Will Import Coal.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5.—The board of education of this city has completed arrangements by which anthracite coal will be imported from England to furnish fuel for the public schools during the winter.

Owing to the mine workers' strike the proposals of the board for furnishing about 35,000 tons of hard coal brought no bids, the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company and the Lehigh Valley Coal Company announcing that they could not quote prices.

The average price heretofore, paid for coal for the city schools has been $5.50 a ton, but under the arrangements just effected the cost of importation will be about $6.50. The work of transferring the fuel from the wharves to the schools will involve an additional expenditure.

A Parson's Noble Act.

"I want all the world to know," writes Rev. C. J. Budlong, of Ashaway, R. I., "what a thoroughly good and reliable medicine I found in Electric Bitters. They cured me of jaundice and liver trouble that had caused me great suffering for many years. For a genuine, all-around cure they excel anything I ever saw." Electric Bitters are the surprise of all for their wonderful work in Liver, Kidney and Stomach troubles. Don't fail to try them. Only 50 cts. Satisfaction is guaranteed by C. D. Bradham.

Bird Coler For Governor, New York

New York, Sept. 5.—David Bennett Hill did much conferring today with Democratic leaders, and the word went from the Hoffman House to Tammany Hall and back again that, as a result of that conference, the Democratic candidate for Governor would surely be Bird S. Coler, in the event of Chief Judge Alton G. Parker persisting in his determination not to head the ticket. The chief Judge will be once more urged to head the ticket, but the party leaders are unanimous in their belief that he will not reconsider his decision, and they have selected Coler for the place on the ticket from which he was ousted by Croker two years ago.

Coast Line Stocks.

Wonderful Medical Feat.

At Bellevue hospital, New York, a man named Smith, who had endeavored to commit suicide by cutting his throat, was recently cured in a most remarkable fashion. A tube was inserted into the windpipe, so that the man could breathe, but symptoms of pneumonia appeared. So the doctors placed a kettle of boiling water beside the bed, a pipe from which conducted hot vapor into the artificial windpipe, so that as he breathed a steady jet of hot vapor passed into the injured man's lungs. A tent was also placed over his cot so that no chilling draft might play upon him. This saved him from the threatened pneumonia, and the man was well again within three weeks.

The Hancock Liquid Sulphur Co., Baltimore, Md.

Gentlemen:—I have had Eczema over thirty years, have tried many remedies prescribed by various physicians, but to nothing has the disease yielded so readily as to LIQUID SULPHUR. I think if used properly it is undoubtedly a specific for Eczema. I have prescribed it for others with most satisfactory results. I consider it the best remedy for cutaneous affections I have ever known, and regard it as the greatest medical discovery of the age.

Respectfully yours, W. A. HEARD, M. D. For sale at F. S. Duffy's.

MERE MEN.

John Morley was the first English editor to be made a cabinet minister. Governor Odell of New York is a chess player of considerable ability, and chess is now his chief method of passing an otherwise idle evening.

Ex-Senator Ross, who cast the deciding vote against the impeachment of President Johnson, is now setting type in an Albuquerque (N. M.) newspaper office.

Major Sir Claude Maxwell Macdonald is a K. C. B. twice over, having had conferred upon him both the military and civil distinctions of the Order of the Bath.

John Burns, the labor member of parliament, who advised no more concessions for the American "Invaders," has sat for Battersea since 1892. He was formerly a stationary engineer.

Ex-Senator Cameron says he quit politics a good while ago, and he is of the opinion that "when a man quits and says he has quit he ought to quit and his friends ought to let him quit."

Captain I. M. Smith, the first man who stretched wires across the state of Wisconsin, is still living in Topeka, Kan. He has also made weather observations from a scientific standpoint for the past fifty years.

Mr. Balfour has this unique claim to distinction, says the London Globe—he is the first golding premier. May be never be numbered and always be at least one up at the finish. Lord Salisbury, though no golfer, had that knack.

St. William Vernon Harcourt, who declined a peerage when it was recently offered him by King Edward, is one of the leaders of the Liberal party in England and has held such positions as home secretary and chancellor of the exchequer.

J. Pierpont Morgan does not subscribe to a clipping bureau, but he always reads every day at least three leading newspapers and has his secretary clip from several others all matter in which it is thought he might be especially interested.

Peasie Pudding. For a peasie pudding beat two eggs until thick; add a pint of milk and sugar to make thick batter; pour a desiccated peasie into the batter and beat in a teaspoonful of baking powder; steam two and one-half hours in a buttered mold and serve with sauce.

TOBACCO RECEIPTS INCREASE.

Double Breaks at Local Warehouses. Prices Well Maintained in This Market.

At both the Farmers and Planters warehouses, yesterday, there was plenty of activity. The piles of tobacco show very much larger, piles of 500 pounds are common, there being one of 1700 pounds at the Planters.

Yesterday's breaks showed larger receipts than usual at both, with prices well maintained. The price received by tobacco growers at New Bern is having its effect, in attracting an increasing amount of tobacco to this market.

New Bern is constantly growing as a tobacco market, but it could be made to grow faster if local effort on the part of the trade here would assist in building up this market.

The season for shooting quail is said to be open in Pamlico county. The change of wind to the eastward causes much higher water in the rivers. An absence of fish in the local market made business dull on the dock, yesterday.

The Chattawka hotel is adorned with a fine sign, the handwork of Mr. E. T. Berry.

A few oysters in the market, but not enough to make any show. In quality fairly good. Ground has been broken for two residences on Craven street. They will be built for Mr. L. J. Moore.

The residence of J. W. Stewart is being painted and the fence surrounding his yard has been repaired.

The buildings of J. E. Latham & Co. and D. M. Roberts on Craven street have been nicely painted and decorated.

The home of Mr. A. D. Ward on Pollock street has been renovated and beautifully painted and repaired throughout.

It is not too early to agitate and even get up a football team. The Athletic Park ought to be the scene of some good games.

Three persons were before the Mayor yesterday morning charged with being disorderly. They paid the fines and were discharged.

60,000 pounds was the estimate of tobacco on the local market yesterday. With a little effort, it could be just as well 120,000 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble of Jones county have moved to the city and will occupy one of the new cottages recently built by William Dunn on Griffith street.

Several boats loads of water melons from lower river points are in the market. A good demand is reported, the price being about ten cents a piece in lots.

The change of temperature yesterday was most agreeable, the day being clear and cool, with the temperature in the sixties, it is not hard to realize that Fall is here.

Today is the anniversary of the shooting of President McKinley. One year ago the nation and the whole world was shocked by the news which came from Buffalo.

Considerable wood is being piled up here for winter consumption. Flats with wood find dealers ready to take all they bring here. It is likely to be all wanted later on.

There is a good field for a few professional nurses in this city. It often happens that when there is a good deal of sickness that competent help can not be secured at any price. There are only one or two here at present and in a place the size of New Bern there should be five or six.

Quite a little sport was afforded the spectators on Middle street Wednesday night by a wrestling match between two of the city's protectors. The smaller of the two was declared the victor after a spirited and hard fought contest. It is said the pair will do a stunt on the road for the gate receipts solely.

Policeman Lepton was called upon to arrest a colored woman up town yesterday who was making a racket. Upon his giving her some advice on how she should conduct herself she coldly told him to beak himself where they told him and the officer himself had evidence enough to gather a good sum for the benefit of education.

The schooner Midwayt about 9 o'clock last night, ran her bowsprit into the Meadows warehouse at Union Point. There was a big hole torn in the side of the building and the schooner's rigging had to be loosened in order to release the boat. The accident was probably due to darkness and the strong easterly wind causing a current at the point, causing the skipper to miss his calculation of distance.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

Wells For Tile Ditches.

Among the most essential things in the construction of tile ditches is a good outlet. A ditch may be dug and tilled all right (and do the work) for which it was made all right for a short time, and then it begins to fail, and when investigation is made to find the cause nine times out of ten it is found that the tiles have filled up for some distance. This is frequently caused by hogs and other stock. Now, this can be better prevented than remedied. Dig a well at the mouth five or six feet square and, four to six feet deep and wall it with two inch lumber. Cut a hole for the tile and let the tile project a few inches in the box, or well. Cut a space on the lower side of the box for overflow. Now, you have your tile where you can go any time and see if all is right. Nothing can enter the tile to choke it. Clean the mud, etc., out well as often as necessary to keep it below the tile. This can generally be done during dry times. More than one ditch can be emptied into one well all right. We have a ditch and well constructed on this plan, and over 300 rods of tile empty into the well, and we expect to run another ditch into the same well. This is not an expensive arrangement, and we would recommend it highly. We consider this one of the best things we ever learned in connection with farming and expect to adopt this plan until we have found something better.—W. T. Burford in Practical Farmer.

Paris Green.

The purity of paris green can be quite readily, and fairly accurately tested by dissolving it in strong ammonia water. If pure, all of the paris green will dissolve, the solution turning a deep blue color. Undissolved sediment indicates impurities or adulteration. Another test is to place a little of the paris green between two pieces of window glass and rub them together. If adulterated with lime, barium sulphate or similar white materials, it will appear to turn white in places. Paris green of good quality is intensely bright green and uniform. When adulterated, the green loses something of its intensity and is grayish green and is not always uniform.—Charles D. Woods, Director Maine Experiment Station.

The Difference in Cows.

Professor T. L. Haecker of the Minnesota experiment station states that by weighing all the food given during a year to the cows of the station dairy herd, weighing the milk and testing the butter fat it was found that some of the cows produced butter at a cost of 12 cents per pound, while for others the cost ran as high as 17 cents per pound. A few cows produced but little over 200 pounds of butter in a year, and others gave about 400 pounds. Breed made little difference, but the cows that made the cheapest butter were all of the wedge shaped dairy type.

An Innovation in Irrigation.

A practice which is gaining ground in the hottest parts of the irrigated region is that of growing alfalfa on a cover crop for the purpose of shading the soil and thus reducing soil temperature and perhaps of avoiding the ill effects of the reflection of burning sun heat from a smooth surface of light colored soil or the ill effect of "burning out of humus" by clean summer culture. In such case more irrigation is needed to supply enough water for the growth of both trees and cover crop.

Hard on the Celery.

August is counted one of the hardest months on the celery, and during this month the plants are apt to become stunted and dwarfed in their growth. To prevent this the Maryland station recommends mulching with well rotted stable manure or straw manure or clean straw early in the season, or, if water can be had conveniently, the plantation should be watered frequently and kept well cultivated after each application of water.

A Hardy Winter Onion.

I hope that a good many of my friends will try Barletta, White Queen and possibly White Portugal, says a writer in Practical Farmer, for sowing in open ground during August or early in September, the seedlings to be left outdoors during the winter to make early green onions for bunching. I have had even the Yellow Dutch thus started and wintered so well and give a big crop of very early bunching onions.

The Silver Beet.

The Silver beet is easily grown and should be better known. The leaves make very delicate "greens," and the crisp white stalks and midribs are a very good substitute for celery. Cut the stalks into neat pieces, boil in a little slightly salted water and serve in a cream sauce flavored with celery, salt and white pepper either plain or on toast.

To Retard Blooming.

The best way to retard blooming of fruit trees in spring is to scrape away the soil and expose the roots as much as possible to the cool air of the early season. This is adapted to the south only. In the north an opposite plan is required, and the trees should be heavily mulched to prevent early warming of the soil.—Farm and Ranch.

Cabbage Acreage Large.

Reports from local correspondents to American Agriculturist indicate a greatly increased cabbage acreage. Plants were large when set, weather was generally favorable for their taking a quick hold, and in nearly all cabbage growing sections a very large area has been planted.

DISTRESSING STOMACH DISEASE.

Permanently cured by the masterly power of "SOUTH AMERICAN NERVE TONIC," invalids need suffer no longer, because this great remedy can cure them all. It is a cure for the whole world of stomach weakness and indigestion. The cure begins with the first dose. The relief it brings is marvelous and surprising. No matter how long you have suffered, your cure is certain under the use of this great health-giving force. Pleasant and always safe. Sold by C. D. Bradham, Druggist.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY

An Honored Old Age.

Abram S. Hewitt, ex-mayor of New York city and the man whom Andrew Carnegie calls "America's foremost private citizen," celebrated his eightieth birthday at his summer home at Bar Harbor, Me., on July 31. The venerable gentleman passed this milestone of an active career in excellent health and spirits. Few men have had better opportunities to accumulate wisdom with years than Abram S. Hewitt. Gifted by nature, well trained, well placed and universally trusted, he has had about every sort of profitable public and business experience that any man could have. He is not in harmony with either of the political parties now contending in New York, but he does not for that reason imagine that the country is going to the demagogue bowwows. He retains his optimism and declares that there are good times coming to the people of America.

Belmont Takes Snuff.

Oliver H. P. Belmont is one of the few society men who have the snuff habit, this not as a result of the recent attempt made in London to revive a custom high in favor with our grandfathers, for Mr. Belmont has taken snuff for years.

He has quite a collection of valuable boxes and frequently amuses himself by taking out one of these jeweled receptacles and offering its contents to wondering friends. Usually the offer is declined.

But quite recently a young lady to whom he playfully extended the snuff surprised him by taking a pinch. As she was not accustomed to the habit and had merely snuffed from bravado a violent fit of sneezing followed. Mr. Belmont always laughs when he relates that she seemed to think the requirements of the situation fully met by the polite inquiry: "Oh, by your pardon! Did I sprinkle you?"

The Long and Short of It.

The tallest man in the present congress is Representative Cyrus Sulloway of New Hampshire. The shortest member is Samuel S. Smith of Michigan. Strange to say, Sulloway and Smith are great chums and have many confidential remarks to make to each other, although Smith has to stand on his tiptoes and Sulloway has to double himself up like a jackknife when these heart to heart communications take place. By the members who know of this intimacy Sulloway is referred to as "the majority," while Mr. Smith is called "the minority." The latter is only "the minority" so far as stature goes, for he is a very decided majority as regards his name. There are six Smiths in the house of representatives.

Churchill a Legislative Candidate.

Winston Churchill, the popular novelist who has just come out as a candidate for the legislature in New Hampshire, lives at Cornish, N. H. He was born in St. Louis Nov. 10, 1871, and his mother is a native of that city, but his father is a native of Maine and comes of old New England stock. The young author's novels, especially "Richard

WINSTON CHURCHILL.

Carvel" and "The Crisis," are immensely liked in New England. Mr. Churchill is now at work on a historical romance dealing with the times of the Louisiana purchase.

Underwood as a Mapmaker.

F. L. Underwood of New York, who is arranging the sixty million dollar cotton mill combination in the south to be known as the Southern Cotton Yarn company, came from Charleston, S. C. It is told of him that when as a lad in school he was asked to draw a map of the world Underwood drew a dot about as big as a pea to represent the world. Around that he drew a circle as large as a dime to represent the state of South Carolina, and outside of that he drew a circle as large as a quarter of a dollar to represent the city of Charleston.

A Sad Disappointment.

Ineffective liver medicine is a disappointment, but you don't want to purge strain and break the glands of the stomach and bowels. Dewitt's Little Early Risers never disappoint. They cleanse the system of all poison and peevish matter and do it so gently that one enjoys the pleasant effects. They are a tonic to the liver, cure biliousness, torpid liver and prevent fever. F. S. Duffy.

OLD PEOPLE

Do not always receive the sympathy and attention which they deserve. Their ailments are regarded as purely imaginary, or natural and unavoidable at their time of life. Disease and infirmity should not always be associated with old age. The eye of the gray haired grandparent may be as bright and the complexion as fair as any of his younger and more vigorous companions.

Good Blood is the secret of healthy old age, for it regulates and controls every part of the body, strengthens the nerves, makes the muscles elastic and supple, the bones strong and the flesh firm; but when this life fluid is polluted or poisoned and loses its nutritive, health sustaining elements, then there is a rapid decline of the vital powers, resulting in premature old age and disease. Any derangement of the blood quickly shows itself in an ulcer, sore, wart, tumor or some other troublesome growth upon the body, and rheumatic and neuralgic pains become almost constant, accompanied with poor digestion and cold extremities.

S. S. S. being purely vegetable, is the safest and best blood purifier for old people. It does not shock or hurt the system like the strong mineral remedies, but gently and thoroughly cleanses the blood and stimulates the debilitated organs, when all bodily ailments disappear. S. S. S. is just such a tonic as old people need to improve a weak digestion and tone up the stomach. If there is any hereditary taint, or the remains of some disease contracted in early life, S. S. S. will search it out and remove every vestige of it from the system.

Write us fully about your case and let our physicians advise and help you. This will cost you nothing, and we will mail free our book on blood and skin diseases. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC COMPANY, Atlanta, Ga.

FEAR OF A CAVIARE FAMINE

America Now Supplies the World With Sturgeon.

The time is said to be not far off when caviare will be as expensive as canvasback duck or diamondback terrapin. Though supposed to be a foreign delicacy, it is almost exclusively American. At one time all the caviare in the market was of European origin. European waters have been nearly fished out of sturgeon, however, and today the German and Russian manufacturers, who have a practical monopoly of the finished product, reimport the United States for the sturgeon eggs out of which the finished delicacy is made. The same process of extinction is going on in this country at a very rapid rate, and thus far no steps have been taken by either the national or the state governments to regulate the industry. At the present time the three centers of sturgeon catching are the Delaware river, the great lakes and the Columbia river. A limited number are caught in Puget sound, and according to ship captains, there is still a vast and untouched supply in the waters of southern Alaska. The waterways which run from Vancouver northward along British Columbia are another field of considerable promise.

But the first quality and the one which all epicures prefer comes from the Delaware. That of the great lakes is inferior in flavor, while the Pacific article is altogether too rank and coarse for the most refined palate. It was the latter which was described by an Irishman as a shad roe dressed in cod liver oil. Up to the present century there were many sturgeon in the Hudson and Connecticut, in New London and Narragansett bays, as well as Long Island sound, but the number has grown steadily smaller, and today is scarcely worthy of consideration.—New York Post.
