Section Two, Friday Sept. 12, 1902

IMPORTANCE OF THE WAGE EARNER.

The wage earner is as important in the building up of a town, as he or she is to the protection of the family.

It is the community with the greatest per cent of its population genuine wage earners, that is the one which is going ahead in every way.

Given the community with a low per cent of wage earners, it will be found non-progressive, and backward socially, educationally and commercially.

As the writer in Sunday's Journal stated, the progressive Southern towns are those which combined manufacture with its agricultural trade, thus having a wage earning people, a community of producers, which would add wealth to the town in every way.

It is the community of wage earners, which are the best of consumers, because they can pay cash for what they need, thus building up and creating a local commercial trade that gives life to every local business house.

Wage earners also attract the raw product, the country products to a place in largely increased amounts over the town where the wage earners are few in number compared to the whole population, because where money is being steadily earned, there is certain to be found the best market for every kind of product that goes into consumption.

Every family understands what it is to have wage earners, rather than the family drones, who simply consume.

The same effect is felt in the community where the wage earner preponderates over the street corner loafer.

The wage earner gives activity, progress, development; the non-earner, the non-worker produces local disorder, makes taxes harder to bear, and prevents progress of any kind.

WORTHY OF PERPETUATION.

The public notice that the Guilford Battle Ground company, of Greensboro, N. C., will erect a memorial to the late Judge Schenck on the battle ground, through whose efforts it has become so celebrated, is a move in the right direction.

The Guilford Battle Ground, has grown beyond a mere Greensboro institution, a local place, for it is justly prized by many North Carolinians outside of Greensboro, and its development has been of State wide interest.

The preservation of this old historical ground, is a work which is of endless value, something to inspire the youth, a tangible exhibit which speaks value to the eye and heart, that no book can present, or speaker can prove by word of mouth.

Like the monuments of great citizens of a great commonwealth, so are preservation of historical grounds to coming generations. They mark and point out the deeds in the lives of the men who have by their efforts made possible the later prosperity or the later development of the State.

It is this which lends inspiration to the youth, which tends to develop a higher and nobler citizenship, in that those who are of today seek to emulate the deeds of those whose monuments stand before them, so that after death their monuments may be raised to inspire coming generations.

No more worthy or appropriate action could be done, than to erect a monument to Judge Schenck on the ground which he so faithfully, laboriously and successfully worked over, and gave to his County and State, to mark perpetually, a historical spot for present and future North Carolinians.

STRENGTH IN COMMUNITY UNITY.

There are citizens in too many communities who follow the hold back and pull down policy.

price, the talk of an industrial institution, and it means ninety-nine reasons advanced by these hold back citizens, why the enterprise will prove a failure, to one reason why it may possibly prove a good thing for the community.

Let there be developed any local institution, a manufactory or any local enterprise which is of value to the community, generally, and the pull down citizen will attempt to get up a rival, if the other seems to be making a living, or if it may be paying its expenses, then the word will be sent about to discourage its owners.

With these hold backs and pull downs exercising any power, the fate of the towns where they live is easily guessed, for no community can make headway, much less progress, where there is no local co-operation or unity of purpose among its citizens.

Take away community unity, or let it be known that a place is controlled by the hold backs and pull downs, and every outsider will avoid such a place as if it held a pestilential disease, and every progressive citizen will leave such a town at the earliest opportunity.

Every local institution, every enterprise, every merchant, is entitled to the cordial support of the citizens of the place.

A failure of any local enterprise, the stifling of any proposed industry, is not merely injury done to the few persons interested in these institutions, but such failures injure directly or indirectly every citizen, every tax payer and every business or trade in the place.

It is the leveling up, the helping and sustaining process, which is needed in the community, the thought that the success of each citizen aids in the welfare of all, and through this unity comes the substantial community gain and in no other way.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

RALEIGH.

Sale of Vedder Lands in Jones and Onslow.

Public Interest Aroused in Piedmont and Western Sections. Joseph H. McRee Dies Suddenly in Wilmington. Croatan Indians Move to Edgecombe.

RALEIGH, September 9.—The State board of education has bought for $25,000 its interest in the lands known as the "Vedder lands," lying in Jones and Onslow counties. There was a suit, and by the terms of a compromise the Vedder heirs were to pay by 1904 the sum above named for the State's interest. J. T. Shelts of Port Norfolk has bought this interest and is to pay the $25,000 by January 1, next.

Governor and Mrs. Aycock left this morning for Seven Springs, near Goldsboro, and will remain there two or three days.

J. Y. Joyner, State Superintendent of Public Instruction returned today after three weeks absence, mainly in the piedmont and western sections. At Lexington there was an audience of 2,000 and in the northern part of Buncombe county there was an audience of 2,000 by actual count.

Four infantry companies of the State Guard have been disbanded since July 1, upon recommendation of the inspector general. It is said today that another company will no doubt share the fate of these. The vacancies will not be filled unless good organizations, at suitable locations are offered.

There are three Croatan Indians in Edgecombe county, these having moved there from Robeson county, and they want a separate school. The law provides separate schools for the Croatians in Robeson. It forbids their intermarriage with whites and their attendance at white schools. It does not forbid their inter-marriage with negroes and their attendance at negro schools. Croatians do marry mulattoes, not negroes, though their people object to such marriages. There will be no separate school for the Croatians. If they insist on one they will have to return to Robeson to get it.

Much regret is expressed at the office of the State superintendent of public instruction at the death of Joseph H. McRee, engineer to the State Board of Education, who was found dead in bed this morning at Wilmington, his home.
