"USELESSNESS OF THE SOLID SOUTH."

Common-sense politics, therefore, requires that the South should dismiss for ever its will-o'-the-wisp fancy that its solidity for one party, and a thoroughly discredited party at that, can ever make it dominant in the nation. It has no title to such a position and no reason to hope for it. Step by step it has destroyed within its limits all parties but one. This policy alone is sufficient warning against any political combination it can offer. The South should turn its attention to the possible, the progressive and the modern. It has a vital interest, for example, in the protection of American industries and in other economic issues. As a solid political force it has become a negligible quantity in a national sense.

The above from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, is strictly a partisan and unfair criticism, especially so far as it relates to North Carolina.

This State is solidly Democratic because it is this party which has given character and stability to every commercial, social and educational interest within its borders.

The Globe-Democrat's party has had its opportunity in North Carolina to practice some of its fine theories, but if this party had something of "common-sense politics," it was never put into execution while the Republicans were in power.

Rather quite the opposite, for the State was discredited at home and abroad during the political reign of others, not Democrats.

The Globe-Democrat, further states the South's political solidness is because this section desires political power in the nation.

The basis for this assertion is hard to prove, for the political effort, locally, in all Southern States, has been first to establish a stable and economic government within the State, regardless of how national affairs might go.

The Democratic party in the South stands for those very things, "protection of American industries and other economic issues," and because it does, it is kept in political power.

The "uselessness," is political imagery on the part of the Globe-Democrat.

The political party preserving and serving the best interests of the people, is going to be kept in power in the South and up to the present time its name is, Democratic party.

"Common sense politics" is not the sole property of Missouri. If it is, the Globe-Democrat has never so recorded it, nor is it recorded elsewhere.

GREAT WORK OF LIFE SAVING SERVICE.

The report of the work done during 1902, by the life saving service of this country, makes a most gratifying exhibit, in the results obtained through this humane organization.

The report shows that the number of disasters to vessels within the scope of operations of the service during the year was greater than ever before with the exception of the year 1898 and 1901, yet the loss of life was small. The number of lives lost from documented vessels—those of five tons burden or over—was only 19, while six were lost from smaller craft—sail boats, row boats, etc., making a total of 25, a number far below the average.

The amount of property imperilled was greatly in excess of that of any previous year in the history of the service, owing to the unusual number of large vessels involved. No less than 54 vessels of over 1000 tons burdens, of which number 38 were steamers, suffered disaster. The loss of property, however, was comparatively light.

The number of disasters to documented vessels was 395. On board these vessels were were 3494 persons, of whom 19 were lost. The estimated value of the vessels was $9,983,820, and that of their cargoes, $5,139,980, making a total imperiled property involved, $14,323,010, of this amount $10,195,200 was saved, and $2,967,790 lost. The number of vessels totally lost was 51.

It is this great work of the hardy and brave life saving crews, which so greatly lessens the dangers of those who must gain a livelihood upon the waters and saves property from total loss.

It is a service which brings great returns for the money spent in keeping it up.

TRUST REMEDY LEGISLATION.

To legislate upon an equitable trust law is a matter which demands wisdom and conservatism on the part of Congress.

Any monopoly or trust, in its control upon a special commodity, a consumptive article, holds the lives of the community in its power, because it is the sole possessor of what is necessary to, and that which enters into the lives of the citizens of a community.

Government or legislative doing away or the destruction of a monopoly or trust, would work evil to all interests, because the legislative action necessary to destroy, would in its operation prove destructive to other interests, besides the trust which might be destroyed.

There are remedies which Congress might in its legislative capacity enact which would prove restraining in effect upon trusts, leading to their being deprived of that power which now over rides all, and makes them a danger and menace to the stability of the country.

One remedy is publicity of the actual workings of a monoply, and following this a law against over valuation, the issuing of stock in excess of the actual property value of the corporation or trust.

Through publicity of a trust's affairs, its actual profits, and how made, competition by the individual outside of trust, would be encouraged, and a law for the suppression of the over valuation and stock watering by corporations, would place them on an equalized basis of earning dividends.

Such an equalization would mean that employes would be protected in their wage earnings, giving them a share in the prosperity which might come to the corporation, because the corporation would be earning its dividends upon an honest valuation basis, and not upon a basis of over valuation.

Trusts or corporation earnings based upon this honest valuation, would also help the consumer, as he could buy upon a basis of profit to the corporation or trust, at a much lower figure, becase he would not have to pay the extra sum to make good the trust's dividend earnings, based upon its excessive over valuation in it watered stock.

Legislation by Congress, along such lines as these could not fail to be productive of benefit to the consumer and the wage earner, and sell not work injury to trusts.

THE FASHIONS.

New fall coats will come half way down the skirt.

Black and white, all black, pale blue and green seem to be the favorite colors for ties.

Large white tulle bows, with polka dots of green velvet, are worn at the base of the neckband in front.

The monogram buckle is the latest style for the colonial shoe. It is made of gun metal, with the monogram of sterling silver.

Chinese and Russian effects in embroidery and cross stitch, with coarse lace, are modish trimmings for early fall costumes.

The style in shoes has changed greatly. Heels are much higher, toes more pointed and the curve at the instep more pronounced.

A smart little reefer coat of tan cloth is double breasted and curved in at the sides. It is an exception to the prevailing mode, but is extremely chic.

The use of white satin, narrow fur edgings, fine untarnishable gold braid, costly buttons and guipure laces will be a feature of cloth and velvet gowns for two seasons to come.—New York Tribune.

Asleep Amid Flames.

Breaking into a blazing home, some firemen lately dragged the sleeping inmates from death. Fancied security, and death near. It's that way when you neglect coughs and colds. Don't do it. A teaspoonful stops a late cough, persistent use the most stubborn. Harmless and nice tasting, it's guaranteed to satisfy by C. D. Bradham. Price 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

The Orkney Islands.

"The member from the Orkneys" is the only man in the British house of commons who can say he sits for 200 islands. Only sixty of the islands are inhabited, but the constituency embraces more than 60,000 people.

The Orkneys were once given by Norway to England as security for a queen's dower and never redeemed. In the islands the voters must go to the polls by boats, and in some cases the distance to be traveled is eight miles.

If the coin retains its natural color during the boiling process, the fish is good to eat, but if it turns dark the food is rejected.

Too Much Food.

Much of the sinking, tired and empty feeling from which business men who work their brains alone so often suffer is due to the accumulation of toxins in the system which want "working off." Two meals a day and active exercise are the preventive, and there is no exercise which can be got at any time and by anybody to the extent that walking can. But to do good it must not be sauntering. Really "smart" walking is what is wanted.—Hospital.

YOU KNOW WHAT YOU ARE TAKING When you take Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic, because the formula is plainly printed on every bottle showing that it is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. No cure—no pay. Price 50c.

How the Earth Changes.

How does one generation of men succeed another? The fathers are not swept away in a body to make room for the children, but one by one the old drop off and the young come on until a day is reached when none of those remain that once were here. How does some form of human speech become extinct? About 100 years ago an old lady named Dolly Dentreath died in Cornwall. She could speak the Cornish language. After her death there was nobody that could. Thus quietly did the living Cornish language become a dead language. And in a like unobtrusive manner have been wrought most of the new becomings which have changed and are changing the earth.—John Fiske in Harper's.

The Hancock Liquid Sulphur Co., Baltimore, Md.

Gentlemen:—I take pleasure in recommending Hancock's Liquid Sulphur to any one suffering with Eczema. I have had it for ten or fifteen years, have tried many remedies and found no relief until I was induced to try your "H. L. S." Have only used it a short while and am now almost entirely cured. Creaking Hinges.

These can be quickly cured by dropping a little oil on the hinges, or a tiny bit of vaseline does equally well. Black lead is another excellent remedy, and places that cannot be got at with an ordinary brush can generally be reached with a black lead pencil.

Cured of Piles After 40 Years.

Mr. Haney, of Geneva, Ohio, had the piles for forty years. Doctors and doctors could do him no lasting good. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured him permanently. Invaluable for cuts, burns, bruises, sprains, lacerations, eczema, tetter, salt rheum, and all other skin diseases. Look for the name DeWitt on the package—all others are cheap, worth less counterfeits. F. S. Duffy.

Stupid Husband of a Noted Singer.

Catalani's husband, a handsome Frenchman, was even more unintellectual than his wife—he was stupid. Once, having found the pitch of the piano too high, she said after the rehearsal to her husband: "The piano is too high. Will you see that it is made lower before the concert?"

When the evening came, Catalani was annoyed to find that the piano had not been altered. Her husband sent for the carpenter, who declared that he had sawed off two inches from each leg, as he had been ordered to do. "Surely it can't be too high now, my dear!" said the stupid husband soothingly.

FLORENCE, S. C., Nov. 26, 1900.—I was first advised by our family physician in Charleston to use TEETHINA with our baby when he was but a very young infant, as a preventive of colic and to regulate the stomach. Later it was useful in teething troubles, and its effects have been found to be so very beneficial and so free from dangers that are consequent upon the use of drugs and soothing syrups, that we have come to regard it, after two with many children, as one of the necessities when there is a new baby in the house and until the teething troubles are over, and we take pleasure in recommending it to our friends instead of the horrid stuff that so many people use to keep their baby quiet.
