ex-State Chairman, James H. Poup says regarding the Democratic State Convention at Greensboro, that it was the best since 1890 and that he is more hopeful of the party's future than at any time since that year. He says he thinks the party is "out of the woods and all right."

The corporation commission calls for a statement by the banks up to the close of business July 16.

This city now owns a 200 acre farm. The latter is a financial success. Grain for feed of the city's horses and mules is the chief crop. An ample supply is raised.

Chairman McNeill of the corporation says this year's report of new railway mileage in North Carolina will show a substantial gain over last year's record in that respect.

The Pride of Profession.

Soldiers, remarks the Kansas City Journal, are the only ones who really have pride in their profession. When a soldier dies, he is hauled to his grave on the trucks of an old cannon, and his memory would be disgraced if any other vehicle were used. But think what a howl would go up against the family if a dead farmer should be hauled to his grave on the trucks of a sulky plow!

Don't Fail to Try This

Whenever an honest trial is given to Electric Bitters for any trouble it is recommended for a permanent cure will surely be effected. It never fails to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bowels, stimulate the liver, invigorate the nerves and purify the blood. It's a wonderful tonic for run-down systems. Electric Bitters positively cures Kidney and Liver Troubles, Stomach Disorders, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and expels Malaria. Satisfaction guaranteed by C. D. Bradham. Some Naval Facts.

A knot is 6083 feet long. The distance from New York to Liverpool is 3,064 nautical miles by the northern track and 3,129 by the southern track. The former course is taken by vessels bound for Liverpool. From Liverpool to New York the distances are respectively 3,039 and 3,109 miles. In estimating records the points taken on either side are Sandy Hook and Daunt's rock, Queenstown harbor. The first light sighted on the British coast is the Bull, Cow and Calif, Ireland, and on the American coast either Nantucket or Fire Island.

Need More Help.

Often the over-taxed organs of digestion cry out for help by Dyspepsia's pains, Nausea, Dizziness, Headaches, liver complaints, bowel disorders. Such troubles call for prompt use of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They are gentle, thorough and guaranteed to cure. 25c at C. D. Bradham's drug store.

Making it Simple.

The scholarly looking man with the big eyeglasses had been invited to address the Sunday school and was making a few remarks concerning the lesson.

"I see the word 'line' occurs here," he said. "Will some one give me a definition of 'line'?"

"Nobody answered," he proceeded encouragingly, "though you may find it a little perplexing to convey the idea in simple terms. Try again. Well, the ordinary signification of the word is longitudinal extension, but here it denotes a predetermined boundary. I am sure, my young friends, you can remember that."—Chicago Tribune.

Saved From an Awful Fate.

"Everybody said I had consumption," writes Mrs. A. M. Shields, of Chambersburg, Pa. "I was so low after six months of severe sickness, caused by Hay Fever and Asthma, that few thought I could get well, but I learned of the marvelous merit of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, used it, and was completely cured." For desperate Throat and Lung Diseases it is the safest cure in the world, and is infallible for Coughs, Colds and Bronchial Affections. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. D. Bradham's.

Where Did It Go?

Special to Journal. RALEIGH, July 18.—It is said that the reserve fund of the late North Carolina Base Ball League is to be divided among Raleigh, New Bern and Greensboro clubs.

It will hardly exceed $150, or about $50 to each club.

Special to Journal. RALEIGH, July 18.—B. W. Ballard and B. C. Beckwith, of the State Board of Internal Improvements, leave here tomorrow to take a trip of inspection over the Atlantic and North Carolina railroad.

ADVISING AN ARTIST.

The Novel Suggestion That Was Contributed by Uncle Silas.

Uncle Silas Eastman and his wife took summer boarders. One year they had a number of artists, who were attracted by the picturesque loneliness of the Eastman farm, and Uncle Silas never hesitated to say afterward that artists were "beyond him."

"They make no trouble about their eating," he said to a friend when at last the boarders had taken their way to fresh fields. "You couldn't eat 'em up, but then they never minded what they never found any fault."

"But they've got curious notions and mighty little faculty and common sense. One of 'em was to work on a sunset piece all the time he was here. I went out one evening and asked him how he was getting on, and he says: 'Oh, Uncle Silas, the light changes so fast, and the effect is so hard to get, and there's only one night more!'"

"He was a nice little fellow, and I felt sorry for him, so I says: 'Well, why in tunket haven't the rest of 'em took hold with ye and helped ye out? There's room enough on that canvas for all four of ye to be working together! I bet ye never thought of aking 'em, now did ye? I says: 'And do ye believe me, I'm as sure as I'm standing here in my overalls from the blank look that spread over his face that the idea had never come into his poor, foolish head till I put it there!'"

"They've got their place, artists have, but there'd ought to be a garden pointed over every one of 'em that I ever saw! Yes, sir!"—Youth's Companion.

Mr. W. S. Whedon, Cashier of the First National Bank of Winterset, Iowa in a recent letter gives some experience a carpenter in his employ, that will be of value to other mechanics. He says: "I had a carpenter working for me who was obliged to stop work for several days on account of being troubled with diarrhoea. I mentioned to him that I had been similarly troubled and that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy had cured me. He bought a bottle of it from the druggist here and informed me that one dose cured him, and is again at his work." For sale by F. S. Duffy & Co.

Acts Immediately.

Colds are sometimes more troublesome in summer than in winter, it's so hard to keep from adding to them while cooling off after exercise. One Minute Cough Cure cures at once. Absolutely safe. Acts immediately. Sure cure for coughs, colds, croup, throat and lung troubles. F. S. Duffy.

William Black's Joke.

On one occasion when William Black, the novelist, and his wife were to sup with Mary Anderson in her room at the Lyceum he got access beforehand to the supper room, famous as the meeting place of the old Beefsteak club, and pasted over the labels of the champagne bottles a paper bearing in large letters the one word "Poison!" It happened on this occasion that, unknown to Black, Mary Anderson was entertaining a number of guests with whom she was but slightly acquainted, so that the joke turned out to be somewhat embarrassing. It must have given the strangers, who knew Black only by repute, something of a shock to discover how very boyish he was under his cold outward demeanor.

Vacation time is here and the children are fairly lying out of doors. There could be no healthier place for them. You need only guard against the accidents incidental to most open air sports. No remedy equals DeWitt's Hazel Balm for quickly stopping pain or removing danger of serious consequences. For cuts, scalds and wounds "I used DeWitt's Hazel Balm for sores, cuts and bruises," says L. B. Johnson, Swift, Tex. "It is the best remedy on the market." Sure cure for piles and skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits. F. S. Duffy.

One of Oswald's Jokes.

When a play written by a man who had roused Oswald's anger by reading a newspaper at a wedding of one of his friends was produced, he prevented its success by inducing 250 of his friends to attend it carrying great books. These young men, who occupied prominent seats, read their books while the performance was going on, and whenever there was any applause each one of them, as if moved by clockwork, turned over a leaf. The rustling of the leaves and the spectacle of the men absorbed in reading made the performance's complete failure.
