WHICH SHALL PREVAIL?

The time is quickly drawing near when the question must be decided as to which is the greatest power, the Trusts or Governments, the latter being the people.

And this issue seems can only be determined by a conflict in which the People must prove themselves the superior and controlling force.

The Trust danger is no longer confined in this country, for, as the world's great business interests are becoming more closely allied, so most commercial combines extend over the world wherever the interest of each is found.

The press is now telling of the "world's greatest trust," it being the combination of the three monster oil interests of Rockefeller, Rothchild and Nobel, which propose to control the world's product, having given notice to the Russian oil people that they must join or fight.

This "greatest trust" has alarmed the Russian government, which is seeking an anti-trust conference with other countries, looking no doubt to the forming of some means which shall protect the Russian oil exporter's interests.

Here is a Trust, that has become international in its scope, which proposes to dictate to the oil consumers of the earth.

In this particular matter of oil, it is a fearful menace to the people, which deprives them of every power of action or choice in the matter of buying and using this most important article of daily consumption.

Yet in this country, very many other necessities are thus controlled by Trusts, to the harm of the consumer and the injury of trade.

It is a very live question, this, as to which shall prevail, the Trusts, a few men feeding upon the needs of the masses, or the People whose interests are being absolutely governed by a few individuals.

NO CITY AND COUNTRY DIVIDING LINE.

In the march of twentieth century progress, the old dividing line between city and country, is fast being removed.

Of course corporate limits confine or make the boundaries of a municipality, and beyond these stretches the country, until some other line of municipality is reached.

But the dividing line between city and country is fast dissolving, and becoming a purely imaginary or arbitrary one.

The reason for this is easily to be noted in the modern improvements taking place.

Paved roadways or macadamized highways, no longer belong to the city, exclusively, for the country roads are being constructed as finely as those in the cities, the one merging into the other, without any distinguishing mark.

This places the city within easy driving distance of the farmer, making his communication a daily one with the city instead of a weekly or monthly one, as in times past.

Then in the matter of mail facilities, with the free rural delivery, the farmer finds his daily mail at hand, as convenient as does the city resident.

To farm in the city, does not mean isolation or the abandonment of personal or social comforts, for the farmer has his daily newspaper, and other periodicals as quickly as does the city resident.

The improved public highway places him within easy reach of the city. Schools and churches are within sight of his home, and the telephone places the farm home within call and speaking distance of every portion of the city.

KEEPS FAITH WITH ITS PATRONS.

A few days ago the JOURNAL was given a notice for publication, it being

A joint circular issued by the A. & N. C. R. R. the Atlantic Coast Line and the E. C. D. Line, notifying all shippers that their freight must be removed from the custody of the above carriers within forty-eight hours after a certain time, or a storage charge would have to be paid by the owner of the property.

This circular produced a mild panic among local merchants who had been accustomed to receiving one and more carload lots of goods, and keeping the same in the transportation companies' warehouses, taking out such portions as needed from time to time.

This charge for storage meant less buying, or the providing of store rooms for the larger merchants.

This of course meant extra expense, and considerable trouble to merchants to provide at once suitable and convenient store rooms.

This circular was a surprise to the JOURNAL, in that the Atlantic & North Carolina railroad company was a party to an agreement to charge its patrons storage on goods in its warehouse, when it was remembered that the A. & N. C. company in building its Trent river warehouse, had publicly given its reason for so building, that its patrons might have convenient storage room, and with out any charge to them for the space used.

This was no less than bad faith on the part of the A. & N. C. management, in entering upon an agreement to charge storage, when it had promised not to do so.

But in this matter the JOURNAL is glad to say, that the A. & N. C. management within a very short time has withdrawn from the circular compact, and as can be seen in another column of this paper, has again restored storage room, free, as before to its patrons.

This is as it should be, for whatever reasons the other transportation companies may wish to prescribe as to their own storage room, there is no reason for the A. & N. C. company to be bound to break faith with its patrons, on a matter which is purely local in character.

If the A. & N. C. management had broken faith in this matter of storage, what was its patrons to expect of it, in any future promises. That it has so quickly reconsidered its unwise action, is a matter of congratulation for its own and as well all other business interests in this city.

Antiquity of Glass.

Glass, as far as research has been able to determine, was in use 2,006 years before the birth of Christ and was even then not in its infancy. In the state collection at the British museum there is the head of a lion molded in glass bearing the name of an Egyptian king of the seventh dynasty.

His Best Role.

They were discussing the amateur theatricals of the previous evening, and Theopis was bewailing the hard luck that had brought on a violent headache and prevented his appearance.

"Do you know, old boy," he said confidentially, "that was to have been the effect of my life. I had the love scene down fine, and Mildred's heart must have been of stone if she failed to see that I was in earnest. I was willing to stake everything on the result, for I was confident she would accept me the moment the curtain went down. And to think that my usual hard luck would step in just when all my hopes were about to be realized!"

"I heard Mildred refer to your non-appearance," remarked Fayer.

"Yes did? And what did she say?"

"She said you performed an act of charity by not coming on."

Gentlemen:—I have had Eczema over thirty years, have tried many remedies prescribed by various physicians, but to nothing has the disease yielded so readily as to LIQUID SULPHUR. I think it used properly it is undoubtedly a specific for Eczema. I have prescribed it for others with most satisfactory results. I consider it the best remedy for cutaneous affections I have ever known, and regard it as the greatest medical discovery of the age.

It Puzzled Him.

It is said of a former Marquis of Townshend that when young and engaged in battle he saw a drummer at his side killed by a cannon ball which scattered his brains in every direction. His eyes were at once fixed on the ghastly object, which seemed to engross his thoughts. A superior officer observing him supposed he was intimidated at the sight and addressed him in a manner to cheer his spirits. "Oh!" said the young marquis, with calmness, but severity, "I am not frightened. I am puzzled to make out how any man with such a quantity of brains ever came to be here!"

At the finish of a football match a youngster in his hurry to get out scrambled over the paling that surrounds the ground.

A burly policeman standing by shouted to him as he was about to drop outside, "You young rascal, why don't you go out the way you came in?"

"So I am!" shouted the boy as he vanished into the crowd.

The policeman also vanished, amid the laughter of the bystanders.

Report Of Superintendent Of Education.

Asuspicious Tobacco Opening. Possible Political Fate of Gen. Bellamy, Dr. Cooke Elected Dean of the New Medical Department of Wake Forest College.

RALEIGH, Aug. 1.—The State superintendent of public instruction has received a report on education, or rather illiteracy in Robeson county. At the end of the report the superintendent has written the words: "This is fearful," and they certainly express the facts in the case. The report says that the following cannot read or write, being persons between the ages of 13 and 31.

White males 258, white females 188; negro males 633, negro females 561; Croatan Indian males 229, Croatan Indian females 215; total 2082. State Auditor Dixon is to make an educational speech in Robeson next week and these figures are furnished him. The statement furnished also gives the average pay of public school teachers in Robeson. That of white males is $98, per month, white females $97; negro males $30.70, negro females $28.00; Croatan males $26.80, Croatan females $25. The negro teachers get more than the white teachers.

A circular letter will be issued by the State Superintendent tomorrow, with the approval of the other state officials, setting forth that the public school fund will continue to be apportioned between the whites and negroes not per capita but as needed to keep the schools for both races open at least four months in each year. This is the only constitutional and proper way.

The tobacco season was formally opened here today. All the warehouses were crowded with leaf. The quality of some of this was unusually high thus early in the year. Prices as high as $32 were realized. Tobacco was here from 5 counties.

"He rubbed the poison off his hands into his eyes and for a while we were afraid he would lose sight. Finally a neighbor recommended DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The first application helped him and in a few days he was as well as ever." For skin diseases, cuts, burns, scalds, wounds, insect bites, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is sure cure. Given Life Sentence.

Special to Journal. RALEIGH, Aug. 1.—Gov. Aycock today consented to imprisonment for life in the penitentiary, Richard Blaton, who was under sentence of death for rape at Salisbury.

The Governor says that Blaton's guilt is too uncertain to permit his execution. The only evidence against him was that of a woman who saw him in an uncertain light through open door. At first she failed to identify him and the officer turned him loose on her statement.

The trial judge urged the commutation. Richard Fleming, the other man convicted at the same time died declaring Blaton innocent. The judge said that but for the implied understanding that the sentence would be commuted to life imprisonment he would have set the verdict aside.

Women and Jewels.

Jewels, candy, flowers, man—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined in the strenuous efforts to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Boecher's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get this reliable remedy at F. S. Duffy's.
