HAYWOOD TRIAL

Sensational Evidence by Witness Seeing the Shooting.

Doctor's Explanation of Shot's Direction. State Rests its Case. Defense Will Take Three Days Examining Witnesses. All Counsel to Speak.

Special to Journal.
 Raleigh, October 5.—Taking of evidence for the State in the Haywood case was continued today. Dr. A. W. Knox who performed a special autopsy, said the bullet entered Skinner's left side between the sixth and seventh ribs, went through the lungs and aorta, shattering the seventh rib on the right side.

Sensational evidence was given by Representative Jones Fuller, of Durham county, who said he was near a window in the Yarrowburgh House with a young lady who was sitting in the window, and who said two men were about to fight, or there was a fight. Fuller stepped to the window and saw the first shot, Haywood standing near the south steps of the post office, and Skinner two or three steps in the street. He saw the second shot, and Skinner made a movement with his hands, made a circle and fell. Skinner had quickened his speed after the first shot. Haywood stood on the parapet at the post office, until Skinner fell. The time was very short between the shots.

The young lady said directly after the shooting that Haywood and Skinner appeared to be in a heated argument, Haywood gestulating and Skinner struck him. Then it was the young lady exclaimed "He is going to shoot", meaning Haywood. Fuller then turned in time to see the first shot. At time of first shot Skinner's back was towards Haywood.

wood. When Fuller stepped to the window, Haywood was making an effort to shoot and Skinner was retreating.

At this point the State rested its case. The defense says it will require three days to examine witnesses for Haywood. Perhaps another day will be consumed by the State in giving testimony in rebuttal.

All of the counsel, seven for Haywood and five for the State will make arguments. There will be night sessions.

STAR WITNESSES.

Give Evidence for Defense in the Haywood Case.

Testimony Showing That Skinner and Haywood Had Allercation Before any Shooting Took Place, Blows Being Struck by Skinner.

Special to Journal.
 RALEIGH, Oct. 5.—The defense in the Haywood murder case today, introduced its star witnesses, Robt. M. Simms, Willis G. Briggs, Raleigh, Bernard Schmitz, Baltimore.

Simms testified he saw Skinner strike Haywood, knock him partly over, then sprang about five feet back. First shot was fired when Skinner was near curb, Skinner then leaving with back towards Haywood. Saw no movement of Skinner's hands, did not see him attempt to draw pistol. Thought Skinner about fifteen feet from curb when second shot was fired. Told Dr. Skinner, father of the dead man next day, about seeing Skinner strike Haywood. He first gave statement to the public Monday afternoon.

Briggs evidence was that after first shot he looked around, saw Skinner leaving the sidewalk. Skinner's only movement between shots was turning of head as he stepped off the sidewalk. Did not observe movement of Skinner's hand then. After flash of Haywood's second shot he looked at Skinner who was going at quick walk with hand pressed to back. Haywood lowered his pistol as Skinner fell forward.

Schmitz swore Skinner and Haywood were near south entrance of post office Skinner seeming to have Haywood by coat lapel with right hand, and almost immediately struck Haywood with left hand, Haywood falling back. Skinner sprang back about eight feet, with left hand to side in threatening attitude, took two or three steps towards Haywood, as if to renew attack. Haywood fired first shot, Skinner who was near edge of sidewalk staggered. Skinner was some feet in the street when second shot was fired.

There was a long cross examination of Schmitz, the prosecution asking questions tending to affect his character. Affidavits as to his character were given by many Baltimore people.

"A Thing of Beauty, etc."

The city carts began hauling brick up on Griffith street and word was flashed from house to house even to the Orrecoat thoroughfare, that the long promised paving was to begin.

There was much rejoicing and back slapping as people raced around congratulating each other. Several of the well-to-do dentists ordered granite curbing for their sidewalks, by telegraph to be shipped instantly.

The worked progressed all day yesterday in the presence of an admiring populace. Many squares, diamonds and other geometrical figures were described with the brilliant red brick work, at intervals along the street. Night came on and the work had to be suspended until Monday, when no doubt it will be resumed, and it is conjectured that the Interstates will then be laid with bricks of other colors, perhaps white and blue, making a most beautiful mosaic pavement.

Death of Mrs. Gaskins.

A PASTOR'S WIFE CURED OF PELVIC CATARRH

She Suffered for Years and Felt Her Case Was Hopeless—Cured by Peruna.

Mrs. Anna B. Fleharty.

MRS. ANNA B. FLEHARTY, recent Superintendent of the W. C. T. U. headquarters, at Galesburg, Ill., was for ten years one of the leading women there. Her husband, when living, was first President of the Nebraska Wesleyan University, at Lincoln, Neb.

In a letter written from 401 Sixty-seventh street, W., Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Fleharty says the following in regard to Peruna:

"Having lived a very active life as wife and working partner of a busy minister, my health failed me a few years ago. I lost my husband about the same time, and gradually I seemed to lose health and spirit. My daughter is a confirmed invalid, and we both felt great need of an invigorator.

"One of my neighbors advised me to try Peruna. A bottle was immediately secured and a great change took place in my daughter's as well as in my own health. Our appetites improved very greatly, the digestion seemed much helped, and restful sleep soon improved us, so that we seemed like new women.

"I would not be without Peruna for ten times its cost."—Mrs. Anna B. Fleharty.

What used to be called female diseases by the medical profession is now called pelvic catarrh. It has been found by experience that catarrhal diseases of the pelvic organs are the cause of most cases of female disease.

Dr. Hartman was among the first of America's great physicians to make this discovery. For forty years he has been treating diseases peculiar to women, and long ago he reached the conclusion that a woman entirely free from catarrhal affection of these organs would not be subject to female disease. He therefore began using Peruna for these cases and found it so admirably adapted to their permanent cure that Peruna has now become the most famous remedy for female diseases ever known. Every where the women are using it and praising it. Peruna is not a palliative simply; it cures by removing the cause of female disease.

Dr. Hartman has probably cured more women of female ailments than any other living physician. He makes these cures simply by using and recommending Peruna.

Mrs. E. L. Brown, 229 Elliott street, Memphis, Tenn., writes:

"I suffered for several years with headache brought on by nervous prostration. I was also afflicted with insomnia. I would get up in the morning more weary than when I retired and I used to dread the approach of night. Peruna came into my home as a welcome guest, and within three short months I was like another woman. I have now enjoyed perfect health for over a year, and those who have suffered as I did will know how happy I am."—Mrs. E. L. Brown.

Mrs. Esther M. Milner, De Graf, Ohio, writes:

"I was a terrible sufferer from female weakness and had the headache continually. I was not able to do my household work for myself and husband. I wrote you and described my condition as near as possible. You recommended Peruna. I took four bottles and was completely cured. I think Peruna a wonderful medicine."—Mrs. Esther M. Milner.

Congressman Thad. M. Mahon, of Chambersburg, Pa., writes:

"I take pleasure in commending your Peruna as a substantial tonic and a good catarrh remedy."—T. M. Mahon.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.
