STATE BOND, ISSUE FOR WAR.

Governor Aycock's recommendation for a State bond issuance, in order to make good the deficit now existing in the State Treasury, meets in some quarters, the old time protest, of no bonds in time of peace.

But to those who have the best interests of North Carolina at heart, who fully understand what is being done, and what is necessary to be done in the near future, such persons will contend that there exists today, in North Carolina, a state of war, a conflict against illiteracy, and for internal improvements, which have cost the people dearly, but which the people have been willing to Day.

It is for a continuance of this local for there can be no standing still in this contest already entered into, for hesitation means going backward, and the partial victories already secured would | city would lose the abusiness which this be lost, unless the war in behalf of education and internal improvements be the merchants here, of the greater part prosecuted to its full and legitimate of the trade of Pamlico County now epd.

works, or the securing of a railroad com pany to bring its lines into the town or city, is a matter demanding careful conalderation. In the first place what is the character

provement, be it for roads, lights, water of the enterprise seeking the local assistance.

Will the issuing of bonds prove of benefit to the community which votes them, are two considerations. A bond issue by a municipality, would be the same as the making of a note on the part of an individual.

Each should have the same purpose, that of contracting an obligation to seeure more business, which business could not be undertaken without the added capital, and this needed capital only securable through a personal obligation, The voters of New Bern will in a short time be asked to vote upon an issuance of $50,000 of bonds, to secure the Pamlico, Oriental and Western Railroad's coming into this city.

Some months ago a personal canvasa among the business mon and merchants of New Bern. secured an expression from them, that they wanted this rallroad to come into this city, and that they would ald to secure its coming.

So far as the actual advantages of this railroad to New Bern, there is little need to prove them, although in these columns some of the more important ones have been discussed.

The question of assuming this bond obligation is not one of sentiment. It is practical, it is business, for it affects and concerns every business interest and every tax paver.

If the obligation was one without certain benefit and return, then a lond is sue for this railroad's coming would not merely prove unwise, for it would increase the burden of the tax payers. But there is everything to show that Among the treasures of the Philadelahin Historical society is the complete tecord of the "Court Held at Uppland In Delowar River From 1676 to 1681.' This was the court conducted by the Swedes, Dutch and English previous to the granting of the state to Penn and previous to its being named Pennsylva nia. The record is quaint. One entry is of "Jan Cornellisen of Amesland, complayning to ye court that his son Erik is bereft of his naturall sences and is turned quyt madd;" whereupon it was ordered that "three or 4 persons bee hired to build a little Blockhouse at Amesland for to put in the sd. madman." man; the other may not take life, but is simply iron and quinine in a tastelese incites to desperate action, and leaves the trail of the serpent, to breed discord and diamter.

Outside the cowardly and murderou attack of the younger Tillman, there is the feature in the case of the gross violation of the law, in carrying concealed wespons, by a man elected to a high official position.

If those in high places are to be the flagrant violaters of law and order, how much can be expected of those who are in lower positions?

Burely, South Caroline ought by this time to have had enough of Tillmanism. as personified in the indecent monthings of its Senator, and just now with its Tillman, Lieutenant Governor in jall for an attempted cowardly assassination

The Pergetmenot.

Everybody knows the pretty little forgetmenot and likes the flower more perhaps because of its name than its beauty. How was it so called? The Germans account for it by quite a pathetic romance. It seems that once up on a time a knight and a lady were walking by the bank of the Danube when the latter asked her "gallant gay" to pluck for her a tiny blue flower which she saw growing in the stream No sooner said than done, but the knight, overbalancing, fell into the river and, owing to the alippery nature of the bank and the weight of his own ar mor, was carried away by the current As he threw the flowers ashore to his lady he cried out with his last breath "Vergiss mein nicht" ("Forget me not,") And ever since the flower has been looked upon as the emblem of fidelity.
