Stops Farm Work and Streams Overflowing.

Pullen Memoral Building. Legislators All Gone Home. Water Supply For Hospital. Krag Rifles For State Infantry.

RALEIGH, March ,12 .- The extremely rainyweather has put a stop to all sorts of farm work. The ground is so saturated with moisture, that it is impossible to do any ploughing or planting. The streams are full to overflowing.

Work is in progress on the Pullen Memorfal Building at the A. & M. College. The roof is on, and it is now the interior work which is being done. The portico is to be very imposing, with large columns. In this building will be the din-ing hall, to seat 600 students, and the assembly room, which will accommodate 1000 Some work yet remains to be done in Watauga Hall, an estimate is made that to complete and gquip these two buildings, will cost something like $12,000 which the legislature has compelled the agricultural department to pay.

The last of the members of the legislature went home today. Most of them were quite worn out by the nearly continuous sessions and the late hours they

Sir Walter Raleigh Fund.

RALBIGH, March 11.-Inquiry was made today of Treasurer Brown of the Sir Walter Raleigh Monument fund, as to what progress had been made in accuring money.

He said that so far only $400 had been eceived, of which only $19 had come in this year. There is surprise at the slowness with which money has come in, as it was thought two years ago the funds would be in hand so the Memorial Statue could be erected here this year.

It is strange that the tobacco manufac turers and dealers of the country have not contributed to this fund. The matter ought to be laid before them.

Market Letter on Cotton.

By Private Wire to J. E. Latham & Co.

New York, March 12 .- At one time today the bottom seemed to have dropped out of the market. In every way prices crumbled in a more sensational way than on the previous break. Taking the break from about 9,90 to 970 on this decline, and we believe less cotton was sold on the previous decline. In early dealing May ran from 9.79 to 9.86 and then the break started. Before traders knew what was going on, May was 9.68 After a 10 point reaction, the afternoon brought out more pressure and low prices were reached. It will require a lot of buying to get cotton back to previous high prices. An overflow may turn prices up, and people here may buy on a further break to hold; but each day means nearer spring and the load will increase. We don't want to buy cotton and believe in selling August on all rallies at present. The south will plant for the biggest crop ever seen, and this will be a fear argument, We would rather take chances on the short side on every advance toward 91c for the financial situation is not favorable for buyers at any such prices as we are having now Later in the season it may turn out that the crop is moderate and this will mean higher prices, but we can't but help think that cotton, especially August should be sold on all bulges.

C. W. Lee & Co. NEW YORK, March 11 .- May sold at 10 cent again this a. m. then broke to 9,90. For the first time since the price was at 9.54 the market had a set back. It looked all day as though the bulls were selling out on the shorts, and taking profits. August went to 9.59 and broke at 9.42 in ao time. When the selling started, the market was seen to be well covered. The flood news carried the market up rapidly this week, and a set back is natusnal. In case the bull people consider discretion - the better part of valor and begin to sell around 10 cent, there will be a set back of importance. If the river over flows and shorts in May climb, why there will be another advance, but it begins to look as if August could be sold again on every advance. If this market gets wobbly here, we can hardly look for higher prices than those reached on the last advance. The price is a big one and we doubt if the market would have recovered this way had it not been for flood news. It is a fine thing for the bulls. They were selling cotton to the bear cleque today and taking the bear money. If it goes higher they will have more to sell. Floods may cause another advance but as August works over 91 we would not be long of the market and would take the short side on every bulge Every factor works against the market at 10 cents. A flood will mean a big crop next year. It is a hig market on both sides and big money if one can catch the fluctuations.

IMPORTANT BANKING LAW.

New Powers Granted Corporation Commission. Methodist Orphanage Fund. Failure to Secure State Reformatory

RALEIGH, March, 11 .- A very important act of the Legislature, ratified Monday, regarding the Banking Laws, and gives the Corporation Commission new powers and duties as to the supervision of banks. It provides for the chartering of banks by the Secretary of State, with the concurrence of the corporation commission, without application having to be made to the Legislature.

It defines the duties of the corporation commission in the supervision of State, private and saving banks, and requires all banks operated without charters to apply for charters and conform to the banking law of the State. Under the terms of this new law banks can begin operations with a minimum capital of $5,000 in towns of 1500 popula ion or less.

It is learned from treasurer Joseph G. Brown, of the Methodist Orphanage that the gift and subscriptions to the orphanage fund now aggregates $50,000. Work which has been suspended two months, is to be resumed this month, and there will be no further stop until the main building is completed.

A Terrible Weapon.

The weapon common to every part of Hindustan, see as to deserve the name of the asticanal arm, is the "katar." This is a broad, two edged dagger, the hilt of, which is formed something like an II, the hand grasping the crossbar, which is generally double, while the side bars extend on each side of the wrist. Some katars | are made with five blades, which white into one, but by squeezing together the crossbars diverge like the fingers of a hand when the thrustibus been given. Other katars are made in sets of two or even three, of diminishing sizes, the blades of the larger being hollow and forming sheaths for the smaller. Some of the southern Indian katars, known as "death givers," are immense weapons, nearly two feet long in the blade, and the hilts are a mass of fantastic scrollwork and mythological moisters, the cobra with expanded hood figuring largely. There is also the "bich'hwa," or scorpion's sting, a doubly curved dagger; the "khanjar," a larger form of the same, and the "peshkabz," or hunting knife. But none of these elaborate weapons has about it the terribly "businesslike" look of the Khyber knife (ch'hura), with its ponderous single edged, tapering blade and plain ivory hilt.—Chambers' Journal.
