NO TOLE TIME IN BUSINESS.

The fact that this season of the year ie no warrant for the possible stoppage of any really live business interest.

There are periods during the year when there is more business doing than at other times, but in every city which is at all progressive and developing, there, there can be no idle or dead times in its business interests during any period of the year.

A business interest of New Bern, and one which has been most important to the local merchants of this city for several years, has been the marketing of tobacco in the warehouses here.

The fire of July 8th, which destroyed one of the tobacco warehouses of this city, should not cause this city to let go | cine chist we had. of its tobacco market.

No merchant can afford to lose a good customer, through personal neglect, or lack of effort.

In a greater degree, no city can afford to let a single industry fail, which brings trade to its merchants, and promotes business activity among its people.

The tobacco industry has been a most Important trade factor in New Bern during the months when its other industrial interests were not so active.

This tobacco trade has given work to a number of local people; it has brought in many farmers who sold their tobacco here, and then become buyers of the local merchants. It has been a good advertisement for New Bern, this tobacco

AN AGE OF INSECURE UNREST.

The evil of today is the base commercialism, which places value upon the dollar, in preference to the individual.

It is the spirit which demands money, that an ostentatious personal display and parade may be made, which however vulgar it may be, finds acceptance because of its dollar evidence.

The unrest of today is seen on every side, in the attempt to over do, and the individual sacrifice of character, health and peace of mind is quickly made in the reaching out for the object sought.

To feel strongly, to stand firmly for right principles, to point to high standrds of moral worth, as objects worthy of thought and attention, these receive scant consideration, and their advocates are given the smile of derision.

The insecurity of the spirit of today is Its refusal to be content to build solidly and substantially, through daily effort of toll and merit for the future.

Rather the gamble to get at once the noney, which ought to take years of tofl to accumulate, is sought, and success of the gambler means only extravagance

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

Burn all the rubbish and prunings about the garden and orchard. It is best on general principles to select comparatively high ground for the orchard.

The best available soil should be se lected for the orchard. It cannot be too rich nor too well drained. After tomato plants have reached fair size their tops may be pinched off. This forces out the side shoots, which are the ones that produce the flowers Grapevines like their roots to be near the surface. Therefore the food for them should not be placed at too great a depth. A rich soil, dry and warm, is

The Chateau d'If.

The Chateau d'If, upon the little rock island of the same name, has three titles to fame. It was built, or at least fortified, by Francis I.; it was used in 1774 for the imprisonment of Mirabeau, but it is much more renowned for its place in fiction than for its place in history since Alexandre Dumas gave it such eminence in the scen ery of his "Count of Monte-Christo." #### GRANTING A FAVOR. Do It Graciously-Do Not Make the Recipient Feel Contemptible. The essence of truest kindness lies in he grace with which it is performed. Some men seem to discount all gratitude, almost make it impossible, by the way in, which they grant favors. They make you feel so small, so mean, so inerior; your cheeks burn with indignaion in the acceptance of the boon you seek at their hands. You feel it is like a bone thrown at a dog instead of the quick, sympathetic graciousness that forestalls your explanations and waives your thanks with a smile, the pleasure of one friend who has been favored with the opportunity to be of service to another. The man who makes another feel like an insect reclining on a redhot stove while he is receiving a favor has no right to expect future gratitude; he should feel satisfied if he receives forgiveness. Let us forget the good deeds we have done by making them seem small in comparison with the greater things we are doing and the still greater acts we sufficient length of time to make any to serve some one we should not act as if we held a mortgage on his immortality and expect him to swing the censer of adulation forever in our presence. -From "The Power of Truth," by Wil-In the United States have used the liam George Jordan, Published by

BOER AMUSEMENTS.

Among Them Are Pole Climbing, Az Throwing and Spade Racing. The Boer is a firm believer in the advantage of exercise, though his ways are not ours. One favorite form is pole climbing. This consists of having one arm tied behind the back and swarming to the top of the pole with the aid of the legs and the free arm. It sounds simple, but it is not half so simple as it seems. Another exercise is throwing the hatchet, or ax, to be more correct. An ordinary wood chopping ax is used for this. This is swung round the bead until it reaches a sufficient mome when it is released. The man whe throws the farthest does not of necessit ty win, as it is necessary that the blade should bury itself in the earth on reaching its destination. It requires a considerable amount of skill to accom-

Another kind of amusement is space racing. The men stand with one foot on either side of an ordinary spade grasping the top of the handle between the hands. At the signal they start the hands. At the signal they start and others have been experimenting forward by a series of jumps. If a in the field of aerial navigation on the man's foot leaves its proper place be is disqualified. There is no more severe strain on the muscles of the leg than this. The distance for such a race as this is generally twenty paces. The Boer is gifted with wonderful endurance. At long distances be could old his own with any, but he would not stand any chance with our men at sprint racing, as he lacks the necessary

PEOPLE OF THE DAY

Pears Pate of Alexander.

The recent assassination of the king and queen of Servia calls attention anew to the situation in Bulgaria. Bulgaria is the unessiest of the Balkan states, over which the war cloud has been hovering for years. It has le been feared that it would be in Bulgaria that the match would be applied to the powder magazine. Prince Ferdinand's throne has long been considered the shaklest in Europe. For months be has been away from his capital, fearing to return to it because of the danger of assassination. Long ago Prince Ferdinand said that he expected to be assassinated.

An Efficient Chief Clerk. It is within bounds as to fact and no reflection upon two or three other excellent men in corresponding positions to say that Mr. Wallace H. Hills, chief clerk of the treasury department, is at the very head of his class, says the Washington correspondent of a New York newspaper. No other chief cierk in the service has the same immense responsibility resting upon him. Certainly none other has by the record of many years of intelligent work and unremitting patience in dealing with all sorts of people made himself so conspicuous an example of what a man in such a place ought to be. He has risen from the ranks by sheer force of a merit which nobody has ventured to question. The big contractors who have to deal with the treasury admit that they liked him because he has no favorites among them, the small ones because be gives their affairs as careful bandling as if there were a million at stake. It was his foresight that car ried the treasury, with its vast ramifications, through the coal famine without distress or panic and with the minimum of expense.

Proud of Her Widowhood. "I would rather be the widow of Phil Sheridan than the wife of any man living," said Mrs. Philip H. Sheridan when some of her friends were twitting her about marrying again Despite her prolonged widowhood she is very attractive, bright and enter taining. She has beautiful hands, al ways well set off by dainty cuffs.

She has four children-a son, Lieutenant Philip H. Sheridan, United States cavalry, and three daughters Mary, Louise and Irene, the last two being known as "the Sheridan twins," who can hardly be told apart. They are always dressed alike and are al most inseparable companions.

Mrs. Sheridan has just sold her Washington home, which, with many of its furnishings, was presented to General Sheridan by Gifford Pinchot her neighbor. She will now build an other home at Sheridan circle. Mrs Sheridan owns a pretty summer place at Nonquit, on Buzzards bay.
