CHEAPNESS NOT QUALITY.

The work of the State chemists in making the pure food tests, which has been completed, must provoke the query, as to why foods are so much adulterated, as to demand such tests as have been made.

According to advance reports the principal adulterations are made in jellies and jams.

These articles are very important household necessities, and their consumption is immense, ever on the increase.

Two things may be said to cause food adulterations to any gross extent, scarcity of the pure article, or its cost.

But if inquiry is made at the stores where jellies, jams and other foods are sold, it will be found that the consumer as a rule seeks an article according to its price, rather than to the demand as to its purity.

If the investigation will be made, the foods which are adulterated will be seen to be most attractive to the eye, and to the taste there will be found nothing apparent to cause their rejection.

It is only in the after effects, brought about by the constant use of adulterated foods, that the evil effects upon the human system will be developed, and in most instances where injury is done the trouble will be unknown, or charged to something else than to the use of adulterated foods.

The remedy of this food adulteration, and its deleterious effects upon people, lies with the consumer.

If cheapness is demanded as the first requisite, there will be the manufacturer to make the food for the price.

The reputable manufacturer could not permit a single adulteration to be made in his article sent to the trade. The trade mark is the guarantee, and the contents of jar or can must bear out the label.

The manufacturer who is informed as to the chemical properties, knows that substitutions can be made, but this he also knows is adulteration. The substitution means greater profit, but it means an inferior article, even more, an article really injurious to every consumer of it.

Let the consumer demand first purity in the article wanted, and there will be no food adulteration to demand the work of chemists.

The consumer will not buy stale vegetables because of cheapness, yet will buy a manufactured product of the same, because it is cheaper than some other brand.

The rule of demanding first wholesomeness, will break up the manufacture of adulterated foods.

MAKING POSSIBLE CUSTOMERS [REGULAR ONES.

Every consumer is a possible customer of every producer, whether the consumer buys directly from the producer or through a second party, the merchant.

The ability to secure the customer marks the success of the second party, the merchant, and the means employed to this end are various.

But while there may be many possible customers, it by no means follows that these possibilities are in any degree actual customers.

A customer in urgent need of some article is a certain customer for some merchant, but the many buyers are created who are not in urgent need of various articles offered for sale.

It is this host of possible buyers that the merchant must endeavor to attract to his store, and when there must have the skill to sell these goods.

Not a day passes, but opportunities occur to attract these possible buyers, by the merchant.

These possible buyers, who do not want an article at the time, but who buy because the article's merits are attractive lively presented can be made regular customers, not so much by being induced to buy the first time, but through the means which brought about the first purchase.

One's aim is honest merit of the article, both in the price asked and the quality of the article.

To attract the customer can be accomplished through personal solicitation and advertising, one or both, and it is only by real going after trade, through intelligent endeavor, and no better means is known in this day that the use of printers ink.

It is printers ink which attracts the possible buyer, and once attracted it is the same medium which makes this buyer a regular customer.

The fortunes made, the great commercial houses created, and the men given the first places of honor, attest the value of the means which came through the use of printers ink.

THE NATIONAL DEBT NOT BURSOMESOME.

A debt, either upon the individual or the country, is not so much a matter of deep concern, if the individual or country have resources behind them in the way of available collaterals or earning capacity.

If there is not the earning power behind, then the debt becomes burdensome and onerous, and those having the debt must have a weary existence.

In the matter of National Debts, the following from the Tradesman will be of interest.

"In 1840 the public debt of the United States was only 31 cents per capita. The Mexican war enlarged it so that, in 1859, the per capita burden was $2.67. On June 30, 1895, the per capita was $76.98. It is now $12.97. The debts of the other great nations and ours now compare per capita, to our decided advantage. The amounts run thus: Russia, $25; Great Britain, $22.55; France, $15.1. The debt of Prussia is a much heavier burden per head of population than ours. The consideration in these figures that most gratifies an American is in the fact that his country, while its burden is the highest, has greater resources of debt-paying than any two of its rivals.

With quite twelve times the debt-paying capacity of France, we are called on to pay, per head, only about one-twelfth of the amount, each Frenchman woman and child, would contribute to extinguish that republic's bonded obligations. Moreover, we could pay every dollar the republic owes in a single decade, and scarcely feel the pressure of taxation it would bring. On the other hand France's debt steadily enlarges at an average rate of $25,000,000 a year and England has just increased her permanent debt, by reason of the South African war, nearly $400,000,000, and considerably expanded the floating debt.

The Hancock Liquid Sulphur Co., Baltimore, Md.

Gentlemen—I have had Eczema over thirty years, have tried many remedies prescribed by various physicians, but to nothing has the disease yielded so readily as to LIQUID SULPHUR. I think it used properly it is undoubtedly a specific for Eczema. I have prescribed it for others with most satisfactory results. I consider it the best remedy for cutaneous affections I have ever known, and regard it as the greatest medical discovery of the age.

Respectfully yours,

Natural Anxiety.

Mothers regard approaching winter with uneasiness, children take cold so easily. No disease costs more little lives than croup. It's attack is so sudden that the sufferer is often beyond human aid before the doctor arrives. Such cases yield readily to One Minute Cough Cure. Liquidifies the mucus, allays inflammation, removes danger. Absolutely safe. Acts immediately. Cures coughs, colds, grip, bronchitis, all throat and lung trouble. F. S. McMahon, Hamilton, Ont. "A had cold rendered me voiceless just before an oratorical contest. Intended to withdraw but took One Minute Cough Cure. It restored my voice in time to win the medal." F. S. Duffy.

CYNICISMS.

Romance—something to make people discontented.

How innocent and sweet a cross baby looks when it is asleep!

Some men who are just on the verge of being smart spoil everything by some fool hobby or habit.

A woman has to ask her friends' permission to wear a new style of hat and her husband's permission to buy it.

You would be surprised at learning how many people there are in the world who battle in washbowls and are still happy.

It is hard for the men to give satisfaction. When they don't talk, the women claim they are grumpy, and when they do talk the women say they are scolding.—Acheson Globe.

America's Famous 'Beauties'

Look with horror on Skin Eruptions, Blisters, Sores, Pimples. They don't have them, nor will any one, who uses Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It glorifies the face. Eczema or Salt Rheum vanish before it! It cures sore lips, chapped hands, chilblains. Infallible for Piles. 35c at C. D. Bradham's drug store.

Look Out For Fever.

Biliousness and liver disorders at this season may be prevented by cleansing the system with DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Those famous little pills do not gripe. They move the bowels gently, but copiously, and by reason of the tonic properties, give tone and strength to the glands. F. S. Duffy.

YOU KNOW WHAT YOU ARE TAKING When you take Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic, because the formula is plainly printed on every bottle showing that it is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. No cure—no pay. Price 50c.

Character in the Feet. In the form of the foot the sexes differ as much or even more than in that of the hand. A woman's foot is usually narrower in proportion than a man's, while his will be considerably stronger in the ankle and more powerful in the formation of the toes, especially of the ball of the great toe.

When a woman owns a strong, firm, wide foot, many of us experience perfect no sensation of surprise at finding her "strong minded." When a man trips along upon a delicate little foot, people instinctively believe him to be lacking in power and often put him down as effeminate.—Exchange.

Prickly heat cured in one application by using of Hancock's Liquid Sulphur. It will also cure Eczema, Fetter, Pimples, Ringworm, Dandruff, Cuts, Burns, Old Sores, and all skin troubles in a short time, when used as directed. For sale at F. S. Duffy's Drug Store.

CRAIG'S PROPHECY.

Democracy at High Water Mark This Year

In North Carolina. Many Places Want Fritchard-Craig Discussion. State Grants Two Charters Governor Asked For a Pardon.

RALEIGH, Oct. 7.—Locke Craig of Asheville arrived here today and said he would leave in a few hours for Statesville, where tomorrow he and Senator Fritchard begin the second series of their joint discussions, which will end Saturday at Asheville.

Mr. Craig said he was well pleased with the joint canvass. Requests have come from perhaps a dozen counties, asking that there be a joint discussion between Fritchard and himself, but he does not think any of these invitations will be accepted. He says his health is good, despite prophecies that he would break down. He says the largest audience at any of the discussions was at Pittsboro and that the best arguments were made at Fayetteville. There was no finer audience than at Raleigh, but here neither speaker was at his best.

Mr. Craig when asked about this year's vote said the outlook could not be better for the Democrats and added "Democracy will reach its high-water mark in North Carolina this year." Speaking of the canvass in the 10th Congressional district, which many Democrats consider, or have considered doubtful, he declared his firm belief that Gudgeon, Democrat will carry it, and said that in the joint discussion with Congressman Moody, his Republican opponent, Gudgeon was admitted to be the winner.

A charter was granted by the State today to the Lick Patent Medicine Company of Winston-Salem; also a charter to the Hicks Wholesale Company, of Wilmington, capital $13,000. R. W. Hicks owning practically all the stock.

Among today's arrivals were Stephen McIntyre, and R. E. Lee, of Lumberton; J. C. Braswell of Whitakers.

Governor Aycock is being petitioned by some persons to pardon a white man who was convicted of impersonating a woman's husband and so deceiving her that he spent the night with her, but it is not probable that the Governor will grant a pardon.

The Worst Form.

Multitudes are singing the praises of Kodol, the new discovery which is making so many sick people well and weak people strong by digesting what they eat, by cleansing and sweetening the stomach and by transforming their food into the kind of pure, rich blood that makes you feel good all over. Mrs. Cranfill, of Troy, I. T., writes: "For a number of years I was troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia which grew into the worst form. Finally I was induced to use Kodol and after using four bottles I am entirely cured. I heartily recommend Kodol to all sufferers from indigestion and dyspepsia. Take a dose after meals. It digests what you eat." F. S. Duffy.

Forty Years Torture.

To be relieved from a torturing disease after 40 years' torture might well cause the gratitude of anyone. That is what DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve did for C. Haney, Geneva, O. He says: "DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me of piles after I had suffered 40 years." Cures cuts, burns, wounds, skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits. F. S. Duffy.

MARION BUTLER'S BROTHER

Nominated for Congress by Republicans in Third District.

Special to Journal.

RALEIGH, Oct. 7.—George W. Butler, brother of ex-Senator Marion Butler, is nominated for Congress by the third district Republicans and endorsed by Populists.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—March sold 8.50 during the morning, but after that ruled rather steady. The factors continue against the market, particularly Wall street developments and improved weather. This condition of things left January very weak. That month appeared to be under pressure most of the day. The January accumulation seemed to be selling but there was not much market for cotton, owing to the fact that manipulation had driven trade out of that month. It is difficult to get rid of much January without breaking that month. This morning March seemed steady, while January appeared weak. Weather is more favorable and this will influence sentiment. The break in stocks is not very encouraging, but while these factors operate for irregularity and uncertainty, the situation does not appear to us to have changed materially. A Spring month should be worth more and a purchase should show a profit. Would call attention to the importance of the insight figures for next 3 or 4 weeks. In 1896 and 1899 the maximum movement was reached before the middle of October and for this reason the crop this year is expected to depend on the week of the largest figures. If this week or next sees the large figures of the season, and from that time on receipts diminish ever so little, there will not be so much of a break. Profit taking on advances is likely to return the most money at present.

Goes Like Hot Cakes.

"The fastest selling article I have in my store," writes druggist G. T. Smith, of Davis, Ky. "Is Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, because it always cures. In my six years of sales it has never failed. I have known it to save sufferers from Throat and Lung diseases, who could get no help from doctors or any other remedy." Mothers rely on it, best physicians prescribe it, and C. D. Bradham guarantees satisfaction or refund price. Trial bottles free, Reg. sizes, 50c and $1.

The G. A. R. encampment is in progress at Washington, President Roosevelt will not be able to review the parade.

W. R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and American was nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the 11th district of New York last week.

An unsuccessful effort was made Monday morning to lynch Calvin Elliott a colored prisoner in the Lincoln jail.

The entire state militia of Pennsylvania has been called into service to control the strikers.

The September rains in Australia were not sufficient to counteract the effects of the drought there.

The Street Car Company's employees of New Orleans are out on a strike and there are no cars moving.

The followers of W. J. Bryan in Connecticut are dissatisfied with the Democratic nominations made a few weeks ago and will bolt the ticket.

Our little girl, just thirteen months old, has had much trouble with her bowels. Every remedy was exhausted in the shape of prescriptions from family physicians. Her bowels failed to pass of pure blood and burning fever continued for days at a time. Her life was almost despaired of. Her mother determined to try TEETHINA, and in a day or two there was a great change—new life had returned—the bowels were regular, and thanks to TEETHINA, the little babe is now doing well.
